How to Feed Horses.

Horses have small stomachs; remember this. A good plan is to divide corn rations into three daily portions, the hay two. Many object to giving hay just previous to work, as it distends the stomach and causes the animal inconvenience.

Delicate feeders must be tempted to take their rations, and such should never be fed too strongly at one time. "A Scotch plate is a rule very generally observed in England—everything cleaned up before placing other food in the racks or mangers. A little linseed boiled to a jelly and mixed with the corn is seductive. Hay dampened and salted will tempt others. Beans, a double handful, are a relish in weakly subjects, pale malt for the convalescent or indisposed; damp bran and oats are engaging for others. Some grooms give carrots and cakes in small quantities. Carrots superinduce diabetes if given in excessive quantities. The peculiar habits of horses demand the attention of all horse owners and grooms. A sufficiency of flesh is all that is required, and not "hog fat," or "beastly fat" as some phrase it.

Give Milk Cows Plenty of Water.

Milk stock are averse to any great amount of exercise, and do not ordinarily take any more than is necessary in supplying themselves with food. Give them plenty of food and an easy access to water and they will quickly fill themselves and spend most of their time at rest. When water is situated in out of the way places on a farm, cows will often go thirsty for a considerable portion of the day rather than make a special journey to obtain it. This has been observed by all practical farmers, and yet it is curious that many who are conversant with the fact neglect to take proper advantage of this peculiarity in the habits of the animal. It is an important object with the dairy man who desires the highest success to promote, as far as may be (without resorting to artificial means), the taking of an abundant quantity of water by his herd. Milk cannot be made without water, and when it is secreted largely a large amount of water is absolutely required.

A Convenient Cattle Stall.

Among farm conveniences recommended at one of the western farmers' institutes is the cattle stall here illustrated. The Minnesota Farmer describes it as follows:

Each animal requires a space three to four feet in width, according to size. The platform upon which the animal is to stand should be about five feet long, including a space of one foot in width slatted, for the hind feet to stand upon. The spaces between the slats should not be more than three-fourths of an inch in width. Every slat should rest edgewise upon and supports that is, the wide way of the slats should be in a vertical direction. Under this grating a space four to six inches in depth is left open as far back as the solid floor. All that is liquid falls beneath, and can be scraped out with a hoe or some tool made for the purpose. Behind the stalls a trench of eighteen inches or two feet in width, and about eight inches in depth, is left for collecting the manure. Next to this again is left a walk of convenient width through the stable. If desired another set of stalls can be arranged in a corresponding position to this walk. The use of stanchions of course is optional. Many prefer a strap around the stall fastened to a chain or rope.

Things Farmers Tell One Another.

A. B. Allen says: The first thing in the morning is to water the horse, which should be done before feeding, otherwise it might work more or less of the food just eaten undigested from the stomach.

A Vermont maple sugar maker says that the great point is to keep the sap pure and clean so as to retain its original color; this once lost or lessened cannot be regained.

A Connecticut farmer claims for common unbleached muslin, that it makes [illegible] covering for hot beds, and at a much less cost than glass.

A Maryland farmer tells that low [illegible] make easier work in [illegible] culture.

John M. Bokar believes that no improvement in southern agriculture would be of greater advantage than making sheep rearing an important industry. No animal is so well adapted to the purification and enrichment of worn out lands that are given over to noxious growths.

As soon as young seedling plants of any kind show a third or fourth leaf they should be "pricked out" in a bed, with suitable heat for their needs, says W. D. Philbrick.

The Raw, Cutting Winds

Bring to the surface every latent pain. A change of even a few degrees makes the difference between comfort and pain to many persons. Happily disease now holds its sway. Science is continually bringing forward new remedies which successfully combat disease. Poison's Nerviline—nerve pain cure—has proved the most successful pain relieving remedy known. Its application is wide, for it is equally efficient in all forms of pain, whether internal or external. Ten and 25 cents a bottle, at druggists. 6dw17

High Praise.

Mrs. Phil Nelson, writing from the Methodist Parsonage, Orillia, Ont., says: "I have used Dr. Pierce's Pulmonic Syrup for years in our family. For heavy Colds, Sore Throats and distressing coughs no other medicine so soon relieves." 2w16d

Water Filters.

To insure good health it is absolutely necessary to have pure water, and no water is entirely free from floating matter and disease germs, without thorough filtration. The majority of cases of typhoid and other low fevers are in a measure caused from unfiltered and impure water, so that every family who values its health should have a reliable filter. Messengers filters are offered to the public varying in points of excellence, but for cheapness, efficiency and durability, our filters cannot be surpassed. No corroding substances are used in construction. The filtering material is the most powerful specially prepared granulated carbon. It will last for years with the ordinary use of a family, and the material may be obtained from us at any time for replenishing at small expense. Sold in Peterborough only at China Hall. dw

The Growth of the Hair.

Should always be watched. Inattention to the hair often leads to premature grayness and baldness. When dandruff appears it should be looked after at once. By frequently using a little of Dr. Devereaux's Great German Hair Magic the scalp will be kept in a clean and healthy condition and the strength and vigor of the hair greatly promoted. It is the only reliable. Do not be talked into using anything else. For sale by all druggists everywhere. dw

I SUFFERED from a very severe cold in my head for months and used everything recommended but could get no relief. Was advised to use Ely's Cream Balm. It has worked like magic in its cure. I am free from my cold after using the Balm one week and I believe it is the best remedy known. Feeling grateful for what it has done for me I send this testimonial.—Samuel J. Harris, Wholesale Grocer, 119 Front St., New York.

Two bottles of Ely's Cream Balm cured the wife of a well-known U. S. A. General and also two army officers in Arizona of Catarrh. sodw17

The Four Cardinal Points.

The four cardinal points of health are the stomach, the liver, the kidneys and the blood, any failure of their action brings disease and derangement to the whole system. Regulate their condition with Burdock Blood Bitters to secure perfect health. 2w16d

Without A Doubt.

There is no doubt that Hagyard's Yellow Oil is the best remedy for Sprains, Bruises, Sore Throat, Colds, Rheumatism, Croup and all Aches, Pains, Lameness and Soreness. It is used externally and internally, and should always be kept in the house. 2w16d

Make a Note of This.

Pain vanished as if by magic. Polson's Nerviline is a positive and almost instantaneous remedy for external, internal, or local pains. The most active remedy hitherto known falls far short of Nerviline for potent power in the relief of nerve pain. Good for external or internal use. Buy a 10 cent sample bottle. Large bottles 25 cents, at all druggists. 6dw15

His Friends Can Testify.

Mr. C. H. Vought, of Peterboro, Ont., says that his friends can testify to his being cured of Indigestion, Constipation, and Torpid Liver by using two and a half bottles of B. B. B. "It seems to act like magic, and I heartily recommend it" are the closing words of his letter. 2w16d

This now famous preparation for invigorating and stimulating the growth of the hair is universally accepted as the most valuable specific on the market. All diseases of the scalp are either relieved or permanently cured. A rich and rapid growth of hair will follow after judicious and regular treatment. It remains with the user alone to secure the desired results. Dr. Dorenwend's "Hair Magic" is sold by all druggists at $1 per bottle, or six bottles for $5. If not obtainable in your own locality send direct to the sole manufacturer, enclosing price. A. DORENWEND, Paris Hair Works, 103 and 105 Yonge street, Toronto. For sale by J. D. LOCAL NEWS.

The Weather.

Moderate to fresh north to north-west winds; fine weather; stationary, or a little higher temperature.

Personal Advice.

About 200 years ago Lord Littleton's advice was summarized as follows:—

"Be plain in dress, be sober in your diet,
In short, my deary, kiss me and be quiet."

This might be palatable advice to a lady two centuries ago, but the lady of to-day who is assured that the dress and mantle departments of the golden lion are replete with the most beautiful and fashionable stock in the country will turn a deaf ear to such advice and go and see for herself. She will be richly rewarded with a view of imported fabrics of great variety, offered at importers' prices.

The Social Club's Ball.

A ball, under the auspices of the Peterborough Social Club, was held in the new Chamberlen hotel Monday evening. There were about fifty couples present, who danced to the lively music of Prof. Dorsett's orchestra. The following gentlemen are to be given their share of credit for the success of the "hop:" Reception committee: Chas. W. Bailey, C. Loucks, F. J. McAuliffe; floor director, J. Russell; committee of management: Richard Cavanagh, Richard Fitzgerald, C. W. Bailey, Geo. Dyer, Geo. Kincaid and Jas. McAuliffe.

Separate Schools are Necessary.

The debate upon the undesirability of the separate school system in vogue in Canada, by the members of the Otonabee Canoe Club Monday evening, was decided in favor of the system. The affirmative side of the question—that it was detrimental to the best interests of Canadian people—was conducted by Messrs. T. Fortune and J. Millar, B.A.; the negative by Messrs. H. W. Stark and W. E. Ball, the latter winning by decision of the chairman, Mr. C. H. Allison. There were about twenty members present. Mr. F. H. Dobbin made a competent critic. The debate next Monday night will be upon the resolution "that the franchise should be extended to women." Messrs. A. Clegg and F. H. Dobbin will wrestle for the affirmative with their opponents on the opposition, Messrs. A. E. Scott and W. H. Hill. Mr. L. W. Allingham was chosen chairman and Mr. T. Workman critic.

A Seller Sold.

Mr. J. J. Turner, tent and awning maker, is on the war path, armed with a sail needle, looking for the man who led him a wild goose chase to Fentypool. This thriving town, Mr. Turner was told by some double-dyed reverse actor, would richly repay Mr. Turner for a business visit—he would take no end of orders for awnings for the palatial business houses. On Monday morning Mr. Turner set out on his journey and sat around the C.P.R. station from eight till about ten o'clock, waiting for the train—which to his disgust he found, on inquiry, had gone at 7.20. Next morning he tried again—it wouldn't do to let such a chance for business pass by. He reached the station in time; however, only catching the train by a foot, the dust of a fleeting comet of a couple of hundred yards. Arriving at Fentypool station, what was his surprise to find only a few houses that might be covered by a good sized marquee. Here he was told that the business portion of the town was a little further west up the track. After going a "little further west"—four miles, over a rough road bed of uneven ties—Mr. Turner reached Myrtle, where, when he arrived with blistered feet, he found one store—protected with a wooden verandah, which laughed his awnings to scorn. He came home. His feelings may be fancied, but the feelings of the coon that led him such a dance will be no fancy if the irate tent maker catches him.

Special inducements to farmers and all others during the busy season at T. Dolan's great boot and shoe shop. Prices right. Prices are not to low that no one is benefited, but a business basis, and every body encouraged. Come and see.

FELT HATS, the very newest and choicest in town at W. J. Green's, merchant tailor. Try one. d

A Big Oat.

Sunday night the team of grey horses that draws the Union Line 'bus escaped while being driven out to bind up, and ran away up street out of sight and hearing. Chase was made after the runaways, but they were lost sight of in the darkness. The chase was continued all day Monday, and that night were discovered in a field near Hardy's mill. "Mike" will be more careful in future when hitching up to drive to a train.

Willow and Wicket.

Cricketers are getting anxious for play to begin, and should the weather become warmer the stumps will probably be pitched next week. The ground is ready, but the weather is too cold for play.

The Secretary has received a letter from Toronto University team asking for the return match Peterborough owes them. It has yet to be learned that the local club is indebted to the 'Varsity. The records of the club do not show it.

The Last Bear of Winter.

During the winter the newspapers were redolent of bear stories, in which bold brute was represented as encroaching upon civilized communities and generally paying for his temerity with his life. The latest case of the kind just comes to light. The other morning as the 5 o'clock C.P.R. express was bowling along about three miles east of town a large black bear was discerned lying on the track. It jumped up on the approach of the train and bounded off ahead until it was caught up to and flung into the ditch alongside the track, dead. When the train reached Peterborough a handful of the bear's hair was gathered off the—"bear catcher."

Queen's Own or Grens.?

The question of a visiting regiment to Peterborough on the Queen's Birthday still remains unsettled. Mr. E. Brown, representing the Driving Park Association, was in Toronto Friday arranging for a visit of the Grenadiers. He understood the Q.O.R. had declined upon either Woodstock or Guelph, and the the Celebration Committee here had not invited the Grenadiers, he undertook to do so on behalf of the Driving Park Association. He made complete verbal arrangements, he says, for the Grenadiers to visit Peterborough. The celebration committee, however, claim that their prospects are good to get the Queen's Own, and Col. Rogers is expecting an acceptance of their invitation every mail. The Driving Park Association do not wish to run counter to the committee, and are therefore leaving their matter in abeyance till a definite answer is received from the Q.O.R. Should the latter decide not to come here, they will at once secure the Grenadiers.

THOSE prize packages of tea at the Pantry are decidedly the best value for the money in the trade.

Matrimonial.

St. Peter's Cathedral was well filled this morning at eight o'clock with spectators who were anticipating a wedding at that hour. At about half-past eight the wedding party appeared in the church, and the ceremony that united for life Mr. W. J. Morrow and Miss Annie Delaney was duly performed by Rev. Father Radkins. The bride was supported by her sister, Miss Delaney, and the groom by Mr. H. LeBrun. The dresses were plain but neat. Mr. and Mrs. Morrow left on the 11.30 train for Montreal and the east, where they will spend the honeymoon. The greatest interest was manifested in the proceedings by the assembled throng, who were deeply concerned in such an important event affecting two young people who were so well and favorably known to them. Mr. Morrow is a business man of industrious habits and strict integrity of character and one who possesses the highest confidence and esteem of his many friends. Of the bride it can be said that she has her full complement of the many female graces and accomplishments that are the essential qualities of a beautiful young woman and an adorable wife. The EXAMINER tenders its most sincere wishes for the future happiness of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Morrow.

The Late Rev. J. Ambrose.

The Essex (England) Standard of April 7th contains the following:—"Our obituary record to-day records the demise of the Rev. John Ambrose, M. A., of Copford Lodge, Essex, near Colchester, which took place at his residence on April 1st, after a long and painful affliction. The deceased, we believe, has never held any cure, but some years ago he used frequently to take occasional duty for various incumbents in and around his native village, and was a very powerful preacher. The remains were interred in the family vault in Copford Churchyard on Thursday, the rector of Copford, Rev. W. Rack-Keene, officiating, assisted by his curate. The mourners were Mr. Thomas H. Ambrose and Capt. Ambrose (nephews), Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Hawtayne (sister), Miss Cooper (niece), Professor Liveing and Dr. Liveing (brothers-in-law); Mr. Oliver Williams (executor), Mr. Edwin Worts (medical attendant), and Mr. H. H. Elwes (collector). There was a large congregation at the church. The funeral arrangements were in charge of Messrs. Rickwood & Son, of Colchester." The deceased gentleman was an uncle of Mr. Thomas H. Ambrose, Port Hope, son-in-law of Mr. W. Clunton. Mr. Ambrose is one of the executors and the heir of his uncle, who leaves a very large estate in consols and lands.

Clearing His Name.

In our police court record of a week ago Monday the name of Albert Curtis was given as being the one worn by a drunk who was convicted and fined. It was the result of a typographical error. The name should have been Carter. Mr. Curtis is a highly respected young man who wouldn't be guilty of such a thing, and this amende honorable is made gladly.

HAVING decided, at the Pantry, to clean out our entire stock of crockery and glassware, we will give astonishing bargains to all who will favor us with their patronage.

Two Small Fires.

Monday afternoon a small blaze occured in Mr. E. J. Carter's hames manufactory at Auburn. The roof and stock were damaged to but a slight extent, the fire being easily extinguished without calling out the brigade. The loss was covered by an insurance with Wilson & Morrison.

The woodshed attached to the residence of Mr. Benjamin Ventress on Sunday afternoon was slightly damaged by fire. The neighbors quickly put out the blaze with a few pails of water.

Their Annual Tea.

Rev. I. Tovell's Monday evening class in connection with the Charlotte street Methodist church held its annual tea last night. Light refreshment was provided in ample quantities, there being a considerable amount left over after the tea. A committee was appointed to distribute this surplus among the deserving poor. A couple of hours was spent by the class in social converse and jollity.

New Business.

By reference to advertisement in another column it will be seen that Mr. Geo. Ball, well known in town, intends opening, about the first of May, a gents' furnishing and tailoring establishment in the Cox block opposite the market square. Mr. Ball is a capable cutter and so thoroughly understands his business that he will, no doubt, attract a large share of public patronage. The EXAMINER wishes him every success.

This lady has had pictures from leading photographers in the United States and was never better pleased than with those done by Mr. Sproule.

A Secret Worth Knowing.

A lady in town when visiting a friend discovered a secret worth knowing, especially at this time of the year. In the course of conversation the following remarks were made.—"How lovely your room looks now, since you got it papered; what a lovely border; where did you get it?" "I got it this time at A. L. Davis & Co.'s and found that they had borders to match all their papers as well as a tremendous lot of papers to choose from, and when I asked their prices, I discovered there were just as low as anybody else's." Ladies, this is the reason why we sold more paper last year than the previous one and why we have sent our papers in the past beyond Toronto and as far east as Ottawa. Our prices in cheap paper are especially advantageous to those not requiring the higher priced papers. dw

Personal

Mr. James Stevenson, M. P., is suffering from a severe cold. Evidently Ottawa air doesn't altogether agree with him.

Mr. Rex. T. Walters, agent for Claire Scott, the distinguished English actress, is in town arranging for her appearance at the Opera House Monday and Tuesday evenings, in the great play of "Queen Elizabeth."

Mr. H. M. Armstrong, D.D.G.P., and a prominent Oddfellow of Toronto, spent Monday in town visiting his two sons, who are attending the public school here and boarding with Mrs. Sabine. His friends in Peterborough were pleased to see him.

It will be learned with regret that Mr. W. Banton is about to leave town and settle in Toronto, where he intends going into a business similar to that with which he has been engaged in here, in connection with Mr. Hurley. Mr. Banton leaves town the latter part of this week.

Street Numbering.

A great many ratepayers praise in the highest terms the manner in which Messrs. Martin and Duncan are numbering the houses through the town. They have taken a great many orders and they execute them with despatch and promptitude. Being local young men they should feel gratified at their success, and the encouragement they are meeting with in the undertaking.

The Last and Best.

A social under the auspices of the Ladies Aid Society will be held in the school room of St. Paul's church on Tuesday evening, 24th instant, at 8 o'clock. A good programme has been provided. Refreshments will be served. Admission 25c. All are cordially invited. As this social will be the last of the season special efforts are being made to make it the best. dtd

OUR Teas, Coffee and Spices at the Pantry are remarkable for their excellent quality and low prices.

This District's Rating at Queen's.

The results of the examinations at Queen's University, Kingston, have been announced, and we find that Peterborough has won her share of glory and gain. Mr. J. J. Wright, Peterborough, succeeded in winning the Anderson No. 1 second year divinity scholarship, value $50; and Mr. Orr Bennett, Peterborough, gained in the divinity examinations the $25 church history scholarship. Mr. T. A. Cosgrove, Millbrook, gained the Toronto-No.-1 scholarship, $30, for second year Hebrew. Mr. W. A. Findley, Lakefield, and Mr. R. J. Hunter, Millbrook, have successfully passed the final examination for the degree of Bachelor of Arts at Queen's University. Mr. Findlay passed with honors in Greek and Latin.

Band of Hope Entertainment.

Last evening, at St. Luke's schoolroom, an entertainment, under the auspices of the Band of Hope, was held. The schoolroom was fairly packed with people. The programme was mainly carried out by children of the school, who took all their parts most creditably. The Y. M. C. A. orchestra rendered several selections, and Mr. Burt entertained the audience with magic lantern slides. Vocal and instrumental music was given by a number of the little folks, and readings by Mr. Burt and Rev. W. C. Bradshaw, the latter also delivering a short address. The whole closed with a very pretty cantata entitled, "Children Visiting the Fairies," with Lilly Jackson in the role of Fairy Queen. Several tableaux vivants were prepared, but as there was not time to present them on this occasion, they were postponed till the next similar entertainment, to be held in two weeks.

St. Andrew's Organist.

Mr. A. E. Carter, at present organist at St. James' Cathedral, Toronto, has been offered and has accepted the position of organist of St. Andrew's church here. Mr. Carter gave an organ recital at the church last night before a large audience, composed of members of the congregation, and gave genuine satisfaction and pleasure by the manner in which he handled the "kist o' whistles." The committee, it is believed, have the unanimous approval of the congregation in the choice they have made. Mr. Carter is a first-class organist, and St. Andrew's is to be congratulated upon having secured so good a man.

OLD DR. CHASE'S NEW RECEIPT BOOK.

His Last and Crowning Life Work

Dr. Chase's Third, Last and Complete Receipt Book and Household Physician, or the Book for the Million, contains nearly 900 pages and sells for $1 00 in cloth binding and $1.50 in imported oil cloth, marble edge, and is justly by him called

"THE CROWNING WORK OF MY LIFE."

It is the result of over half a century's observation, study and experience. Yet this embodies no completion of his former books. IT IS WHOLLY A NEW BOOK If 20 years are he could produce a book that has had a sale of over fifteen hundred thousand copies, and has made his name familiar in nearly every English speaking home in the United States, Canada and thousands of homes in Europe, Australia and South America, what KIND of a book could or would he produce as his Crowning Life Work, WITH MORE THAN THIRTY YEARS OF ADDITIONAL PRACTICE AND EXPERIENCE! The book itself answers the question, and is the most valuable production in the history of book publishing.

CAUTION! Unscrupulous and pirating publishers are attempting to copy this book by taking portions of it out and palming it off on the public as the complete work. We own the manuscript, purchased from Dr. Chase's heirs. See that you get the GENUINE book. See that it has our name on the title page and is copyrighted by us.

NOTES FROM THE CAPITAL.

A COMPLETE SOMERSAULT ON THE PART OF THE GOVERNMENT.

The Labor Commission to Visit Ottawa—The Contest in Russell County—One of the Tory Candidates Leaves the Field—Honors to the Governor-General.

OTTAWA, April 24.—The Government has taken another somersault on the reciprocity question, and has openly repudiated the best part of the National Policy, viz., the standing offer clause of the statute of 1879. By the resolution of which Sir Charles Tupper has given notice those articles which Americans have evinced a desire to reciprocate in are taken out of the standing offer, viz., green fruit, plants, trees and shrubs, coal and coke, salted or cooked meats. This means that the Government has returned to the policy which they abandoned a few weeks ago, under pressure, it is true, but nevertheless distinctly abandoned. They said then to the people of the States, "We will reciprocate in the direction as far as you will. We have placed fruit, plants, trees, seeds and shrubs on the free list, and await the further action of Congress, when we will be pleased to meet the Mills Bill, if carried, by placing coal and lumber on our free list." Now, the Government has receded from this position and repeals its standing offer so far as fruits, plants, trees, scrubs, coal and coke are concerned. The Ministers boasted of this standing offer only a few days ago, and their newspaper organs pointed out to the ignorant fruit men how their little industry was not at all a part of the National Policy. They will in future do well to learn by telegraph each day what new attitude the Government of Canada has assumed towards the United States before they attempt justifying what they believe to be its policy. The new clause proposed substitutes malt, gypsum, poultry and wood pulp for the articles withdrawn from the statutory offer. But the Government well know that these are articles they are not likely to be called on to place on the free list, and they saw by the Mills Bill that there was every prospect of coal going on the American free list, and they knew that the other articles they have withdrawn were already free to Canada.

At the Cabinet Council yesterday Sir John Macdonald in making reference to the death of the late Hon. Thomas White completely broke down as he did in the House. The funeral this morning was attended by about 500, Sir John and Sir Hector following the relatives, and all the Cabinet Ministers except Sir Charles Tupper and Hon. Mr. Pope immediately behind. The members of Parliament, deputy Ministers and employes, City Council and prominent citizens were in attendance. The Dominion Police carried the coffin to and from the hearse. Sir Charles left last night for Montreal.

Changes in military district staffs have been decided on in Council, but the changes are not ascertained.

Mr. Patterson of Essex is prominently mentioned to-day in succession to Mr. White.

The Labor Commission will visit Ottawa about May 7, and will inquire into matters affecting the working classes in this city. So far 150 witnesses have been examined. Among the subjects which will come up for consideration here are the formation of an insurance association on the same system as the savings bank of the Postoffice Department, and under which a workingman can insure his life by paying a small premium, the establishment by the Government of intelligence bureaus in all the cities of Canada, and the proposal that the Government give the same privileges in the way of passage and free lands to unemployed workmen in Eastern Canada who may wish to emigrate to the Northwest as those extended to residents of other countries. The commission will also sit in Hull.

A very successful meeting was held this evening at Billings' Bridge in the interests of Mr. Edwards, the Reform candidate in Russell. Stirring speeches were delivered by Messrs. Macdonald (Huron), Choquette, Armstrong and Wilson, members of Parliament. The meeting was almost unanimous in favor of the Liberal candidate. Mr. Edwards, who was here to-day, is satisfied that he will be returned by a larger majority than that received at the general election. Mr. Raphael, the independent Tory candidate, has retired from the contest in favor of Mr. Mackintosh.

The sub-committee to take charge of the outdoor arrangements for the demonstration in honor of the Governor-General at his departure met last evening and decided generally upon what is to be done. Societies will be invited to appoint three delegates to take part in the farewell to His Excellency, thus enabling him to shake hands with the crowd by proxy. The people will accompany His Excellency en masse to the station, no regalia being allowed except a favor of red, white and blue.

HOME RULE.

Goldwin Smith and Chauncey Depew Join Issue at a Banquet.

NEW YORK, April 24.—At the 142nd annual dinner of the St. George's Society at Delmonico's last night Prof. Goldwin Smith said: "We cannot look without some anxiety at the state of things now prevailing in our ancient home. Yet I feel that the timbers of the old ship are sound and that she will weather this as she has weathered all other storms. [Applause.] It seems that a general resolution has been taken by Englishmen on this side to naturalize. I don't wonder that there has been some reluctance to do that, to break allegiance to such a glorious country as England, and that the anti-English feeling has led Englishmen to feel that they were in an alien country. But I think a wise resolution has been made, and one that you owe to your adopted country. The best service you can possibly render to England is to qualify yourselves for sitting in the councils of your adopted country. It is said that this movement is directed particularly against the Irish. [Cheers.] Gentlemen, I protest it is not. It is not intended to deprive any body of the citizens of the United States of any of their powers, but it is intended to prevent this country from being posed as the friend of an alien vote against Old England, to prevent an Englishman from being trampled upon by those who are angling for the Irish vote. [Applause.] We are opposed to the dismemberment of Ireland from the United Kingdom and handing it over to a part of the Irish people.

To Chauncey M. Depew was assigned the toast of the memory and genius of Shakespeare. He said there could be nothing more reciprocal than the relations now existing between Great Britain and the United States. We have had this year an unusual amount of timid talk flowing out of both sides. I have noticed at the dinners of the various societies that patties, which have hitherto been strictly tabooed, have been placed upon the table. This was especially noticeable at the Irish dinner where there was no other question but politics paramount, and here to-night Prof. Goldwin Smith gave us the synopsis of the political address he delivered during the last English campaign. As his speech is likely to be telegraphed all over the country I cannot let it pass if I do not express my absolute unqualified dissent from every opinion Prof. Goldwin Smith has uttered. [Cries of "Oh," and expressions of dissent.] When he says there is an unfriendly sentiment toward Englishmen here, he is mistaken. If John Bright were to visit this country to-morrow he would receive as enthusiastic a reception as any of our statesmen, and so would Mr. Gladstone. [Hisses.] That settles my opinion on the Home Rule question.

SOMEWHAT BETTER.

Emperor Frederick Passes a Good Night—Queen Victoria at Charlottenburg.

BERLIN, April 24.—This morning's bulletin says the Emperor passed a good night. His fever this morning is quite insignificant, and his general condition somewhat better.

Queen Victoria arrived at Charlottenburg at 9 this morning. The Empress, the Crown Prince and Crown Princess and the Prince and Princess of Saxe-Meiningen received her at the depot. Prince Henry and his sisters, the Princesses Victoria, Sophia and Margaret, Sir Edward Malet, the British Ambassador, the Duke of Rutland, the burgomaster and Municipal Council of Berlin were also present. The greetings between Queen Victoria and the Royal Family of Germany were warm. The Crown Prince conducted the Queen to an open carriage drawn by four horses, which she entered, and with the Empress beside her was driven to the castle. Crowds of people lined the route and cheered enthusiastically as the carriage passed. The Queen paid a visit to the Emperor shortly after her arrival. The doctors feared that the meeting would excite the Emperor and probably upset him, but their fears were groundless. The Emperor seemed rather brighter after the interview, and his temperature was normal.

The Emperor's fever increased toward midnight. His condition causes alarm.

The North German Gazette says the Emperor's condition shows clearly a perceptible tendency towards a slowly progressive improvement. His fever has diminished regularly during the last few days. His temperature to-day was 38 degrees Celsius. His physicians hope for a further abatement in view of the recent symptoms developed, and they find especial reason for hope in the return of his appetite. The fact that the Emperor has hitherto taken a fair quantity of nourishment is solely due to the urgent recommendation of his physicians. Good results followed the observance of their advice and His Majesty's present disposition to take solid food is a satisfactory symptom. But, says the paper, it is necessary to exercise caution in pronouncing judgment on the present aspect of the case. The Emperor showed some emotion on receiving Queen Victoria to-day, but he apparently suffers no ill effects from the meeting. Dr. Krause will leave the castle for the present.

WENTWORTH ASSIZES.

An Unfinished Action for Damages—True Bills—Scott Act Non-Enforcement.

HAMILTON, April 24.—At the Assizes to-day in Marshall v. McRae Judge Rose dismissed the plaintiff's action with costs. On Jan. 4, while Leslie Simpson was operating a retouching machine in the factory of the Woodburn Sarvin Wheel Company of St. Catharines, his left arm got tangled up in the machine in some way and was badly cut. He claims that the accident happened because the machine was defective, and sues the defendant for $1000 damages. The defence is that the accident was caused by the carelessness of Simpson. The case was not concluded to-night. The Grand Jury brought in true bills against Benjamin Parrott, jr., for aggravated assault and R. Lacey for assault. No bill was found against Thomas Hennessberry for larceny.

Judge Rose remarked to the Grand Jury re the Scott Act yesterday that if the act were not to be enforced he would be glad to see it excised from the statute book, as, not being enforced, it had done much to lower the respect for the laws.

A Heavy Docket at Owen Sound.

OWEN SOUND, April 24.—The Spring Assizes opened here to-day before Mr. Justice Falconbridge. The docket is heavy, there being fifteen civil and twelve criminal cases. The first case tried to-day was Wilson v. Thomson, an action for damages arising out of a horse trade. Verdict for plaintiff for $1300. Regina v. Barry, larceny, verdict guilty. Clements v. Cambridge, an action for damages caused by fire set out by defendant.

French Constitutional Revision.

PARIS, April 24.—The Senate to-day discussed the Military Bill. The committee on revision of the Constitution has decided to hear M. Floquet's views on the subject, and to ask him when he will present the proposal and what points it will specially embrace.

THE LAST TRIBUTE PAID.

FUNERAL OF THE LATE MINISTER OF THE INTERIOR.

A Great Gathering to do Honor to the Memory of the Departed Statesman—Sir John Macdonald Could not Leave Ottawa—Laid at Rest on Mount Royal.

OTTAWA, April 24.—The funeral of Hon. Thomas White, Minister of the Interior, took place to-day, and two cities paused for a time in their busy clamour to gather in silence about his grave. It was a solemn pageant, beginning in the Capital of the Dominion and ending in the great commercial capital of Quebec. Nor were the citizens of the former community, where his residence had been comparatively brief and recent, slower to show their appreciation of the worth and services of the deceased gentleman than were the citizens of the metropolis where he had built broad and firm the foundations of his reputation and success. In both cities the flower of the residents turned out, and showed by following in long processions on foot the respect they felt for the man who had fought his way into the ranks of leadership, and who owed his position there to no adventitious aids or cabals, but to the unremitting, undaunted, patient labor of thirty-five toilsome years.

His funeral was a national one in the truest sense of the word. From the Atlantic-washed shores of Cape Breton to the far-off sunny fields of the Pacific Province came the mourners and followers. The funeral was simple and it was grand, grand in its representative nature.

At 9 o'clock this morning a long cortege moved slowly away from the dead Minister's residence towards the Canada Atlantic station in the southern outskirts of the town. In that procession were 120 or more members of the House of Commons, many Senators, deputy heads of departments, members of the civil service, mourners, prominent citizens, press men and the entire Cabinet with the exception of Hon. J. H. Pope and Sir Charles Tupper. Mr. Pope is still ill, and Sir Charles had gone on to Montreal the night before, but he joined the mourning throng in that city to-day. They were all afoot. Sir John Macdonald, wrapped in a great fur-lined coat, looked sad, and his head was bowed as he marched solemnly at the side of Sir Hector Langevin.

The arrangements at the house were simple. There were no pallbearers, the casket was borne from the drawing-room to the hearse by six stalwart members of the Dominion Police Force. On the lid was this inscription:

HON. THOS. WHITE, P.C., M.P.,
Minister of the Interior, Superintendent General of Indian Affairs.
BORN AUGUST 7TH, 1830,
DIED APRIL 21ST, 1888.

The Government special train of six coaches was waiting at the depot. The casket was put in the baggage car, and at exactly 2.45 the powerful engine, heavily draped, pulled the train out of the depot and she started on her way to Montreal. Not half of those that came to the station got on board the train. The veteran Premier did not think he was able to stand the journey, the day being so unpleasant, and after the departure of the funeral train he returned to Earnscliffe. Sir Hector Langevin and Sir Adolphe Caron had also to remain in the Capital to transact the business of the Government. Hon. Wilfred Laurier went as far as the station with the cortege. Hon. John Carling, Hon. J. A. Chapleau, Hon. Mackenzie Bowell, Hon. A. W. McLelan, Hon. John Costigan, Hon. G. E. Foster and Hon. J. S. D. Thompson accompanied the party in a private car. The Governor-General sent Hon. Mr. Pakenham to represent his household. The Captain will not return to Rideau Hall, but sails on Saturday from New York for England, where he will join His Excellency later on and proceed with him to India.

The chief mourners were Richard White, brother of the deceased; Robert S., Fred and Thomas, his three sons; W. J. White and S. White, nephews; Wm. White, Q.C., of Sherbrooke, and Robert Romaine, brother-in-laws. W. H. Hammell, M.P.P. for Cardwell, Warden W. H. Hunter of Dufferin and Sheriff Brodie of Peel came down from that district to represent Mr. White's friends.

The train pulled into the Bonaventure Station at Montreal at 1.40 p.m. The depot was heavily draped, as was also the car in which the Cabinet Ministers traveled. Many prominent citizens of the commercial metropolis met the funeral train. Among them were Sir A. A. Dorion, Andrew Robertson, Hon. R. Masson, Hon. Thos. Ryman, Justices Mathieu, Tait and Davidson, Geo. MacRae, Q.C., D. MacMaster, Q.C., J. C. Hatton, Q.C., M. P. Ryan, Hugh Graham, A. F. Gault, S. E. Dawson, H. M. Parent, E. Judge, Acting Mayor Ald. Cunningham, Ald. Cleghorning, Ald. Martineau, S. Davis, Jos. Tasse, Henry Hogan, Wm. Salter, Rev. Dr. Campbell, Lt.-Col. Hart, Rev. S. Massey, J. R. Dougall, John Crawford, Wm. Weir, Hon. Mr. Lafleamme, F. W. Henshaw, W. Matthewson, Hollis Shorey, Louis Beaubien, E. K. Greene, W. W. Ogilvie, W. Stephens, R. L. Gault, G. A. Drummond, Joseph Hickson, W. W. Wainwright, W. G. Van Horne, T. G. Shaughnessy and W. A. Patterson. Mr. Charles Taylor, Secretary-Treasurer of the Globe Printing Company; Mr. Lad. Cameron of The London Advertiser and Mr. R. G. Patterson of Toronto also met the mourners from the capital.

The cortege proceeded via Windsor-street to St. George's Church where the services were held. The edifice was packed, the gallery being filled with ladies. Bishop Bond, Very Rev. Dean Carmichael and Archdeacon Evans officiated. The beautiful hymn from "The Martyr of Antioch" (Prof. Milman) was sung

"When our hearts are heaved in woe,
When our bitter tears o'erflow,
When we mourn the last, the dear
Jesus, born of woman, hear.

The Dean read a chapter in Corinthians and the Bishop said the Episcopal burial service. All of the Church of England clergy of the city were present. Then the journey was renewed to Mount Royal Cemetery, where the interment took place.

Besides passing resolutions of condolence, the Montreal Board of Trade and the Corn Exchange sent deputations to the funeral.

The special train reached the Capital on its return trip at 11.15 to-night.

Resolutions of Sympathy.

WINNIPEG, April 24.—In the Legislature last night resolutions of sympathy with the family of the Minister of the Interior were passed on motion of Messrs. Norquay and Greenway, both of whom spoke feelingly.

THE CONTRACT LABOR LAW.

President Cleveland's Letter to the U.S. District Attorney for Massachusetts.

BOSTON, April 24.—The letter to United States District Attorney Galvin from President Cleveland relative to the importation of foreigners into Massachusetts ports in violation of the contract labor law is as follows:

To Hon. O. A. Galvin, U.S. Dist. Atty. Boston, Mass:

DEAR SIR—Information has reached the Treasury Department that a large number of foreigners have been brought into Massachusetts in violation of the contract labor law, for the purpose of manning American fishery vessels sent out from the ports of Gloucester, Boston and Beverly for the purpose of taking fish along the Canadian coast. It seems to me quite certain that such foreigners and aliens have been brought in by parties in direct violation of the statute covering such cases, and I believe that the importation of such foreigners tends to the displacement of American labor. I am aware that many of these persons have through the care of the officials been returned to the country from which they came. I therefore enjoin on you the duty of a prompt investigation of these cases, and request that you confer with the collectors of the ports of Boston and Gloucester, that prompt and effective measures may be taken. The department has ordered that special agents be detailed, who will report directly to you, and if you require any further assistance it will be given you upon application.

TORONTO TOPICS.

Hon. Timothy Warren Anglin, ex-Speaker of the House of Commons, was yesterday elected member of the Toronto Separate School Board for St. Andrew's Ward by a vote of 179 as against 75 polled for Mr. Samuel Dunbar.

The Building Committee of the Board of Trade have recently held two meetings. They are thoroughly impressed with the idea that a new building is necessary for the Board, and intend pushing the matter through.

ST. JOHN'S BAD LUCK.

Another Financial Calamity Threatened.—The St. John Building Society in Deep Water.

ST. JOHN, N.B., April 24.—For two years past it has been known that the affairs of the St. John Building Society were in bad shape, but the people had no idea they were so bad until lately, when suspicions were aroused and two expert auditors were appointed to go over the Treasurer's books. They have found the accounts in such a chaotic condition that little could be made of them. However they have made some rather startling discoveries which are only given in whispers on the street, but which will probably be more fully divulged when the auditors have completed their labors and made up a report.

The directors, a few days ago, for the purpose of securing depositors and debenture holders, executed a deed of trust on all the real estate, mortgages and other assets of the society to F. S. Harpe and Arthur J. Tremen of St. John and Thomas Williams of Moncton. By doing this it was expected the business of the society would be continued and those interested might perhaps in time realize something out of their investment. But this view has not been acquiesced in by some of the depositors in the concern who, fearing that if continued, it would be but the postponement of the evil day, have applied to the Supreme Court to put the society into liquidation under the Winding-up Act. A motion will be heard at Fredericton this week and the directors intend resisting it.

There was within a fraction of $100,000 on deposit when the last report was made up. Nearly all the depositors are mechanics or people of the middle class who cannot afford to lose a cent.

The difficulties of the society are largely due to shrinkage in the value of their properties.

MANITOBA LEGISLATURE.

A Bill to Raise $1,500,000 Introduced by the Provincial Treasurer.

WINNIPEG, April 24.—At to-day's session of the Legislature the Provincial Treasurer introduced a bill to raise $1,500,000 at 5 per cent. There was $300,000 deficit to meet, the Red River Valley road would require $775,000 and $35,000 will be needed to put the Hudson Bay road in shape to earn its land grant. No complete financial statement, he said, could be made this session, the auditors not having finished their work.

The act repealing the Superannuation Act passed its second reading.

In the Committee on Elections yesterday an act was considered and ordered reported disqualifying from voting nearly all Federal and Local Government officers.

Passed Over Mayor Hewitt's Veto.

NEW YORK, April 24.—The Board of Aldermen had a lively session to-day when the resolution curtailing the Mayor's power in displaying flags on the City Hall was offered by Vice-President Dowling for passage over Mr. Hewitt's veto. By the ordinances the Mayor had unlimited powers over the flags. The resolution passed over his veto by a vote of 20 to 3, gives the Mayor power unless the aldermen otherwise direct.

AN OPEN LETTER TO THE LADIES OF PETERBOROUGH AND VICINITY.

We have a word or two to say to you. In these times when money is considered rather scarce, you would be studying your interests by buying at close Cash Prices, and at Reliable Houses. There is in our midst a First Class Dry Goods House that meets every requirement. Rowse's Trade Palace is established in the interest and for the protection of those who pay ready money for their Dry Goods.

Their prices are very low. Look in their Show Window to-day, and you can get any article there at Five Cents. This is a curiousity. Novelties in Fine Dress Goods are exhibited on their counters at Twelve and a-half cents. A Lady told Mr. Rowse the other day that she had been around town looking at Silks and she saw some that she thought were cheap, but she could not depend on the reliability of the house she had visited. She bought her Silk at the Trade Palace. Rowse's Silks at Fifty and Sixty cents are wonderful value.

In conclusion, we respectfully ask you to look through the Elegant Display of Dry Goods at the Trade Palace.

Faithfully yours,

ONE WHO STUDIES YOUR INTERESTS.

The Second Anniversary.

Celebrated by the Peterborough Y.W.C.T.U.—Mrs. Chisholm's Capital Address—A Large Attendance Delighted with a Fine Programme.

The beautiful rooms of the Y. W. C.T.U. were filled to repletion on Tuesday evening on the occasion of the celebration of the second anniversary of the establishment of the local Union. The rooms are handsomely decorated in a characteristically, feminine manner, with articles of needlework bric-a-brac, dainty pictures and flowers. The members are evidently of "home" rule proclivities, for, conspicuous on the wall alongside her Majesty's portrait, hangs that of the grand old man, the sterling champion of "Home Rule" for Ireland, and of the oppressed and fallen in every land.

Miss Lizzie Sanderson, president of the Union, occupied the chair, and on the platform sat beside her Mrs. Chisholm, of Ottawa president of the Provincial W.C.T.U.

The proceedings began with a reading from Holy Scripture, Judges vi. 11, etc., the singing of the hymn, "Brightly Gleams our Banner," and prayers by Rev. F. Clifton Parker. Miss Sanderson, in view of the recent resignation of the secretary, gave a verbal sketch of the history of the Union which was organized by Miss Skinner, of Toronto, in April, 1877, with a membership of 18 with Miss Edwards as president. Meetings were at first held fortnightly. Subsequently Miss Pearson, of Brantford, assisted in adding the Kindergarten branch. Next was the formation of a floral committee consisting of Misses Mercer, Stenson, Cox and Bertram. This committee met once a week and arranged bouquets of flowers enclosing Scripture texts and to sick persons. The full development of the Kitchen-Garden was hindered from lack of a piano. An entertainment given in March failed to supply sufficient funds, but private endeavor was more successful, and arrangements were made by which an upright Mason & Risch pianoforte was placed in the rooms. During the past six months the intellectual programme of the Union had consisted of Scripture readings and a critical study of Mrs. Browning's "Aurora Leigh." Reference was also made to the manuscript periodical issued by the Society, The Apple Blossom, which has been noticed in these columns. In spite of many discouragements and the weakening of the Union by the removal of many members, the Union still flourished, and the address closed with thanks to all friends who had assisted in the promotion of its prosperity and objects.

FOR DISTRIBUTION TO HOSPITAL PATIENTS

During the evening the following entertaining programme was excellently presented by the several contributors:—

1. Quartette.."Soldier's Farewell" ..... Y.M.C.A. Quartette
2. Duet. "Swedish Wedding March"...Scharwenka Miss Bradburn and Mr. W. H. Diggle
3. Song..... "I Fear no Foe" .....Pinsuti Mr. F. Annesley.
4. Address.."Work of the W.C.T.U. ..... Mrs. Chisholm.
5. Song "When the Tide Comes In"..H. Millard Miss Schofield.
6. .....Prize Contest on Pronounciation..... Conducted in the Interests of "English as She is Spoke."
7. Duet, Piano & Ocarina. "Gondolier Waltz" Miss K. B. Annesley and Mr. F. Annesley.

REFRESHMENTS.

8. Solo and Quartette.."Let me Dream" ..... Y.M.C.A. Quartette.

GOD SAVE THE QUEEN

Mrs. Chisholm's address was delivered with great impressiveness and a latent enthusiasm gave evidence of the intense earnestness with which she carries on her work. She is a pleasant-faced lady, undemonstrative, both in style of dress and manner. She has a pleasant voice, and uses refined language, in grammatical construction, accent and enunciation. She began her address by reference to the picture of Rizpah watching the bodies of her sons, and compared her despair with that of the modern mother over her son, ruined and murdered by the liquor traffic. After quoting examples of

THE RUIN WROUGHT BY THE TRAFFIC,

she asked if centuries of wrong like this did not warrant women banding together to do battle with the traffic. The W.C.T.U. work began practically with the Women's Crusade, fourteen years ago, and now the Unions embrace a membership of 200,000 in the United States and 10,000 in Canada. The latter are divided into Dominion, Provincial, county and local unions and the Young Women's Unions and Bands of Hope, each with its own work, yet all working in harmony with a common object. The work was divided into twenty-three departments. The Organization Department employed four persons to form unions wherever possible. The Scientific Instruction Department dealt with the effects of alcohol on the system, and the Union was credited, and would not repudiate the credit, with procuring the authorization of the temperance text book for schools by the Ontario Department of Education. The Temperance Literature Department and the Press Department explained themselves. The Evangelistic Department was the basis of all the work of the Union and pathetic examples were given of triumphs achieved by this branch. The Unfermented Wine Department discouraged the use of fermented wine for sacramental purposes, and the lumbermen's work distributed temperance literature among this class. The Provincial and County exhibition work aimed at the dissemination of temperance principles at exhibition gatherings. The Prison and Police work were self explanatory. The Legislative Franchise and Petition Department had under consideration the petitioning of the Dominion Government for an out and out prohibition Act. The recent unfortunate—if it were unfortunate—defeat of the Scott Act showed the Union that nothing but absolute prohibition would suit. The Hygienic, Railroad, Sailors' Mission work and Social Purity Departments were referred to and the "Y's" warmly lauded for and which was daily more and more enlisting the sympathy and co-operation of the first young ladies of the land in the noble work. Mrs. Chisholm closed her excellent address by appealing to the ladies present to actively enlist in the work.

THE IMPORTANT WORK THEY WERE DOING,

Previous to the distribution of refreshments, a pleasing exhibition of Kindergarten training by a class of eight little girls was given.

The pronouncing competition, conducted by Mr. Dobbin, was very entertaining, and the judges, Messrs. Earle, Hill and Colbeck, awarded the prize to Mr. O. C. Rowse.

After the president had given the thanks of the "Y" to Mrs. Chisholm, to those who had helped in the programme, to Mr. A. Clegg for decorations and to those who had attended the anniversary celebration, the pleasant evening's proceedings were closed by singing the National Anthem.

Farming Operations and Crop Prospects.

Every Farmer Busy at Work—Good Prospects for the Fall Wheat, With Future Favourable Weather.

Mr. A. B. Kidd, of Dunmar, was in town Tuesday morning, and reports respecting farming operations and crop prospects. In a drive of about twenty miles, he says, he noticed every farmer busy, either sowing or ploughing. The farmers are generally busy putting in their spring wheat and barley. The soil is in excellent condition, and the work is progressing rapidly—everything is booming agriculturally except the growth—there is no growth whatever, and it is a rather dreary outlook for stock. There was not a very heavy stock of fodder laid in last fall, and the long winter has made away with the most of it. There is so great a scarcity of fodder that scores of farmers would be unable to find either oats or hay for a passing traveller's horse, if he should demand their hospitality.

If growing weather does not come soon there will be tight rations for farmers' stock. And the trouble is that one farmer, as a rule is as badly off in respect of fodder as another, and, in consequence, very few will have any surplus to divide with a neighbor. Many of those who had surplus fodder have sold it in town during the winter. With very little grain to sell and that at low prices, they had to convert some of their farm produce into money. Now some of them have only the money, but that will neither serve as food for stock nor purchase fodder, from the simple fact that there may be none to be sold. Mr. Kidd says the winter wheat has wintered well and has not he thinks been to any serious extent injured by the thawing and freezing. It does not look very promising but that is accounted for by the fact that, owing to the dry weather last fall, there was very little growth at that time. He has noticed that as a general rule the tap root is still firm in the soil. He has also noted that wheat drilled in looks far better than that sown broadcast. It not only shows better but has consequently stood the winter better. It is a striking commentary on farming methods that the farmers' wheat sown in the best manner in the best prepared soil, stands the winter the best. Slovenly farming does not pay.

Excellent wheeling to Peterborough.

A number of young men, former residents of this place, drove from Peterborough recently. They look quite improved and toned up, and went away quite as happy as when arriving. They speak in glowing terms of Peterborough.

Peterborough will have a crowd from here on the 24th of May, to witness the grand military celebration.

The Growth of the Hair.

Should always be watched. Inattention to the hair often leads to premature grayness and baldness. When dandruff appears it should be looked after at once. By frequently using a little of Dr. Dorenwend's Great German Hair Magic the scalp will be kept in a clean and healthy condition and the strength and vigor of the hair greatly promoted. It is the only reliable. Do not be talked into using anything else. For sale by all druggists everywhere. dw

In the Spring a young man's fancies may "lightly turn to thoughts of love," but the fancies of older people more commonly turn to what they shall or can eat.

The "Spring appetite" is flagging and fickle. The keen relish of the sharp winter weather is dulled or gone. It is Nature's hint for a change in the quality and a let-up in the quantity of food consumed.

TORONTOS' GREAT GAME.

THE BEST TEAM THAT HAS PLAYED AT WORCESTER THIS SEASON.

League Ball Association Games Yesterday —A Letter from Hanlan—Teemer Claims the Championship—Sullivan Challenges the World—Spots of Sport.

WORCESTER, Mass. April 24.—The home team dropped a small game to-day and Boston go over the border. The weather was bad. In fact could not have been worse and allow play to go on. The attendance was rather slim, but those present buttoned their overcoats and enjoyed a really fine exhibition of batting and base running by the visitors. The most brilliant play of the day and of the season so far, was a long fly catch in centre field by Burke after a long forward and backward run. Decker's throwing to bases was a great feature of the game. The Torontos, in fact, played all around the home team, and are easily the best team that has yet appeared on the local grounds during the season of 1888. The score:

A Letter from Hanlan.

From Petley's Hotel, Sydney, N.S.W., Edward Hanlan writes: "I have arranged to row Peter Kemp for £500 a side and the championship of the world. The race will be rowed on Saturday, May 5, over the Parramatta course, and I might as well say that I have no soft job on hand. Beach has told all his backers and friends that Kemp can beat him, and that Kemp is sure to beat Hanlan. I don't think so, and I shall have to wait and see for myself. I think that should I defeat Kemp, Beach will be out again. I have also arranged a match with Trickett, to take place at Rockhampton, the stakes to be £500 a side. If I pull through I shall return home with £5000 in pocket. I am well pleased with my second visit to Australia, and if I see a gor l chance to go into business here I shall accept it, but, of course, I shall have to return home first just to see all old friends in Toronto. I want to see the Kemp-Clifford race for the championship, and Kemp rowed in grand form. Whoever beats him will have to be a good one, for this man Kemp beat Clifford from the start. Give my kind regards to all the boys, who will doubtless be pleased to hear that I am in good form and doing well, although the climate is a little trying."

Teemer Claims the Championship.

PITTSBURG, April 24.—John Teemer, champion oarsman of the United States, accompanied by his wife and youthful son, arrived in this city from Florida on Sunday night. They went directly to McKeesport. Teemer is as brown as an Indian and says he never felt better in his life. In an interview he said: "I propose to claim the title of champion of the world after May 1. I know that Kemp and Hanlan are to row for this title on May 5, but I have a stronger claim to it than either of them. I have defeated Hanlan fairly and squarely, and Beach had no authority to transfer the title to Kemp or any other man. I have had a challenge, backed up with $2000 forfeit, standing all winter, to rowany man in the world. Hanlan and Kemp both knew this, and I am not going to let them run away with honors that do not belong to them. I will be ready to defend my claim against all comers for as much money as they care to put up."

Sullivan Challenges the World.

BOSTON, April 24.—Shortly after John L. Sullivan arrived in this city he called at The Herald Office and issued a challenge to fight any man in the world in a 16-foot ring, London Prize Ring or Marquis of Queensbury rules, for $10,000 a side. A deposit of $250 was made with The Herald sporting editor. Sullivan states that he prefers that Kilrain or Mitchell accept the challenge before any others.

The Raw, Cutting Winds

Bring to the surface every latent pain. A change of even a few degrees marks the difference between comfort and pain to many persons. Happily disease now holds less sway. Science is continually bringing forward new remedies which successfully combat disease. Polson's Nerviline—nerve pain cure—has proved the most successful pain relieving remedy known. Its application is wide, for it is equally efficient in all forms of pain, whether internal or external. Ten and 25 cents a bottle, at druggists. 6dw17

Is That What Ails You?

Do you have dull, heavy headache, obstruction of the nasal passages, discharges falling from the head into the throat, sometimes profuse, watery, and acrid, at others, thick, tenacious, mucous, purulent, bloody and putrid; eyes weak, watery, and inflamed; ringing in the ears, deafness, hacking or coughing to clear the throat, expectoration of offensive matter, together with scabs from ulcers; voice changed and nasal twang; breath offensive; smell and taste impaired; is there a sensation of dizziness, with mental depression, a hacking cough and general debility? If you have all, or any considerable number of these symptoms, you are suffering from Nasal Catarrh. The more complicated your disease has become, the greater the number and diversity of symptoms. Thousands of cases annually, without manifesting half of the above symptoms, result in consumption, and end in the grave. No disease is so common, more deceptive and dangerous or less understood, or more unsuccessfully treated by physicians. The manufacturers of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy offer, in good faith, a reward of $500 for a case of this disease which they cannot cure. The Remedy is sold by druggists, at only 50 cents.

The four cardinal points of health are the stomach, the liver, the kidneys and the blood, any failure of their action brings disease and derangement to the whole system. Regulate their condition with Burdock Blood Bitters to secure perfect health. 2w16d

Without A Doubt.

There is no doubt that Hagyard's Yellow Oil is the best remedy for Sprains, Bruises, Sore Throat, Colds, Rheumatism, Croup and all Aches, Pains, Lameness and Soreness. It is used externally and should always be kept in the house. 2w16d

Make a Note of This.

Pain banished as if by magic. Polson's Nerviline is a positive and almost instantaneous remedy for external, internal, or local pains. The most active remedy hitherto known falls far short of Nerviline for potent power in the relief of nerve pain. Good for external or internal use. Buy a 10 cent sample bottle. Large bottles 25 cents, at all druggists. 6dw15

OLD DR. CHASE'S NEW RECEIPT BOOK.

His Last and Crowning Life Work

Dr. Chase's Third, Last and Complete Receipt Book and Household Physician, or the Book for the Million, contains nearly 900 pages and sells for $2.25 in cloth binding and $1.00 in imported oil cloth, marble edge, and is justly by him called

"THE CROWNING WORK OF MY LIFE."

It is the result of over half a century's observation, study and experience. Yet this embodies no compilation of his former books. IT IS WHOLLY A NEW BOOK If 30 years ago he could produce a book that has had a sale of over fifteen hundred thousand copies, and has made his name familiar in nearly every English speaking home in the United States, Canada and thousands of homes in Europe, Australia and South America, what KIND of a book could or would he produce as his Crowning Life Work, WITH MORE THAN THIRTY YEARS OF ADDITIONAL PRACTICE AND EXPERIENCE? The book itself answers the question, and is the most valuable production in the history of book publishing.

CAUTION! Unscrupulous and pirating publishers are attempting to copy this book by taking portions of it out and palming it off on the public as the complete work. We own the manuscript, purchased from Dr. Chase's heirs. See that you get the GENUINE book. See that it has our name on the title page and is copyrighted by us.

A Costly Wager.

Just before the recent voting on the repeal of the Scott Act, a young man in town laid a wager with a young lady that repeal would not carry. The stakes were half a dozen pairs of six-button kid gloves against a pair of slippers. Of course the young man lost—he paid his wager like a man, and it cost him a plump six dollars for half a dozen pairs of six-button No. 5 kids—and he will have to get his washing done all summer on credit. If he had waited till now he could get the same gloves at the golden lion—where great bargains are going on in four-button and six-button kid gloves—for 50 cents per pair. Ladies, make a note of this.

A Salvation Army Romance.

The Port Hope Guide relates the following:—"The bartender of the Queen's Hotel, Millbrook, was love-struck on a cadet of the Salvation Army, but said cadet would have none of him unless he joined the Army. So on Sunday night last, the liquor-mixer went forward as a seeker, and professed conversion. This was enough, for on Monday morning the whiskey-slinger and his lady lover left for parts unknown."

A Handsome Present.

A short time since, Mr. J. R. Reid, of Brockville, Provincial Grand Master, presented the Oddfellow lodges in Peterborough with handsome photographic portraits of himself, as souvenirs of his visit to Peterborough last August. Otonabee lodge accepted its photogram with thanks, and by resolution ordered it to be framed and hung in the lodge room. Mr. J. G. Early, V.G., attended to the details of the matter. By a happy thought, Mr. Early procured a portrait of Grand Secretary King and had it framed in a corresponding manner, and presented it to the lodge, on Monday evening last. Mr. Early's thoughtful and graceful interest in giving the lodge the pleasure of possessing a picture of the highly respected Grand Secretary as a companion to that of the Grand Master, was heartily recognized by the lodge in the shape of an enthusiastic vote of thanks.

A Talented English Actress.

The Ottawa Evening Journal says of Miss Claire Scott, the eminent English actress, who appears at the Opera House on Monday and Tuesday evenings:—"A large sized audience filled the Grand Opera House last evening on the occasion of the appearance of Miss Claire Scott and her company in "Lucrotia Borgia." The talented actress filled the title roll acquitting herself in a manner to elicit frequent outbursts of applause. She proved herself to be eminently qualified for such a difficult character in Hugo's masterpiece. In the third act her emotional powers were displayed to good advantage. At the close of the third act after portraying with fearful reality the haughty Queen hesitating to make known the secret of her life, Miss Scott achieved a genuine triumph, and was called before the curtain. The dresses worn by Miss Scott and the lady members of her company were marvels of the dressmaker's art. The support was good throughout. Mr. S. R. Coburn, as Genarro, a soldier of fortune, scored a great success, his finishing acting being greatly admired." Read advertisement elsewhere for particulars. Seats at Hartley's.

The Ladies' Aid Social.

The school-room of St. Paul's church was crowded to overflowing Tuesday evening. A social under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society of the church was the attraction that brought so many people together from all the churches in town. During an intermission in the programme coffee, cake and sandwiches were passed around by willing hands, and this material gratification added much to the enjoyment of the occasion. Mr. Sheriff Hall occupied the chair, and at the close returned thanks to those who had assisted in the programme as well as to those who had attended the social. The programme was an entirely musical one. The amateur orchestra, comprising twelve pieces, played the introductory airs for both parts, in the second half being heartily encored. Of vocal solos there were quite a number—by Mrs. Macklin, Mrs. Sanderson, Miss Cottingham, Mr. Elliott and Mr. Shaw. All the solos were well rendered, and several of the singers were encored. Miss Helen Dennistoun's performance upon the piano was much admired and encored. Two vocal duets, by Misses Haultain and Dennistoun, and Mrs. Macklin and Mr. Elliott were favorably received. Piano duets were given by Misses Fairweather and M. Taylor, and by Mrs. and Miss Roper. During the intermission for refreshments Miss Fairweather delighted the musical fancies of the audience with piano selections while they were supplying their material wants. Mrs. Roper is also deserving of special credit for having played most of the accompaniments. Vocal quartettes were rendered by two groups of singers, Misses Cottingham and Haultain, Messrs. Shaw and Morris in one, and Mrs. Macklin, Miss Haultain, and Messrs. Shaw and Elliott in the other. The programme was concluded by the National Anthem, the audience dispersing well pleased with the evening's entertainment.

The Grenadiers are Coming.

The Driving Park Association Have Decided to Have Them Down—A Joint Celebration.

A meeting of the directors of the Driving Park Association and the Fire Brigade was held last night, and it was decided to conduct a union demonstration on the Queen's birthday. As stated in the EXAMINER yesterday, the Association have made all necessary arrangements for the visit of the Grens., and have finally decided to bring them down.

The Grenadiers will number over 400 men, with two fine bands, and will arrive in town the night of the 23rd, leaving the evening of the 24th, though it is possible one or perhaps both of the bands will remain over night and give a promenade concert at the Driving Park. While in town the Gren. will be quartered at the Lansdowne skating rink.

That the Grenadiers will visit Peterborough on the 24th may now be looked upon as a certainty. The officers and men were anxious for an invitation from Peterborough, and will eagerly accept it.

The celebration under joint auspices on the Queen's birthday will take the form of horse races, athletic events, a grand military review and parade of firemen. The Association and Brigade intend to do their level best to make this year's demonstration in honor of the Queen one to be remembered.

The Montreal Game.

There will be a meeting at the Y.M.C.A. rooms this evening at nine o'clock to organize a lacrosse club. All interested are urged to attend

Notice to Wheelmen.

A meeting of the Bicycle Club is called for to-morrow (Thursday) evening at Hartley's music rooms. It is hoped there will be a full attendance, as the club needs more complete organization to make it efficient.

The Queen's Own.

Col. Rogers received a letter from the Queen's Own Rifles, Toronto, yesterday, stating that the regiment had not yet decided where they should spend the 24th. The Colonel is to be notified as soon as the matter is decided.

Painting the Town.

Enough paint to do the whole town, ready mixed at that, ranging from the brightest vermillion to the sombrest black, and including all colors and shades made, can be had at Fortye & Phelan's.

Large Stock Purchase.

M. A. Niven, P.L.S., of Haliburton, is registered at the Oriental. He has purchased in this locality about 100 head of young cattle for his stock farm in Haliburton. They will be shipped to their destination about the first of May.

THOSE prize packages of tea at the Pantry are decidedly the best value for the money in the trade.

East Riding Commissioners.

The Commissioners met to-day at Allen's Temperance House, Hunter street. Present: Messrs. Moher and Wilson, Commissioners, and Inspector Darling. The business was confined to passing a number of accounts and striking the estimates for 1888-1889. There were no applications for license.

Brightening Hazel Brae.

"Hazel Brae" buildings are undergoing a thorough spring cleaning and repainting. Mr. W. S. Cooke has had several caloiminers and painters on the premises for the past two weeks. When Mr. Cocks packs up his kit and leaves, "Hazel Brae" will have been greatly beautified and improved.

The Bandmaster's Salary.

Mr. F. W. Millar, the capable leader of the 57th Batt. Band, has been offered a substantial inducement to remove to the Northwest, and it is understood will accept unless his salary as bandmaster here is increased. A meeting of the officers of the Batt. was held last night to consider the matter. It was referred to a committee appointed for the purpose.

Lost Her Mother.

This forenoon a lady entered a store to do some shopping, leaving her little girl outside. While the mother was inside the child strayed away, and began crying for its mamma. A passing lady took compassion on the little one and asked her name, but the child could only remember she was called "May." A search was begun for the little girl's mother, and it is presumed she was soon found, as the matter was not reported to the police.

Sixty-Ninth Oddfellow Anniversary.

Next Thursday, April 26th, being the sixty-ninth anniversary of the establishment of Oddfellowship in America, the lodges in town have arranged to conjointly celebrate the occasion in Otonabee Lodge, Peterborough Lodge foregoing its regular meeting that evening. Every Oddfellow in town is expected to assemble in Otonabee Lodge rooms on Thursday evening, when the chair will be taken at 8 o'clock by Bro. J. R. Stratton, M.P.P., D.D.G.M. Visiting Oddfellows are cordially invited. 2d

The Band Tournament.

A meeting of the band was held Tuesday night to consider a number of replies from bands in the province regarding the band tournament here next August. The majority of the bands were in favor of the three-judge system, and this plan will probably be followed out. Some of the bands promised to attend while others could give no definite answer as the date was too far ahead. An invitation is to be extended to the Rochester, N.Y., band to take part in the tournament.

Battalion Notes.

Capt. Brennan requests a full turn-out of No. 6 company at the drill shed Thursday evening.

Company No. 4 meets for drill (this) Wednesday evening, and No. 2 Thursday evening.

Numbers 1 and 5 turned out at the drill shed Tuesday evening, but no drill could be performed. There was but a small dry spot of earth at the upper end of the shed, the rest being covered with mud and ice. It will take two weeks of warm weather to thoroughly dry the floor.

A Secret Worth Knowing.

A lady in town when visiting a friend discovered a secret worth knowing, especially at this time of the year. In the course of conversation the following remarks were made.—"How lovely your room looks now, since you got it papered; what a lovely border; where did you get it?" "I got it this time at A. L. Davis & Co.'s and found that they had borders to match all their papers as well as a tremendous lot of papers to choose from, and when I asked their prices, I discovered there were just as low as anybody else's." Ladies, this is the reason why we sold more paper last year than the previous one and why we have sent our papers in the past beyond Toronto and as far east as Ottawa. Our prices in cheap paper are especially advantageous to those not requiring the higher priced papers. dw

Lakefield.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

HER FIRST TRIP.

On Monday afternoon a number of his friends took advantage of Capt. Eden's kind invitation to run up to Young's Point on the "Dawn." Notwithstanding that the current is very strong, and the engine being new worked stiffly, good time was made, the lake being clear of ice, and we all received a hearty welcome from Mr. Young, who was delighted to again see a steamer arrive. A couple of hours was spent examining the new boat in course of construction and the work on the locks and canal, when the call was sounded for home, which was made in 40 minutes, with only 40 pounds of steam. All were pleased with the trip and with the captain, and were satisfied that he has a boat that will give satisfaction to campers and others who may desire an outing on the waters of our back lakes.

OPTICAL DELUSIONS

A well known gentleman of the village seems to have been the victim of a number of optical delusions of a strange nature for the last week or two, which take the form of dwarfing, or contracting the size of anything he may view, be it facts, figures or material objects, all of which are reduced to the smallest bulk in his sight. Take for instance the few items of expenditure of the village and annual cost of maintenance of the proposed water works given in my letter of two weeks ago, which your correspondent, after enquiry from parties who were in a position to know, gave as $350 per annum, but which he, as editor and chief of the Chronicle, dwarfed to $150. Then again a few evenings since, while out in the yard, he observed a dog, as he thought, enter his hen house. As he had lost several hens of late he hastened to shut the door and secure the supposed thief. Calling to his aid a young relative who happened to be in the house, both gentlemen armed themselves with heavy sticks and stationed themselves at the entrance ready to deal out death to the intruding dog. The door was cautiously opened, when out stalked a big cow with all the dignity which the knowledge, there is no village cow by-law, and she could go where she pleased, could impart.

FORESTERS.

The regular meeting of Court Lakefield No. 43, C.O.F., will be held in the Court room on Thursday evening, the 26th inst. Election of officers and initiations, so all should be on hand.

CRICKET.

Every boy in the village may be seen with bat, ball or wicket in hand, and where there is a smooth sod on the road side, there may be seen the game in full blast. The village square is a favorate resort as there is plenty of room. On Saturday quite a number of little fellows were engaged in a match. One of the crack cricketers of the Lakefield club after watching the boys for a time undertook to give the youngsters a few wrinkles in batting, taking his place at the wickets. Play was called, the ball delivered and the bails flew. How the urchins did howl!

BASEBALL.

A meeting of the members of the Lakefield baseball club will be held in the council chamber on Thursday evening for the election of officers, etc.

FIRE.

About ten o'clock on Tuesday morning the bells rang out an alarm of fire, which might have proved a serious thing for the village had it not been discovered so early. A spark from the stove in the house of Mr. M. Glass, baker, ignited the carpet. There was no one in the room at the time. Our fire appliances were on the spot in short order, but their services were not required, as the fire had been put out. There was quite an excitement on the main street for a short time.

BOARD OF HEALTH.

A meeting of the Lakefield Board of Health was held in the council chamber on the 17th inst.

Present: Messrs. W. H. Casement, Robt. Graham, Thos. Cox, jr., and Dr. Bell.

Robt. Graham was elected chairman and Dr. Bell, secretary.

Minutes of last meeting and the report of the Medical Health Officer were read and adopted.

The Medical Health Officer was instructed to have the Health Act strictly enforced, to notify the public as usual in regard to the chief provisions of it.

The Board then adjourned to meet at the call of the chairman.

—Messrs. Fitzgerald & Stanger are placing a one-story brick annex in the rear of their carriage works building, 21x46, to be used as a blacksmith shop.

—On the market to-day two fine steers, purchased from Mr. Geo. McKee, of Smith, by Mr. H. C. Winch, were weighed and found to total 2,510 pounds.

—This morning Street Inspector Pope began cutting down Hunter street, opposite Simcoe, putting the surplus earth on Simcoe, between Rubidge and Reid streets.

—Taffy pulls and visits to the sugar bush are of nightly occurrence among the young people of the town, who drive out in large loads to satiate their appetites with the sweet and sappy product of the maple.

—A farmer named Fairman, his two sons and nephew, living near Campbellford, have been arrested on a charge of robbery. They confess to a series of petty thefts in their neighborhood during the winter.

—The Times boasts that Port Hope is away ahead of all other towns in having the slowest civic committees. The streets have not been scraped, and the streets are choked with dust and no sprinkling cart out to lay it.

—Mrs. Chisholm at the Y.W.C.T.U. meeting made a little joke. She answered the objections of some young ladies to taking the pledge, by asserting that young ladies were willing enough to take the matrimonial pledge, wherein there were audible smiles and, some says, "you bet," from the boys.

—The Kingston daily evening News has donned a handsome new dress, and at the same time commenced the publication of a morning edition at eleven o'clock. This is a new departure that should "take" with the public. May the News venture succeed and the paper continue to prosper.

Water Filters.

To insure good health it is absolutely necessary to have pure water, and no water is entirely free from floating matter and disease germs without thorough filtration. The majority of cases of typhoid and other low fevers are in a measure caused from unfiltered and impure water, so that every family who values its health should have a reliable filter. Numerous filters are offered to the public varying in points of excellence, but for cheapness, efficiency and durability, our filters cannot be surpassed. No corroding substances are used in construction. The packing material is the most powerful specially prepared granulated carbon. It will last for years with the ordinary use of a family, and the material may be obtained from us at any time for replenishing at small expense. Sold in Peterborough only at China Hall. dw

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

SECOND READING OF THE TEMPERANCE ACT OF CANADA.

The Bill Relating to the Bank of London Sent Back for Reconsideration—Counterfeit Money—Questions by Members—Dismissal of an Indian Councillor.

OTTAWA, April 25.—In the House of Commons to-day Mr. Mills moved that the report of the Committee on Banking and Commerce, which is adverse to the bill relating to the Bank of London, be sent back for reconsideration as soon as the shareholders of the bank have been notified at a special meeting called for the purpose. Mr. Hall, chairman of the committee, acceded to the motion, as the only objection taken by the committee was the want of notice to the shareholders. The motion was carried. The Minister of Justice introduced a bill attaching penalties to the advertising of counterfeit money. Mr. O'Brien introduced a bill to provide for the care and reformation of children neglected or ill-treated by parents or guardians. The bill is asked for by the Toronto Humane Society, and provides that such children may be committed to certain institutions.

The Minister of Justice pleaded "emergency" when he sent up a bill for a first reading dealing with the Supreme Court of Canada. He said he wanted the bill pushed through to completion before the House rose. All of the big legal firms in the country are interested in this bill, for without its passage the May term of the court could not be held. The Minister of Justice has been showered with letters about it. Mr. Justice Taschereau is absent on leave, and Mr. Justice Henry is so ill that he will not be able to be in his place at the May term. The court cannot sit without a quorum of five, which would be impossible under the circumstances. The bill then is for the purpose of overcoming this difficulty and it reduces the quorum from five to four. It also provides that when the court is evenly divided on a cause it shall stand for re-argument, but not unless there be five justices on the bench.

Mr. Laurier said the bill being of so much importance he hoped the minister would not press it to its final stages that day. This Mr. Thompson agreed to and it stands for further action until to-morrow.

The Minister of Justice next sent up a bill for a first reading, making stringent provisions for punishing by imprisonment persons found guilty of advertising counterfeit money. There is little or no escape from the penalty of the act, which is five years or less imprisonment, it being worded so as to cover every form of publicity in exposing or offering for sale the "queer."

Col. O'Brien has charge of a bill framed by the Toronto Humane Society and it got a first reading but it may never get any further this session for the reason explained by the Colonel that it travels on the very lines of jurisdiction, as to whether it would come under the civil laws of the Province of Ontario or the criminal law as administered by the Dominion. The bill provides for the care and reformation of children under 16, neglected or ill-treated by parents or guardians. While he prophesied that two or three of the clauses of the bill would be strengthened, Col. O'Brien asked the members to look over it carefully.

An act by Mr. Lister providing for the crossing of railways by streets, drains and water mains received a first reading.

There was a sheaf full of questions by members. The Minister of Agriculture told Sir Richard Cartwright that the Government was aware that a considerable number of necessitous immigrants have been landed in Canada during the last few years and that precautions were being taken to have the same stopped.

There was a long debate on a motion by Mr. Gordon of British Columbia for papers and correspondence in reference to the seizure of Canadian vessels engaged in sealing in the Behring Sea. Speaking to this motion, Major Prior of Victoria made his maiden speech and he acquitted himself with credit. Mr. Prior and Mr. Baker were strong in their condemnation of the treatment that Canadian vessels and crews had received at the hands of armed cruisers of the United States in these waters. Sir Chas. Tupper and Sir John Macdonald took a hand in the debate, but the Premier in answer to Mr. Mills of Bothwell declined, as he put it in the public interest to give any information at present as to what the Government were doing in bringing about the intervention of Great Britain to punish the perpetrators of these outrages.

The motion passed.

Mr. Burdett called attention to the dismissal from the position of councillor of the Mohawk band of Archibald Culbertson, who had held this elective office for a long time. He said the dismissal had taken place without Mr. Culbertson having an opportunity to defend himself against any charges made. If reason was intoxication, he (Mr. Burdett) hoped the Government would carry out the principle in the cases of white men in public position. This caused a good deal of laughter, but when Sir John Macdonald stated that drunkenness and violence were the causes of dismissal, Mr. Burdette said Mr. Culbertson had written that his successor in office had gone home drunk, broken his furniture, driven his wife away from her home and was put in jail.

At the evening session the House went into committee and adopted the proposed amendment by Mr. McCarthy to the Canada Temperance Act, providing for a change in the method of voting for putting in force or repealing acts, that a vote shall be taken in each case on the act itself instead of on the petition and the present confusion thereby avoided.

Mr. McCarthy's bill having passed through committee, Mr. Jamieson rose amid cries of "adjourn, adjourn," to move the second reading of the bill to amend the Canada Temperance Act. The bill provides that the registering of the petition in one registry office shall be sufficient, that the act may be adopted by provisional districts, for the punishment of physicians who give certificates for liquor for other than medicinal purposes, and for search warrants for liquor. Mr. Jamieson believed that the recent defeats of the Scott Act were due to imperfect enforcement, and that was due to the obstruction of the Senate. He also took advantage of the opportunity to reply to the speech Mr. Mills made recently, and declared that Mr. Mills had shirked the last vote on Prohibition. Mr. Mills came and pointed to his name on the annals. Mr. Jamieson then said that Mr. Mills' name did not appear in Hansard. Mr. Fisher capped the discussion by producing Mr. Mills' name in The Hansard, and then Mr. Jamieson retracted and apologized. The question was also discussed by Mr. Bain of Wentworth, Mr. Fisher, Mr. Casey, Mr. O'Brien, who moved the six months' hoist, and Mr. Haggart, who moved the adjournment of the debate. The resolution for adjournment was defeated by 44 yeas to 88 nays, there being almost a solid Liberal vote against the adjournment.

Mr. O'Brien then withdrew his motion for the six months' hoist and the bill was read the second time.

Sir Richard Cartwright said he would to-morrow draw the attention of the House to the irregularities of the postoffice at Kingston.

The House adjourned at 1.30.

Counte de Paris to His Adherents.

PARIS, April 25.—At a recent gathering of his adherents the Counte de Paris said: "The situation is a grave one and must be met with sang froid, for it was inevitable as I predicted in 1887. Intestinal disputes have stricken with powerlessness the wasteful persecuting Republican Government. It is discredited at home, and in Europe it has no force. The Radicalism herding affairs has disorganized the country. The recent striking utterances in favor of universal suffrage, are the cry of France, weary of such, a style of government and yearning for deliverance. The monarchists have not waited for the present crisis in order to demand a revision of the constitution. I myself inscribed it on their program. But it is my duty also to tell them this movement will exhaust itself in futility, and that France will be led into the gravest dangers should she believe that the name alone, whatever it may be, can constitute a settlement. To give the settlement of which she stands in need all Conservatives should demand a revision—not from divided assemblies where they are in a minority, but from the country itself, consulted in a lawful manner. At the decisive hour it will be understood that this settlement must be a monarchy such as I have defined it, and to the restoration of which I dedicate all my efforts."

Indian War in Mexico.

NOGALES, Ariz., April 25.—The Yaqui Indians, now at war with the Mexican Federal forces of Sonora, Mexico, are fortifying different places and making a determined resistance. A few days ago Major Bucuso and Lieutenant Valtarcal, with two columns of troops, attacked the Indians at a strongly fortified position in the Zamalaquaca Mountains. A desperate fight ensued, but the Federals routed the Indians, killing seventeen and wounding a large number. The Federal forces had one man killed and several wounded.

"Emperor" Creighton's Libel Case.

QUEBEC, April 25.—On the opening of the Court of Queen's Bench this morning the Mercier-Creighton libel suit was called and counsel for defendant filed a demurrer to the indictment, the grounds being that it was not sufficiently specific and, moreover, that as it only alleged the libel to have been published in Toronto the court here had no jurisdiction in the matter. The Crown admitted the defectiveness of the indictment and moved for leave to amend it. Argument on this motion was fixed for to-morrow.

Consecration of the Bishop of N.S.

HALIFAX, April 25.—Rev. Dr. Courtney, late of Boston, was to-day consecrated Bishop of Nova Scotia. The ceremony took place in St. Luke's Cathedral, occupying three hours, the edifice being crowded with people. Among the distinguished clergy that took part in the services were His Lordship the Metropolitan, the Bishops of Ontario and Quebec and Rev. Canon Dumoulin. The visitors included Rev. Phillips Brooks of Boston, and a host of other clergymen from the United States and provinces. The consecration sermon was preached by Canon Dumoulin. His Lordship was enthroned at the Cathedral this evening.

Ambitious City Chaps.

HAMILTON, April 25.—The charge of manslaughter against Charles and Mary E. Grant was again adjourned at the Police Court this morning.

Judge Sinclair made an order this morning appointing an engineer to examine the Town Line and Griffin roads, to decide whether or not the county should be allowed to collect tolls, it being claimed that the roads are out of repair.

Fire at Port Dalhousie.

PORT DALHOUSIE, April 25.—The residence of Mr. Edward Griffin, together with the greater part of the contents, was destroyed by fire about midnight yesterday. The fire caught in the chimney. NOTES FROM THE CAPITAL.

RAILROAD MEN ASK FOR A SUBSIDY TO A WESTERN ROAD.

Better Accommodation Wanted for Canadian Live Cattle in Crossing the Atlantic—The Bank of London's Winding-up Bill—Rogers and the Cumbers.

OTTAWA, April 25.—The Government organ here this morning had an article upon Sir Charles Tupper's notice of motion for a change in the "standing offer" of Reciprocity, dealing with it as if it were merely an addition to the list of articles on which Reciprocity is offered. On the other hand, some of the best lawyers in the House give the opinion that the repeal of the clause in the Customs law repeals also the Order-in-Council based upon it, and therefore removes from the free list seeds, fruit, shrubs and a number of articles mentioned in a previous despatch. In order to secure an understanding of the matter Sir Charles Tupper himself was appealed to and kindly consented to explain. "There is no doubt about it," he said. "Those articles named in the proclamation issued a few days ago remain on the free list until an act places them on the dutiable list again." On the view of the lawyers referred to being explained, Sir Charles said: "No, that is not the case. It is just the same as a law under which a trial has taken place and a decision has been given. To repeal the law would not be to annul the decision."

Hamilton and the Niagara Peninsula invaded the Capital this morning some fifty strong. The procession, headed by Senator Sanford, consisted of the following: From Hamilton—Mayor Doran, Mr. T. H. Macpherson, Ald. Moore, Mason, Williamson, Morgan, Messrs. John Milne, C. R. Smith, W. Bixby, W. H. Gimson, J. H. Tilden, Wm. Southam of The Spectator, R. Evans, R. E. Hops, R. A. Lucas, Edward Martin, Q.C., J. J. Stuart; J. W. Gage, Reeve of Barton, Wentworth; John Ira Platt, Warden of Wentworth; John Bertram, Dundas; E. H. Gullage, J. S. Howarth, F. Urquhart, Oakville; R. Henry, Mayor Heyd, A. Elliott, Sheriff Searle, S. Strickland, W. H. Cookshutt, W. Campbell, L. Heyd, H. Mc. Wilson, Brantford: from Woodstock—Mayor White, Judge Frinkle, M. Douglas, Reeve G. Eden and C. Wilson; from Thomasford—N. C. McCarthy and —. Shepherd; from Zorra—Gordon, Cody, Duncan, Brand, McKay, Mayor Murray and Stewart. The object of the deputation is to secure a subsidy of $3200 a mile for the South Ontario Pacific Railway, to be constructed from Hamilton to Woodstock and Toronto, and to Niagara Falls. The granting of a subsidy was urged upon the Government last year. Several members of the deputation proceeded to the residence of Mr. Pope, Minister of Railways, and laid the matter before him, but he was too sick to give an audience to the entire deputation. This afternoon at 2 o'clock they waited on Sir John Macdonald, being introduced by the local members of Parliament. They presented the view that even if the Government have, as reported, decided to bonus no more railways, this project, as being one before the Government last year, did not come under that category.

A deputation from Dundas is here to see Sir Hector Langevin with reference to the deepening and widening of the Little Nation River for the purpose of reclaiming waste lands which are now annually overflowed with water. They will be introduced to Sir Hector this evening by Dr. Hickey.

A deputation consisting of John Dunn, President; A. J. Thompson, Treasurer; ex-Ald. Ingram and Ald. Frankland, all of Toronto, representing the Dominion Live Stock Association, waited on the Minister of Agriculture this afternoon with a view to securing better accommodation on board steamships taking Canadian live cattle across the Atlantic. Mr. Carling promised to see what could be done.

Before the Banking and Commerce Committee this morning the bill to enable the directors of the Bank of London to wind up its affairs was thrown out on the ground that no formal notice had been given to the shareholders of any of the meetings held with the object of winding up. Messrs. Morrison and Long, of Toronto, strenuously urged the passage of the bill, and Mr. Hellmuth spoke against it. Notice has been given of a formal meeting of shareholders for May 4 and Messrs. Long and Morrison will come down again and endeavor to get the bill through before the session closes.

The Grand Trunk will renew in the Senate its fight against the Southwestern charter to the Canadian Pacific Railway, which was carried through the Commons last week.

Rami Tremblay, one of the dismissed translators of Hansard, has entered on the editorial staff of L'Etendard.

The Combines Committee met again this morning and examined an official of the Canada Atlantic Railway as to the difficulty in handling coal for Ottawa. It also re-examined Elias Rogers, coal dealer of Toronto, who was subjected to a severe examination as to prices by Chairman Clark Wallace.

The Government has asked that the line to be constructed to Emerson and the Northwest from Winnipeg to the international boundary, which has been on the order paper of the Railway Committee for some time, be left over this session. It is understood they do not want to grant any charter, except to the Red River Valley line.

HOME RULERS RESTLESS.

The Baptist Controversy—Spurgeon Returns to the Fold—Gloomy Views of the British Army by Lord Wolseley and the Duke of Cambridge.

LONDON, April 25.—A story has appeared in print that the Parnellites are beginning to consider whether it is worth while to maintain their present relations with Mr. Gladstone and his wing of the Liberal party. They are persuaded, according to the author of this story, that there is no probable chance of turning out the present ministry for some years. They see Ireland gradually slipping from their grasp. Brave as is the face which they show to this world, they know that coercion is doing its work, and that their hold on the Irish people is less than it was. They know what discontent exists among their friends in America who supply the dollars without which the bottom would have dropped out of this agitation long ago. They doubt, for these and other good reasons, whether they can afford to wait. They see that home rule is making no headway in England. What they have in their mind, therefore, is some new scheme which may avoid the objections which wrecked Mr. Gladstone's bills; a scheme which may give Ireland some degree of self-government, yet not unfair to the imperial union with Great Britain. They think it possible that some plan might be proposed which this Government would accept, and what they are merely debating is whether negotiations should be opened, and on what basis. I repeat this rumor with every reserve. There is no evidence, nor is it very credible, nor plausible, nor does it start from a source that lends authority to the statement; still, it exists as a printed rumor.

The "downgrade" controversy has now reached a new stage or station. It seems, in fact, to have become an upgrade controversy, or perhaps no controversy at all. A great meeting of the Baptist Union was held yesterday in the City Temple. This does not signify that the Baptists have surrendered to Dr. Joseph Parker, but that they wanted a big building for their annual assembly. The proceedings, as reported, have an air of having undergone a previous rehearsal. There have been negotiations between Mr. Spurgeon and his colleagues in the Baptist faith, of which the history would be interesting, but we are only allowed to know the result. There has been a compromise, resulting in a compact by which Mr. Spurgeon remains a member of the union, or resumes his membership. Mr. Spurgeon quitted the Baptist union because the union identified itself doctrinally with the Baptist churches and associations of which the union is composed and because those churches and associations declined to exclude members who believed in what is called "the large hope" and in "post-mortem salvation" and other unorthodox novelties. The union now omits from the report of the council the two clauses which affirmed its identity in doctrinal belief with the churches, and which disclaimed authority to formulate a new standard of belief. Mr. Spurgeon thereupon comes back into the fold.

Against Party Government.

LONDON, April 25.—Lord Wolseley, at a banquet given to Sir John Pender on Monday night, disproved of the present army and navy system, which he said would sooner or later land the country in disaster. Undoubtedly the reason for this could be found in the system of government by party, the curse of modern England, which was sapping the manly honesty formerly characteristic of statesmen.

More Men Required.

LONDON, April 25.—The Duke of Cambridge, Commander-in-Chief of the forces, was examined before a select committee of Parliament yesterday. He said 11,000 additional men were required to place the army on a sound footing. He thought it was impossible to reduce the military estimates, because with an army of volunteers it was necessary to make the service attractive. In Germany this was not necessary because military service was compulsory and the cost per soldier was much less than in England. He further expressed great dissatisfaction with the equipment and armament of the forts.

AN OPEN LETTER TO THE LADIES OF PETERBOROUGH AND VICINITY.

We have a word or two to say to you. In these times when money is considered rather scarce, you would be studying your interests by buying at close Cash Prices, and at Reliable Houses. There is in our midst a First Class Dry Goods House that meets every requirement. Rowse's Trade Palace is established in the interest and for the protection of those who pay ready money for their Dry Goods.

Their prices are very low. Look in their Show Window to-day, and you can get any article there at Five Cents. This is a curiosity. Novelties in Fine Dress Goods are exhibited on their counters at Twelve and a-half cents. A Lady told Mr. Rowse the other day that she had been around town looking at Silks and she saw some that she thought were cheap, but she could not depend on the reliability of the houses she had visited. She bought her Silk at the Trade Palace. Rowse's Silks at Fifty and Sixty cents are wonderful value.

In conclusion we respectfully ask you to look through the Elegant Display of Dry Goods at the Trade Palace.

Faithfully yours,
ONE WHO STUDIES YOUR INTERESTS.

THE LATEST PROPOSAL.

Considering the immense sums of public money already voted to the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, it would be thought that a proposal of another grab would not be entertained either by Government or Parliament. The people do not complain so grievously of necessary assistance given to build the main line of the "National Highway," but they do strongly and properly object to furnishing money to buy or build railways in a foreign country for a private corporation. We can't get a cent for the Trent Valley canal—the bringing down of the supplementary estimates quenches that hope for this year—but the Government is perfectly willing to contribute $15,000,000 to enable the C.P.R. to purchase the Sault Ste. Marie and Atlantic Railway, entirely in United States territory. At least, this is the report, and the Hamilton Times thus deals with the subject:

The report that the Canadian Pacific Railway company has purchased the Minneapolis, Sault Ste. Marie & Atlantic Railway ought to set Canadian taxpayers thinking. It comes so close to the announcement that the Canadian Parliament will be asked to guarantee $15,000,000 worth of C.P.R. bonds that the question naturally arises: Is more Canadian public money to be spent to acquire railways in the United States? It was quite a strain to see our taxes go to build a C. P. R. line through Maine, to divert traffic from the Intercolonial, which cost so many hard Canadian dollars. To see the C. P. R. used to haul Minnesota and Dakota wheat to tide water, while Manitoba wheat is stacked up in the streets waiting for cars, is piling it on rather too heavy. This M., S.S.M. & A. road extends from Sault Ste. Marie to Minneapolis, 494 miles. The capital of the road is $7,000,000 of common stock, $4,000,000 of preferred stock and $10,000,000 of first mortgage bonds. Connected with it is the Minneapolis & Pacific Railway, extending from Minneapolis to Boynton, 267 miles. Boynton is near Bismarck on the Northern Pacific. Assuming that the report of the C.P.R.'s purchase is true, it is evident that the C.P.R. is aiming to compete with the Northern Pacific on the latter's own ground. This is a very justifiable policy, in retort for the expressed intention of the Northern Pacific to get a share of Manitoba trade from the Canadian Pacific, but the shoe pinches when the Canadian people, after paying for the C.P. R.'s roads in Canada, are asked to guarantee the interest on the money required to pay for the C.P.R.'s roads in the United States. The forfeit money required to release Canada from a bogus monopoly claim goes to give competition to a portion of the United States. It certainly is a case of "heads I win, tails you lose."

The arrangment for the Government guarantee of the new bond issue of the C.P.R. has not yet gone through Parliament. Before it is voted upon, the members ought to be sure about the manner in which the money will be expended. It has been given out in an unofficial way that expenditures were needed on the line in Canada, for ballasting new elevators and new cars. Was this only a blind? Is the money really to be used to acquire 781 miles of road in Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota and Dakota? If so the guarantee ought to be refused point blank. The C. P. R. has no honest claim against Canada. Canadian credit should not be pledged to purchase property in the United States for a few wealthy Canadians.

North Smith.

OBITUARY—The Late Mrs. Trenaum.

Mrs. John Trenaum, of North Smith, departed this life on the morning of the 8th of April. The deceased was a daughter of Colman Blewett, Esq., of Young's Point, and was born in the State of Pennsylvania in the year 1839. About the year 1844, she, with the rest of the family, removed to the township of Smith, where, in 1862, she became the wife of Mr. John Trenaum, her now bereft husband. She was a very devoted wife and an indulgent mother. During the last six years of her life she was the victim of disease and suffering, which was borne throughout with true Christian patience and resignation. Very rarely do we find those Christian graces which go to adorn and beautify the character, more faithfully exemplified than were they in her life—

'A firm, yet constant, mind;
Sincere, tho' prudent; constant, yet resigned."

Her end was one of peace and triumph, enjoying the presence of Him who has promised to be with His people to the end. Her last words were "Jesus is very near."

"Asleep in Jesus! Oh how sweet
To be for such a slumber meet,
With holy confidence to sing
That Death has lost his venomed sting."

The bereaved husband and family have the sympathy of the entire community.—COM.

MONTREAL, April 25.—Miss Mabel Allan, youngest daughter of the late Sir Hugh Allan, and one of the partners in the Allan Line of steamships, was married in St. Andrew's Church this afternoon to Mr. Colin Campbell, a scion of one of the oldest families in Canada, son of the late engineer of St. Hilaire. The ceremony was witnessed by the elite of society, over 300 invitations having been issued. The church was magnificently decorated with flowers on a scale never before attempted in Canada, and the whole proceedings were on a par with the position of the family as the leaders of Montreal society.

The bride was given away by her brother, Hr. H. Montague Allan, and the bridesmaids were her sisters, Misses Edith and Brenda Allan, and her two nieces, the Misses White of Quebec. The groom was attended by C. D. Monk, son of Judge Monk, as best man.

After the ceremony a reception was held at Ravenscrair, the family residence on the brow of Mount Royal.

MURDER AT OTTAWA.

A Man Thrown Down a Flight of 15 Stairs and Killed.

OTTAWA, April 25.—What was probably a murder or manslaughter occurred in this city at 11 o'clock to-night. Three men, whom the police described as "dead roughs," were drinking and playing cards in the upper part of a house in Lower Town. They were Jean Baptiste Janisse, F. X. Laurin and one Scolastic. Janisse rents the upper part of a flat from Laurin, and among other things quarrelled about was rent due from Janisse to Laurin.

A scuffle ensued and it is claimed that Laurin threw Janisse down a flight of fifteen stairs. He was found dead at the bottom. Laurin and Scolastic were arrested.

Coroner Wright opened an inquest and adjourned it for a post mortem examination. Janisse's daughter testified that she saw Laurin throw her father down the stairs.

TORONTOS AGAIN VICTORIOUS.

They Defeat Worcester by 15 to 7—League and Association Games.

Worcester, Mass., April 25.—The weather was nearly perfect to-day and there was a large attendance to see the game between the International champions and the home team. The latter, it was apparent by the two games with the great Canadian team, were weak in their batting, but it became evident that Worcester had met not their match, but their master. Wheeler in left took everything that came his way, accomplishing several difficult plays for which he was loudly cheered. The Torontos put up a very even and steady game. McLaughlin, who made a center field record. The visitors also batted hard and, in fact, they well merited the reputation they have earned this season. Kerr, Captain of Worcester, gladly welcomed Clarke, Toronto's old catcher, to the home club. The score:

Hughey Dughean Signs Greer.

Manager Cushman, on Tuesday, signed Greer, outfielder, of Chicago, last year with Brooklyn last season. He ranked fourth as a catcher in the American Association last year, and had a batting average of .288. Manager Cushman says he is a first-class base-runner and has been practicing pitching all winter and promises to be one of the best in the league. He will be given a trial in the box. Greer will report at Newark and play in the game to-day.

Fox Will Back Kilrain Against Sullivan.

New York, April 25.—Richard K. Fox in answer to Sullivan's challenge says he will give Kilrain $2000 or $10,000 to make a match. If Kilrain agrees to fight in a 16-foot ring it will not affect the American championship belt which Kilrain now holds, as the rules governing the belt call for a 24-foot ring. Fox will, however, give the money to Kilrain to meet Sullivan in any way Kilrain may elect.

Spots of Sport.

The Torontos play their last exhibition game to-day at Newark.

Hartnett, Toronto's first baseman, had a finger nail torn off at Worcester on Tuesday and will not play again till Saturday.

The management of the Worcester club say that Toronto is the best club that has played there this season. Hamilton and Syracuse have been there.

Manager Cushman says that the decisions of the umpires have been against the Torontos in every case. They were all local umpires—that accounts for it.

Rickley, Oldfield, Kearns and Lally are not in good form yet and have been sick while the other members of the team are in excellent shape.

"Our Baby and Mrs. Scotch's."

Port Perry, April 25.—Dr. J. H. Sangster held the close attention of a large audience in the Town Hall last night 1½ hours on the occasion of the delivery of his lecture on the above subject. "From gay to grave" it was well enjoyed. Rev. Dr. Carry proposed a vote of thanks. Chairman Wm. Bain tendered them to the lecturer, who replied. The proceeds went towards the High School piano fund.

Suicide at Brantford.

Brantford, April 25.—Thomas Walker, gunsmith, committed suicide last night by taking strychnine. No cause for the act can be given unless that he has been drinking hard.

PRAIRIE PROVINCE POLITICS.

The New Redistribution Bill—Disfranchisement of the Federal Civil Service.

Winnipeg, April 25.—The new Redistribution Bill gives thirty-eight seats, an increase of three. Winnipeg is given an additional seat. Assiniboia, St. Francois Xavier, St. Clements and South Dufferin are absorbed in other constituencies. The West is given a great representation and along the international boundary the constituencies have been nearly doubled. The population averages from 2300 to 2800.

In the Legislature to-day the Opposition made strong objections to disfranchisement of the Federal Civil Service, but the principle was adopted.

An amendment to the Torrens system allowing registration patents to be permissive instead of obligatory was adopted.

Hon. Mr. Smart is very ill at the hospital.

[illegible] Cures Weak Backs.

Bring to the surface every latent pain. A change of even a few degrees marks the difference between comfort and pain to many persons. Happily disease now holds hereditary. Science is continually bringing forward new remedies which successfully combat disease. Polson's Nerviline—nerve pain cure—has proved the most successful pain relieving remedy known. Its application is wide, for it is equally efficient in all forms of pain, whether internal or external. Ten and 25 cents a bottle, at druggists. 6dw17

Hamburg Fowls.

Conspicuous among all laying breeds of fowls stand the Hamburgs, for they are exceedingly prolific layers. Their eggs, however, run small as regards size, and the fowls do not lay continuously as well as some other breeds. Their fowls are remarkable for their beauty, and this fact, along with the drawback of small sized eggs, has led to Indifference in placing the Hamburg as a farmer's fowl rather than a common purpose bird.

SILVER PENCILED HAMBURG HEN.

As show birds there are several varieties recognized, among which are the gold penciled, silver penciled, gold spangled, silver spangled and black. The silver penciled variety represented in the cut is an old one—one of the best known, in fact, to fanciers. The black Hamburgs are considered the best for commercial purposes.

When fragile women seek applause
The charms that quickly fade away,
What power, the bloom of health restoring,
Can check the progress of decay?
The only one that's worth attention,
For pains and ills of each description,
That make of women ghastly mockeries—
"Tis "Pierce's Favorite Prescription."

The price of this royal remedy, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, is but one dollar. Specific for all those chronic ailments and weaknesses, peculiar to women. The only medicine for such maladies, sold by druggists, under a positive guarantee from the manufacturers, that it will give satisfaction or money refunded. See guarantee on bottle wrapper. Remove The Cause.

To remedy an evil the cause must be removed. It is by opening the clogged avenues of the system and thus removing the impure poisonous and worn out matter which is the cause of disease that B. B. B. is so uniformly successful in overcoming all diseases of the Stomach, Liver, Kidneys and Blood. 2w16d

His Friends Can Testify.

Mr. C. H. Vought, of Peterboro, Ont., says that his friends can testify to his being cured of Indigestion, Constipation, and Torpid Liver by using two and a half bottles of B. B. B. "It seems to act like magic, and I heartily recommend it" are the closing words of his letter. 2w16d

Without A Doubt.

There is no doubt that Hagyard's Yellow Oil is the best remedy for Sprains, Bruises, Sore Throat, Colds, Rheumatism, Croup and all Aches, Pains, Lameness and Soreness. It is used externally and internally, and should always be kept in the house. 2w16d

High Praise.

Mrs. John Neelands, writing from the Methodist Parsonage, Adelaide, Ont., says, "I have used Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam for years in our family. For heavy Colds, Sore Throats and distressing coughs no other medicine so soon relieves." 2w16d

OLD DR. CHASE'S NEW RECEIPT BOOK.

His Last and Crowning Life Work

Dr. Chase's Third, Last and Complete Receipt Book and Household Guide, or the Book for the Million, contains nearly 900 pages and sells for $2.50 in cloth binding and $3.50 in imported oil cloth, marble edge, and is justly by him called

"THE CROWNING WORK OF MY LIFE."

It is the result of over half a century's observation, study and experience. Yet this compendium is no compilation of his former books. IT IS WHOLLY A NEW BOOK. If 20 years ago he could produce a book that has had a sale of over fifteen hundred thousand copies, and has made his name familiar in nearly every English speaking home in the United States, Canada and thousands of homes in Europe, Australia and South America, what KIND of a book could or would he produce as his Crowning Life Work, WITH MORE THAN THIRTY YEARS OF ADDITIONAL PRACTICE AND EXPERIENCE! The book itself answers the question, and is the most valuable production in the history of book publishing.

CAUTION! Unscrupulous and pirating publishers are attempting to copy this book by taking portions of it out and palming it off on the public as the complete work. We own the manuscript, purchased from Dr. Chase's heirs. See that you get the GENUINE book. See that it has our name on the title page and is copyrighted by us.

Scriptural Authority.

We have the warrant of Scripture for the contention that a well-dressed man has a level head—"clothed and in his right mind." And the man of to-day will show that his head is level if he will go to the golden lion for his spring suit. There he will find the finest stock of imported tweeds and clothes ever brought to Peterborough. By leaving his order he will get a well and fashionably made suit at prices below what he will have to pay for similar goods bought elsewhere. The tailoring department of the golden lion is in every way quite up to the mark.

Sixty-Ninth Oddfellow Anniversary.

Next Thursday, April 26th, being the sixty-ninth anniversary of the establishment of Oddfellowship in America, the lodges in town have arranged to conjointly celebrate the occasion in Otonabee Lodge, Peterborough Lodge foregoing its regular meeting that evening. Every Oddfellow in town is expected to assemble in Otonabee Lodge rooms on Thursday evening, when the chair will be taken at 8 o'clock by Bro. J. R. Stratton, M.P.P., D.D.G.M. Visiting Oddfellows are cordially invited. 2d

A Public Convenience.

Although the Orillia people are kicking against the closing of the old Midland station at that place, yet the change is a decided public convenience to travellers from Peterborough and vicinity who wish to go north or south on the N. & N.W.R. from Orillia. The Midland trains now run directly into the N. & N.W.R.R. station instead of the old Midland, and the hiring of cabs to convey passengers and baggage over the mile or so of distance between the two stations is avoided. Now baggage is checked through and travelling in this direction is unattended with the inconvenience incidental to the former order of things.

Immigrant Children.

Mr. John T. Middlemore, the founder of the Orphan Children's Emigration Charity, London, Ont., left Liverpool on the 27th inst., in the steamship "L. Ontario," with a party of 50 girls and 120 boys between the ages of six and eighteen years, who are brought out to this country for adoption or hire, chiefly among farmers. They are expected to arrive at the Guthrie Home, near the city, on or about the 9th prox. This will be Mr. Middlemore's 15th annual visit to these shores with juvenile emigrants from Birmingham, England, since 1872. Already many applications accompanied with good references have been made for the children expected to arrive, but more are required. Further particulars may be obtained by addressing MR. H. GISBERN, Manager of the Guthrie Home, London, Ont.

Spring Fancies.

In the spring the old man's fancy turns to things ameet his health,
An in liver regulators he invests his surplus wealth.
In the spring when flowers are waking and are shooting up the grasses,
The loving mother gives her children sulphur and molasses.
In the spring the house needs cleaning, cellar, garret, room and stair,
And dear wives proceed about it, driving husbands to despair.
In the spring Inspector Adams puketh his official beak
Into lanes and back yard regions smelling strong enough to speak:
In the spring the any householder laughs edicts of raids to scorn,
And the gravedent offal stays and stinks alight noon and morn.
In the spring, the husband fools around with spade and rake and hoe,
And plants and sows a lot of things that never, never grow.
In the spring the youth is anxious to be fashionably dressed,
So he has his last year's overcoat repaired and sponged and pressed.
In the spring the maiden's fancy turns to colors bright and gay,
And in the spring she decks herself in beautiful array.
Thus we perceive that in the spring, when buds adorn the trees,
'Tis our nature to display our idiosyncrasies.

This is a pretty big title for an organization to wear, but it is none too big for the lacrosse club that was organized at the Y.M.C.A. rooms last evening, with a membership of thirty-six enrolled on the spot. Those present were deeply interested in the game, and spoke enthusiastically of what they intended doing on the "fair field of fame," and lacrosse, this season. The following officers were elected:—

VICE-PRES.—A. E. Scott.
SEC.-TREAS.—W. Dee.
COMMITTEE—J. Connal, W. Dundas and Chas. Baguley.

A practice ground has not yet been secured, and Messrs. W. H. Stevens and J. Connal were appointed a committee to negotiate with the P.A.A.A. and Riverside club with a view to making arrangements to play on either of their grounds if possible. The membership fee was placed at $1 for adults and 50c. for boys under 16. As soon as grounds can be secured practice will be began.

Rev. J. W. R. Beck was taken suddenly ill Wednesday afternoon. He was in the church at six o'clock, waiting for a wedding party, when he was seized with a sudden indisposition and had to retire at once to his home. Breach of Promise.

A breach of promise case was tried at the Cobourg Assizes on Tuesday and Wednesday. The plaintiff was Miss Ada Riordan, a school teacher of Toronto, who sued a young farmer named Galbraith for breach of promise of marriage made on the 25th of October, 1884. The evidence was of the usual character, a whole stack of sentimental love letters being presented in court to prove the case. Wednesday afternoon the jury brought in a verdict of $1,250 for the plaintiff.

An auction sale of the household furniture, etc., of Mr. Geo. Dunsford will take place at his residence, Simcoe street, on Thursday, May 3rd. C Stapleton, auctioneer.

Water Filters.

To insure good health it is absolutely necessary to have pure water, and no water is entirely free from floating matter and disease germs without thorough filtration. The majority of cases of typhoid and other low fevers are in a measure caused from unfiltered and impure water, so that every family who values its health should have a reliable filter. Numerous filters are offered to the public varying in points of excellence, but for cheapness, efficiency and durability, our filters cannot be surpassed. No corroding substances are used in construction. The packing material is the most powerful specially prepared granulated carbon. It will last for years with the ordinary use of a family, and the material may be obtained from us at any time for replenishing at small expense. Sold in Peterborough only at China Hall. dw

Another Strong Endorsation

In Tuesday's issue of the EXAMINER reference was made to the great satisfaction given a member of the Sawtelle Comedy Company by photographic pictures done by Mr. Sproule. The following letters, acknowledging the receipt of more pictures and from another negative, convey praise of a very high character. These persons are used to getting work done in the best city studios, and the fact that Mr. Sproule is able to give them the best satisfaction, is exceedingly high praise for his first class establishment:—

GUELPH, April 24th, 1888.

DEAR SIR,—I received my pictures from you with unfeigned delight, and can assure you I never had a better likeness taken of myself. I am more than pleased with the finish and every detail, even to the folds of the dress, are true to life. Once more thanking you for your efforts, I am,

Respectfully,
MRS. JESSE G. MCCORMICK.
Sawtelle's Dramatic Company.

GUELPH, April 24th, 1888.

GEO. R. SPROULE, Esq:

DEAR SIR.—Your pictures of Miss M. were duly received, and pray accept her thanks for the fine workmanship. I have never seen a better picture of her, both as to posture and finish, and you may call be proud of your fine work and artistic taste displayed on them. We anxiously await the arrival of the "Bromide," feeling assured that it will equal your former efforts.

Thanking you for your promptness, I remain.

Among the Mills.

The Otonabee Flour Mills to be Rebuilt—The New Woollen Mill Occupied—Waiting Their Chance.

A project is under way to rebuild the Otonabee flour mills, Ashburnham, managed by Mr. H. A. Mulhern. The Dickson Company intend, as the EXAMINER is informed, tearing down the present building, leaving only the walls standing, and rebuilding in a much improved style the entire building. New machinery will be supplied throughout, the capacity being increased from 125 to 200 barrels per day, and a large 30,000 bushel elevator will also be erected alongside the mill. It is estimated that the improvements will cost about $15,000. Mr. Mulhern has been abroad lately negotiating for the machinery. The contract has not yet been let, it is understood, but it is soon expected to be and the work commenced very soon.

Since the first of February the mill has not been running till last week, owing to the large quantities of anchor ice which choked up the water power. Operations will again be suspended next week and the work of demolition begun. It is expected to occupy about three months time.

CUMMINGS' WOOLLEN MILL.

Mr. Jas. Cummings, late of Norwood, who has leased the new woolen mill next the Hunter street bridge, is getting his machinery, a great deal of which is new, into position, and expects to start in about three weeks with a staff of from 10 to 12 persons. The mill will be a one-set custom and carding factory. Mr. Cummings is a determined and industrious young man who will make the business prosper.

The roof of the engine house in the rear is being raised a couple of feet by contractor Hartley, and a connecting gangway run into the second story of the mill.

WAITING FOR THE RAILWAY.

There is strong talk of the factory lately vacated by the Lindsay-Selden Company being occupied, but it is entirely dependent upon whether the spur of the C.P.R. is run along the race or not. If the switch line is built it is almost certain the factory will be at once occupied.

WILSON'S NEW WOOLLEN MILL.

Mr. T. C. Irwin has secured the job of erecting the new woollen mill to be built by Mr. Geo. Hilliard for Messrs. E. B. Wilcox & Son. The structure will be a large one with boiler house and other necessary buildings attached.

Kidd—Coe.

Last evening at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. Thomas Coe, Chambers street, Mr. R. J. Kidd was married to Miss Charlotte E. Coe, by Rev. I. Tovell. There were a number of guests present, who practically attested their esteem of the young couple by numerous, valuable and elegant gifts. The bridesmaid was Miss Beatrice Coe, sister of the bride, the groom being supported by Mr. John Main. Both young people have an extensive circle of acquaintances and friends, whose best wishes will go with them in their new relations. Mr. Kidd is a prominent Oddfellow, at present holding the honorable positions of P.G. of Peterborough Lodge and Clerk of the Canton Militant. The EXAMINER wishes the new matrimonial firm of Kidd & Coe a long life of happiness and prosperity.

Hooper—Wilkinson.

At St. John's church Wednesday evening Mr. Thomas H. Hooper was married to Miss Lottie Wilkinson. The ceremony, in the illness of Rev. J. W. R. Beck, was performed by Rev. Mr. Jupp. There was a large attendance of guests and friends present at the church. Mr. Frank Burdett was groomsman and Miss Nanny Hooper bridesmaid. After the nuptial knot had been tied the wedding party repaired to the new home of Mr. and Mrs. Hooper, on Water street, where supper was partaken of. Mr. Hooper has, for a number of years, been connected with the bakery and confectionary business of Long Bros., and is known as an industrious and exemplary young man. The bride is also favorably known to her many friends in town.

Taylor—Decker.

Mr. George Taylor and Miss Maud Decker were married last night by Rev. I. Tovell. Both young people are well known in Peterborough. The bride is a daughter of Mr. Daniel Decker, of Otonabee. May they enjoy long years of connubial bliss.

Nuptials at Norwood.

On Tuesday the R. C. Church at Norwood was the scene of two marriages. Mr. John Dwyer and Miss Johannah Boland, daughter of the late John Boland, both of Asphodel; and Mr. Barry of Dosio, and Miss Christina Boland, daughter of Mr. Michael Boland of Dummer, were united in the bonds of holy matrimony. The Rev. Father Conway officiated and the interesting ceremonies were witnessed by a large number of friends of the contracting parties.—Register.

The Full Fledged Carter.

To the Editor of the Examiner:—

DEAR SIR,—We saw a communication in your valuable journal some time ago from carter No. 16, or "The Full Fledged Carter," or "Furniture King" as he delights to call himself. It is well known there are three or four as large furniture kings in this town as D. Belleghem, who make a good living without taking out a carter's license or meddling with what in justice belongs to them. A furniture king or any other man in business, with lofty pretensions, who cannot make a living without carting, it is time for him to pull up stakes. "Furniture King" says that people having good furniture to move will not employ the common carter, for if breaks occur, there is no responsibility, implying thereby that carters are always bankrupt. We need scarcely remind you, Mr. Editor, that several of the carters are just as responsible parties as D. Belleghem. Carters who have been years moving furniture are less likely to injure it than apprentice boys, employed by Mr. Belleghem, a short time.

Id THE CARTERS OF PETERBOROUGH.

A Train Load of Immigrants.

An immigrant train, consisting of nine cars containing 300 immigrants, passed through Peterborough on the C.P.R. to day. The immigrants were all of the better class, and most of them seemed fairly well supplied with means. Five or six remained in Peterborough, 180 are bound for Toronto, and the remainder go further west. They are chiefly English and came over in the steamship "Sardinian." Among the lot were a number of tidy-looking, strong, healthy servant girls, some of whom might have been secured by our citizens had the latter been aware of the presence of the train, which remained some time at the station. Two more similar trains of immigrants will pass through town for the west to-morrow.

Early Closing.

An early closing movement is being mooted among the dry goods men of the town, and it is understood a petition will be circulated in a day or two. The dry goods merchants are about the last to move in the matter, and if the act is to come in force no time should be lost in getting the petition under way.

Street Parade.

Canton Peterborough Patriarchs Militant will meet for inspection this evening and at eight o'clock will parade up George street to the Otonabee lodge rooms. The Canton will be in full uniform, and will make a pretty appearance.

Revolutionising the Service.

The C. P. R. Company Will Introduce Some New Features in Railway Service—Electric Light, New Parlor Cars and Reclining Chairs for First-Class Passengers.

Some time during May, probably in the early part of the month, the C.P.R. Company intend to introduce some striking features in their railway service.

Twenty elegant, new parlors cars, the finest to be had on the American continent, are now being made at Daytona, Ohio, for the through route between Toronto and Montreal. The coaches at present in use, comfortable as they are, will not be able to compare at all with the new coaches, and will be sent to the Northwest branch of the line.

Probably the most novel innovation will be the lighting of the trains by electricity. The C.P.R. Company will be the first to introduce the lighting of railway trains by electricity into Canada, and the new feature will be at once more serviceable and much safer than the coal-oil system. All their through trains between Montreal and Toronto will have the electric light.

Then, for first-class through passengers, reclining chairs are to be provided instead of the customary benches. The coaches are to be supplied with the reclining chairs ordinarily used in Pullman cars.

These new features are to be introduced without extra cost to the traveller. It is done as a matter of enterprise on the part of the company. It is not known whether the local trains from Havelock to Toronto will come under the transformation, but is scarcely probable they will. Only the through trains, it is expected, are to be so completely equipped.

With the introduction of these novelties and luxuries, the time between Toronto and Montreal will also be shortened considerably so that the run may be made as quickly as is consistent with safety. By the middle of May at least, it is confidently expected, the new system will be introduced.

News Nuggets.

—A little lad name Comstock last night lost control of a horse he was riding, and he would soon have been thrown from the runaway steed had it not been stopped.

—Rev. Father Conway, of Norwood, intends holding a monster R. C. picnic on the 24th of May. An orchestra and friends from Peterborough are expected to assist.

—There was no police court to-day. To-morrow, however, there are about a dozen cases of Collector Cummings', for non-payment of Statute Labor tax, and a case of abusive language.

—Norwood and Hastings editors are quarrelling as to whose 24th of May celebration will be the best. Both villages had better give up and take in Peterborough's "grand" demonstration.

—Acting Chief Adams made a tour of the town to-day in search of stray cattle, but his jaunt contributed nothing to the pounds which are now empty, though ready for bovine tenants.

—Mr. John Craig's canary bird escaped from its cage this morning and flew up to Brock street. It was captured after a lively chase that afforded much amusement to the on-lookers.

—The Port Hope Times says:—The Right Rev. Bishop Dowling confirmed twenty-two candidates for admission into the Roman Catholic church Sunday morning in St. Mary's church. There were twelve girls and ten boys.

—It's fortunate that about seven miles of bad road separate the editors of the Hastings Star and Norwood Register, or the Bowmanville row would probably be re-enacted in one of the villages. The two editors are at loggerheads—but perhaps the knowledge that they are at a safe distance from each other and beyond range of material harm, buoys up the valiant courage of the meek newspaper men.

Bandmaster Millar Must Stay.

The officers of the 57th Batt. have decided to assist in increasing the salary of Bandmaster Millar to induce him to remain in town, and it is hoped the town authorities will promptly supplement their efforts by a generous grant. Mr. Millar is not anxious to leave town, and his demands are only reasonable.

A Severe Blow.

Yesterday afternoon Mr. Richard Huffman was operating a circ[illegible] at his [illegible] tory. Suddenly the stick he was sawing flew back and struck him a severe blow in the pit of the stomach. He was disabled from working the rest of the day and last night was attacked by a severe pain in the region where he received the blow. It is feared it will lead to serious complications.

NOTES FROM THE CAPITAL.

SIR JOHN SHIRKS THE VOTE ON JAMIESON'S MOTION.

Mr. Bain Reads a Minister Over the Coals—The Kingston Postoffice Robbery of Letters—An Action for Libel Arising Out of the Evidence Before the Committee.

OTTAWA, April 26.—Within a few minutes of the vote being taken on the Scott Act Bill in the House of Commons early this morning, Sir John Macdonald walked up and chatted a minute to Mr. Speaker, and then, being next the door, shot out and shirked the vote. This should be brought before Mr. Jamieson, who falsely accused Mr. Mills with shirking the vote last year on the Prohibition motion. Mr. Mills held the journals of the House in his hand, and pointed to his name among those who voted.

Mr. Bain of Wentworth made a most telling speech on the temperance question last night, to which the whole House listened with the closest attention. His exposure of the way the Conservative temperance electors were being humbugged by such men as Jamieson and Foster was most expressive, and the House on both sides hugely enjoyed his description of Foster as a man warmed into his seat by a cause which he now damned with his silence. Foster did not once speak during the debate.

This afternoon, on the motion to go into supply, Sir Richard Cartwright will charge the Government with neglect of duty in not prosecuting William Shannon, Kingston's assistant postmaster. Shannon was caught in the act of stealing money from registered letters, but never arrested, and is now beyond the reach of a Queen's warrant. The facts are that he is brother to the postmaster and uncle to the proprietor of the Tory organ in Kingston, besides being a friend of Mackenzie Bowell's, who has evidently stood between him and due punishment. Kingstonians who have lost money in this way for a long time are very indignant and demand restitution from the Government, which is responsible for the action of its official. Shannon was promoted over the head of an older official because of political influence.

Mr. McCarthy is pluming himself on at length getting a bill past its first reading, and thinks he has qualified now for the vacant portfolio.

Owing to certain statements made to the Combines Committee, J. A. Mathewson, Montreal, is being prosecuted for libel by D. Lockerby, another grocer of Montreal. The committee discussed the advisability of protecting witnesses from the consequence of any statements made before the committee. A curious feature in connection with the case is that the letter put in by Mr. Mathewson, and which forms the material evidence for his defence, has mysteriously disappeared from the records of the committee. Before it was lost Lockerby, through a member of the committee, secured a copy, which will be of service on his side.

Mr. Boomer of Toronto, and others, gave evidence on the insurance combine.

The bill relating to the improvement of the Upper Ottawa occupied the attention of the Railway Committee this morning, but further consideration was postponed till to-morrow. The Ontario and Quebec Bill was also postponed.

The Government will probably expend about $10,000 in building and other improvements on the Manitoba Experimental Farm, which has been located at Brandon.

It is said that Chief Justice Macdonald will be appointed in place of Judge Henry, who, if he lives, will be incapacitated from further service on the Supreme Court Bench.

A Liberal caucus was held this morning to discuss the C.P.R. terms of settlement and the program for the remainder of the session.

Wentworth Assizes.

HAMILTON, April 26.—In the assizes to-day George Smith was acquitted of the charge of seducing his grand-daughter, 17-year-old Mary E. Oxley, the Crown having no evidence to corroborate the girl's statement. Benjamin Parrott, jr., pleaded guilty to the charge of committing an aggravated assault on Robert McQuillan, sr. The defendant has paid McQuillan's expenses, and it is likely that he will be allowed to go on deferred sentence. A true bill was brought in by the Grand Jury against Mary Ellen and Charles Grant for manslaughter.

Manitoba's Legislature.

WINNIPEG, April 26.—In the Legislature to-day Mr. Norquay moved that the clause disfranchising the civil service be struck out. Mr. Robin moved in amendment that all permanent salaried employes of the province be disfranchised. An acrimonious debate followed.

By the Redistribution Bill Mr. Norquay will have to seek a new seat, he being swamped by the Icelandic vote, which is Liberal. Speaker Glass is wiped out of existence and Mr. Macbeth of Kildonan is seriously affected.

PARNELL'S PROGRAM.

The Irish Leader on the Prospects of Home Rule—Preaching Patience.

NEW YORK, April 26.—The Times' London correspondent had an interview last evening with Mr. Parnell. The correspondent said: "Mr. Parnell, what view do you take of the claim that even the coercion law ought to be obeyed under all circumstances?"

The Irish leader replied: "While usually holding it to be especially necessary at this time that the Irish people be most circumspect in avoiding the commission of any illegality, I consider that so far as regards actions which are newly constituted offences by the coercion measure of last session—such as the maintenance of the organization of the National League in proclaimed districts, the assertion of the rights of freedom of public meeting, liberty of speech, and freedom of the press in proclaimed districts, all of which are struck at by the Crimes Act—I say that the Irish people are absolutely bound to refuse to obey such an iniquitous law, and to deny that it has any moral sanction. Their struggle to assert these rights has my entire sympathy. I consider that they are carrying it on most bravely. I believe that the names of the men—many of them in humble positions—who are cheerfully facing a plank bed and the stigma of penal imprisonment in defence of their principles, will worthily live in the history of our country."

As to the prospects of some immediate change Mr. Parnell is not sanguine. He said: "From all the indications afforded by the by-elections, it is evident that at the next general election those electors who abstained from voting in 1886, and thereby returned the Tory Government with 100 majority, will in the main vote to restore Mr. Gladstone to power with about a similar majority. It cannot be too clearly understood that it was the abstentions, the abstentions only, of Liberal voters throughout Great Britain which did the mischief; but as to when the opportunity of a general election will come is a question. The time is only just approaching in which it will be possible to test the cohesion of the Liberal-Unionists to their Tory allies. The Government is rather prematurely pluming itself on the unopposed second reading of the Local Government Bill. This measure depends on a multitude of details, and the battle ground of these will be in committee. In that stage at any moment a question may arise which will really strain the solidarity of the Unionist coalition. Many important interests are assailed. The Tory country party view with distrust and dislike the whole measure, and are sure to show this by a bad attendance on committee.

"But whether or not we succeed in upsetting the Government this year over the Local Government Bill or some other question, it must be remembered that the final result of the restoration of a Parliament to Ireland is assured beyond a doubt. For an event of such magnitude, which up to 1885 was certainly not expected save as the doubtful outcome of years of struggle and suffering, but which has now become the certain pacific prospect of a year or two, we can surely afford to have a little patience.

"To the American people especially, without whose aid we could have made none of this enormous advance, and who, looking from a distance, may be disposed to regard the present progress as slow when compared with the strides taken in 1885, I would say that what we have to do at present is to use the interval to consolidate and secure our ground for the next step, when the time to take it arrives, with every confidence that it will be the final and crowning one. Although the pause may seem to be long, it is essential and valuable. It is as nothing compared with the many centuries that Ireland has waited in hopeless misery and sacrifice. We must know how to learn to wait as well as how to advance. The most victorious armies of history have been compelled at times to rest in seeming inactivity behind their trenches, and it is just as much necessary for a nation, if it desires freedom, to learn how to do this at the proper time in patience as it is for an army.

"I have said a period of waiting was an advantage to us. It is educating, and will educate the people of Great Britain. Men who in 1885 followed Mr. Gladstone in his great measure from belief in the man, now follow him as well from belief in the cause. There are thousands of Liberals throughout the country who at that time were without sufficient information to enable them to defend Mr. Gladstone's policy, and who are now as ardent Home Rulers and as capable exponents as any of the Irish members themselves. In Ulster, too, this improvement is noticeable. I believe from all I hear that if an election were to take place we should make a net gain of three members there. If the Ulster Presbyterians once become convinced that they will not get land reform without Home Rule, they will become Home Rulers, and the present Government most stupidly, I think, is doing all it can do to commend this conviction.

"Churchill's speech this afternoon on the Irish County Councils Bill was one of the most important of the session, and certainly the ablest he has ever delivered on any subject. His disclosure of the views held by Salisbury's cabinet in 1886 was of the first magnitude in importance, diametrically opposed as they are to the views announced by Balfour in the debate to-day. His foreshadowing of grave disaster to the Tory party at the polls in a general election, perhaps close at hand, produced a tremendous sensation and seemed most ominous. In fact, the speech was undoubtedly the hardest blow this Government has yet received, and it will have far-reaching results in the country. These results, towards which events are shaping, must be in our favor. Let us wait alertly, but still in patience, and see what they are."

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

SIR RICHARD CARTWRIGHT ON THE KINGSTON P.O. ROBBERY.

The Culprit said to Have Been Shielded on Account of His Political Services—The Deputy-Speaker—Comments Upon His Absence from the House.

OTTAWA, April 26.—In the House to-day Mr. Chapleau's bill respecting the Department of Public Printing and Stationery was read the second time. The House went into committee on the bill, with Mr. Rykert in the chair. Mr. Mills started an interesting discussion by calling attention to the fact that the Deputy Speaker (Mr. Colby) had been absent for two weeks and that his duties were being discharged by other members of the House. The Premier had undertaken to change the rules of the House by appointing a paid Deputy Speaker, who was to be chairman of all committees, and that arrangement should be adhered to. Mr. Mitchell intimated that Mr. Colby was electioneering in Missisquoi and suggested that the Secretary of State ought to proceed against him as he had proceeded against the three translators. The Speaker here felt it necessary to rise and explain that Mr. Colby had come to him and requested leave of absence to attend to important family affairs. Sir John made a bantering speech, in which he said that the member for Bothwell, who was alleging that the proceedings as to Mr. Chapleau's bill were disorderly by reason of the absence of the Deputy Speaker, was himself disorderly in introducing the subject at all. Mr. Laurier was inclined to take a more serious view of the question. If it transpired that the Deputy Speaker had neglected his duties to go electioneering he would be guilty of a gross neglect of the privileges of the House. He had heard, too, that the translators, not Mr. Poirier or Messrs. Tremblay, but Tory translators, had left their posts to speak on the hustings for Tory candidates in the local elections now proceeding. The House resumed the consideration of Mr. Chapleau's bill and reported it.

Sir Richard Cartwright called attention to the case of theft at the Kingston Postoffice. If the facts were as told to him by credible and respectable people, it showed a remarkable failure of justice. He went briefly over the facts as he had heard them—that there had been many complaints of lost letters at Kingston, that Mr. Wm. Shannon, deputy-postmaster, was caught in the very act of feloniously opening letters and abstracting their contents, that the person who saw him was the deputy inspector of the district, and yet twenty-four hours elapsed before an attempt was made to arrest the culprit, by which time he had fled to the United States, that he had come back to Kingston and gone away, taking a good deal of property with him. Hon. Mr. McLelan acknowledged that there had been some remissness on the part of the officers. Their explanation was that when Mr. Shannon was seen to open letters, the inspector was informed and summoned the culprit, who at once acknowledged his guilt. Only one of the letters contained an inclosure and that one only 5 cents in coin and 20 cents in stamps. Mr. Shannon having been thirty years or so in the office without any suspicion of wrong-doing attaching to him and the amount taken being so trifling, the officials were overwhelmed with surprise and did not act so promptly as they should have done. He thought it was not the case that he came back to Kingston, but on this point Sir Richard Cartwright said he had the statement of credible people who had seen him on his return. Dr. Wilson pointed out that a person named Shannon had been an active electioneering agent for Sir John in Kingston in 1874, and suggested that this might be the reason for the leniency with which the defaulting postmaster was treated. Sir John said that the hon. member had got hold of the wrong Shannon. The person who was mentioned in the election trial was Wm. Shannon, who had been his (Sir John's) trusted friend and bookkeeper for many years, and for many years he and his brother, the deputy postmaster, had held no communication except on business. He made an attack upon the member for East Elgin, charging him with having dragged his name into the controversy.

TORONTO TOPICS.

To-day Coroner Hanson will hold an inquest in the Toronto Jail on the body of an old man named Edward Nolan, who died in that institution yesterday.

Yesterday morning about 8 the body of a respectably-dressed woman, apparently about 60 or 70 years of age, was found in the basin at the foot of West Market-street. Esplanade Constable Williams and others were speedily on the spot, when the body was conveyed to the Morgue. From the appearance of the body and clothing it was evident she could only have been in the water a few hours. The body was identified as that of Mrs. Sheppard of 32 Belmont-street, wife of Mr. John Sheppard, brick and tile manufacturer.

About half past five yesterday afternoon Detective Inspector Stark received a despatch from the police authorities of Kingston requesting him to look out for two men named Vance and Knight, who were wanted on a charge of counterfeiting. He at once detailed Detectives Barrows, Slemin and Cuddy to find the men. The officers, after a long search, located their men at the Walker House. Barrows went in to rout them out, but on being covered one door Vance and Knight slipped out of the other. Slemin and Cuddy made a dash for them, but they ran across Front, and attempted to elude their pursuers by concealing themselves in the grounds of the Palmer Boarding house. Cuddy and the rest were too close to their heels, however, and both were found hiding behind the trees on the lawn. When taken to headquarters and searched $143 in bills was found on Vance, and $265 on Knight. It is supposed to be good money, but the detectives are not sure of the fact as they have had no time as yet to thoroughly examine it.

The prisoners described themselves as W. D. Vance, merchant, Owen Sound, and C. F. Knight, merchant, London. Both were flashily dressed, and took their arrest very coolly. The Kingston authorities will be down after them to-day.

INDEPENDENT WORKINGMEN.

Hamilton Non-Unionists to Form an Association—Improve Hints.

HAMILTON, April 26.—A movement is now afoot towards the formation of an independent workingmen's association, the membership in which is to consist of all non-union workers in the building trades. A meeting with this object in view is to be held on Saturday evening at 8 o'clock. All non-union carpenters, bricklayers and laborers are invited to attend. The present labor situation in the city will be fully discussed.

Dr. Ryall, the medical health officer, is taking effective measures to have the milk supply of the city pure and of good quality. His examinations of milk and the places where the cattle are kept in the city have afforded convincing proof that dirt and rain water enter largely into the local supply of milk.

In connection with the case against young Holman for carrying a pistol, a curious point has arisen. The confiscated pistol is claimed by J. Holman, the gunsmith, who says that his son took it from the shop in direct opposition to his orders. The police say that the only way he can make good his claim is to charge his son with stealing it.

At 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon William Brooks was driving a wagon containing several barrels of hot distillery swill along King-street west. As he reached the corner of King and Caroline streets a front wheel of the wagon rolled off, and the horse made a start. The barrels fell over, and the driver and horse were severely scalded, the flesh having peeled off the man's right leg from the thigh down. The horse also suffered terribly.

William McCallum and Joseph Armstrong were charged at the Police Court this morning with stealing a pocketbook, containing $6.60, from Lucile Mortimer, a dashing demi-mondaine from Brantford. The case was adjourned until Tuesday, and McCallum and Armstrong were held on $400 bail.

INTERESTING ITEMS BY WIRE.

An incendiary fire burnt the stable of E. H. Eddison at Owen Sound yesterday, causing a loss of $600; no insurance.

Hon. James Young has been appointed chairman of the Galt Collegiate Institute trustees, in succession to Rev. Dr. Smith, who goes to California.

There is no change in the Hamilton labor situation.

The Wentworth Teachers' Association is in session at Dundas.

The Daily Examiner.

FRIDAY, APRIL 27, 1888.

THE constituency of Cardwell, unrepresented through the lamented death of Hon. Thos. White, is a "safe" Conservative constituency—in fact it is one of Sir John's Tory "hives," and therefore there is no difficulty of finding candidates. There are already four ready to fill the position of representative and it is probable that before the election is brought on, there will be as many candidates as Richard III fancied he saw Richmonds, in the field. The crop will be all the more abundant, as Sir John is in the way of buying off, with some fat office, the candidates likely to divide the vote sufficiently to imperil the safe return of the regular nominee of the machine.

IT appears that the Dominion Government is thoroughly well satisfied with the manner in which the Dominion voters' lists at the last election "did" the "Grits." In reply to Mr. Weldon, of St. John, Hon. Mr. Chapleau stated in the House on Wednesday that the revision of the voters' lists, under the Dominion Franchise Act, would be suspended for another year. Therefore the "doctored" and defunct list of 1886 will be the list for 1888 and for a large part of 1889. This will lead to the disfranchisement in all the by-elections of hundreds of voters. But that's no matter, the voters' list now just suits the Tory card, and it is undesirable that there should be any change, even though half the country who won't vote right are disfranchised.

THE Manitoba Manhood Suffrage Bill disqualifies civil servants, viz., officers and employees in the Custom House, postmasters in towns and cities, Crown timber and lands, excise and registry officers, sheriffs, deputy sheriffs, land title and police Magistrate officers, regular soldiers and officers and men in military schools, in penitentiaries, prisons and jails, county court clerks and bailiffs in cities and towns. The grounds for this action are that the Dominion employees pay no taxes, and therefore have no right to say how Provincial money shall be expended, while the local officials may be controlled by the Government of the day, and are therefore relieved of the chances of being submitted to undue influences. A man who is not man enough to bear his share of the burden of public taxation, has not man enough in him to come under the provisions of a Manhood Suffrage Bill.

IT looks as if the recent International Fisheries Conference might have been dispensed with. According to American authorities, the question is in a fair way to settle itself. It would appear that the American fishing fleets are largely manned by Canadians, and that the Yankees, proficient and piscatorial, are fast ceasing to be. Therefore, it will not be long before there will be no Yankees qualified to steal our fish, and the whole business will fall into Canadian hands. This is a great source of grief to our Yankee cousins, and the Boston Herald thus deals with the facts and emphasizes the national danger: "Year by year the number of American fishermen grows smaller and smaller, and if something is not done to arrest this decay, the whole business, so far as catching fish is concerned, will be in the hands of these Blue Noses. There is not a fishing port in our whole New England coast that doesn't serve the purpose of a naval academy for the British Government. The foreigners, by sailing in and out of our harbors half a dozen times each season, obtain a perfect knowledge of the channels of the harbors, the lay of the treacherous shores and dangerous rocks, and also our system of navigation, which would have been of incalculable benefit to the English in case of becoming involved with that country. I will venture to say there are four Nova Scotians to one American who can bring a vessel safely into the port of Gloucester."

Condition of Ocean Freights.

. . . . Inquiry among the steamship agents in New York shows the following condition of Ocean freight markets. Their London cables state that 101 steamers has been chartered on the other side in the last two weeks to go to Russian and Danubian ports for grain, which has been bought by European importers for shipment upon the opening of navigation. The Boston steamers sent word here early in the week that they would take grain free of all charge by this week's boats to Liverpool. This offer failed to secured the desired amount, and on Wednesday they actually paid a shipper in New York 1½c. per bushel for the privilege of taking two loads of corn across the Atlantic.

At an average of 10,000 quarters each, or 80,000 bus. these charters represent over 8,000,000 bushels of actual Wheat and Corn bought by Europe in Russian markets instead of here, mostly since our advance of the past month we are told by the agents here of foreign houses. It is also said the avalanche of Wheat and some Corn sold here and in Chicago this week by these foreign houses, and which finally broke our markets on Wednesday, has been short Wheat here against these purchases in Russia of long spot Wheat and hence that fully 8,000,000 to 10,000,000 of short Wheat for foreign account has been thrown on our markets at the late advance, on which the foreign houses will stay short as usual until their 100 steamers have gone to the Russian ports and returned with this grain to the European markets. This will require from one to two months."—N.Y. Commercial Bulletin.

Montreal Horse Market.

MONTREAL, April 24.—At the Montreal horse exchange, during the week ending April 21st, 429 horses were received and 241 shipped, principally to American markets. There was a fair demand during the week, but owing to the scarcity of horses trade was slow. A number of buyers are on the way. Messrs. Cline, Kidd & Hay, D. Ferguson and J. Lowry will be here during the week with a carload each. John Dalgleish, of Glasgow, Scotland, is here with three extra fine thoroughbred Clydesdale stallions. Frank Resterick, Forest, Ontario, is here with a load of choice horses.

East Buffalo.

April 24.—Cattle—There was little or nothing done in cattle to-day. A few Canada stockers of about 750 to 850 lbs., sold at $3.60 to $3.75; prime export steers were 15 to 25c. lower than yesterday's opening prices at $4.60 to $5.25. Shippers, $4.40 to $4.60 for choice heavy; good 1,150 to 1,300 lbs. do., $3.75 to $4.20; butchers' cattle were 5 to 10c. lower than yesterday's opening; light to good, 900 to 1,100 lbs., $3.50 to $4.00; mixed butchers', $3.25 to $3.75. Offerings were about 12 cars. Sheep and lambs and hogs—Only a few offerings and no market to speak of.

AT THE GERMAN CAPITAL.

A Round of Visits and Festivities—The Emperor Improving.

BERLIN, April 26.—The statement that Count Herbert Bismarck had been appointed Minister of Foreign Affairs was incorrect. He has simply been promoted to be a minister of state.

The German newspapers have suddenly ceased their attacks on the Emperor's English doctor. The Emperor will keep to his bed until he becomes stronger. Queen Victoria visited him several times yesterday. The Queen expressed great admiration at the amazing growth of the city since her visit in 1858. She was especially struck by the magnificence of many of the buildings.

The semi-official journals deny that any political importance is to be attached to Queen Victoria's meetings with King Humbert, Emperor Francis Joseph, the Empress of Germany and Prince Bismarck; but much comment and various surmises are indulged in both here and in Vienna.

The Dowager Empress Augusta called on the Queen yesterday afternoon. After a visit of 35 minutes the two ladies drove to the British Embassy. In a second carriage were Princess Beatrice and the Emperor's three daughters, and in a third Prince Henry of Battenberg. Tea was served at the Embassy, the Crown Prince, who was followed later by the Crown Princess and Count Herbert Bismarck, being present. From the Embassy the Queen and the Empress drove to the English chapel, and after remaining 20 minutes returned to Charlottenburg.

A banquet was given at the palace at 8 o'clock, at which all the royal princes and princesses were present. Among the guests were Prince Bismarck, Count Herbert Bismarck, Gen. Von Moltke, Minister Von Puttkamer, Count Stolberg, Generals Avedyll, Achenbach, Von Pape, Eulenberg and Von Ranch, the Duke of Rutland, Sir E. B. Malet, the British Ambassador, and his wife, and all the physicians attending the Emperor. The Queen will attend a parade of the Life Guards at 3 p.m. to-day, and will dine at 8 p.m., leaving for home between 7 and 8 p.m.

A bulletin issued this morning says the Emperor slept well last night. His fever is very slight, and his general condition begins to improve. The Emperor rose at noon and walked in the room adjoining his bedroom. The doctors are in hopes that he will be able to drive out on Monday.

Queen Victoria visited the mausoleum this morning and spent some time in prayer at the tomb of Emperor William. The Empress and her daughters accompanied the Queen.

The Emperor's temperature is under 38 Celsius. His appetite is improving and his general condition is satisfactory. The physicians have advised the Emperor against rising as yet.

A Knightly and Noble Figure.

LONDON, April 26.—It is not easy to match in the history of any European dynasty the strong and fine aspects of the picture painted for us by the reports from Berlin. Americans remember with pride the firmness and resolution with which Gen. Grant held back the fatal disease with one hand, while with the other he worked painfully toward the completion of his memoirs. Europe's model prince and the knightliest and the noblest figure which royalty has produced in centuries presents perhaps an even more splendid example of the way a great man can face death, coming as it does with the most miserable and repellant form and at a cruelly inopportune time. Frederick sits propped up in bed in a chamber where the lamps, with pastilles kept burning constantly, do not suffice to purify the nauseous atmosphere. By his side is always one doctor, and more often two, and the tube in his throat is being taken out, cleaned and replaced at intervals of three to twelve minutes all day and most of the night. He is sick unto death, as well with headaches and fever, as from the effects of confinement, and the terrible overhanging fact of the impending dissolution. Yet, between his periods of swooning from sheer exhaustion he sits and works laboriously on, praying only that his feeble hold of life may be maintained until his task is finished. The task which the dying man thus struggles against fate to complete is nothing less than a new constitution for Prussia. Am I not right in saying we have in all history no loftier or more inspiring illustration of what kingly duty may mean?

The Growth of the Hair.

Should always be watched. Inattention to the hair often leads to premature grayness and baldness. When dandruff appears it should be looked after at once. By frequently using a little of Dr. Dorenwend's Great German Hair Magic the scalp will be kept in a clean and healthy condition and the strength and vigor of the hair greatly promoted. It is the only reliable. Do not be talked into using anything else. For sale by all druggists everywhere. dw

THE SPRING DIET.

In the Spring a young man's fancies may "lightly turn to thoughts of love," but the fancies of older people more commonly turn to what they shall or can eat.

The "Spring appetite" is flagging and fickle. The keen relish of the sharp winter weather is dulled or gone. It is Nature's hint for a change in the quality and a let-up in the quantity of food consumed.

The golden rule of living is to adapt the diet to the season and to the needs of the system. For this reason

NEWARK DEFEATS TORONTO BY ELEVEN RUNS TO SEVEN.

League and Association Games Elsewhere—Chapman Speaks Well of the Toronto—Notes About the Toronto—Tough on Hamilton—Reading by Englund.

NEWARK, N.J., April 26.—There was an unusual amount of bitterness imparted in to-day's contest by the kicking which the Torontos kept up from the very start of the game. Any Feats were there, but the Torontos have lost none of the propensity for objecting which made them famous in the days when he ruled the field. To-day they directed their opposition to Umpire Kelcham, claiming that he was roasting Shepard on balls and strikes.

Toronto scored in the third on Atkinson's first on error and another error by Simmons and a passed ball. In the fourth Thayer hit safely, stole second, and Coogan's muff and Simmons' error gave Thayer and Kearns their runs.

Errors of Smith's, McLaughlin's single and Hickley's out sent Connor home in the fifth. Thayer's home run in the sixth over the left field fence, Coogan's muff, a steal and Decker's single sent Conroy home in the seventh. Thayer's single, a steal and Atkinson's single sent Thayer home in the eighth. In the ninth inning Simmons and Baker went to base on balls and Smith by being hit. Then singles by Johnson, Coogan and Carey with good base running sent in five runs. The score:

Chapman Speaks Well of the Torontos.

BUFFALO, N.Y., April 26.—The Blues have returned home after a most successful trip, clearing $600, and are all, with the exception of Grant, in excellent condition. They were out at Olympic Park for several hours' practice to-day, in which Chamberlain, the reclaimed Louisville pitcher, joined. The team will leave for Troy to-morrow morning in order to have a good night's rest before the opening game of the championship season which they play there on Saturday afternoon. Manager Chapman thinks the Toronto team has been strengthened by the addition of Greer, and that it will make a fight on the championship. He declined to discuss Hamilton's prospects, and had nothing to say as to the probability of the club proving a weak sister and dropping out before the season closed. He thinks Phil Powers has a great aggregation of talent if he can put it in workable shape, and is certain that the energetic P. P. will make things warm for all comers whether his club is a pennant candidate or not.

Notes About the Torontos.

Kansas City was after Greer, the new out-fielder signed by Toronto.

Oldfield is showing up very poorly behind the bat and can't hold Atkinson.

Oldfield has not caught a foul fly out of 16 attempts.

Toronto's weak points are at base running and field work.

Manager Chapman says Lally was too slow and had not much life about him, this being the reason of his release.

Manager Cushman writes that Greer will greatly strengthen the team.

Decker's catching and throwing is wonderful this season and he is also batting well.

Smith has great speed and a deadly drop ball.

Sheppard is doing good work in the box.

Kearns lost the Jersey City game by dropping a fine throw of Decker's and a wild pitch to first.

Atkinson will be in the box at Albany to-morrow.

Tough on Hamilton.

WORCESTER, Mass., April 26.—If the Hamilton team which appeared here to-day is any criterion by which to judge of the strength of the other teams comprising the International Association the Torontos will have little difficulty in holding the championship honors another season. Rainey for the visitors played wretchedly at third and Mansell distinguished himself by several miss-plays which an amateur would blush for. Barrett pitched a strong game for the home team and was ably supported behind the bat by Briggs who prevented base-stealing by accurate throwing to second. The Worcesters batted Green hard and often, while Hamilton failed to bunch their hits with any effect. Score:

	R.	B.	P.	O.	A.	E.
Worcester	0	1	1	0	0	2—5
Hamilton	1	0	0	0	0	0—1

Earned runs—Worcester 4. Two base hits—Clifford. Three base hits—Meister, Briggs, Wheeler. First base on errors—Worcester 7, Hamilton 1. First on balls—Hamilton and Barrett. Struck out—Clifford 2, O. J. Young 1, Green. Stolen bases—Wheelock, Flanagan, Hamilton 3, Green. Left on bases—Hamilton 7, Worcester 8. Wild pitches—Barrett 1. Time of game—1 hr. 50 min. Umpire J. L. Clare.

The Raw, Cutting Winds

Bring to the surface every latent pain. A change of even a few degrees marks the difference between comfort and pain to many persons. Happily disease now holds less way. Science is continually bringing forward new remedies which successfully combat disease. Polson's Nerviline—nerve pain cure—has proved the most successful pain relieving remedy known. Its application is wide, for it is equally efficient in all forms of pain, whether internal or external. Ten and 25 cents a bottle, at druggists. 6dw17

Thief Arrested.

The news was received with the utmost satisfaction by the community that he had been arrested; but the arrest of a disease that is stealing away a loved and valued life, is an achievement that should inspire heart-felt gratitude. Chilliness, cold extremities, depressed spirits, and extraordinarily miserable sensations, with pale, wan features, are the results of disordered kidneys and liver. Arrest the cause at once by taking Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It is a purely vegetable detective, that will ferret out and capture the most subtle lung or blood disorder. Druggists. b

Remove The Cause.

To remedy an evil the cause must be removed. It is by opening the clogged avenues of the system and thus removing the impure poisonous and worn out matter which is the cause of disease that B. B. B. is so uniformly successful in overcoming all diseases of the Stomach, Liver, Kidneys and Blood. 2w16d

His Friends Can Testify.

Mr. C. H. Vought, of Peterboro, Ont., says that his friends can testify to his being cured of Indigestion, Constipation, and Torpid Liver by using two and a half bottles of B. B. B. "It seems to act like magic, and I heartily recommend it" are the closing words of his letter. 2w16d

Without A Doubt.

There is no doubt that Hagyard's Yellow Oil is the best remedy for Sprains, Bruises, Sore Throat, Colds, Rheumatism, Croup and all Aches, Pains, Lameness and Soreness. It is used externally and internally, and should always be kept in the house. 2w16d

High Praise.

Mrs. John Neelands, writing from the Methodist Parsonage, Adelaide, Ont., says, "I have used Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam for years in our family. For heavy Colds, Sore Throats and distressing coughs no other medicine so soon relieves." 2w16d

OLD DR. CHASE'S NEW RECEIPT BOOK.

His Last and Crowning Life Work

Dr. Chase's Third, Last and Complete Receipt Book and Household Physician, or the Book for the Million, contains nearly 200 pages and sells for $2.25 in cloth binding and $1.00 in imported oil cloth, marble edge, and is justly by him called

"THE CROWNING WORK OF MY LIFE."

It is the result of over half a century's observation, study and experience. Yet this embodies no compilation of his former books. IT IS WHOLLY A NEW BOOK. If 30 years ago he could produce a book that has had a sale of over fifteen hundred thousand copies, and has made his name familiar in nearly every English-speaking home in the United States, Canada and thousands of homes in Europe, Australia and south America, what KIND of a book could or would he produce as his Crowning Life Work, WITH MORE THAN THIRTY YEARS OF ADDITIONAL PRACTICE AND EXPERIENCE? The book itself answers the question, and is the most valuable production in the history of book publishing.

CAUTION! Unscrupulous and pirating publishers are attempting to copy this book by taking portions of it out and palming it off on the public as the complete work. We own the manuscript, purchased from Dr. Chase's heirs. See that you get the GENUINE book. See that it has our name on the title page and is copyrighted by us.

The Merits of Jersey Milk.

It is agreed on all hands, except by those who are interested in some other breed, that the Jersey cow furnishes the richest milk in the world, and is, therefore, the most suitable nourishment for young children. While Jersey milk is the best for children it is an undeniable fact that for children of larger growth there is nothing so becoming and convenient as the splendid Jersey dresses at the golden lion. A magnificent line of these at importers' prices, as well as a magnificent stock of table napkins at prices far below any before quoted. Don't be afraid to beard the lion in his den.

The Canton.

An inspection of the Canton was held at the rink last night, after which the following officers were appointed by Captain McNeil:

Standard Bearer	Chev.	Wm Morris
Senior Standard Guard	"	T. Werkman
Junior "	"	T. Emmerson
Guard of Tent	"	John Main
Inside Sentinel	"	G. J. Harley
Outside "	"	J. Long
Trumpeter	"	J. Fraser
Drummer	"	H. W. Watson

The Canton then paraded to Otonabee Lodge rooms, where a mass meeting of Oddfellows was being held.

The Col. Williams Monument.

A deputation from Port Hope visited Toronto Thursday and, the Globe says, examined the plans of the monument to be erected to the memory of the late Col. Williams at Port Hope. The plans prepared by Mr. H. M. Arthur were pronounced to be excellent, and a favorable report will be made. The statue will be of bronze, 8 feet 5 inches in height, on a pedestal of grey granite, 12 feet. The design is very spirited and shows Col. Williams leading his men to the charge, his right hand holding a raised sword and his head turned to the left urging his men to victory. The monument will cost $5,500 and will be publicly unveiled in October at Port Hope.

The Redcoats Repast.

Last night after the drill of Companies No. 5 and 6 at the drill shed, the men present were marched down to the Commercial House and entertained at supper by the officers, Capt. Miller and Lieut. Matthews, of No. 5, and Capt. Brennan and Lieut. Hammond, of No. 6. An excellent supper was spread by mine host Ed. Brown, to which the thirty or more redcoats present did ample justice. Capt. Brennan occupied the chair, and after supper speeches, songs and anecdotes were the order of the evening. For two hours or more the jolly Rangers enjoyed themselves, and broke up at an early hour with cheers for the Queen and their entertainers. The officers of companies 5 and 6 are very popular with their men, and last night's bit of "diversion" will serve to strengthen their hold upon the esteem and good-will of their subordinates.

Shoot the Hat.

The other morning a member of the Gun Club, who at a recent practice "pop" carried his hat through the innings, sallied forth with his trusty weapon to spend a few hours in the suburbs shooting at live game. At his gate he met one of the third ward's civic representatives, and in a tragic tone of voice demanded that he "throw up his hat." The alderman was a sort of doubting Thomas, and thought his hat would be as perfectly safe in mid-air as on his own head. He placed a heavy stone in the hat and flung it high above his head. Like the pigeons on that celebrated occasion when the aforesaid member of the Gun Club carried his hat, the hat was doomed to destruction. It was deposed, so to speak—its crown was taken away as neatly as if cut out. The alderman donned the remnant of his "tile" amidst the laughter of a number of spectators, and marched down street for a new one with a much better opinion of J. D.'s ability as a marksman than he had previously held.

St. Andrew's Social.

The spacious rooms of Mrs. Nicholl's venerable and historical residence on Rubidge street were last night thronged with people who had been attracted by the announcement that a social was to be held under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid of St. Andrew's Church. It was a thoroughly representative gathering, too, all the churches having delegates present. Ample refreshments were served and the appended excellent programme rendered, though the house was so crowded that not more than half the guests were in a position to thoroughly appreciate the entertainment. It was, however, a social in the truest sense of the term—a spirit of friendly intercourse prevailed over all and a most enjoyable time was had. Following is the programme:—

Fatal Accident at Warsaw.

A Young Man Almost Instantly Killed at Wanzer's Saw Mill.

Thursday afternoon a melancholy accident occurred at Warsaw that cast a shade of intense gloom over the whole village population. The victim was a young man well known in the locality who was struck down in his strength and youth by a shockingly sudden mishap.

Ernest Grant was the sawyer at Wanzer's saw mill, and boarded at Morgan's hotel. He had been engaged during the day in "slabbing" ties for the Rathbun Co., and shortly after dinner a peculiar accident occurred that caused his death. One side of a tie had been "slabbed," and in jigging back the teeth of the saw caught the log and whirled it over on its end in a twinkling. Poor Grant was standing right behind and received the blow on his forehead. He was like a shot, almost lifeless, but still breathing. A physician was at once sent for, and very fortunately Dr. Colech happened to be passing the mill at the time. He hastened to the dying man and asked him where he felt the most pain. Grant placed his hands on his body, but the next instant he fell heavily at his side and he was dead.

His head was not much lacerated, only a scalp wound appearing as the result of the blow. The tie had descended, however, with terrific force, the man who was assisting Grant at the saw stating that it flew so swiftly it appeared nothing more than a long streak to him.

Ernest Grant was about 26 years of age, unmarried, having a mother living in the Stony Lake district, where made his home. He was greatly liked by his fellow-employes who, like the villagers, were dumbfounded by the suddenness and awfulness of the calamity.

The body was first carried to Mr. Bell's house and afterwards conveyed home to the sorrowing mother. The interment will take place to-morrow.

Looking in the Right Place.

Mr. A. W. Spooner, of Port Hope, has been in town a couple of days, prospecting with a view of establishing his business in this thriving town. He deals in oils, babbit metal, machinery supplies, etc. There is also another Port Hope industry looking for a new field of operation. By all means come to Peterborough and prosperity.

A Good Bargain.

Messrs. Hall & Hayes, solicitors, have negotiated, through Mr. W. J. Langford, for the disposal of "Inverlea," the property of Mr. Judge Dennistoun. The property, consisting of eleven acres, is purchased by a syndicate, composed of four business men. The figure was $17,000. This property has been advertised in the EXAMINER for about ten days, and behold the result!

Early Closing.

The jewellers of the town have signed agreement to close their stores at seven o'clock during the months of May, June, July and August, Saturdays excepted. Notices have been posted up in each of the jewellery stores to that effect. The early closing movement seems to be almost universal in Peterborough this year—and very properly so.

Hymeneal.

Thursday evening at the residence of Mr. W. G. Ferguson, Mr. Robert Mulligan was married to Miss Lizzie Scott, by Rev. E. F. Torrance. The bride's sister acted as bridesmaid, and Mr. Thos. Emmerson as groomsman. Mr. Mulligan is an esteemed employe of the Peter Hamilton Agricultural Works and a good Oddfellow. A peculiar feature of this wedding is that the groom is the tenth member of Peterborough Lodge, I.O.O. F., who has been married since January 1st this year.

ODDFELLOWS' ANNIVERSARY

Commemorating Their Sixty-Ninth Year of Progress.

A Mass Meeting of the Two Local Lodges—Speeches by the Grand Warden and Others—A Large Gathering of Oddfellows.

Sixty-nine years ago last night in the city of Baltimore, seven men, headed by Thomas Wildey, who had belonged to the Oddfellows in England, met in a hotel, and formed the first Lodge of the Order on the American continent, taking the motto of Friendship, Love and Truth for their watchwords. From the time of the inception of Oddfellowship in the beginning of the present century it has made rapid strides throughout the universe, as lodges can now be found scattered in all civilized countries. To celebrate its birth, the brethern of the Order in Peterborough held a mass meeting of the two lodges in the Otonabee Lodge rooms Thursday evening. There were about 150 of the brethren present.

Bro. J. E. Stratton, D.D.G.M., occupied the chair, having on his left Bro. Wm. Cowie, V. G., acting N. G. of Peterborough Lodge, and Bro. R. W. Bell, Grand Warden; on his right Bro. John Matthieson, N.G. Otonabee Lodge, and Bro. E. E. Henderson, P. G. Otonabee Lodge.

The CHAIRMAN, in opening, expressed his satisfaction with the honorable position he held that night. It was gratifying to him as well as to all Oddfellows, to know that there were represented in their Order the best classes of men in the community, who occupied some of the highest positions in the town and the gift of the people.

The company then joined in singing the National anthem, after which Bro. Matthieson read a poetical selection entitled "Let By-gones be By-gones."

Bro. Cowie next made a few remarks upon the duties of Oddfellows, urging the brethren to attend meetings more regularly and be more faithful to their obligations.

At this juncture the Canton of Patriarchs Militant, about 24 strong, were admitted.

BRO. J. NUGENT favored the company with a recitation entitled "The Moneyless Man," intended to illustrate the uncharitableness of the world in contrast to the practical charity which was the chief aim of the Order.

Bro. J. HENDRY followed with a vocal solo, "Jock o' Hazel Dean," that was very favorably received.

THE ORIGIN OF THE ORDER.

Grand Warden BELL next delivered his address upon "The Rise and Progress of the Order, its Aims and Objects." He first endorsed Bro. Cowie's remarks anent the duty of Oddfellows in attending meetings, and he was sorry that more of the brethren were not present on this 69th anniversary. He first dealt with the origin of the name "Oddfellow," which is said to have sprung up with the Order among the ancient Israelites. As far back as 1745 the Order of Oddfellows is on the English records, and at present the membership of the Manchester Unity was about three-quarters of a million. American Oddfellows, however, had no connection with it, any more than being a branch. The speaker then went over the details of the establishment of the Independent Order of Oddfellows at Baltimore in 1819, since which time it had steadily progressed and was now the largest fraternal benevolent association in the world, having a membership of over half a million. Coming down to the aims and objects of the Order, the speaker referred to principles of charity, temperance, loyalty and brotherly love inculcated. The sick and burial benefits were mentioned as the right of every Oddfellow, not as charity. The Order had a revenue of $5,000,000, of which $2,000,000 per annum was spent in relief, or about $6,000 per day. Efforts had, he said, been made to establish branches of the Order in Europe, but there was a strong prejudice in the old country against societies. However, some had been established, and in Germany there was a good showing, while in Australia and the Sandwich Islands they were very strong. There were in all some 8,000 subordinate lodges of the Order. The speaker gave some interesting statistics of the Sovereign Grand Lodge, as to the composition of the lodge, its relief expenditures, etc. Coming down to the history of the Order in Canada, he said it was first introduced in Montreal in 1843, and in Upper Canada in '46. There were difficulties to contend with but they were progressing and now had 266 subordinate lodges with a membership last December of 15,556. The rise of the Order in Ontario was enlarged upon, an indication of which was shown by the fact that last year the relief expenditure had been 53,000. In its 32 years of existence in the province it has expended about half a million of dollars for relief—or, to be minute, $1.28 per hour for 32 years. It had also steadily increased in membership in proportion, and was at present in a prosperous condition. In conclusion he read an elegant homily upon the benefits of the Order, delivered by a celebrated divine before a gathering of Oddfellows.

SPEECHES, LUNCH AND ENTERTAINMENT.

Bro. M. J. LEE, P. G., made some announcements regarding the church parade Sunday evening, and laid claim to the proud distinction of having been the first to "ride the goat" in connection with the Order in Peterborough, (under the new regime at least.

An adjournment of twenty minutes was then made for lunch, which was served in the dining room by Bro. H. Long.

Upon resuming, the Canton gave an exhibition drill of the Silent Manual, which was received with loud applause.

Bro. D. H. MOORE then made a short address upon the aims of Cantons Militants. While they were satisfying the innate desire of mankind for display of some sort, which was, of course, a trifling consideration, they were at the same time of vast practical benefit to the Order, directly and indirectly.

Bro. HENDERSON made a few appropriate remarks expressive of his approval of the Canton, and took occasion to utter the following truism: "Ordinarily a man does not know how few friends he has until he tries to borrow money, and it is not his ordinary privilege to know how many he has till after the funeral." He also read a humorous extract from a newspaper that created great laughter.

Bro. A. MCFARLANE and Capt. MCNEIL, of the Canton, also spoke, the latter giving some facts connected with the Canton regarding membership, etc. They had an honorary and active membership of 41, with 34 uniformed members.

Bro. J. J. HARTLEY expressed his gratification at being a member of the Order, and wished the Canton every success.

Mr. R. M. ROY next entertained the company by an exhibition of his skill at legerdemain, which was greatly appreciated by the spectators.

Bro. J. L. HUGHES, in a brief address, urged greater friendliness among Oddfellows as a means of keeping up the fraternal feeling.

"Auld Lang Syne" by the company, led by Bro. Hendry, closing remarks by the chairman and the National Anthem concluded the evening's proceedings. Before the finale a vote of thanks was tendered the chairman.

The Carters' "Combine."

To the Editor of the Examiner:—

DEAR SIR,—We notice in the EXAMINER of yesterday a communication purporting to be signed by "The Carters of Peterborough." Now, we hold that that signature is practically a—well, a whopper—for there are several carters in this town who have no sympathy with such an attack on a business man. We have no particular complaint to make, and we have all we can do to attend to our business, without meddling with that of other men. The whole matter has been stirred up by one man. If the sulky carter will leave such men as "The Furniture King," J. D. Baptie, F. Fitzgerald and others alone and attend to his legitimate business, and not drag other carters into the controversy, it will be the better for our business in town. It would be just as reasonable for him to abuse the grocers for delivering their own goods as to blame these men for moving their goods in the way of business. Next time the sulky carter attacks four-wheeled carters let him do it over his own name, and not drag the names of carters into it without their knowledge or consent.

Yours truly

The Royal Grenadiers.

It is About Settled That They Visit Peterborough on the Queen's Birthday.

The directors of the Driving Park Association have not yet received any definite answer to their invitation to visit Peterborough on May 24th, but from the newspaper reports of the meeting of the regiment in Toronto last night, there is no reason to doubt that they will accept it.

The Empire says:—"It is altogether likely that the Royal Grenadiers will accept the invitation of the Mayor and citizens of Peterborough to spend the 24th of May there. The majority of the regiment favor that city. The Peterborough people want the fine brass band of the regiment to play at a promenade concert on the evening of the 23rd and also to play in the park on the evening of the 24th. It is likely the regiment will leave here by special train about eight o'clock Wednesday evening, May 23, and arrive in Peterborough about 11 p.m. They will be quartered in the rink during their stay." The Mail says:—"The proposed annual outing on May 24th was discussed, and the general verdict was that Peterborough be the objective point." The World says "it is almost settled that the regiment will go to Peterborough on the Queen's birthday."

The Globe, however, has a different account. It says:—"The Peterborough newspapers state that the Royal Grenadiers intend celebrating the 24th of May at that place. Inquiry of the Guards show that the people of Peterborough do not offer sufficient inducements, and unless some other arrangements are made the Grenadiers will celebrate the 24th at home."

This must be a mistake, as the invitation was sent in Mayor Stevenson's name and offered compliance with the Grenadiers's full demands.

All things considered, the Grenadiers may be regarded as a certainty on the 24th.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

SIR CHARLES TUPPER DELIVERS HIS BUDGET SPEECH.

Reply by Sir Richard Cartwright—The Fickleness of the Cabinet Exposed—Unrestricted Reciprocity Again Brought Up—An Amendment Moved.

OTTAWA, April 27.—In the House of Commons to-day the time for receiving reports on railway bills was extended to May 9. Mr. McCulla's bill relating to the York Farmers' Colonization Railway Company was read a first time. Sir Charles Tupper rose amid cheers and moved the House into Committee of Ways and Means.

Sir Charles remarked that he had been absent from Ottawa for a considerable period since last session, and although his Department has been watched over during his absence by the Minister of Customs with his usual ability, yet the House would expect from him as Finance Minister the usual statement as to the financial condition of the country.

Taking first financial affairs for the year ended June 30 last, they estimated that the revenue received from all sources would amount to $35,300,000. It was with pleasure that he informed the House that the total revenues for the year were $35,734,993, or an increase over the estimate of $454,993. [Cheers.] The yield from customs, which was estimated at $22,000,000, actually amounted to $22,378,300. [Cheers.] This increase was no doubt mainly caused by the revenue of the following year being anticipated owing to changes made in the tariff. In 1887 there had been an increase in duty on coal and coke (although 150,000 tons of anthracite coal was admitted free), fancy goods, silks and sugars as compared with 1886, while the quantity of spirits imported and taken for consumption had decreased, showing conclusively that the temperate habits of the people were gaining ground.

It was estimated that the expenditure for the year would be $35,600,000, leaving an estimated deficit of $300,000. The actual expenditure for the year was very close to the estimate, being only an excess of $67,000, and the estimated deficit of $300,000 has been turned into a surplus of $97,313. [Cheers.] In view of the statements made last year the Government could not, he thought, be accused of laying an over-sanguine statement before the House when they compared the estimate with the final realizations. [Hear, hear.]

He then proceeded to review the probable expectation of operations of the present fiscal year. Last year he had stated that the total revenues expected to be realized for the fiscal year 1887-'88 would be $36,400,000, made up as follows:

Customs	$22,580,000
Excise	8,400,000
Miscellaneous	7,390,000

Coming to the expenditure side of the account it would be seen that Parliament during the last session granted supply which, with actual expenditure, amounted to $35,969,981. As members were aware they had brought down estimates in addition thereto of $1,112,000. These two sums would amount to $37,082,000, and taking the usual savings into account on estimates, and these last year amounted to $100,000, it was very probable that the expenditure will be in round numbers, $37,000,000. It was but fair, however, that the House should take into account the fact that in the year 1886-7 he anticipated a deficit of $300,000. In reality this had been turned into a surplus of over $97,000, and it was but right to estimate that this sum of $400,000 was paid in in anticipation of 1887-8. With regard to the probable result of this year he considered that this fact should be taken into account, and having due regard to economy and expenditure, he trusted that the accounts for the present and coming year, taken as a whole, will balance. [Hear, hear.]

Sir Charles then proceeded to show how far the tariff changes of 1887 had affected the iron industry. It had provoked hostile criticism in England at the outset, but like the fiscal policy adopted in 1879 it was now more clearly understood, and the British press viewed in a more friendly spirit our efforts to develop our Canadian stores of mineral wealth within our borders. Sufficient time, however, had not yet elapsed to demonstrate fully the effects of the new tariff, the act having virtually not come into operation until the present fiscal year, and capital being cautious and very slow to move in new fields of enterprise. But he might state that the Mills and Randall bills now before Congress showed a fixed determination on the part of our American neighbors to continue an efficient measure of protection to that great industry. [Hear, hear.]

The Minister next referred to the effect of the tariff in the explorations made as to new fields for the development of this industry. Extensive and valuable deposits of iron ore, he said, had been discovered in the vicinity of Port Arthur, Ont., and on Hunters Island near the boundary line. When the Thunder Bay Colonization Railway reaches the ports the opening of these deposits will be facilitated.

South of the Canadian Pacific crossing of the Seine River, about 100 miles west of Fort William, an immense deposit of high grade bessemer iron ore has been discovered. It is said to be the largest and finest bed of ore ever found in America. The ore is a black magnesic oxide and analyzes from 62 to 70 per cent. of metallic iron.

As closely connected with the development of manufactures, proceeded Sir Charles, and as an evidence of the steady progress of the country, it may be mentioned that in addition to the expansion of the iron industry the changes in the tariff had a beneficial effect in the increase of the output of coal from the mines. In the Nova Scotia and Cape Breton mines a close estimate of the output was:

Name of place.	For year 1879.	For year 1887.
Cumberland County mines	656,000 tons.	920,000 tons.
Pictou County mines	550,000 "	850,000 "
Cape Breton mines	193,000 "	577,000 "
Total	1,399,000	1,856,000

In 1879 the coal raised at Spring Hill was 92,000 tons, in 1887 the output had increased to 443,000 tons. [Hear, hear.]

Sir Charles next gave the House something about the cotton industry of the country. At the present time about 60,000 bales of raw cotton, valued at $3,000,000, was being annually used in the Dominion. This was an increase of 50,000 bales in ten years. Half a million spindles were running and 9000 hands were employed, and the capital invested was $9,000,000.

The interprovincial trade of the country was referred to at length. In 1878 and 1887 the following movements took place over the Intercolonial Railway in articles carried both ways:

Articles.	1878.	1887.
Flour	267,772 bbls.	753,489 bbls.
Grain	331,170 bush	1,016,324 bush
Live stock	46,466 head	80,762 head
Lumber	56,000,000 feet	161,162,000 feet.
Manufactures	146,936 tons	235,000 tons
Other articles, not including firewood.	260,741 tons	360,000 tons
Total freights	833,710 tons	1,131,324 tons
Number of passengers	618,927	960,141

He did not propose to introduce any changes in the tariff. Nothing was more important for the trade and business of the country than that there should be perfect confidence as to the permanence of existing arrangements, and he thought that they could do no greater service to Canada than by showing that it was not necessary continually to change the tariff arrangements.

He was satisfied that no Finance Minister had been less troubled than he had been by applications for changes in the tariff. He knew that the hon. member for South Oxford had a hundred applications for changes in the tariff for every single application he had received during the present session. He believed this was to a large extent due to the fact of general satisfaction upon the part of the nation with the existing condition of things, and it was not necessary to disturb them. [Cheers.]

He need not remind the House that both parties in the House had been extremely anxious to obtain a return to the Reciprocity Treaty of 1854, or such reciprocal trade relations as were enjoyed under that treaty, but he was bound to say that he believed the country would be greatly disappointed if that treaty were re-enacted. It certainly had given a great stimulus to Canadian trade at that period, but it was still more beneficial to the United States than to us and he could not forget that great changes had taken place in this country in many important respects, and also in the United States, which would bear upon the question if the treaty were re-enacted.

They had endeavored to promote free intercourse by placing upon the statute book in 1879 for a very long period an invitation to meet them half-way with reference to certain articles which did not cover all articles contained in the old Reciprocity Treaty. It had been re-enacted with every re-enactment of the tariff from that time down to the present period. They had done this to draw the attention of Americans to the fact that they were still anxious to promote free intercourse between the two countries upon terms mutually advantageous.

He did not remember having seen any reference to the subject of having placed on their free list several of these articles two or three years ago. Down to the present year this Government had no communication whatever with the Imperial Government on this question. When their attention was drawn to the fact of the United States' action in this respect, they felt that under the circumstances the wisest course to pursue was to meet the proposal made and put on the free list the articles contained in the clause made free by the action of Congress. They had thus removed these difficulties and settled these causes of political and commercial commotion between the Governments of Great Britain, the United States and Canada.

He found that the bill introduced into Congress by Mr. Mills, chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, put a number of articles in which they were interested in Canada on the free list, but he would say that it was one thing to make a treaty and another thing to make a statutory arrangement. In a treaty there might be a number of articles which you did not desire to put on the free list, but it was done for the purpose of getting other articles which you greatly desired to obtain, but under legislative reciprocity the whole thing was entirely altered.

They could not imagine for a single moment that the policy of the great country to the south was going to be materially altered by any action of Canada. In the Mills bill it was proposed to put lumber on the free list. They knew that this was not out of regard for Canada but because they were carrying out the policy of the Democratic party in the United States, and they desired to make this article free in the interests of their own country, and so in reference to a large number of other articles—[hear, hear]—but this proposal was coupled with the statement that lumber would only be free to countries that had no export duty on logs, so that if this bill becomes law Canada, under existing arrangements, would meet with the same duties. In order to give Canada the advantage of this it was necessary to arm the Governor-General-in-Council with power, the moment the bill became law, to repeal the export duty on logs that we might reap the advantage of the act.

Under reciprocity of tariffs both countries remained perfectly free to make free or impose any duties they saw fit as they did before, but under the circumstances he felt it was right for the protection of Canadian interests to modify the clause with reference to the articles which should be made free by the United States.

He had congratulated the House when Mr. Blake, in the very throes of a general election, had stated that the opposition of the Liberal party to a protective policy had ceased, and he thought that both parties were at one on this great question. [Hear, hear.] Mr. Blake had referred especially to the hon. member for South Oxford, and understood that he was expressing his views as well as his own. He (Sir Charles) had regarded this as a great step on the part of the Liberals toward the treasury benches, and placed them in a better position before the people of this country. [Opposition cries of "Oh!"] He felt that the laboring portion of the community who had been lifted from a condition of helpless poverty to one of comfort could rest assured of no retrograde movement. All their fears might be at rest once and forever. [Hear, hear.]

They had drifted upon the rock of Commercial Union. It must not be forgotten though that the leader of the Opposition had never committed himself to that policy, but it could not but be remembered that hon. gentlemen occupying distinguished positions in the party were ready to adopt Commercial Union.

Where was this policy now? Wiman, with all his money and ambition, stood alone to-day without a supporter on the question of Commercial Union in Canada. Loyal British sentiment was too deep in the hearts of Canadians to allow them to adopt a policy which would end by placing Canada in the despicable condition of having its tariff laws and taxes imposed by a Government with which they had no connection or became a part of that great country. [Hear, hear.]

There was no more chance of obtaining Unrestricted Reciprocity with the United States than there was of dictating to the Imperial Government who should be her Her Majesty's advisers. There was not a newspaper in the United States that ever gave countenance to the scheme. Wiman himself laughed at it. They would not be so regardless of their own interests as to take away the trade barrier between Canada and the United States and leave Canada free to admit products of England upon our own terms. There was no party in the United States Congress who would dare adopt such a policy. The Liberal party could not have discovered a more ridiculous policy if they offered a premium for one. [Laughter.]

The United States had attained their position as rulers of the world by a high protective policy, and there was no free trade there. The Mills Bill simply proposed to make raw materials and natural products free, and a reduction of iron duties from 43½ to 41. That was all the free trade they admitted there, which was the same policy as that of the Canadian Government.

Canadians had a country of vast extent and illimitable resources, the country was fast developing, and they were entering upon a career of rapid advancement which would draw the attention of agriculturists all over the civilized world. [Cheers.] Under these circumstances, what had Canada to be afraid of? They had accomplished much and had no need to throw away their birthright for a mess of pottage when the horizon was bright with promises for them.

They had the flag floating above them which had floated triumphantly over the most remote regions of the earth, and an army and a navy behind them, and a moral power among nations which in the past had carried its weight in the destinies of the world, and would forever continue to do so.

Sir Charles Tupper then moved:

That the Speaker do leave the chair and that the House resolve itself directly into committee of ways and means.

Sir Richard Cartwright rose amidst the cheers of the Opposition, but it was almost time for recess, and there were cries of "six o'clock." He spoke only a word, expressing regret that the Finance Minister had not been in his place during the Reciprocity debate, for it would have been interesting to hear what he had to say and he would not have talked the intolerable rubbish he had done to-day. [Laughter.] The House then rose for recess. After recess, Sir Richard Cartwright rose amid cheers to reply. The speech of the Finance Minister, he said, may be divided into three parts. The first was a calm and business-like statement of the affairs of the country, the second was a prospectus of the Londonderry steel works, but in the third part the old Adam re-asserted himself—[applause and laughter]—and the House heard once more those thundering tones with which the hon. gentleman was wont to tickle the ears of the groundlings when he was in Opposition. There was the same glorious inconsequence, the same magnificent audacity, the same supreme superb self-confidence which has so often led the hon. gentleman to wrestle with facts and so often resulted in facts getting the worst of it. [Applause and laughter.] It is hard to say what we should admire most, his tender solicitude for the welfare of the Liberal party or his explanation of his devotion to principles which has uniformly distinguished him and his party. [Laughter.] Sir Richard, illustrating his "devotion" to principles, instanced the Government's change of policy on the fisheries question, the disallowance of Manitoba railway charters and the placing of green fruits, etc., on the free list. Sir Charles had boasted of the progress Manitoba had made in spite of a vile tariff, in spite of a vile land policy, in spite of a vile policy of monopoly, for all of which, and particularly for the last, he himself was responsible. In one breath he declared that Unrestricted Reciprocity was supreme folly; in the next, he said that he had offered the same thing himself, just to see what the Americans would say about it. [Applause and laughter.] The hon. gentleman said that offer did not commit him to anything. It would be hard to say what would commit him or his Government to anything. [Laughter.] The hon. gentleman said that no party in the United States and no journal in the United States would favor Unrestricted Reciprocity. He should have added, "as defined by the High Commissioner." I agree with him that if our proposition had been such as he defined it—a proposition to annul the whole system of trade in the United States and to convert Canada into a vast smuggling depot for the purpose of importing the goods of all countries into the United States—I would say that he was right, and that it was the maddest folly to advance any such proposition. But when did any Reform journal make such a proposal? If the hon. gentleman had done me the honor to read my speech he would have seen that several pages were devoted to pointing out that it was of the essence of Unrestricted Reciprocity with the United States that we must discriminate in certain lines against England and all other countries, and he cannot name any man of note in the United States who has declared that he would refuse to consider such a proposal as that.

He concluded his speech at 11.40 by moving the following amendment.

That the net debt of Canada on June 30, 1873, was $140,000,000; that the net debt of the Dominion on March 31, 1887, was $238,000,000; that the expenditure for the year ending June 30, 1873, was $19,000,000, and for the year ending June 30, 1887, was $35,000,000; that the estimated expenditure for the year ending June 30, 1888, is $36,400,000, wholly apart from divers known unprovided expenditures, which will raise that amount likely to be expended to at least $37,000,000, being an increase of the net debt to the amount of $8,000,000, and of the total annual expenditure of $16,000,000 in the space of eleven years; that the said debt and expenditure have increased in a ratio very far in excess of the increase of wealth and population of the country during said period; therefore that the said expenditure is provided for by a system of taxation so adjusted as to press with extreme and unjust severity upon the tariffs and industrious professor, and especially upon all farmers, laborers, mechanics, artizans and factory operatives, who are at present subject to a customs taxation on articles necessary to life and comfort, amounting to nearly 25 per cent. more than that levied upon members of corresponding classes in Great Britain and Ireland; that the unfairness caused by the present system are further aggravated by the very general substitution of specific for ad valorem duties, whereby the injustice of the existing mode of taxation and the unfair preferences shown to rich consumers over the less wealthy is at once and the same time increased and concealed, and that it is expedient that said injustice should be remedied and that the wealthy classes should be compelled to bear their fair proportionate share of the burden of taxation.

That this House views with alarm the extremely rapid increase of the debt and taxation of the Dominion, especially in view of the fact that there has been contemporaneously a very great reduction in the debt and amount required for necessary taxation in the United States, and that this House is of opinion that any considerable addition to the debt or taxation of the people of Canada will work very great hardship to the bulk of the population and will tend powerfully to place them in a position of great disadvantage as regards the people of the United States, besides seriously prejudicing their chances of securing improved commercial relations with the people of that country.

Hon. Mr. McLelan moved adjournment of the debate.

The House adjourned at 10.45 p.m.

Court House Park.

To the Editor of the Examiner:—

DEAR SIR,—On behalf of the Horticultural Society, I want to ask the public, through you, to exercise patience for a short time longer by not going on to any part of the grounds of the Court House Park. By acceding to this request very much trouble and expense will be saved, as neither the walks nor sward are ready for use. We shall have a gardiner on the premises in the course of a week or so, and no time will be lost in getting everything into order, and we hope to have it as pleasant and enjoyable a resort as it was last year.

Yours truly,
J. H. ROPER,
Prest. Hort'l. Society.
Peterborough, 28th April, 1888.

The above request is not only reasonable, but, in one sense, imperative, that is, if the highest beauty of the park is to be gained. If the public are permitted to enter the grounds before they are ready for use, the grounds will not recover during the whole season from the damage thus inflicted. The Park is maintained at no small expense for the public use alone, and, therefore, the public have the greatest interest in seeing its beauty developed to the fullest possible extent, and we are sure no reasonable person will object to comply with the request of the President of the Horticultural Society. While on this subject it may be pointed out that there are many citizens who can practically aid in beautifying the Park by the contribution of plants and shrubs. In the spring cleaning up of lawns and shrubberies, a great many slips and cuttings are thrown into the rubbish heap. If these were preserved and turned over to the gardener at the time he is ready to receive them, the result will be gratifying beyond expectation. It is hoped the public will co-operate in every way with the Park authorities.—Ed. EXAMINER.

A Military Appointment.

At a meeting of the officers of the 57th Battalion held on Wednesday night, Sergt.-Major Rundle was appointed caretaker of the drill shed and armoury, and, being Sergt.-Major of the Battalion, is ex-officio drill instructor of the Battalion. On Thursday the position was accepted. The appointment is certainly a good one in more than one sense. The drill shed and armoury, especially the latter, were in need of the custody of a competent person, such as the new incumbent. Sergt.-Major Rundle is thoroughly skilled in the care of arms, he being a certificated graduate of Hythe School of Musketry, England. He has seen eighteen years military service, sixteen of which were spent in the regular army—the 17th (Leicester) Regiment, in which he reached the grade of Sergeant-Major, a position reserved for the best drill in the regiment, and to which, by no hocus pocus, can an incompetent man arrive. He was selected also, when the 17th was quartered in Toronto, as drill sergeant of the Toronto Military School, and under his instructions, Judge Dartnell, of Whitby, Dr. Hodgins, Deputy-Minister of Education of Ontario, the writer of this paragraph and one or two other gentlemen in, or recently in, town, received certificates. By virtue of his training at Hythe, he is an excellent musketry instructor, something that the volunteer battalions, as a rule, stand in need of more that anything else. Practically the only object of training soldiers is to teach them to shoot an enemy; all training is subordinate to and leads up to this, yet musketry instruction is the department of drill most neglected in the volunteer force. Under their present instructor the battalion may be expected to soon reach great efficiency in this respect. In 1875 the late Col. Osborne Smith, of Winnipeg, called on Sergt.-Major Rundle to act as musketry instructor to the Winnipeg provisional battalion, which received its first instruction from him. Sergt.-Major Rundle is expected to enter upon his duties early in May. It is a great pity that, owing to the apathy and indifference of the Dominion military authorities, the drill shed was unfit for use the whole winter. Months of valuable time have been lost, and this, from a local point of view, is a calamity. If drill during the winter had been practicable, the 57th would now have been fit in the matter of drill, as it is in the matter of physique and esprit du corps, to invite comparison with any battalion in the province. Only give our boys half a chance, and they are not afraid to march to the parade ground or review field with the best of them.

Food Tests In New York.

Official Analysis of Baking Powders—Adulterations in Cream of Tartar.

Under the direction of the New York State Board of Health, eighty-four different kinds of Baking Powders, embracing all the brands that could be found for sale in the State, were submitted to examination and analysis by Prof. C. F. CHANDLER, a member of the State Board and President of the New York City Board of Health assisted by Prof. EDWARD G. LOVE, the well-known United States Government chemist.

The official report shows that a large number of the powders examined were found to contain alum or lime; many of them to such an extent as to render them seriously objectionable for use in the preparation of human food.

Alum was found in twenty-nine samples. This drug is employed in baking powders to cheapen their cost. The presence of lime is attributed to the impure cream of tartar of commerce used in their manufacture. Such cream of tartar was also analyzed and found to contain lime and other impurities; in some samples to the extent of 25 per cent. of their entire weight.

All the baking powders of the market, with the single exception of "Royal" (not including the alum and phosphates powders, which have not the virtue of even an impure cream of tartar), are made from the adulterated cream of tartar of commerce, and consequently contain lime to a corresponding extent.

The only baking powder yet found by chemical analysis to be entirely free from lime and absolutely pure is the "Royal." This perfect purity results from the exclusive use of cream of tartar specially refined and prepared by patent processes which totally remove the tartrate of lime and other impurities. The cost of this chemically pure cream of tartar is much greater than any other, and on account of this greater cost is used in no baking powder but the "Royal."

Prof. LOVE who made the analysis of baking powders for the New York State Board of Health, as well as for the Government, says of the purity and wholesomeness of the "Royal":

"I find the Royal Baking Powder composed of pure and wholesome ingredients. It is a cream of tartar powder of high degree of merit, and does not contain either alum or phosphates or other injurious substance.

E. G. LOVE, PH. D."

It is highly satisfactory to the housekeepers of this vicinity, where the Royal Baking Powder is in general use, that the investigations by the analysts in Massachusetts, New York, and Ohio, the only States that have thus far taken action upon this important subject, agree in classing it as the purest and most efficient baking powder in the market.

Ottawa News.

OTTAWA, April 27.—Railway deputations are as thick as railway trains. Adam Brown introduced one to Minister Pope in the interest of the Nipissing and James Bay Railway. One from Kingston asked for a subsidy to build a line from that city to Smith's Falls, and eventually to Ottawa.

Sir John said that as member for Kingston, he would do what he could and recognized the importance of the scheme. Yet he gave the stereotyped reply, in fashion now, that expenditure should be kept within the revenue.

It is learned that the Government, unable to withstand the pressure, will adopt the policy of declaring forfeited all subsidies voted in previous years and not earned, and will then allot these to some of the new schemes now being pressed. In this way it will not add new liabilities, and thus adhere to its announced intention of granting no new bonuses.

A thousand pages of the debates have already accumulated in Hansard.

Sir John Macdonald lost his temper in the House last night because Dr. Wilson insinuated that Wm. Shannon, the Kingston post-office registered letter thief, was allowed to escape because of the name he bore. Sir John spoke of Dr. Wilson daring to have the face to say what he had. Mr. Laurier rebuked the Premier for his display of temper and unparliamentary remarks, and concluded that Dr. Wilson must have sent his shot home. Sir John had to admit that James Shannon, brother of the culprit, was his election agent when he was unseated in 1874 for bribery, and was his trusted friend.

The Railway Committee spent all forenoon over the bill relating to the Upper Ottawa Improvement Company. A division was finally reached, the preamble carrying on a vote of 34 to 32. A bill to incorporate the Thousand Islands Railway Company was also passed.

The time of the Combines' Committee was spent to-day examining W. D. Mathews, President of the Toronto Board of Trade, on the operation of the coal section, and Wm. Tatley, Montreal, manager of the Royal Insurance Company, on the insurance combine.

The Schultz-Mackenzie Basin Committee met this morning and heard a highly interesting paper on the country by American Consul Taylor of Winnipeg. Mr. Taylor has been in the Northwest for over thirty years, and is familiar with the conditions and resources of the country. The oral evidence before the committee will conclude to-morrow, Dr. Hurlburt, LL.B., being the last witness. The committee will then set to work to condense the great mass of interesting matter and prepare a report as soon as possible.

A report of reliable character indicates that the Government will assist the Hudson Bay Railway scheme. It seems to be understood that Mr. Sutherland will carry the scheme through and active work will be resumed this summer.

Mr. Davin declares that the new Minister of the Interior must be a Northwest man. He thinks that the succession should be kept in the newspaper profession.

At the close of the session Mr. Chapleau intends rusticating for a couple of weeks in the northern part of his constituency, Terrebonne. Afterwards he will hold a series of politico picnics in the Province of Quebec, with a view of attacking the Mercier Government and endeavoring to win over to the Tories the support of the Castor element.

COMFORT AND HAPPINESS, OR DESOLATION AND MISERY.

SERMON BY LAYMAN.

(Written for the Examiner.)

Almost every one desires comfort and happiness but few obtain them. People set out in life with high expectations, resolved to succeed, but how often they are disappointed is a needless to tell. Young and full of strength and energy they look forward to an early day when they shall have peace and rest. Their pathway seems smooth and easy and they imagine it will be so to the end. But they are doomed to disappointment and sorrow. The way has soon got rough and they begin to feel tired and weary. They begin to see that the race is not to the swift nor the battle to the strong. They have courage and hope, but courage and hope are not the only requisites of success. They look around and they see others who have toiled on year after year and yet their journey is not ended. The world is fair and bright to look upon, but to the inexperienced it is terribly deceptive and full of trouble. As God made it, it is capable of much happiness and comfort, and it needs only honesty and patience to give every blessing that man requires. But honesty and patience are forgotten in the race. God's blessings are forgotten and God's laws are neglected and violated. And then people come to grief and lay the blame on Providence instead of upon themselves. Their pride and their vanity will not allow them to see their own faults nor acknowledge their own errors. So they [illegible] to sin and in the end they reap [illegible] and misery. They soon find out that ever step in this life leads to evil or to good. They soon discover that there is a right way which they can travel if they will. But it is the way which demands not only good resolves but an honest and faithful performance of their duties, duties to themselves and to others as well. Comfort and happiness do not depend as much upon the possession of riches as upon the possession of honesty and a good name. The man of uprightness and good principles is far more thought of and respected than the man who relies upon his millions, and to the former is sure to come the enjoyment of comfort and happiness. His conscience is at rest at close and his days will be long in the land which the Lord God giveth him. His days are full of peace and he has the love and respect of his fellow men. And so far as it is possible in this world, with a sinful human nature, the honest man is the noblest of God's creatures. He can look his fellow men full in the face. And he can truly say that the wicked flee when no man pursueth, but the righteous are as bold as a lion. How different it is with that numerous class of persons who ignore justice and right and who live in violation of human and divine laws, and insist that they alone are right. They live only for to-day. Their aim and object is [illegible] half-civilization. They care [illegible] their own happiness regardless of the interest of the world, caring nothing for the world to come. Their lives are lives of selfishness, vice and misery. They deny all responsibility to others and have no thought of to-morrow. They never think of the possibility of death and never think of the world beyond the grave. Their motto is "Live while you live," and they trample under foot the rights of others. They see desolation and misery on every side, but they never seek to discover the cause until it is too late. But their day of reckoning sooner or later comes, when they see themselves as they are. Sickness and trouble at last overtake them, and with weakened body and loss of ambition and energy, they are now forced to think, and when they feel their chances of hope are fast passing away, and they see the dark clouds gathering around them and hear the distant murmure of the coming storm, they look round for some place of safety but find none. For they have ignored their only source of help and they have trusted to themselves alone. And they find that they have deceived themselves and that there is no help, and that their remaining days of life are to be dark and dreary, and that they have no help beyond the grave. They know that they deliberately choose their own course, a course which can only end in desolation and misery. In the outset of life they saw two roads lying before them, one leading to comfort and happiness and the other to desolation and misery, and they took the wrong road. They have travelled on that road, many of them during all their best days not stopping to think whither it led them, nor what their final end was to be. They wilfully shut their eyes to the light of day and their own understandings to reason and truth. They have thus travelled a long way in the dark, they have experienced much difficulty and suffering. They have often felt foot sore and weary. But the time came at last when they had to confess the truth and to acknowledge that God's way is the only true way to peace and comfort and happiness. It is easy to deceive oneself with erroneous thoughts and feelings. It is done every day and every hour. Not the young only but the old as well listen to the soft words and the insinuating address of the enemies of human happiness, and despite the warnings of friends they deliberately and defiantly forsake all that is good and right, and destroy all their hopes for the time to come. Look at the misery, wretchedness and woe brought upon wives and children by drunken husbands and fathers, who not only abuse them but spend the last cent in drink which should go to buy bread for their starving families. Look at the pinched faces and the nakedness of the broken-hearted mother and her crying children caused by fathers who waste their days in idleness and brutalize their natures by the indulgence of vicious habits, and whose presence in the household is the signal of abuse and wrong, from which the wife and family have to fly, oftentimes suffering the terrors caused by wild beasts, lying out upon the cold ground, and in storm and tempest, through many a long weary night. This is desolation and misery indeed, sometimes brought about through the folly and thoughtlessness of the young. They would not listen to good advice, but they rushed headlong to ruin through the influence of uncontrolled passions. But their dreams are soon over. And now, when it is too late, they bitterly regret their errors and wish themselves back to the old home again. Where there used to be laughter and mirth there is now weeping and wailing, with no prospect of peace and happiness for ever more. It is sad to witness cases of this kind. And the world is full of them. A little infant is born, is cared for and its every want supplied. Its youth is guarded from all temptation and danger, and good principles are instilled into it and every means taken to insure it a happy future. but the time comes when it is free from restraint, and when the kindly parental influences are no longer felt. Then come new desires, and new thoughts, and new feelings. Temptations assail the young man or woman. Bright visions of success are placed before them; in an evil hour their fate is changed and their doom to desolation and misery is forever sealed. The parents look on in sorrow and the poor victims of thoughtlessness and folly have nothing before them but desolation and misery. The sun shines on as bright as ever, the grass grows, and the flowers bloom, and the birds sing their happy notes, but the miseries of these poor unfortunates shut out the bright and the beautiful, and darken all around. Moralizing upon these matters will do very little good. Human nature is very perverse, and human nature will have its way despite all the warnings and all the lessons which were ever given. There are some who will listen to reason, and who will stop and think, but the vast majority go on their way regardless of all precedent, and no matter what the influences are to the contrary, they will persist in going on in their own way, regardless of all consequences. A young man or woman, no matter how good their surroundings, will often go wrong without provocation and apparently from the mere love of going wrong. And all the good advice to the contrary is disregarded, and all their chances of future happiness thrown away, even when they know full well that they are taking the downward road to certain ruin. But the time has got to come when they will be made to think, and when they will see themselves as others see them. The time will come when, in dire distress, they will acknowledge that they ought to have done better. It seems, sometimes, that the more you do for a man the worse he acts. A father dies and leaves his children sufficient to keep them in respectability and comfort all their lives. He has worked hard to make and to save the means which, after he is gone, they waste in riotous living and in waste and extravagance. They never think of his kindness and of his efforts to serve them. They never visit his grave, and they only wish he had left them more. All they care for is their present gratification. To dress well and to make a display. They never think of a rainy day. They never think of the time when, with broken down health and in old age, they will want the money which they now squander in things which afford them no real enjoyment but which serve to undermine their health and leave them mere human wrecks for the remainder of their lives. It is hard to understand some people—hard to tell what to do to save them, and harder still to keep them in the path of duty and right. They not only have no regard for their own welfare but they often seek to destroy the well-being of others. They live in a constant war with the world and they never try to do good for the love of serving relations or friends. And when they leave the world no one drops a tear to their memory.

Is That What Ails You?

Do you have dull, heavy headache, obstruction of the nasal passages, discharges falling from the head into the throat, sometimes profuse, watery, and acrid, at others, thick, tenacious, mucous, purulent, bloody and putrid; eyes weak, watery, and inflamed; ringing in the ears, deafness, hacking or coughing to clear the throat, expectoration of offensive matter, together with scabs from ulcers; voice changed and nasal twang; breath offensive; smell and taste impaired; is there a sensation of dizziness, with mental depression, a hacking cough and general debility? If you have all, or any considerable number of these symptoms, you are suffering from Nasal Catarrh. The more complicated your disease has become, the greater the number and diversity of symptoms. Thousands of cases annually, without manifesting half of the above symptoms, result in consumption, and end in the grave. No disease is so common, more deceptive and dangerous or less understood, or more unsuccessfully treated by physicians. The manufacturers of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy offer, in good faith, a reward of $500 for a case of this disease which they cannot cure. The Remedy is sold by druggists, at only 50 cents. o

The Growth of the Hair.

Should always be watched. Inattention to the hair often leads to premature grayness and baldness. When dandruff appears it should be looked after at once. By frequently using a little of Dr. Dorenwend's Great German Hair Magic the scalp will be kept in a clean and healthy condition and the strength and vigor of the hair greatly promoted. It is the only reliable. Do not be talked into using anything else. For sale by all druggists everywhere. dw

OLD DR. CHASE'S NEW RECEIPT BOOK.

His Last and Crowning Life Work

Dr. Chase's Third, Last and Complete Receipt Book and Household Physician, or the Book for the Million, contains nearly 900 pages and sells for $2.25 in cloth binding and $1.50 in imported oil cloth, marble edge, and is justly by him called

"THE CROWNING WORK OF MY LIFE."

It is the result of over half a century's observation, study and experience. Yet this embodies no compilation of his former books. IT IS WHOLLY A NEW BOOK. If 30 years ago he could produce a book that has had a sale of over fifteen hundred thousand copies, and has made his name familiar in nearly every English speaking home in the United States, Canada and thousands of homes in Europe, Australia and south America, what KIND of a book could or would he produce as his Crowning Life Work, WITH MORE THAN THIRTY YEARS OF ADDITIONAL PRACTICE AND EXPERIENCE! The book itself answers the question, and is the most valuable production in the history of book publishing.

CAUTION! Unscrupulous and pirating publishers are attempting to copy this book by taking portions of it out and palming it off on the public as the complete work. LOCAL NEWS.

The Weather.

Moderate winds, fair and warm to-day; cooler east and northeast winds and local rains to-morrow.

The Husband's Sacrifice.

Lord Lytton, in his graceful way, says, in one of his novels, that there is no sacrifice in what we do if it is done for them we love. And now is the time for husbands to remember this, but fortunately there is no need for the sacrafice on his part; it has already been made by the proprietor of the golden hon in the matter of english, french and american dress goods. Take your wife out in the balmy spring and down to the golden lion; she will be delighted with the rare bargains offered in rarely fine dress goods, with appropriate trimmings to match.

The Gun Club.

At Friday afternoon's practice shoot of the Gun Club the scores, as a rule, were very small, and, as a consequence, the team that is to attend the Ottawa tournament was not chosen. Sides were picked up on the grounds, captained by Commodore Calcutt and Mr. Tivey, and the following scores were made:—H. Calcutt, 4; J. D. Collins, 3; H. Neil, 7; A. E Thompson, 6; C. W. Calcutt, 2; E. Harding, 5; G. P. Miller, 3; total, 30. R. Tivey, 6; H. T. Strickland, 5; Judge Weller, 5; H. W. Kent, 1; J. E. McIntyre, 4; R. W. Muncaster, 2; R. E. Wood, 0; total, 23.

Getting His Deserts.

The young man Elijah Moore, who carried on a butcher business in Peterborough and some time ago left the town, with a warrant for arrest on a charge of fraud hanging over his head, has been arrested at Chatham on a similar charge. There he gave his name as Walker. When arrested a letter addressed to "Elijah Moore" from a young lady in Peterborough was found in his pocket. This excited the suspicion of the police, and Acting-Chief Adams was corresponded with. The latter secured a photograph of Moore and sent it to Chatham, and yesterday received word that Walker and Moore were one. It is understood "Walker" pleaded guilty to the charge in Chatham, so that the parties here cannot get hold of him until his term of imprisonment has expired.

We will pay the highest market prices in cash for eggs and choice fresh butter at the Pantry.

An Unlucky Accident.

Yesterday afternoon Mr. A. White, of the Grand Trunk, was out driving with Mr. J. M. Irwin, and in turning the corner of a street near St. Andrew's church the seat broke loose, and both gentlemen were thrown out on the road. Mr. White was seriously injured, his collar bone being fractured. He sustained a few other minor injuries besides. Mr. Irwin was more fortunate, he escaping with a few severe contusions, the severest being on the back of his head. Mr. White was taken to the Grand Central hotel, where he was attended by Dr. Kincaid. He has since been removed to the residence of Mr. Merrick.

The Charlotte Street Church.

Mr. John R. Clarke has been taken suddenly ill and has been compelled to cancel his engagement with the Sunday School officers of the Charlotte street Methodist church. But the public need not feel disappointed as it has been the good fortune of the school officials to secure Rev. Manly Benson, of Toronto, to take Mr. Clarke's place on Monday night. Mr. Benson, who is one of the ablest and most popular lecturers in Canada, will give his excellent lecture on "Men Wanted." The Sabbath services will be taken by Rev. I. Tovell, who will address the scholars in the morning, and in the evening will give the "Story of a Bright Young Man."

Thirty Miles of Building Paper.

An item lately published in the Campbellford Herald recording the feat of an Athens (Ga.) paper mill in turning out a sheet of manilla paper six miles in length, and five inches wide, without a break, sinks into insignificance when compared with what was done at the Northumberland Paper Mills, in Campbellford, last week. The machinery was started on Monday morning and run steadily until Thursday morning, 74 hours, without a break, and during that time there was made a sheet of building paper 30 miles long and 32½ inches wide. The largest quantity turned out in one day of 24 hours, this spring, was 25,513 pounds, and the average last week was 10 tons, 869 pounds per day.

Water Filters.

To insure good health it is absolutely necessary to have pure water, and no water is entirely free from floating matter and disease germs without thorough filtration. The majority of cases of typhoid and other low fevers are in a measure caused from unfiltered and impure water, so that every family who values its health should have a reliable filter. Numerous filters are offered to the public varying in points of excellence, but for cheapness, efficiency and durability, our filters cannot be surpassed. No corroding substances are used in construction. The packing material is the most powerful specially prepared granulated carbon. It will last for years with the ordinary use of a family, and the material may be obtained from us at any time for replenishing at small expense. Sold in Peterborough only at China Hall. dw

Hotel Change.

Mr. M. McGregor, who has had the Bradburn House at Omemee for the past year and a half, has sold the furniture and fixtures to Mr. Wm. Bradburn, who takes charge on Monday next. Mr. McGregor comes to Peterborough.

County Bridges.

Mr. John Walsh, warden of the county, has investigated the condition of the county bridges, and is pleased to report that they have suffered no damage from spring freshets. Mr. Walsh is in town every Saturday, unless prevented, and will be happy to meet any persons wishing to communicate with him on county business.

Bankrupt Stock Bargains.

Mr. W. W. Johnston has purchased the bankrupt stock of the James Alexander estate at a great bargain and will open at the old premises next Saturday, May 5th. The interval will be used for marking down the stock to the lowest figures, involving unheard of bargains. Be on the watch for further specific announcements.

Sleepy Dan Abroad.

Mr. H. C. Winch has, it is said, entered his celebrated trotter, Sleepy Dan, in the three-minute event to be trotted for at St. Catherines this autumn. The winner will have to get down close to 2 30 if "Dan" is left.

Wait.

The purchasers of "Inverlea" (the Judge Deanistoun property) are subdividing it into building lots. Parties intending to buy choice building lots should wait a few days until plans of this property are completed. For particulars apply to dw W. Langford.

License Commissioners.

A meeting of the License Commissioners was held yesterday afternoon. The business done was the issuing of license to the druggists for the ensuing year, balancing the accounts of last year, and arranging for a demand upon the town and county for their portion of the expenses for the coming year.

Spring Cattle Show.

There is a good attendance at the stallion and bull show on the agricultural grounds to-day. The fine weather has brought a large crowd to town, many of whom have taken in the exhibition. The display of animals is also good. A more extended reference with prize list, etc., will be given Monday.

A Clerical Change.

It is rumored in Peterborough among those who know, says the Post, that Vicar-General Laurent, of Lindsay, is to be the new bishop of Hamilton, rendered vacant by the death of Bishop Carberry, and that his place in Lindsay is to be filled by the Rev. Father Keilty, the popular and talented rector of Kenilworth, with whom many of our readers are well acquainted.

Something Unique.

A parlor suite in A. Clegg's window is attracting attention, being something quite new in Peterborough. The woodwork is solid mahogany handsomely carved and polished, the style of upholstering it out of the ordinary rut also. The suite is only covered in cotton at present, ready for the outside cover. This is only one of the elegant parlor suites that Mr. Clegg has made up this season. 1d

Lacrosse Notes.

The Y. M.C.A. lacrosse club have secured the grounds of the P.A.A.A. for practice this season, and will commence practising on Monday morning next at 6 a.m. Members are requested to be present.

A meeting of the Ætna Lacrosse Club is called for Monday evening at the Queen's Hotel, at eight o'clock. The club's uniform will be selected and other business transacted.

A Coming Debate.

A team of Lindsay Y. M. C. A. debaters will visit Peterborough on Friday next, May 4th, and engage in controversy with representatives of the local Y. M.C.A. on the subject of manhood suffrage. The visitors will be accompanied by their male quartette who will be assisted by the Peterborough four, the night of the debate, when a musical and literary programme will also be rendered. The entertainment will probably be held in one of the church school rooms.

A Finished Piece of Work.

Miss Claire Scott appeared for the first time here in "Mary Stuart," the English version of Schiller's tragedy, which play is not now, and therefore does not require any extended comment. Miss Scott, from an artistic point of view, made as sympathetic and intellectual Mary Stuart as could be desired in reason, and throughout the play she received merited applause that was in every case judiciously bestowed. From the initial scene, in which the unfortunate victim of the "virtuous" Elizabeth is introduced, right up to the final vision of the crucifixion, Miss Scott won the entire confidence of the audience, and penetrated thoroughly into the depths of its sympathy. The matchless fourth act, and matchless is the only word which describes the act, was a piece of work which evidenced that Miss Scott is possessed of that nervous energy, fine expression and triumphant dignity with which she met and sustained the trying situation in which the outburst of outraged womanhood, the imperious scorn and the majestic defiance of an implacable foe were portrayed with remarkable power. Such expressions Miss Scott catches in a manner, gesture and attitude, and then vehemently and passionately hurled shame upon a cowering Elizabeth. The pathos of the later scenes was drawn with powerful effect, but it was in the third act that the true force of Miss Scott's ability could be gathered, although the tenderness of Mary's love for her faithful attendants and friends were shown with as fine touches as the foregoing scenes promised. Miss Scott's performance as a whole was a finished piece of work which demonstrated that the advance accounts of her ability were within the mark.—Montreal Gazette, March 8th, 1887. Miss Scott appears at the opera house here Monday and Tuesday evenings. For bill of the play and prices see advertisement and bills. Seats at Hartley's.

Misstatement Squarely Met.

It having come to the ears of Mr. Wm. M. Fair, proprietor of the thoroughbred stallion, "John Anderson," that certain parties were circulating the statement that "John Anderson's" dam was not a full-bred mare, Mr. Fair, not being the man to publish a false or misleading statement in the way of business or otherwise, at once wrote to the importer of "John Anderson" and received the following reply:

Brougham, Ont., April 26th, 1888.

W. M. Fair, Esq.:

Dear Sir,—Yours of 24th came duly to hand. I have been away from home, consequently did not answer sooner. In regard to the report about your horse, John Anderson (3707), there is no ground for any such report. The reason that people try to hurt you by telling what is false is that the truth or what can be seen will not harm your horse's trade in any way, as they tell what they think the people cannot prove to the contrary. John Anderson (3707) was bred by Geo. Anderson, West Fingask, Oldmeldrum, Aberdeenshire, Scotland, and was from his best mare, Beatrice (2), (the second mare that appears in Scotch Clydesdale Stud Book) and was sired by Lord Derby (426). Beatrice (2) was sired by Donald Dinnie (237) that was commended at the Highland Society's Show at Aberdeen in 1868. Beatrice's dam was Daisy by Tam Carnegie (260).

We always considered John Anderson one of the best, and best bred horses that we have imported, and any man that will prove that there is anything false about the pedigree as given above can have the best stallion in our stables for nothing.

When any man has to make a season for his horse by slandering others, he will make a poor season. It is far better for them, when they can, to show something about their own horses to attract custom, than it is to have to resort to falsehood to keep them from patronising others.

Truly yours,

John Miller.

Importer and Breeder of Clydesdales, etc.

—The west side of Water street, from Brock to Hunter, has since the occupation of the the new post office, become a much travelled thoroughfare, and the old sidewalk is being replaced by a new wider walk.

—Hereafter in the "Sun" office lives will be "taken" by electricity when necessary. Mr. W. H Hill has just placed a new telephone in his agency corner of Water and Hunter streets. This will be a great convenience.

The Chance of a Lifetime.

The best chance that has presented for years to secure desirable semi-suburban building sites, is afforded by the offer of Messrs. Dumble & Leonard, solicitors, to sell by tender the fine property, the R.C. Church Park Lot on Charlotte street and south of Gilmour street. Its excellent soil, elevated position, its proximity to the business centre of the town, all render it a most desirable property. For mode of subdivision and further particulars, applications should be made to Messrs. Dumble & Leonard, solicitors.

The Queen's Birthday.

A meeting of the joint celebration committee of the P.A.A.A. and 57th Batt. was held yesterday afternoon and the prize list made up. The committee were very successful in their canvass for prizes, and will be able to present such a prize list for competition on the 24th as has seldom before been seen in Peterborough. Among the prizes there are no less than nine silver cups and medals. The committee drafted the programme which will be printed on the posters in a few days. As to the visit of the Queen's Own, the matter is still undecided, though the committee have strong hopes of their coming.

Hamilton, April 27.—At the assizes to-day Benjamin Parrott, jr., who pleaded guilty to committing an aggravated assault on Robert McQuillan, sr., was allowed to go on suspended sentence. The Grand Jury brought in a true bill against John Stewart for perjury. The charge of manslaughter against Mary Ellen and Charles Grant was traversed to the next assizes.

Creighton's Trial to Begin Monday.

Quebec, April 28.—Judge Tessier in the Court of Queen's Bench this morning gave judgment on the objection raised by Hon. Mr. Irvine, counsel for Mr. Creighton of the Empire, to the indictment on the ground that, as the libel was published in the Province of Ontario, this court had no jurisdiction. His Honor held that objection was irrelevant, upheld the indictment and ordered the trial to proceed at once.

Afterwards it was arranged that the trial should begin on Monday, all attempts to compromise it having failed.

Queen Victoria and the Germans.

Berlin, April 27.—The North German Gazette dilates upon the hearty reception accorded to the Queen of England by the people of Germany, and hopes that she may favorably remember Berlin. "We consider it as a matter of course," it says, "that the Queen's visit was for the purpose of a personal exchange of views, but the impression made upon her and the reminiscence of her visit to Berlin cannot but have a most favorable effect upon the political relations of Germany and England."

This latter question will have to receive a little more attention from the Railway Committee on Thursday next, when some of the clauses in Mr. Small's bill will be considered.

His Worship, the aldermen, and Mr. Small and Col. Denison saw the Minister of Militia with reference to getting a slice off Garrison Common for exhibition purposes. Col. Denison opposed cutting up the common, and intimated to some of the deputation that he would stick to the military if it cost him his seat in Parliament. The matter was carefully gone over with Sir Adolphe, and he promised that he would be in Toronto during the summer, make a personal survey of the whole situation and see if the Exhibition grounds could be enlarged without detracting from the usefulness of Garrison Common for military purposes.

ROLLED INTO A DITCH.

A Passenger Train Wrecked on the Western New York and Pennsylvania Railroad.

OLEAN, N.Y., April 28.—News was received in this city at noon to-day that the passenger train on the Western New York and Pennsylvania Railroad running between Emporium and Buffalo had been wrecked near Whitehouse, ten miles east of this city. A relief train carrying physicians and the ambulance corps of the 63rd Separate Company was at once sent to the scene from this city. The wrecked train consisted of the engine, mail and baggage car and three coaches. The mail and baggage cars and two coaches, one the smoker, were thrown from the track and rolled down an embankment into a ditch containing several feet of water. The cause of the accident was the spreading of the rails. The cars were but slightly damaged, although the train was running thirty miles an hour when the accident occurred. The track was torn up for many feet. It is a miracle that no one was killed instantly, as the cars which rolled down the twenty-foot bank contained nearly forty passengers.

The injured are: Capt. C. G. Thyng of Olean, badly bruised and injured internally; J. J. Smith of Bath, badly cut and spine injured, recovery doubtful; Mrs. O. W. Wheaton of Alleghany, injured internally, recovery doubtful; Mrs. Goodsell of Condersport, Pa., internal injuries and head cut, may not recover; Geo. Stevens of South Wales, arm broken; Kate Smith of Pt. Alleghany, Pa., head and back injured seriously; Ella Adams of Duke Centre, Pa., head and side badly cut and bruised; Mary Derick of Smithport, Pa., injured on the head and side; Mrs. B. Zacharies of Emporium, Pa., head and limbs seriously cut; John Keefe of Buffalo, shoulder broken; Wm. Wasson of Buffalo, badly cut about the head and arms; Mrs. O'Hara of Colegrove, Pa., internal injuries, recovery doubtful. Her husband and child were seriously bruised and cut. Postal Clerk Charles Keenan of this city sustained a broken arm. Vern Covilie, H. Hutchinson, Eugene Dean and D. McGinnis of this city were slightly injured.

Robbed by Masked Men.

CLOVERDALE, Cal., April 29.—The Lakeport stage was robbed by two masked men yesterday a few miles from this place. Wells, Fargo & Co.'s packages were taken, but the contents are not known. When the news was received here Constable Crigler and Samuel Allen started in pursuit of the robbers, and overtook them in the mountains at a point known as Profile Rock. The robbers were ordered to surrender, but one fired, killing Crigler. They then escaped.

Train Robbery in Mexico.

THE POPE ON HOME RULE.

CONDEMNATION OF THE PLAN OF CAMPAIGN BY LEO XIII.

The Action of the Congregation of the Holy See Taken Spontaneously and Without Suggestion from England—Parnell's Disapproval of the Plan of Campaign.

LONDON, April 29.—A despatch from Rome to The Times says: "The Papal letter has already been sent to the Irish Bishop and will be published about ten days hence. The various hitherto printed are mere or less conjectural. The Pope forbids Catholics to adopt the plan of campaign or to engage in boycotting and enjoins obedience to the laws. Other questions are in abeyance."

The Standard says: "That the Papal decree will do good cannot be doubted, but that it will extirpate the evil can scarcely be hoped."

The Daily News says that premature importance should not be attached to the statement that the Pope has condemned the plan of campaign, adding: "Even if the statement is correct, it is well to remember that Ireland has never accepted Rome's influence in politics."

The Post thinks that the Pope's action is by far the most formidable blow yet struck at the Nationalists.

The St. James' Gazette says: "After all the rumors of missions and negotiations it is not surprising that many Irishmen believe in the existence of a bargain between Eariand and the Vatican, into which, they say, the Vatican was tricked. Head should be given to the statement that the Pope backs up Lord Salisbury, rescues Lord Clanricarde, and supports Chief Secretary Balfour. Even the Conservative dimness of vision ought to see that such a juxtaposition could only produce one effect upon the Irish. If the Pope has allowed himself to be drawn into anything even faintly resembling such a mistake it will be regretted by most Irish Catholics, and Lord Salisbury and Mr. Balfour will not gain any political advantage by the blunder; on the contrary, it will add to the intense bitterness of Ireland's hatred of the Tory Government." In conclusion the Gazette demands that it be early made known that there have been no transactions or bargainings between the Government and the Vatican.

The Action Taken Spontaneously.

ROME, April 28.—It is stated here that the action of the congregation of the Holy See regarding the plan of campaign in Ireland was taken spontaneously and without previous suggestion from England. The Pope approved the action without entering into the pending political questions between England and Ireland.

Dillon and Archbishop Croke.

DUBLIN, April 29.—John Dillon made an unexpected visit to Thurles to-day and had a long interview with Archbishop Croke in reference to the Papal decree condemning the plan of campaign.

Irish Murderers Executed.

DUBLIN, April 28.—Daniel Moriarty and Daniel Hayes were hanged at Tralee this morning for the murder of James Fitzmaurice, a farmer near Lixnaw, County Kerry, on Jan. 21. Before the execution Moriarty and Hayes attended mass and prayed fervently. They both declared their innocence. Fitzmaurice, the murdered man, had taken a farm from which his brother had been evicted. Shortly after, while on his way to market at Tralee, he was stopped by two men, who, after making sure of his identity, shot him with revolvers.

The Text of the Decree.

LONDON, April 29.—The following is the text of the Papal decree: On several occasions the Apostolic See has given the people of Ireland, whom it has always regarded with special benevolence suitable admonitions advice when circumstances required so to how they might defend their rights without injury to justice or public peace. Our Holy Father Leo XIII., fearing lest in the species of warfare that has been introduced among the Irish in the contests between landlords and tenants and which is commonly called the "plan of campaign," and in the kind of social interdict called "boycotting," arising from the same contests a true sense of justice and charity might be perverted, ordered the supreme congregation of the inquisition to subject the matter to a serious and lawful examination. Hence the following was proposed to their eminences, the cardinals of that congregation.

Is permissible undisputes between landlords and their tenants in Ireland to use means known as the "plan of campaign" and "boycotting."

After long and mature deliberation their Eminences unanimously answed in the negative in their decision was confirmed by the Holy Father on Wednesday, the 18th of the present month.

THE LATEST MARKET REVIEW.

TORONTO, April 28.—Commercial loans on call remain unchanged at 5 and 6 per cent.

The local sterling exchange is steady, rates for sixty-day bills, demand bills and New York drafts are unchanged.

There was a moderate improvement in trade on St. Lawrence market to-day as compared with the last few Saturdays. The weather being warmer and more seasonable the agricultural conditions seemed to be improved. Rhubarb was offered liberally at 12c to 15c per bunch. Spring lamb was offered plentifully at $6 to $6 and $6 per carcass. Beef, mutton, park and veal remained unchanged, the market being somewhat overstocked with those meats. Good butter sold at 20c to 20c per lb. Eggs at 12c and 13c per doz. On the grain market a couple of loads of fall wheat sold at 80c per bush., and a load of oats at 50c.

BEERBOHM'S REPORT.

Beerbohm reports to-day as follows: London—Floating cargoes, wheat very firm, corn all; arrivals, wheat 1; sold, wheat 2; waiting orders, wheat 2; cargoes on passage, wheat firm, but not active; corn dull, but firm; good cargoes No. 1 California wheat, off coast, 32s, 9d, was 32s 6d; London, good shipping No. 1 California, prompt sail, 32s 9d, was 32s 9d; do., nearly due, 32s 9d, was 32s 9d. French country markets firm; Paris, wheat and flour steady. Liverpool, spot wheat rather easier.

LIVERPOOL MARKETS.

Liverpool reports wheat quiet to-day, with demand poor and holders offering moderately; corn firm, with demand fair. Quotations: Spring wheat 6s 7d and 6s 8d, red winter 6s 6d, No. 1 Cal. 6s 9d, corn 5s 6d, peas 5s 7d, pork 67s 6d, lard 48s, cheese 62s.

NOTES FROM THE CAPITAL.

A Very Optimist of the Budget—"Some Too Many"—The Westminster Election.

OTTAWA, April 28.—There was huge enjoyment in the House last night at Sir Richard Cartwright's description of Sir Charles Tupper as a man of magnificent audacity, whose superb self-confidence led him to wrestle with feats which got the worst of it. His reference to Tupper's tribute to Hon. Edward Blake, after Mr. Blake was out of the way, and fear lest anything should happen to him which would lead to canonization at Tupper's hands, was one of the richest things of the session. Tupper did not squirm when Cartwright described the latter part of his speech as intolerable rubbish, nor was he moved when the member for South Oxford asked if there were two Tuppers—the defiant war-horse of twelve months ago and the man of conciliation and concession to the United States of to-day. It can be said that he received these strokes without flinching. Cartwright's masterly handling of figures was in strong contrast to Tupper's reading of the statements written for him and the absence of all the elements of a financial statement in the extemporaneous portion of his speech. Tupper is a tornado now and a twister again, but his creation was not cast in a mould of finance. On Tuesday, Mr. McLelan, Tupper's predecessor in office, is to explain Sir Charles' regret that in 1886 he did not draw Tupper's attention to the United States Act placing certain articles on the free list, Tupper being at the time in England.

The Government have sent a man to Glasgow to select a steel vessel to replace the Northern Light.

The will of the late Thomas White leaves his estate, valued at $50,000, to his wife. He held half The Montreal Gazette stock, but the income from it was swallowed up in educating his large family.

The Governor-General has been in bed for two days with a severe cold. He is almost well again, and leaves this afternoon at 5 o'clock for Montreal, where on Monday he attends the McGill University Convocation.

The article of The Journal, the evening Conservative paper, on the Budget is very bearish. It says that the Budget is none too rosy, that in regard to natural development there was very little to indicate notable progress in the last two or three years. It is also necessary for the business men in the country to mark the note of warning sounded about the state of trade. Added to the moral to be drawn from recent considerations in connection with the Bank of Montreal dividend, Sir Charles Tupper's caution is no trifle. Neither the country nor the merchants are likely to have a plethora of money in the near future.

A curious feature of the election in Hochelaga, one of the seats which Mr. Mercier gained yesterday, was a strenuous effort made by The Montreal Gazette to introduce Dominion issues into the contest. The residents of Montreal who had votes in Hochelaga were adjured to vote for the Conservative candidates on the contention that the trade policy of the Dominion, with which the prosperity of Montreal was bound up, was at stake. The result of the election is the more notable because Mr. Mercier's candidate was not a specially strong one.

The case of Henderson, formerly foreman of the Public Works in the Northwest Territories, is attracting considerable attention. It raises once more the question whether the Government are sincere in their expressed desire to prevent civil servants taking part in elections. The dismissal of the three translators for doing so is still fresh in the public mind, but it would appear as if Henderson was really dismissed for not taking part in the elections. It was difficult to get at the details of the case, as the Department of Public Works is not anxious to afford information, and the victim, singularly enough, does not desire to shine as a martyr. The case is of sufficient importance, however, to warrant the relation of the main facts. Henderson, who was formerly an alderman in Ottawa, was appointed by the Mackenzie Government overseer of the work then being done on the Western departmental block. He is said to be an exceptionally good man for the work, having served his apprenticeship in Scotland, whence many of our best stonemasons have come. From the moment of his appointment to the office Henderson eschewed politics, though formerly well-known as a Liberal. Indeed, as a Liberal member to-day naively stated, complaint was made of his lukewarmness by members of the party by whom he was appointed. The last few years he has spent in the Northwest, superintending the erection of all public buildings throughout the Territories. Shortly after the last general election Henderson was notified that he was suspended, and, after investigation, there were no charges with respect to his performance of his duties, and it was understood that Mr. Gobeil, the investigator, so reported. The reason at first given for the suspension was that Henderson had taken part in the election, but this would not hold water, as it turned out that he was not even at home during the election, and therefore did not even cast a vote. Indeed, it is quite apparent that the reason for the dismissal was, as stated above, that Henderson did not take part in the election. As a controller of labor, it was thought he should have done more to "whoop it up" for Mr. Davin, and failing to do so, he has been dismissed. An instructive corollary to this is that another official in Regina, a French-Canadian, actually took an active part in the election as a Rielite. Though he intemperately opposed Mr. Davin, he yet holds his official position. This system of rewards and punishments is quite unintelligible to the ordinary mind. However, apart altogether from the injustice and harshness to the individual, the case is one that closely affects the public service. Is it to be understood that an efficient public officer can only hold his position by becoming a partisan of the administration in power? If this is the policy pursued, what can be expected from their opponents but to, in sporting parlance, see them and go them one better, whenever they have the opportunity, and thus begin the demoralization of the entire civil service.

FRANCE AND THE VATICAN

THE POPE KEEPING ALOOF FROM FRENCH POLITICS.

All Efforts to Obtain the Assistance of the Holy See against Boulanger Have Failed—The Comte de Paris' Manifesto—Rochefort's Challenge.

LONDON, April 28.—Notwithstanding the interference of Pope Leo XIII. in British politics, he has thus far kept himself aloof from those of France. The efforts of the French Government to induce the Vatican to instruct the French clergy to use their religious influence to help the Cabinet in combating the Boulangist movement have not been successful up to the present. The Vatican appears to be undecided what action to take in this matter, and whether to take any action at all, which would probably be the wisest course to pursue. No definite answer has yet been given one way or the other to the representatives of the republic.

The manifesto of the Comte de Paris has probably been a good thing for the Republicans. It seems likely, by causing a split in the Royalist party, to give the Floquet Cabinet a long lease of life. With the Monarchists and Imperialists pulling against each other the chances of a great united opposition is very small indeed. An eminent Radical Deputy, commenting on the manifesto, said: "We ought to offer our warmest thanks to Gen. Boulanger. He has done in a few weeks what could not be effected by the rest of us during the past nine years, namely, caused a breakup of the Conservative Union against the Republican troops, and the welding of Republicans into a solid homogeneous and progressive body. The Bonapartists and Royalists are now in open war with each other, and this means total weakness as enemies of the government."

During the sitting of the Chamber of Deputies yesterday, M. Anatole de Laforge handed to M. Floquet a telegram expressing the sympathy of the Roman students with their Paris confreres in their fight against Boulangism. The continued efforts, however, to enlist the votes and influence of the Premier on the side of the anti-Boulangists appear to have resulted in failure. The same may be said of M. de Freycinet and M. Lockroy, both of whom have been among the admirers of Boulanger and do not care to go back on their record.

Gen. La Fargo has accepted M. Rochefort's challenge to the Paris Deputies to vacate their seats and to present themselves for re-election in opposition to Boulanger's nominees. Rochefort offers to provide £2000 toward the expenses of the campaign. Gen. La Fargo, however, insisted that Gen. Boulanger himself, should contest a seat against La Fargo, both attending the political meetings and discussing their rival programs on the same platform. Rochefort, however, was too wily to swallow the bait, and replied that they must contest all the Paris seats or none.

RENEWED DISORDERS.

The "Enthusiasm" of the Boulangists—Carnot's Speech at Bordeaux.

PARIS, April 29.—The disorders growing out of the enthusiasm for and devotion to the interests of Gen. Boulanger displayed at Nancy a day or two ago were renewed this morning. An immense crowd paraded the streets shouting "Vive Boulanger" and defying the efforts of the gendarmes to restore quiet. Subsequently, however, the police succeeded in quelling the disturbance and later were able to partially disperse the mob. At midnight the town had become comparatively quiet, but all danger of renewal of the trouble was not yet removed.

On Saturday night a crowd of Boulangists collected outside the students' club where 200 students were assembled. The students gathered at the windows and on hearing shouts for Boulanger fired four revolver shots into the crowd. Nobody was injured but the people were so angered that they forcibly resisted the police who tried to disperse them. The students then formed in a body and a general melee ensued which at one time threatened to become serious. Finally a troop of mounted gendarmes arrived and dispersed the mob. A few persons were injured. The excitement continues.

Carnot Banqueted at Bordeaux.

PARIS, April 29.—President Carnot was banqueted by the citizens of Bordeaux to-night with great enthusiasm and ceremony. Replying to a toast to his health he said that the manifestations of sympathy which he had received throughout his tour, and particularly at Bordeaux were protests against everything that could serve the interests and encourage the hopes of the enemies of the Republic. He especially urged union of the Republicans as the only way to raise the force of the friends of the Republic to the height of the requirements and to secure to the toiling people the progress they expect. The president's remarks elicited hearty and prolonged applause.

The Chamber of Deputies Adjourned.

PARIS, April 29.—The Boulangist members of the Chamber of Deputies have announced their intention to interpellate the Government in regard to the arrests made after the Boulanger banquet last night.

The Panama lottery loan bill has passed the Chamber of Deputies by a vote of 312 to 122.

The Chamber has adjourned until May 14.

Elected for Vosges.

PARIS, April 29.—Chas. Ferry was to-day elected Senator for the Vosges department, defeating the Boulangist and Conservative candidates.

A Duel to the Death.

PARIS, April 29.—In a duel in the Bois de Bologne to-day between Dupuis and Hurbert, art critics, the former was killed.

Thirteen Drowned.

LONDON, April 29.—The ship Smyrna was sunk in a collision with the steamer Moto off the Isle of Wight to-day. Thirteen persons were drowned.

Snowfalls in Dakota.

"Quit Ye Like Men."

The Anniversary Sermon to Oddfellows by Rev. A. Bell—A Large Turn-out of the Brethren and an Excellent Discourse.

Sunday night the anniversary sermon to the Oddfellows of the town was preached at St. Andrew's church by Rev. A. Bell. The two lodges marched to the church in a body, and occupied the centre seats. There were about 150 in all. The edifice was crowded by an attentive congregation.

During the taking of the collection the choir rendered an appropriate anthem, "Blessed be the man that provideth for the sick and needy."

Rev. Mr. Bell choose for his text Corinthians, xvi, 13:—

"Quit ye like men."

These words were, he said, part of Paul's five-fold exhortation to the Corinthians, whose great fault was an intense party spirit which marred their lives and disintegrated their church. The call was to reform their abuses, and this vigorous exhortation summed up much of what the apostle had said before. In some senses, said Rev. Mr. Bell, we were like Corinthians, and in other senses not. We are living in different times, but it is true of us as of the Corinthians—we are sinners. Let us, he said, apply that exhortation to ourselves to-night. The position of every Christian was a dangerous and important position; and, believing that you have entered upon the Christian fight, and that an important issue is at stake, therefore, take Paul's exhortation and "quit ye like men." To be a Christian man the first essential was faith, which implied not only a belief in God's existence but a belief in God's character—a belief that He is full of love and graciousness, a Father to us, and not willing to punish transgression. Trustful and unquestioning faith in Him was the faith that pleased God, and right here the manliness of faith came in. Men were unwilling to believe God implicitly, and it behooved all true Christians to "quit themselves like men," and stand by the faith, hold fast to God's word and not let it go. Faith had a practical side also, and the preacher proceeded to illustrate how this absolute faith worked by referring to Moses, Abraham, Noah and Peel who did God's bidding unquestioningly and were saved. Then in order to fully "quit ye like men," we must, he said, watch against unholy influences and evil surprises which might weaken our implicit confidence in God. Our greatest danger was within ourselves; the traitor we have most to fear is already within the tent. Watch, he urged, not only against the evil from without, but that which arises from within. Watch also for opportunities for doing good and giving a practical illustration of your faith. Be strong and brave to the end—"he that endureth to the end shall be saved." Be manly—and manliness has no connection with sloth and carelessness. Then let all you do be done in charity and love. Love is the great motive power which God has adopted and set in motion with regard to the salvation of the human race. So God has ordained that love should guide man in living a Christian life. "Love one another as I have loved you." Love such as this, and it was required of every Christian man, must show itself in watchful care, abundant ministrations and loving sympathy, so that not one of the least of God's little ones may be without friends. If a man do not this he has not the love of God in his heart. If he take not compassion on his fellowmen, if he love not the man he sees, how can he love the God he cannot see? An example of this love was given in Christ, who studied for others; the good Samaritan and the disciples of Antioch. The minister pointed to the twenty-fifth chapter of Matthew as showing how this love worked as regarded a man's salvation, wherein it stated judgment was made according to a man's deeds. Rev. Mr. Bell closed with an earnest exhortation to the brethren present to gain the faith that would work out their salvation, practice it in love and sympathy, and so quit themselves like men.

Parental Apathy.

To the Editor of the Examiner:—

SIR,—Will you kindly afford me a short space in your valuable paper to say a few words on Sunday school work.

The Charlotte Street Methodist Sabbath School have been advertising the anniversary of the school, which was to take place on Sunday and Monday, April 29th and 30th. The afternoon's meeting was to be the children's meeting to be addressed by resident ministers of the town, singing for the school for which they have been practising for some time. The result was a full school and about twenty-five or thirty people as visitors. Now, Mr. Editor, do you not think such a proceeding on the part of the people, who have children attending the school every Sunday, is very discouraging to a band of young ladies and young men who devote their quiet Sunday afternoons to the work of teaching young children the truth of God? The teachers and officers would, no doubt, like to have their quiet Sunday afternoons to themselves, the same as those who send their children to be taught and trust to the teachers to do their work well.

Perhaps some will say, "after a hard week's work I like to have a quiet rest on Sunday afternoon;" to such I say, we do not ask you to come every Sunday, but on the children's annual gathering which is held but once a year, could you not come and show by your presence that you are in sympathy with the work and thereby give the teachers a fresh inspiration to press on more earnestly than ever. A word just on the subject of contributions. The school in question numbers about 300 and on Sundays they get about one dollar and fifty cents and very often less. Do you not think these things can be helped a great deal by the hearty co-operation of all parties concerned and thereby make the school, not only a place for children, but a place where any one can spend an afternoon with profit.

Thanking you for this space, I remain

Yours truly,
ONE IN SYMPATHY WITH THE TEACHERS.

Literary Notes.

SCRIBNER'S MAGAZINE for May is one of the most picturesque and varied in its contents of the issues of that periodical. It contains several wholesome, out-door articles full of action, adventure, and exhilarating exercise. The illustrations of these are spirited and realistic, as are all of the highly artistic illustrations to the many interesting topics dealt with. The following copy of the contents gives some faint idea of the literary excellence with which it teems:

Alexander Pope—(frontispiece). From a portrait by Kneller, 1716; engraved by J. Smith, 1717; aetat. 29. "In the Steamer's Track," by William Perry Northrup; with illustrations by M. J. Burns and W. F. Halsall. "The Bitter Sweet of Spring," by Edith M. Thomas. "The Hill Path," by Duncan Campbell Scott. "A Child of Light," by Margaret Crosby. "Modern Explosives," by Charles E. Munroe, Chemist U.S. Torpedo Corps; with illustrations from drawings and photographs furnished by the author. "Salmon Angling on the Restigouche," illustrated by A. B. Frost. "Of Love and Death," by Maybury Fleming. "The Centre of the Republic," by James Baldwin; second (concluding) paper. "Morning in Venice," by Bessie Gray, with a full-page illustration by F. Hopkinson Smith. "The Decoration of Vases," by William P. P. Longfellow, with illustrations by Sidney L. ON 'CHANGE IN LONDON.

The Economist's Views on Current Topics—The U.S. Presidential Election.

LONDON, April 29.—The rate of discount during the past week was 1½ for three months and 1 for short. Money was stiffer, owing to the efflux of gold to South America and Cape Colony, the large Stock Exchange settlement and the extensive withdrawal from the discount market by firms interested in foreign Government loans. A further gradual, but limited, advance in the value of money is probable.

The Economist says: "We expect to hear little of American treasury accumulation if the American Government maintains the present rate of purchasing bonds. There will be difficulty, however, which is likely to increase as the supply of bonds diminishes. It is easy to skim the market of bonds loosely held, but it is difficult to reach those held for investment, which will only be surrendered on distinctly advantageous terms."

Commenting on the presidential election in America The Economist says: "Vast business, financial and railway schemes hang upon the result of the election. Even English business waits. Europe has hardly realised that the growth of America has advanced the President's position to one of immense power and responsibility, so that it is now one of the first importance on earth. American diplomacy is guided by the President's decisions and affects all countries. The President is now resolving the fishery question with England, the Samoan question with Germany, the emigration question with China and the consular rights question with Morocco. He may next week decide whether America shall produce financial ruin in Paris and shake the French Republic by its treatment of the De Lesseps canal scheme."

The market was quiet and prices were firm under the influence of the news of the German Emperor's improved condition and the absence of any further development of the Boulanger movement. There was a strong demand for American railroad securities both for the home and foreign account. A comparatively small amount of American stocks and bonds is now held in Europe, but a large amount of European capital would be attracted to American interests on perceiving satisfactory indications of an improvement in American trade which would be reflected in an advance of the value of railroad securities.

There are rumors that the tin syndicate has collapsed.

THE SPRING DIET.

In the Spring a young man's fancies may "lightly turn to thoughts of love," but the fancies of older people more commonly turn to what they shall or can eat.

The "Spring appetite" is flagging and fickle. The keen relish of the sharp winter weather is dulled or gone. It is Nature's hint for a change in the quality and a let-up in the quantity of food consumed.

The golden rule of living is to adapt the diet to the season and to the needs of the system. For this reason

The Albanys made but one error, while the Torontos are credited with four. Foreman occupied the box, and he was admirably sustained by Quinn, who caught without a passed ball. Score:

A Sad Introduction for Power's Chiefs.

ROCHESTER, April 28.—The Tecumsehs of London opened the International Association season with the Rochesters at Culver Park today. The game, though interesting to the home team, was a sad introduction for Power's Chiefs to the season of 1888. One thing unfavorable to them was the lack of practice, also that Geiss was unable to occupy the box. On that account he had the first base to very fair advantage, making only one error during the game. A special feature of the whole game was the inability of the Canadians to get on to young Callahan's pitching. He was speedy and certain, striking out sixteen men; in fact the Tecumsehs were outplayed at every turn. KNOX, of the Rochesters, sent the ball out of reach and sight in the sixth, sending Miller in ahead of him to home. The day was very warm, and about 2000 were present at the game. Score:

Stars Win through Superior Batting and Base-running.

SYRACUSE, April 28.—The first game in the championship race was played here to-day between the Stars and Hamiltons in the presence of 3000 people. The Stars won through superior batting and base-running, the fielding on both sides being a little ragged. Jones was hit hard all through, while Murphy was very effective. Vinner played a remarkable second base. Hamilton's only runs were scored in the third inning, after two men were out, on two errors by Higgins, a two-bagger by Rainey and a fumble by Battin. The Stars scored two in the first inning on Vinner's fumble and hits by Beard and McQuery, one in the third on Rainey's and Vinner's fumble, three in the sixth on hits by Murphy, Battin, Higgins, Ely and Beard, and one in the seventh on a hit by Marr, two steals and wild throws by Vinner and Jones. Score:

Game Called on Account of Darkness.

TROY, April 28.—The inaugural game of the season between the Buffalos and Troys here to-day drew an attendance of 2000 people, and occupied two and a half hours, resulting in a draw. The visitors did excellent fielding, and Walsh's balls greatly puzzled the Trojans. At the end of the tenth inning the game was called on account of approaching darkness.

By frequently using a little of Dr. Dorenwend's Great German Hair Magic the scalp will be kept in a clean and healthy condition and the strength and vigor of the hair greatly promoted. It is the only reliable. Do not be talked into using anything else. For sale by all druggists everywhere. dw

BUILDING LOTS

Such as Nos. 1, 2 and 3, noted below are not like merchandise when sold; locality and situation cannot always be replaced. There are many persons living in distant parts of the town and Ashburnham to whom a residence within five minutes walk of any of the churches, Post Office, Market and principal stores, would be a great boon. To such we would say do not delay. Come to the office and discuss the matter. We may buy from you or sell to you. You have Something to Gain and Nothing to Lose.

1. That beautiful situation on Brock Street, east of and adjoining Mr. Nugents' new residence, so high above all surroundings, so central, so retired, and yet so convenient for all purposes. A most suitable place for a Doctor's Office and residence, or for any person wishing to reside near his Office or Business. Front Lot is 60x120 ft. to lane. Rear Lot is 65x124 ft., with an inexhaustable supply of first class water. 30, 35 and 40 feet frontage can be had of this lot with stable accommodation if desired.

2. This is an extremely fine Lot, with about 75 feet frontage on Water Street, by 115 feet deep. It has an east front, facing St. Paul's Church, and will be sold in one or two lots. Act promptly.

3. Is a fine Lot on Stewart Street, 87x115 ft. opposite Messrs. Hall and Sheppard's beautiful mansions, protected on the north by the Chief of Police, and charmed on the south by a professor of music.

4. In addition to the above, we have good lots in north, east, south and west parts of the Town, and for large lots at low prices, we would call attention to the Ledgate, Carlisle, and Toronto Real Estate Investment Co'y's suburban additions, where good value can be had for small investments.

For Houses and Lots in all parts of the town, Ashburnham and Auburn, we have variety and value to suit any reasonable buyer. We have Garden Lots from one to ten acres for Sale and to rent. LOCAL NEWS.

The Weather.

Moderate winds, fair and warm to-day; cooler east and northeast winds and local rains to-morrow.

A "Worth-y" Exoneration.

There are not many of Worth's dresses worn in Peterborough, but there are many ladies who dress themselves artistically and know what good work is. More than one of these have frankly stated their surprise at the excellence and superiority of the work done in the dress and mantle department of the Golden Lion. They say it is equal in style, fit, and finish to the best city work and these ladies are good judges. No need for any lady who wants a perfectly made dress or mantle to go to a city. Let her go to the Golden Lion and she will be perfectly satisfied.

The Baptist Church.

Rev. M. Hough, of Smith, preached in the Murray street Baptist church Sunday morning and evening, in the absence of the pastor, Rev. P. Clifton Parker, who conducted services at Smith in the forenoon and at Lakefield at night. This exchange was rendered necessary on account of the removal of Rev. H. J. Haveland, who has for a couple of years been the pastor at Lakefield, leaving for the Northwest where he will enter the mission field. The Lakefield incumbency will be filled by a student from McMaster Hall until a permanent appointment is made. Rev. Mr. Parker will next Sunday evening take for his discourse the subject announced for Sunday evening last.

A Close Call.

Mr. Fred Robinson was a visitor at the Agricultural Grounds Saturday afternoon. He was standing at the gate when "General Lee," Mr. Fair's imported Clydesdale stallion, was being led through. The horse was prancing about at a lively rate, and Fred stepped backward to get out of its way. In doing so he tripped over a rail that was lying on the ground, and just at the same moment the stallion kicked out viciously with both feet, which merely touched Fred just as he was swaying backward, one on the arm and the other on his breast. Fred was not at all injured, but had he been an inch or two closer his life wouldn't have been worth more than the dust raised by the horse's heels.

Sunday School Anniversary.

The anniversary Sunday School services of the Charlotte street Methodist church were held Sunday. Rev. I. Tovell, the pastor, officiated both morning and evening. His morning sermon was to the children in particular, the pupils of the school occupying the central seats. His subject was "Study," which he placed in acrostic form, making each letter of the word the initial letter of a motto sentence. In the afternoon a children's meeting was held, at which Sunday school songs were rendered and addresses delivered by Rev. Messrs. Thompson and Wilson, the former on the subject of "Watchfulness" and the latter on "Intemperance." In the evening Rev. Mr. Tovell preached to a large congregation. This evening Rev. Manly Benson will deliver his famous lecture, "Men Wanted," in the church.

Miss Scott at Boston.

"Miss Claire Scott, whose engagement at Boston was marked by a succession of very large audiences, is one of the most widely known actresses of the day. Both in England and in this country she has come to be known to a host of play-goers; and her season thus far indicates a steady gain in a popularity already remarkable with the American public. Socially as well as historically, Miss Scott gained during her brief series of performances in Boston, no small degree of favor and regard. Thus speaks the Boston Globe." Peterborough people will have an opportunity of judging for themselves of Miss Scott's abilities, as she appears to-night and to-morrow night at Bradburn's Opera House. Seats at Hartley's.

Water Filters.

To insure good health it is absolutely necessary to have pure water, and no water is entirely free from floating matter and disease germs without thorough filtration. The majority of cases of typhoid and other low fevers are in a measure caused from unfiltered and impure water, so that every family who values its health should have a reliable filter. Numerous filters are offered to the public varying in points of excellence, but for cheapness, efficiency and durability, our filters cannot be surpassed. No corroding substances are used in construction. The packing material is the most powerful specially prepared granulated carbon. It will last for years with the ordinary use of a family, and the material may be obtained from us at any time for replenishing at small expense. Sold in Peterborough only at China Hall. dw

CO AND HEAR

There's no Rest for the Wicked.

The young man Elijah Moore, arrested at Chatham under an assumed name on a charge of fraud, has been sentenced to a year's imprisonment in the Central. When his time has been served it is said to be the intention of the parties here who were the victims of his fraudulent practices to prosecute him to the fullest extent.

Women's Franchise.

The regular weekly debate of the Otonabee Canoe Club takes place this evening, the subject being the extension of the franchise to women. From the able talent on both sides of the question a stirring debate is expected. Members are requested to come early.

Still Unsettled.

It is not yet known which of the two Toronto corps, the Queen's Own or Grenadiers, will visit Peterborough on the 24th May. Messrs. Alex. Elliott and E. Brown, of the Driving Park Association, are in Toronto to-day endeavoring to settle with the Grenadiers, and Col. Rogers goes to-morrow to effect an arrangement with the Q.O.R. The question ought to soon be decided one way or the other, as it is scarcely probable both corps will come.

We will pay the highest market prices in cash for eggs and choice fresh butter at the Pantry.

TO-NIGHT

A Small Fire.

At noon to-day a defective chimney caused a fire in the roof of a small rough cast building at the corner of Charlotte and Louis streets, occupied by several families. The brigade was called out but their services were not required, a few pails extinguished the blaze. The men in Fitzgerald's livery stables, and others acted promptly in putting out the fire. The damage done was only nominal.

A Dandy "General."

Visitors at the stock show Saturday afternoon admired, and expressed their approbation unstintingly, of the spirited actions of "General Lee," Mr. Wm. Fair's imported thoroughbred three-year-old stallion. Though a heavy horse, he pranced about as lively as a kitten, and seemed overflowing with life and good spirits. He has an easy, graceful and light motion not often observed in Clydesdales. "General Lee" is without doubt a "dandy" in his class.

IN CHARLOTTE STREET

Agricultural Society.

At a meeting of the directors of the Agricultural Society Saturday afternoon, permission was granted to the volunteers to camp in the grounds on the Queen's birthday. The president was delegated to attend the first exhibition under the auspices of the Canadian Association of Fairs and Expositions on behalf of the Society. The appointment of a secretary will not be made till a future meeting.

Too Much Exercise.

The big bull owned by Mr. Michael Sullivan, of Douro, was brought to town Saturday with the intention of exhibiting it at the stock show. The long drive in the hot sun played the animal out, however, and he didn't get beyond the market square. After he had rested a while he was weighed and tipped the scales at 2210 pounds. The big animal was so exhausted that it could not be driven the remainder of the distance to the show grounds.

METHODIST CHURCH.

A Serious Hurt.

This morning Mr. Wm. Fitzgerald's horse ran away on Water street with two lads named Munro and Carlisle in the wagon. The wagon broke down and both lads were thrown out, young Munro being picked up unconscious. He was taken to Dr. Kincaid's surgery where his wounds were dressed, and he was taken to his home on Division street. His injuries may prove serious indeed, the skull being fractured, but, it is hoped, impression of the brain will not result. Munro is about twelve years of age, and his youthfulness is all in his favor. Carlisle sustained only a few cuts and bruises.

The Oddfellows Anniversary Sermon.

After the brethren had returned to the rooms of Otonabee lodge, a vote of thanks was moved by Bro. J.J. Hartley and seconded by Bro. R. J. Lee, to the Rev. A. Bell for his able and eloquent sermon, the officers of the church for their kindness in placing the seats at the disposal of the brethren, and to the choir for their valuable assistance at the services.

In this connection Mr. F. W. Millar, choir master, desires to return thanks to the members of other church choirs who assisted him on the occasion, particularly to Mrs. Hamilton and Mr. Baguley.

SUBJECT: "MEN WANTED."

A Sunday Accident.

An incident occurred Sunday afternoon that will furnish an inexhaustible theme for "discoorsin" against Sunday boating in the hands of the anxious parent, who will point to it as a solemn warning against the possible awful fate awaiting the Sabbath desecrator. The small boy who tries to "scheme" Sunday school will be reminded most impressively of the narrow escape of the two young men herein below referred to. Sunday afternoon two young fellows, brothers, connected with a down town barber shop, got into a canoe and were paddling around in the river opposite Spaulding's Bay. They were greenhorns at the canoe business, and had not a true conception of the treacherous slipperiness of the average craft, which is apt to assert itself more especially when it gets a couple of untutored and rather careless youths within its frail walls. They grew over-confident and upset. Fortunately, they were within a few feet of the shore and could swim a little. Their cries attracted a number of people passing by, who threw out planks to them and effected their rescue. One of the boys was just about exhausted. Had the accident occurred a little further out in the swift current they would undoubtedly have been drowned.

The Spring Stock Show.

Annual Exhibition of Bulls and Stallions Under the Auspices of the Agricultural Society.

Saturday's exhibition of stallions and bulls on the Agricultural Grounds was fairly successful. There was a fine display of horseflesh, but the show of bulls was small and the attendance of spectators below the average. The fine weather, though favorable to the exhibition and judging, was, perhaps, the sole cause of the unsatisfactory attendance. Farmers were busy sowing, and the majority very wisely determined to "make hay while the sun shone," as it were, and stayed home to do their work. Following is a list of the entries:—

STALLIONS.

David Montgomery, Canadian bred stallion "Goldfinder"; entered also in special class.

Hugh W. Stevenson, Percheron stallion "Norman."

Wm. Fair, imported thoroughbred Clydesdales "John Anderson" and "General Lee"; also standard bred roadster "Clarion Chief"; "General Lee" also entered in special class.

James Rimhirst's "Black Tom," entered in special class.

A. E. Stephenson, coach or carriage stallion, "Kentucky"; entered also in standard bred roadster class.

W. H. Headip, "Victor Gold Dust," entered in coach or carriage and standard bred roadster classes.

J. W. Jackson, Percheron stallion "Duke of Perch."

Levi Bowles, imported thoroughbred Clydesdale "Brown Stout," entered also in special class.

Samuel Staples, imported thoroughbred Clydesdale, "Cheviot" and coach or carriage stallion "Lord Sadley," late "Dexter."

E. W. Northcott, coach or carriage stallion "Young G. M. Patches, jr."; entered also in special class.

Jas. Redmond, "Young Criffle," entered in special class.

Geo. S. Shaw, imported thoroughbred Clydesdale.

Alex. Paterson, standard bred roadster, "Harold Hartwood."

R. and W. Bothwell, Canadian thoroughbred Clydesdale.

John Hooten, Canadian thoroughbred Clydesdale, "British Lion."

Jas. Beatty, thoroughbred blood stallion, "Mikado."

BULLS.

Wm. Collins, two year old Durham bull, "Stanley."

Thos. and Jos. Stothart, 3 year old Holstein, Valparaiso," and a one year old Holstein.

Jos. Redmond, 2 year old Durham, "Oliver Mowat;" 1 year old Durham, "Gold Finder's Heir;" 1 year old Durham, "Wait on Me."

PRIZE LIST.

Competition was keen in many of the classes of stallions, but the decisions of the judge, Mr. Kennedy, of Markham, seemed to obtain general approval. Following is the prize-list:—

HORSES.

Imported thoroughbred stallions, Clydesdales, Shires or Suffolks—1 "John Anderson," 2 "Brown Stout."

Canadian Bred Stallions, Clydesdales, Shires or Suffolks—1 W. and R. Bothwell.

Percheron Stallions—1 "Duke of Perch," 2 "Norman."

Coach and Carriage, with registered pedigree—1 "Lord Sadley," 2 "Victor Gold Dust."

Standard Bred Roadsters—1 "Clarion Chief," 2 "Harold Hartwood."

Special—Horses not winning a prize in any other class—1 "General Lee" (recommended), 2 "Black Tom."

Thoroughbred Blood—1 "Mikado."

BULLS.

Two Year Old Durham—1 "Oliver Mowat," 2 "Stanley."

Aged Holstein—"Valparaiso"

The Carters' "Combine."

To the Editor of the Examiner:—

DEAR SIR,—I notice that my name appears in connection with the carters' controversy as continued in Friday's daily EXAMINER. My connection with the matter arose in this way. Because I had to keep a horse for delivering my own work, some of the less accommodating and obliging carters refused to do carting for me. I was thus compelled to do all my own work in this line, and having to keep my horse in harness all the time, to make it pay I took out a license to do general carting, and am duly registered on town books as No. 17.

Yours truly,
J. D. BAPTIE.

Painting the Town.

Enough paint to do the whole town, ready mixed at that, ranging from the brightest vermillion to the sombrest black, and including all colors and shades made, can be had at Fortye & Phelan's.

Those prize packages of tea at the Pantry are decidedly the best value for the money in the trade.

The Canton

Ginger is the best, put up by Gordon & Dilworth. Crosse & Blackwell's Soups, Jams, Marmalades, Peaches, Pears, Apricots, Italian Macaroni and Vermicelli, Devilkee's Salad Dressing—at W. J. Morrows, Opera House block.

Peterborough Sewerage.

At the quarterly meeting of the Provincial Board of Health in Toronto on Saturday a communication was read from the chairman of the Sewerage Committee of the town of Peterborough, soliciting information which would be the best means of obtaining the most improved system of sewerage for the whole town. The secretary undertook to make the necessary suggestions.

He is Known Here.

A. W. Vance, one of the men recently arrested at Kingston for distributing counterfeit money, is said to have lived in Peterborough a number of years ago, working in a dry goods store. While here he bore an unenviable reputation. His career has been cut short, though, and a long term of imprisonment stares him in the face.

A Runaway Accident.

Sunday night Mr. Thos. Sullivan was returning home from Bridgenorth with a lady, and when a couple of miles out of town was met by a runaway farmer's team. A collision occurred, the buggy and waggon both being upset and badly wrecked, the buggy almost totally destroyed. Fortunately, no serious mishap occurred. Mr. Sullivan and the lady had to walk the remainder of the distance into town and Mr. Finlay and wife, to whom the team and wagon belonged, got home the same way. A heap of carriage debris was lying on the roadside to-day, the result of the accident.

The Coming Debate.

His Honor Judge Weller has consented to occupy the chair and give the decision at the debate between representatives of the Lindsay and Peterborough Y.M.C.A. next Friday evening, May 4th. The debate will be held in the lecture hall of St. Paul's church. The Lindsay Association Glee Club and the local Y.M.C.A. Quartette will furnish music, and a most enjoyable evening is anticipated. The subject will be "Manhood Suffrage," the Lindsay speakers being Messrs. R.M. Anderson and R. McPherson, who support the negative, and Messrs. S. R. Armstrong and W. H. Hill will uphold the affirmative. The public are cordially invited to be present. A silver collection will be taken at the door.

Timely Reflections.

". . . . "Shall the Sun of righteousness arise with healing in his wings" —Malachi, iv, 2.

Throw open the windows and doors for the time
Of house cleaning has fully arrived,
Thrice gladly we do so, all grateful that we
Have the long severe winter survived.

Yes, open the windows and let the warm air
And the rays of the vernal sun in,
And rejoice in their glow and cheerfully bear
With all house cleaning worry and din.

Surveying disasters in corner and nook,
'Tis the housewife's province with sorrow,
As flourishing brush-s and brooms dust-clouds
In immaculate rooms now upraise.

Unpleasant the process, yet thankful are all
When 'tis ended and they can survey
Admired transformation, and bless in their hearts
The commotions of house cleaning day.

Similitude's most of a heart deeply mov'd
With the dread apprehension of sin,
When the terrors of law, and the spirit of grace
Both are mightily striving within.

A life that before appear'd guiltless and pure,
And amiable, seen in the light
Of conscience awaken'd, now fills him with dread,
And he sinks overwhelm'd at the sight.

But the voice of Him who once on Galilee's Lake
Commanded the billows to cease,
The struggle has quell'd; he has enter'd and made
Of his heart a sweet chamber of peace.

How we hail with delight the return of the sun,
When he's clouded for days he hath been!
And o'er to the most eager gazer no clear
Silver lining at all could be seen.

How much more should we welcome the beams of that Sun
Whose effulgence no clouds can obscure!
When He rises with healing to us in His wings,
And brilliance that aye shall endure.

Let us open the doors of our hearts to the Sun
Of Righteousness, that His bright rays
Celestial life's pathway illuming may fill
With joyance of heaven our days.

At last accounts he was on the high road to renewed health.

It makes the lightest, whitest, sweetest bread, rolls, buns and buckwheat pancakes.

Bakers in nearly every town in Canada are using it.

THE POPE'S FULMINATION.

OPINIONS OF THE ENGLISH PRESS ON THE DECREE.

The Irish Parliamentary Party Will Take No Action but Will Leave the Question on its Merits to the Decision of the People.

LONDON, April 30.—The Pall Mall Gazette commenting on the papal decree says: "The Pope's blunder amazes us. It will make no difference in the condition of affairs in Ireland while the alliance with the Pope will displease England."

The St. James' Gazette asks what Gladstone thinks of his position now. What the Vatican declares to be a damning sin, Gladstone, it says, considers exclusive dealing.

The Globe says: "Archbishop Walsh doubtless did his uttermost to refute Mgr. Persico's statements relative to the condition of affairs in Ireland. It is possible, as The Daily News insinuates, that the Pope has been threatened with something like a schism. The decree means that law and order which were menaced by the junction of a strong British party with the Parnellites have now in the Vatican's opinion overcome the disturbing forces assailing them."

The Star denounces the decree as cruel, perilous and wanton. It says that Ireland fighting with her back to the wall will never perhaps discover the methods by which the attack was instigated. If Ireland submits to sacrifice her liberties to a base Tory intrigue she will be unworthy of the freedom which in a few years Englishmen will grant her if she maintains her demands. The paper summons Englishmen to denounce their Ministers' intrigue. Ireland, it declares, will accept political advice and counsel from no power but her chosen political leaders.

The Standard argues that the effect of the decree will be disastrous to the National League by lessening its contributions.

The Irish Parliamentary party will take no steps in connection with the decree, but will leave the question on its merits to the appreciation of the people. The promoters and supporters of the plan of campaign do not expect that the decree will act as a serious check to their enterprises.

The Creighton Libel Case.

QUEBEC, April 30.—Counsel for David Creighton, defendant in the Mercier-Empire libel suit, filed their plea—one of justification—this morning. The accused alleges that the statements contained in the articles complained of are true and were printed in the public interest. The plea claims that Mr. Mercier, being a public man, his acts are open to public criticism, that he is now Premier and Attorney-General of the province, and for some years previous to his appointment as such was a member of the Legislative Assembly and leader of the Opposition in the House.

In support of the plea of justification is set forth the whole report of the Royal Commission of Enquiry into the charges made against Mr. Mercier in the House in 1884 in relation to the Jacques Cartier election matter, when the Premier was alleged to have received $6000 to discontinue proceedings against the then Premier Mousseau.

The defendant's counsel also gave notice that they will move on Tuesday next for a change of venue, fearing that they will be unable to obtain justice in Quebec.

Fire at Grimsby.

GRIMSBY, April 30.—On Sunday morning about 1.30 o'clock this quiet little village was aroused by the sounding of the fire alarm. The fire proved to be the barn of Messrs. Thomson & Hurston on the farm purchased from Mr. Andrew Christie about one year ago. There were in the barn three horses, ten cows, a new binder, hay cutting box and other implements, all of which were burned. There is said to be $800 insurance on the building and $1000 on the contents.

Charged with Bigamy.

BRAMPTON, April 30.—A man named Wm. Shields alias James Sweet was arrested and taken to Alton on Saturday on a charge of bigamy. The case was heard by Justices Patrick and Stubbs. Shields' first wife, whom he married in 1869 under the name of Sweet, was present with her two children, and also wife No. 2 with whom he has been recently living. He pleaded guilty to the charge and stated that his real name was Wm. Shields. He was committed for trial and sent to jail here.

Frightened to Death.

RICHMOND, Que., April 28.—A sad death occurred at the village of L'Avenir, Que., last week. A Mrs. Cayer, wife of Oliver Cayer, hotelkeeper of that place, had been somewhat out of health, suffering from heart and lung troubles, and on the Saturday previous to her death was so badly frightened by the noise of a drunken man hammering on the door of the room she was in as to cause her death.

Panic in the Tin Market.

LONDON, April 30.—There is a panic in the tin market. The French syndicate has ceased buying and the cash price has dropped from £116 to £105 per ton, and little has changed hands at this price.

A Philanthropist Dying.

LONDON, April 30.—Edward Chesson, the well-known chief spirit of the Aborigines Protection Society, is reported to be dying.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

THE SECRETARY OF STATE'S FRANCHISE ACT OVERHAULED.

Another Day after Governmental Whip—Mr. Mulock's Bill Respecting Fraudulent Societies Read a First Time—Bill Respecting Civil Service Examinations.

OTTAWA, April 30.—The first half-hour of the open session of the House was occupied in discussing means of expediting business in order to suit the convenience of the Governor-General, who wishes to leave about the end of May. Sir John said that it would be a source of gratification to His Excellency to be present at the prorogation, and he invited the assistance of the House to that end. This proposal being greeted with exclamations of pleased compliance, Sir John suggested that Wednesday should henceforth be devoted to Government business. Mr. Laurier said there would be no objection to the Government taking Wednesday if a place were reserved next Wednesday for the Scott Act bills introduced by Mr. McCarthy and Mr. Jamieson. Sir John intimated his assent to this arrangement.

Mr. Dickinson, the dapper little gentleman who got Sir John's seat in the capital county of Carleton after the Premier decided to sit for Kingston, made his maiden speech when he came up for a first reading his act respecting fraternal and benevolent societies. This act is framed somewhat on the model of the bill prepared by Superintendent of Insurance Richter, which was before the Ontario Legislature but not passed at its last session. The bill is intended to deal with friendly societies that do an inter-provincial insurance business. Audits, inspection, deposits with the Government, etc., are provided for. The deposit, however, is made optional, as some of the friendly societies do not carry a surplus; the A.O.U.W. for instance pay their life insurance by assessment. The Foresters, who are promoting the bill, on the other hand, have a surplus of nearly $80,000. Mr. Dickinson made a neat little address in introducing his bill.

The Secretary of State's bill respecting Civil Service examinations was next up for its first reading. The bill deals principally with matters of detail aimed at preventing impersonation at examinations, provides for yearly examinations and throws additional safeguards around the possibility of intending candidates obtaining copies of the questions which they are to be examined upon.

The bill to amend the Franchise Act was then brought in by Mr. Chapleau, who stated that its provisions in the main were three in number: First, to keep the name of one disqualified under the Election Act off the voters' list; second, to provide for printing the lists at the Government printing office; third, to suspend the operation of the Act for another year. It was found impossible, he said, to have the revision take place this year and the lists printed at the Government printing office as had been expected. This printing of the lists at Ottawa, especially on the system adopted, would be found to cover a great saving in this main item of expense under the Act. The revision of the Franchise Act always arouses the feeling of the Opposition, and naturally enough, too, for there is not a member of the Opposition but was worried and bothered by this worst outrage of the Government in the preparation of the voters' lists for his county, and very few of them but had reason to feel that their political lives were placed in jeopardy by its operation. Mr. Laurier warned the Government that this business of having lists printed at one central office would involve great confusion, by reason of the difficulty of making corrections, which unfortunately will be many in making the first "proof" of the lists. If the proposal to suspend the list were accompanied with the proposal to revert to the simple, cheap and just system of the Provincial lists, and then to suspend the present Act indefinitely, he would be strongly in favor of it. Mr. Chapleau expressed the hope that when the bill came up for a second reading he would be able to satisfy the Opposition as to the advisability of carrying it. Mr. Mills gave the Government an old-fashioned talking to because of the worse than unnecessary expense to which the public had been put and the worse than absurdity of having on the books a statute which had been in force only one year, and which, with this proposition carried, would be suspended two years. Mr. Charlton pointed out that Canada was unique among Anglo-Saxon communities in having its lists prepared by Government officers, for everywhere among them the making of the lists was a municipal act. Mr. Davies dwelt upon and amplified the phase of the subject mentioned by Mr. Laurier that there would certainly be many errors in printing the lists in the Government bureau, and urged the Government, if it would not go back to the Provincial lists, to adopt manhood suffrage. Mr. Jones also protested vigorously against the iniquity and absurdity of the present system. This led Mr. Chapleau in self-defence to go further in explanation of his scheme. He said that it would take forty printers ten months to set the lists at first, but afterwards the changes would be comparatively simple. This, Mr. Charlton held, to be of itself a condemnation of the Franchise Act, and the proposed system of printing the lists. Seeing his partner so badly attacked, Sir John Macdonald took a hand in the contest, but said nothing in particular. His best point was an attempt to distort Mr. Davies' position into one favoring manhood suffrage for the Dominion rather than one favoring the municipal system of making the lists. The discussion became general, and several gentlemen undertook to speak who had spoken before on the same resolution. This being contrary to the rule, Mr. Speaker interfered and the discussion dropped. The bill was read the first time.

Mr. Langelier of Quebec Centre, in moving for copies of the tenders received for an improved Atlantic mail service, made some pretty plain observations about the present arrangement of subsidizing the Allans for the very inferior service which Mr. Langelier claims they render Canada in their transmission of the ocean post. Mr. Langelier said it was unfair to single out a single company and pay them a subsidy for such a very poor service. The Quebec merchants, he said, all went to New York to take the European steamers in preference to patronizing the Canadian line because of its inefficiency. Sir Hector Langevin, who was leading the House, would not consent to bring down the contracts until he heard from the Postmaster-General, and the motion stands.

The House adjourned at 12.30.

The Toronto Win in Ireland.

THE MONOPOLY SURRENDER.

Report of the Committee of the Privy Council laid on the Table.

OTTAWA, April 30.—Sir Charles Tupper laid on the table to-day the report of the Committee of the Privy Council to whom was referred the Minister of Railway's report with reference to the Manitoba Railway difficulty. They concur in Hon. J. H. Pope's report. This states that the Government were reluctant to meet the expressed views of Manitoba, because they considered that the desired action would be unfair and contrary to the interests of Canada, that the trade of the Northwest should be diverted to a foreign country after the expenditure which has been made by Canada to create and foster that trade; also that until the time arrived at which the Canadian Pacific Railway were bound to complete contract the company were entitled to have the main line protected from the injurious effect which a line from Winnipeg to the boundary would have.

The report then cites the changed conditions which have arisen during the past twelve months. Fifteen million acres of lands are offered as security. The lands are now subject to a mortgage amounting to $2,400,000, but against this the company are willing to place $1,200,000 due them for unpaid purchase money on lands sold. The liability of the Government under such guarantee would be merely nominal.

The company are relieved from the obligation to maintain and operate a line between St. Boniface and the American boundary.

A schedule is attached expressing in minute detail the terms of the agreement consenting the branch line just mentioned. The schedule gives power to lease or sell, the purchase price or rental to be applied either towards payment of the guaranteed bonds or increasing the security for them by expenditure on the company's railway.

While maintaining that it is still desirable that Northwest products should be carried through Canada to the seaboard, the Government say:

Negotiations have been had with the Canadian Pacific Railway, and it is believed that satisfactory arrangements can be made by which the operation of the monopoly sections can be at once dispensed with and the equipment of the Canadian Pacific Railway so protected as to provide for the storage and carriage of the products of the western provinces and territories without reasonable apprehension that they will be diverted to the United States.

Having stated that in compensation for the surrender of the monopoly privileges the Government is to guarantee principal and interest of a loan of $34,000,000 for fifty years the report deals with the Red River Company, who shall be obliged to maintain only such one of their two branches as they shall see fit. The agreement concludes with the following statement of how the proceeds of sale of the guaranteed bonds are to be applied.

1. An account of capital expenditure on the main line between Quebec and Vancouver, in the building of various snowsheds, sidings, permanent bridges, filling trestles, reducing grades and curves and other improvements and facilities and on vouchers and pay rolls, $6,421,000.

2. For required rolling stock, locomotives, box cars, passenger cars, flat cars, coal cars, snow plows, etc., $2,132,000.

3. For required improvements on the main line, elevators, bridges, locomotive shops, filling trestles, sidings, docks, lake and coast steamers, the rentless, whatever it may be, but estimated at $4,322,000.

It is provided that the expenditure on item 3 may be increased and for that purpose the expenditure on either of the other items may be diminished.

Nominations now Runnell.

OTTAWA, April 30.—At Duncanville in Russell to-day C. H. Mackintosh was nominated as the Conservative standard-bearer, and W. C. Edwards, the unseated member, was put up by the Liberals. The election, which is to fill a vacancy in the House of Commons, comes off on May 7.

The election in Kent takes place on May 2.

It is freely predicted here that the Liberals will carry both of these seats.

Death has left two other constituencies vacant—Cardwell and Nicolet. Both of these are Conservative strongholds.

Hamilton Notes.

HAMILTON, April 30.—In the Miller liquor case Judge Sinclair this morning refused to grant a summons on appeal.

Bookkeeper J. W. James was standing on a stepladder in Plumber Farmer's shop Saturday evening when the ladder broke and James was precipitated on some boxes, breaking two ribs.

Little Tommy Stout, who has carried the banner of the Salvation Army for the last four years, went to work in the east end distillery a short time ago, and this morning was arrested for being drunk.

TORONTO TOPICS.

The duties collected at Toronto during April amounted to $275,182, as against $221,625 for the corresponding month last year, the decrease being $46,476.

The Toronto Methodist preachers fortnightly meeting was held in the Metropolitan Church vestry yesterday. Telegrams were received from the family of Rev. Dr. S. J. Hunter of Hamilton, announcing his illness as having assumed a most serious aspect with but little hope of his ultimate recovery. Rev. Hugh Johnston and Rev. Coverdale Watson were appointed to convey the sympathy of the meeting to the family. The meeting expressed its cordial sympathy with the scheme of Rev. J. M. Kerr and congregation for building a new and much larger church on King east. To avoid disappointments it was resolved that the committee would not in future be responsible for pulpit supplies to other denominations, unless the requests for such supplies are preferred in time to be noted on the published plan.

Yesterday afternoon at 3.15 Albert Swain, a man employed in T. Bell's woodyard at Simcoe and Richmond streets, was on the roof of the coal shed, throwing to the ground some old lumber. John Smith, a coal handler, was working in the shed and he walked into the yard in time to receive a heavy board on his his head. He fell to the ground and bystanders ran for Dr. Deaster, who made an examination and found that the skull had been fractured. Smith lived only twenty minutes. J. B. Kent, who was in the yard at the time, says Swain shouted as soon as he saw Smith, but not in time. Mr. Bell also witnessed the accident. Smith's body was taken to 169 Bay-street and Policeman Geddes arrested Swain, taking him to Agnes-street Station. The charge against him is "killing one John Smith."

Swain is a married man living at 29 Nelson-street. He is 34 years old and seems very much cut up over the affair.

Coroner Powell was notified and late last night he made an examination of Smith's remains. He thinks it would be better for all parties that an inquest should be held, but will not decide definitely until to-day.

FRANCE AND ITALY.

There Seems to Be Little Ground for Any Apprehension of Trouble.

NEW YORK, April 30.—The Times' London correspondent says that from talks he has had with the best-informed men in diplomatic circles he is inclined to think that there is not much basis for the apprehension of trouble between France and Italy at least in the immediate future. So far as the correspondent could gather the [illegible] side, and arose from the recent flurry of activity at the Toulon arsenal and shipyards. The Italians seem to have construed this as the sign of an intention on the part of the French to attack them, and Gen. Boulanger's rise gave this idea the semblance of reality. All the men with whom the reporter talked agreed in the opinion that Gen. Boulanger, if he came into power and was impressed by the necessity to have a war of some sort, would be much more likely to pick a quarrel with Italy or England than provoke an encounter with Germany. The general European situation is felt to be not a highly critical and dangerous state, but there are no definite indications of near trouble anywhere which have not existed for the past two years.

A Resolution.

PARIS, April 30.—M. Brousse (Republican) was yesterday elected a member of the Chamber of Deputies from the department of Haute-Savoie by a vote of 12,630 to 12,550 for Marchand (Radical). The Radical defeats in three provincial by-elections are considered as indicative of a reaction in the Boulangist movement. In Paris the Boulanger fever is cooling.

Carnot's Fetes.

PARIS, April 30.—At a dejeuner given in his honor by the Bordeaux Council General yesterday, President Carnot, in a speech, said that a policy characterized by energy, wisdom, prudence and liberty was necessary to insure respect for the laws. Such a policy would guarantee peace both abroad and at home, and such was the policy he intended to follow.

Alexander's Antipathy.

MOSCOW, April 30.—It is authoritatively stated that the Czar has expressed antipathy towards General Boulanger.

A Toronto Painter's Theft.

OWEN SOUND, April 30.—Wm. Cunningham, a young man who says he came from Toronto, and has been for some time working at painting on the Canadian Pacific steamships, was arrested on Saturday on a charge of stealing. A few nights ago the best good shoe store of Carry Bros. was broken into and two pairs of boots taken. Shortly after the police were notified that Messrs. J. W. Douglass & Bro. missed a bar. Constables Macaulay and Pearce began investigating the matter and succeeded in locating one pair of boots, but the wearer said that he had run up against a man the night before and a fight had resulted, from which the other fellow ran away, leaving the boots which he had carried off as the other fellow bit his ear. A search was made of Cunningham's room, and the bar of stolen from Messrs. Douglass', as well as a clock stolen from Constable Pearce himself, found. The prisoner was remanded by Police Magistrate Spencer in order to give the police here time to communicate with the Toronto authorities. Later still another clock appears to have been discovered, and it is now thought that the prisoner is concerned in some more serious depredations that have lately caused considerable loss in the town.

The Down Grade Controversy.

LONDON, April 30.—In spite of the harmonious proceedings at the Annual Assembly of the Baptist Union, there is still a down-grade controversy. Mr. Spurgeon, who was supposed to be a party to the compromise then agreed upon, now regrets it. His brother seems to have stretched his instructions. Moreover, a new council has since been chosen, and Mr. Spurgeon's foes are still in a great majority on that council. All those to whom he most strongly objected, and those who had got furthest on the down grade, have been re-elected. There is a good deal of the natural mess still left in this eminent minister, and he naturally does not like the situation. His health, too, has once more given way, and he has gone down to Bournemouth with orders from his doctors to read no letters nor papers. So on the whole the era of good feeling and brotherly love among Baptists of all grades has been postponed a little.

The Chancellor on Horseback.

BERLIN, April 30.—The man of innumerable surprises, Prince Bismarck, knocked the predictions of the doctors and the traditions of age edgeways yesterday by mounting a long-legged roan mare that tried to jump over every house in sight, and riding her at breakneck pace to Charlottenburg and back. Less than a week ago the physicians forbade his mounting a horse again. On the way back his reception was wonderfully warm, people waited in crowds numbering thousands at street corners and in the park and cheered the veteran to the echo. He was violently red but in a state of beaming good nature.

To Replace Dr. Bergmann.

BERLIN, April 30.—Dr. Bardeleben, director of the clinical surgery department of the Charite Hospital, will replace Dr. Bergmann in attendance upon the Emperor.

A Circus Man Arrested.

VINCENNES, Ind., April 30.—Paul Coup, one of the four brothers widely known as circus men, was arrested on a charge of having, with the aid of his wife, Nellie Coup, robbed the house of Police Commissioner W. J. Murphy of Indianapolis of a watch, diamonds and other property valued at $2000. Coup and his three brothers were assessed in Davies County in $200,000 personal property. The arrest caused great commotion among his friends here.

The Porte's Demand.

LONDON, April 30.—The Turkish Government has recalled the Turkish minister at Athens, and has demanded that Greece shall dismiss her Consul at Monastir and other Greek officials in Macedonia. The Porte claims that these officials have been fomenting political agitations under the cover of brigandage, assisted by Russian agents. Greece has not complied with the demand for the removal of her Consul at Monastir, who denies the charge against him.

Chicago's Protest.

CHICAGO, April 30.—Mayor Roche, President Hutchinson of the Board of Trade, and W. M. Egan of the Owners' Association, have sent a telegram on behalf of Chicago to the Canadian Minister of Marine, urging delay in the passage of the bill giving Canadian consent to the erection of a railroad bridge across the Detroit River. Delay is asked for the purpose of getting time to present a protest to the Canadian Parliament, showing that the bridge would be too great a detriment to navigation.

ROSZELL RULES THE ROAST.

The Appointment of a Chief of Police Made.

The Police Question Settled at last—Other Appointments Made—A Resolution of Condolence—The Early Closing Movement—Petitions and Accounts.

Short, sharp and decisive was the contest over the chiefship of police at the council meeting Monday night. No words were wasted—except, perhaps, for a slight "tilt," that came too late, on the third reading—Geo. J. Roszell was appointed to the position without the nonsalamous of "gaff" by the deciding vote of the chairman in committee, Mr. John Douglass. There was a large audience and all the councillors were present.

The division was exactly the same as at the other meetings. When Mr. Douglass was sent to the chair in committee of the whole there was an evenly divided board—Messrs. Cahill, Winch, Kelly, McNeil, Stevenson and Langford on the side of "home product"; Messrs. Davidson, Hall, Yelland, Moore, Kendry, and Hartley for the St. Kits man. This gave the chairman the deciding vote, and when he decided in favor of the latter, there was a noisy demonstration from the audience—whether of approval or disapprobation is not just known.

Quite a hornet's nest was stirred up at a late stage, on a motion to give the by-law its third reading, by Mr. Cahill moving that the by-law be referred back to the committee. Mr. McNeil made a direct charge against Mr. Roszell's character that Mr. Hartley and Mr. Kendry defied him to prove. The Mayor, also, gave his version of the affair, which was somewhat milder. A sharp skirmish resulted; loud and defiant words of the "I can—you can't" order rang through the chamber; nearly all the councillors sounded their lungs, and it ended as usual—the majority won in spite of all the talk. The by-law was confirmed.

There was some discussion over the appointment of subordinate officers. The by-law provided for a salary of $650, he to supply his own clothing, to Mr. Adams and only $480 to the other two. Mr. Kendry objected on the ground that Mr. Adams should not receive more than the others. The original motion was carried. The by-law also provided for the appointment of Messrs. A. McIntosh and C. McGinty at a salary of $480 per year. Amendments were made by Mr. Langford, that Jos. Stewart be appointed in place of Angus McIntosh, and by Mr. Kendry that McIntosh be appointed instead of McGinty. Mr. Langford's motion carried but Mr. Kendry's lost. Then another motion was made by Mr. Yelland that Thomas Lytle be appointed, and that, too, was lost. The clause appointing Messrs. Stewart and McGinty was then passed.

Other appointments made were those of Mr. Robert Pope as street and building inspector at a salary of $900 per year, and Mrs. Elliott as janitress at $3 per week.

Before the regular business of the evening was taken up, a motion was made to suspend the ordinary routine, in order to allow Mr. Moore to introduce the following motion, which he did in a neat and highly complimentary eulogium upon the late Mr. White, suggesting that a copy of the resolution be engrossed and sent to the widow of the deceased, Mr. Cahill and the Mayor supporting the motion with brief speeches in a similar strain, the latter referring affectionately and feelingly more particularly to the deceased honorable gentleman's local experience, the practical interest he took in the town, and the sorrow he (the Mayor) felt at his sudden and untimely demise!—

Moved by Mr. Moore, seconded by Mr. T. Cahill, that the council of the town of Peterborough place on record an expression of its sincere regret at the sudden death of the Honorable Thomas White, M.P., Minister of the Interior and Superintendent General of Indian affairs for Canada, who, at one time, was a member of this body, and for upwards of fifteen years a citizen of this town, always taking an active and prominent part and interest in everything that pertained to its welfare and prosperity; whose charming personal qualities endeared him to all who had the pleasure and profit of his intimacy, and whose great energy of character, untiring devotion to his country and brilliant ability found a fitting recognition in his elevation to the highest councils of the Dominion; and this council would extend to his sorrowing widow and family its deep sympathy in the great affliction that has fallen on them.

The motion was, of course, carried unanimously.

The early closing movement was felt in the council Monday night. Petitions were presented from stove, tin and hardware merchants, and the boot and shoe merchants, asking the enactment of by-laws making provision for the early closing of their stores. These were received, and a by-law prepared by town solicitor Edwards, providing for the early closing of barber, boot and shoe, tin and hardware shops was passed, not, however, before Mr. John McNaughton had another opportunity to confront his old adversary, Mr. Moore, at the same time expressing his disapproval of the by-law in so far as it referred to his business. The by-law will be published in one of the papers.

The Finance report presented by Mr. Davidson recommended payment of the accounts referred to them. The report was adopted.

A number of petitions were disposed of. R. S. Henderson's application for a shooting gallery license at a reduced rate was referred to the License Committee with power to act. The petition of the residents of north George street to retain the electric light at the corner of Hunter and Lansdowne streets, was referred to the Fire, Water and Light Committee. Inspector Pope's attention was called to Mr. Geo. Webber's complaint of a hole in the road at the corner of Hunter and Park streets. Patrick Hughes's application for the position of pound-keeper in No. 1 ward was granted. An application was made by Rev. V. Chouard and others to have Aylmer street, from Shuttuck to Wolfe street, watered by the cart. It was referred to the Committee. Wm. Craft applied for a continuance of the favor granted him by the council of exempting him from taking out a carter's license. The matter was deferred till the next meeting.

The following accounts were referred to the Finance Committee:—

Col. J. Z. Rogers appeared before the council to enquire into the truth of the statement that the Royal Grenadiers of Toronto had been invited by the council to spend the Queen's birthday here. The officers of the Battalion had invited the Queen's Own Rifles, but as it was not likely both regiments would come, it would be useless for him to go to Toronto to arrange for a visit from the G.O.R. if the council had invited the Grenadiers.

The Colonel was informed that no invitation had as yet been extended to any corps, but on motion of Mr. Langford the Mayor was instructed to invite the Queen's Own to visit Peterborough on the 24th, the town to fund no expense.

Mr. Kendry didn't think the town should interfere in the rivalry between the Driving Park Association and the Battalion, but Mr. Langford asked it as a national right. The councillors squabbled for a quarter of an hour or more to no purpose on this subject before the motion was finally carried.

Mr. McNeil introduced a motion to advance $65 for the services of an extra horse for five months during the summer, so that the team of greys could be left in the stable and the extra horse would complete the two teams that were to run the sprinkling carts. As it was now, one of the horses had to be taken out of the stable to do street work. The matter was deferred till the next meeting.

A motion by Mr. Cahill to grant Mr. R. H. Adams $100 for his services as Acting Chief was voted down, after which the council adjourned for three weeks.

Remarkable Surgery.

The science of surgery has made such wonderful progress in modern times, that the most intricate operations are now undertaken and carried to a successful issue. There are now several well authenticated cases of what is known as pneumotomy, that is to say, the removal of diseased portions of the lungs in cases of consumption. While, however, this delicate operation has sometimes been successfully performed, the risks attending it are so great, and the chances of recovery so slight, that it is seldom resorted to. The safest plan in consumptive cases is to use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. This will always cure the disease in its earlier stages, thoroughly arresting the ravages of the terrible malady, be removing its cause and healing the lungs. b

A Sure Relief.

I suffered from a hard Cough contracted by damp feet. Having consulted a local doctor without effect I thought I would try Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam as a last resort. Before I had finished the first bottle my cough had entirely disappeared, and to day I enjoy better health than ever before. I can conscientiously recommend it. Chas. H. A Successful Result.

Sirs, I was troubled for five years with Liver Complaint. I used a great deal of doctors' medicine, which did me no good. I was getting worse all the while until I tried Burdock Blood Bitters. After taking four bottles I am now well. I can also recommend it for dyspepsia. Miss Hattie L. Swick, St. Williams P. O., Ont. 2w18d

Hamilton's Strong Team Again Defeated.

SYRACUSE, April 30.—The Stars gained a second victory over the strong Hamilton team to-day by hard hitting at the right time. The Hams were not so successful in fortunate hitting. Singles by Wright and Beard, a wild throw by Andrews and a two-bagger by Higgins gave the Stars three runs in the first inning. One was added in the fourth on W. Higgins' single and Wright's two-bagger, and one in the seventh on Ely's single, two sacrifices and Marr's hit. Hamilton scored one in the third on Green's two-bagger and Knight's single, two in the sixth on Wood's hit, Visner's base on balls and two wild pitches. Score:

TROY, April 30.—Nearly 1000 people witnessed the game to-day between the Buffalos and Sullivan's "Troy Stonens." The latter bunched their runs, failing to score except in the seventh inning, when, by steady hitting, which they failed to perform at any other place in the game, they got in five runs. An Intercolonial Scull Race.

Mr. McNabb, a gentleman well-known in Halifax as a master printer as well as a lover of boating, met J. A. St. John, backer of Jake Gaudaur, recently in Boston and talked with him in reference to the possibilities of a four-cared shell or fisherman's race between a Halifax crew and any four in the world. Mr. McNabb stated that a crew of Haligonians could be placed on the water and backed against an American crew for any sum within reason up to $2000 and as high as $5000 a side. One of the conditions, however, is that the race must be rowed in Halifax waters; but whether in Bedford Basin or Halifax Harbor he did not say. Mr. St. John informed him that he had no doubt an American crew could be organized to meet the fishermen, and that he, personally, would use his best endeavors to bring about the proposed match, and would back the Americans.

Offers to Back Sullivan.

BOSTON, April 30.—The Herald to-day received from two wealthy gentlemen separate offers to back Sullivan for $5000 against Kilrain. Both offers were made without consultation with either Sullivan or Phillips, his manager. One of the gentlemen announced as Sullivan declines to recognize Kilrain's title to the championship or the value of the Richard K. Fox belt on a token thereof, he would be backed against Kilrain for any amount from $2500 to $10,000 for a fight to decide the relative merits of the men.

The Fall Wheat Not Promising.

A gentleman who has been over a good deal of the railroads during the past week states that as far as his observation from the car windows go the winter wheat throughout Ontario is not much more than half a crop. Many fields are badly winter-killed, and in all of them there are large patches of bare ground, which not even the genial rains of spring will be able to restore.

BUILDING LOTS

Such as Nos. 1, 2 and 3, noted below are not like merchandise when sold; locality and situation cannot always be replaced. There are many persons living in distant parts of the town and Ashburnham to whom a residence within five minutes walk of any of the churches, Post Office, Market and principal stores, would be a great boon. To such we would say do not delay. Come to the office and discuss the matter. We may buy from you or sell to you. You have Something to Gain and Nothing to Lose.

1. That beautiful situation on Brock Street, east of and adjoining Mr. Nugents' new residence, so high above all surroundings, so central, so retired, and yet so convenient for all purposes. A most suitable place for a Doctor's Office and residence, or for any person wishing to reside near his Office or Business. Front Lot is 66x120 ft. to lane. Rear Lot is 65x124 ft., with an inexhaustable supply of first-class water. 30, 35 and 40 feet frontage can be had of this lot with stable accommodation if desired.

2. This is an extremely fine Lot, with about 75 feet frontage on Water Street, by 115 feet deep. It has an east front, facing St. Paul's Church, and will be sold in one or two lots. Act promptly.

3. Is a fine Lot on Stewart Street, 67x115 ft. opposite Messrs. Hall and Sheppard's beautiful mansions, protected on the north by the Chief of Police, and charmed on the south by a professor of music.

4. In addition to the above, we have good lots in north, east, south and west parts of the Town, and for large lots at low prices, we would call attention to the Lodgate, Carlisle, and Toronto Real Estate Investment Co'y's suburban additions, where good value can be had for small investments.

For Houses and Lots in all parts of the town, Ashburnham and Auburn, we have variety and value to suit any reasonable buyer. We have Garden Lots from one to ten acres for Sale and to rent. Also, several Farms, one large Farm with good buildings, fall crop and ploughing to rent cheap. All are invited to call at our office, or write for further particulars

TUESDAY, MAY 1, 1888.

LOCAL NEWS.

The Weather.

Fresh northeast to northwest winds; cloudy and cold with occasional snow or rain, clearing at night.

Marvellous Spring Growth.

Yesterday's rain, though a cold, wet-blanket sort of affair, brought on growth rapidly, and now earth's new spring carpet of verdure is laid down, pranked with flowers. Beautiful as it is, it cannot for a moment compare with the beautiful range of carpets of all kinds, styles and patterns at the golden lion. If you have a nice home, see that you go to r. fair's for your carpets. If you have a humble home go to r. fair's for your carpets—he has them suitable for all grades, from a palace to a hut, and at direct importers' prices.

Masonic Visit.

The Oshawa Reformer says:—"Mr. B. Shortly, of Peterborough, District Deputy Grand Master of District No. 12, A.F. & A. M., paid an official visit to Cedar and Lebanon Lodges, of this town, on Tuesday evening last. A number of brethren from Bowmanville and Whitby were also on hand to welcome their superior officer. After visiting the Lodges Mr. Shortly was entertained at a supper."

Port Hope's New Railway Scheme.

Port Hope is making an effort on behalf of a new railway scheme. Mr. T. D. Craig, M.P.P., East Durham, Mr. D. Chisholm and Judge Benson, on the part of the Harbor Commission, and Messrs. E. Peplow and Joseph King, representing the town council, are a deputation to Ottawa to lay the matter, of assisting the proposed new line, before the Government. The line is called the Western Ontario Railway, and its southern and northern terminal are, respectively, Port Hope, and Inverhuron on the shores of Lake Huron, in Bruce county, 23 miles from Southampton. Mr. Craig passed through town to-day en route to the Capital, and the other members of the deputation go by the main line of the G. T. R.

The Man as She is Found.

The Bobcaygeon Independent indulges in the following extravagan za upon the hen:—"It is strange how contrary the domestic hen will be. When eggs are twenty-five cents a dozen she will go moping around, and put in the time running her feathers through her beak, and now that eggs are down to twelve cents, she gets to business as if it were no trouble at all, skips around on one foot and a wing, scratches over at least an acre a day and sings snatches of comic opera between every cent's worth. Oh, hen, in our hours of ease, Fickle coy, and hard on peas, When pain and anguish knit the brow, As soothing broth a gem art thou."

A Boulevard Boom.

The central western part of the town is the home of the boulevard. Reid street, on the hill adjacent to Hunter street, is now the scene of activity. The cutting down of the Cathedral hill has furnished filling galore. On Reid street, boulevards are being laid in front of the R. C. Parsonage and the premises of Messrs. John McClelland, R. H. Green and Judge Weller. On the opposite side of the street it is being extended alongside the Cathedral and the Convent, and on the Hunter street fronts of both these structures. The work will be well done under the supervision of Mr. J. E. Belcher, C.E., consulting engineer; Mr. John Doherty, M.C., resident engineer, and Mr. R. Pope, S.I., Inspector of Works.

The Police Force.

At last that decapitated organization, yclept the Peterborough police force, has had a "head" put on it, so to speak, and the new chef de police has been notified of his appointment by the town clerk and requested to report for duty at once. Mr. Rossell comes from St. Catherines, where he was for a number of years Sergeant on the force, highly recommended by the city authorities and in fact by all who know anything of him. It is understood he is to be given complete control of the force here, and he will then have the opportunity of proving his capabilities. He will likely be down in a day or two. The force, as at present constituted, will comprise Chief Rossell and P. C. Adams on day duty, and P.C's. McGinty and Stewart on night parole.

Water Filters.

To insure good health it is absolutely necessary to have pure water, and no water is entirely free from floating matter and disease terms without thorough filtration. The majority of cases of typhoid and other low fevers are in a measure caused from unfiltered and impure water, so that every family who values its health should have a reliable filter. Numerous filters are offered to the public varying in points of excellance, but for cheapness, efficiency and durability, our filters cannot be surpassed. No corroding substances are used in construction. The packing material is the most powerful specially prepared granulated carbon. It will last for years with the ordinary use of a family, and the material may be obtained from us at any time for replenishing at small expense. Sold in Peterborough only at China Hall. dw

Nichol's Hospital Report.

Number of patients in hospital April 30th, 1888, 5. Diseases: hip joint disease, 1; consumption, 1; aneurism, 1; epilepsy, 1; stricture, 1. Total number treated during April, 11; pay patients, 5; non-paying, 6; from Peterborough, 9; from the county, 1; from Toronto, 1. Dr. Fife attending physician for April. Drs. Halliday, Pigeon and King in attendance on private ward patients.

Look Out for Them.

Counterfeit Bank of British North America bills are in circulation in Kingston and vicinity. A greenish tinge covers the face of the bogus bill, and it is dated July 5th, 1577, whereas the good one is dated July 3rd, 1877. The row of fives at the bottom of the good bill has a black ground with white engine turning, while the counterfeit has a white ground with black spots.

The Boys Abroad.

The EXAMINER has received the following:—

VANCOUVER, B.C., April 24, 1888.

DEAR SIR,—We arrived here O.K. yesterday at about 2 30 p.m. Spent a day and a half in Winnipeg. Place crowded; lots of people leaving.

Yours very truly,
R. J. STENSON.

The Brockville Man.

Mr. C. Young, of Brockville, one of the applicants for the position of Chief of Police here, was in town yesterday. His name did not, however, crop up during the debate over the appointment last night. Mr. Young is a model looking constable, but it is understood would not accept the position unless he got a higher salary than the new incumbent receives.

Acknowledgement.

The Lady Superintendent thankfully acknowledges the following donations to the hospital in April:—Miss Westcott, 3 scrap books; Mrs. R. J. Graham, 3 bottles raspberry vinegar; a friend, jelly; W. J. Mimore, daily papers; Mrs. J. R. Stratton, oranges and candies; Mr. R. Hall, illuminated texts for wards; a friend, fancy biscuits, glassware and toys.

Chapters of Accidents.

During the past few days the EXAMINER has contained several chapters of accidents. Many of these were disabling accidents, those injured will be reduced to idleness for days and, in some cases, weeks. What a blessing it would have been if these parties had had policies in the Manufacturers' Accident Association, represented in Peterborough by Mr. G. A. Morrison. They would then have been drawing from $5 to $50 per week according to the amount of their policy.

WE will pay the highest market prices in cash for eggs and choice fresh butter at the Pantry.

Women Not Qualified.

The debate at the Otonabee canoe club rooms Monday night was decided against the proposition that the franchise should be extended to women. There was a good attendance and the discussion was close indeed, the negative winning by a "neck" only. Mr. J. Carmichael, B.A., ruled on the decision. The affirmative leaders were Messrs. A. Clegg and F. H. Dobbin; the negative, Messrs. W. H. Hill and A. E. Scott. Next Monday night prohibition will be discussed, the chief wranglers being Messrs. John Millar and G. J. Smith—two gentlemen with the "B.A." handle to their names.

"Will Carleton Coming."

The Y.W.C.T.U. have secured the services of the well known genre poet, and on Thursday, May 10th, the Opera House will be opened to the public to enjoy an "Evening with Will Carleton." He is widely known in connection with his pathetic and faithful "Farm Ballads," but his "City Ballads" are of equal merit and beauty. These are contrasting subjects, such as "Wealth"—"Want"; "Fire"—"Water"; "Virtue"—"Vice"; "Travel"—"Home." An evening with Will Carleton will create a public debt of gratitude to the Y.W.C.T.U. Admission 25c., 35c., and 50 cents. Plan of Hall at A. L. Davis & Co.'s

Wait.

The purchasers of "Inverlea" (the Judge Dennistoun property) are subdividing it into building lots. Parties intending to buy choice building lots should wait a few days until plans of this property are completed. For particulars apply to
dw W. LANGFORD.

A Correction.

At the debate of the Otonabee Canoe Club, on Monday evening, the subject was:—"Resolved, that the frachise should be extended to women." One of the debaters on the affirmative, no doubt misled by a statement appearing recently in a local contemporary, which it was not thought worth while to correct, made the assertion that Mr. Stratton, the first session of the present Legislature, voted against women suffrage and last session voted in favor of it. If the person making this statement will turn up page 63 of the "Votes and Proceedings" he will see that in the session of 1887 Mr. Stratton voted against Mr. Waters' bill to enable married women to vote for members of municipal councils, while at the session just past he voted for the bill to enable widows and unmarried women, with the necessary property qualification, to vote in parliamentary elections. It will be seen that there is quite a difference between married women voting at municipal elections on the same terms as their husbands who own the property, and widows and unmarried women voting on property in their own right at Parliamentary Elections. This is an important distinction, which a desire for honest dealing would have pointed out in connection with the incorrect statement referred to above.

A Part of His History.

The man A. W. Vance, mentioned yesterday as having been a former resident of Peterborough, worked as a tailor in Mr. Hugh Ross' establishment about three years ago. He was a "bloomin' swell," if there ever was one, and at the same time a very bad man, as many who knew him will doubtless recollect. He was a great sport, too, and brought to town the trotter "Greybird." Vance behaved pretty well in Peterborough on the whole. He was addicted to poker-playing and other questionable occupations, but did not work any of the swindles for which he afterwards became noted. From here he went to Owen Sound, where he carried on business, but defrauded everybody he could. Not long ago he was seen in Toronto by a Peterborough man, to whom he related his exploits in Owen Sound, chuckling over the fact that he got hold of the stock and sold it off without paying anything for it. Finally his career has been ended in Kingston, where he is held on a charge, which has been proven, of passing counterfeit money. The Whig states that he worked for H. LeBrun in Peterborough. This is a mistake; Vance was employed by Hugh Ross. It is probable he will be sentenced to a long term in the penitentiary.

"Men Wanted."

The Most Important Fraternal—Must be Well Recommended, Steady, Industrious, Temperate and Pious.

Dobbin, an industriously-rainy evening had its effect in preventing more than a fair audience from being present at the services in connection with the anniversary of the Charlotte street Methodist church Sunday School, on Monday evening.

Rev. Mr. Tovell, pastor of the church, performed the duties of chairman and called on Rev. P. Clifton Parker, of the Murray street Baptist church, who offered prayers.

The Y.M.C.A. Quartette sang with excellent effect the glee, "The Harvest Moon."

The chairman mentioned that Mr. Clarke had been prevented by illness from being present to lecture, and told how Rev. M. Benson, of Toronto, had promptly responded to an appeal to speak to-night, and he would deliver his lecture on "Men Wanted."

The speaker plunged at once into his subject. The difficulty was that of men wanted there were so few who could answer the conditions. Idle and aimless young men were not standing still, but drifting downward. The speaker outlined the extent and resources of the Dominion of Canada, the growth and development of its institutions and resources. All these would not make the country great—as the mind made the man, so did the man make the nation. Men of sterling worth were the need of the hour. Individual and independent strength of character in the young was the secret of a young man's success. The noblest type of man was the man who worked to live, the man with a purpose. Every young man had an appointed position and duty, and his success depended upon the manner he filled it and performed it—the better for himself and the world. Man was to be valued by his highest intrinsic, not extrinsic, worth—goodness. All great men were men with a purpose. There were great deeds to be done in every department of life, and few these men were wanted. Men of action, like a river, could not be stopped by difficulties. True manhood did not trust to chance, but to fixed principles and purpose. All great men were animated by a steady purpose. Honest dealing and an honest scorn of trickery were insisted on. Young men to succeed must have purpose, order, plan and system; without these the hardest toil would be unproductive. Systematic endeavor, combined with decision and perseverance, would bring success—there was always room at the top. Strong men were wanted able to conquer themselves, and especially learn to say "no." Honesty was wanted. Honest merchants were entitled to honest prices. We wanted merchants who were not always selling below cost, men who did not always give special bargains "to you." We wanted honest, sincere men. Fault-finders and detractors were not wanted in any place. If you rise don't draw the ladder up after you—steady the ladder for others, and if they go above you help them up and rejoice in their elevation. Men of progress are wanted. "Onward" should be the watchword of all Christian men till they girdle the earth. Men were wanted who would live for the future. The highest possibilities of life could not be gained without the help of the strength of God. Man could not be at his best unless he were in the place God intended him to occupy. The lecture abounded with abundant and apt illustrations and eloquent periods to which no justice can be done in a condensed synopsis. There cannot be much hope for the hearer who listened to the address, "Men Wanted," without being made better—filled with higher aims and resolves.

At the conclusion of the address a vote of thanks, moved by Mr. W. Clarkson and seconded by Mr. J. R. Stratton, M.P.P., was passed with applause, and gracefully acknowledged by Mr. Benson.

The Y.M.C.A. Quartette sang "My Lady Sleeps" with great acceptability, and were honoured with an encore, to which they responded with a laughable musical absurdity, "Three Little Kittens."

Rev. Mr. Tovell referred to the personal gratification the lecture had given him, as well as the entire anniversary services. He referred to a letter appearing in the EXAMINER, referring to the lack of interest taken by parents in the School, and urged parents to take a deeper and warmer interest in the work.

The singing of the doxology and the benediction pronounced by Rev. Mr. Benson, brought the exercises of the evening to a close.

A Baseball League.

A Proposition to Organize a New League—A Professional Organization.

President Brennan, of the Baseball Club, has received the following communication:—

DEAR SIR,—We have organized a first-class Baseball Association here with a subscribed capital of $2,000, and are going in to play ball as it should be played this year. Now we think the interest in this game would be enhanced by the formation of a League circuit, to compose say, Kingston club, Park Nine, Brockville, Ottawa, Montreal, Watertown, Ogdensburg, N.Y., Port Hope, Peterborough and Belleville. What is your idea? Kindly let me know if you would be willing to enter such a circuit, with any suggestion you may see fit to make. A prompt answer will oblige

Yours truly,
C. A. ABRAHAMS,
Sec. B.B.B.C.

Belleville, Ont., April 29th, 1888.

The President will write for more minute particulars, as if Peterborough entered such a league the club here would have to become at least a semi-professional organization as in the other places. There is no doubt such a club could be organized, if only a few solid citizens would take hold of the matter. With an imported battery the club, as at present constituted, would not be one to be ashamed at.

The circular was to be laid before a meeting of the P.A.A.A. directors this afternoon for consideration.

Down a Well.

A repetition of the "Pussy-down-the-well" story occurred this morning. An elderly man named Dawson employed by Mr. McCarthy in assisting him to remove a shed on Brock street, stepped on a rotten platform covering an old well. Down he went right through the weak frame of boards to the bottom of the well, which was fortunately dry, a distance of 20 or 30 feet. A ladder was lowered to Dawson, who ascended to the earth's level pretty badly shaken up but not seriously hurt. His first remark was: "Shure, an' if there hadn't been no bottom I'd been goin' yet."

Vital Statistics.

The order of things was completely reversed last month. As a usual thing the births are the most numerous, then the marriages, then deaths. Last month the registrations were:—births, 22; marriages, 27; deaths, 23. The number of marriages and deaths is phenomenally large—in fact the largest ever registered in Peterborough. The month of April this year has been largely one of matrimony and mortality.

News Nuggets.

—Woodstock has a population of 8,314.

—Port Hope is to try and organize a base ball club.

—School Board meets this evening—that is, if a quorum can be got.

—The city of Brantford has a "P.C. Adams" as well as Peterborough.

—If a hen and a half lay an egg and a half in a day and a half, how many eggs will six hens lay in seven days?

—Woodstock is writhing in an agony of doubt as to whether the Queen's Own Rifles will favor that city with a visit on the 24th May.

—Mr. J. G. MacKlin, Midland Railway Engineer, will move into Orillia in the beginning of June. He will occupy the property purchased from Mr. John McCluskey, on Lake Simcoe, towards the Narrows.—News-Letter.

Orillia's Railway Service.

Under the new arrangement, says the Orillia Times, consequent upon the amalgamation of our railways, the Collingwood grain shipment will be carried through this way to Belleville, as it is about thirty-five or forty miles shorter than by Toronto. It is fifteen miles shorter to Port Hope from Collingwood by Orillia than by Toronto. The "main line" of the roads will probably be from Midland to Toronto in future, and this will be laid with steel rails as soon as possible. The passenger and freight rates will continue as heretofore. The company will either sell the Midland station or rent it to anyone wishing it for a summer hotel or factory. There will have to be a switchman at the Narrows, besides a bridgeman. The Grand Trunk will endeavor to give Orillia a train service which will completely satisfy everyone. All trains now running will be continued and if necessary others added.

Another Debate On.

At the meeting of the O.C.C. Monday night a challenge to debate was received from the Y.M.C.A. and accepted. The debate will be held at the Y. M. C. A. rooms on Thursday evening, 17th inst. Messrs. W. H. Hill and A. E. Scott were appointed to uphold the honor of the club in the discussion, the subject of which is the "party press."

The Penalty of Popularity.

Last December Mr. R. W. Lillico, of this township, had the misfortune to have his barns destroyed by fire. Last Thursday the neighbors turned out in force—about forty strong—and raised the framework of a new barn 45x50. It must be gratifying to Mr. Lillico to know that he stands so high in the practical esteem of his neighbors. The popularity he enjoys is well deserved. The EXAMINER hopes that the new barns, by way of christening, will have the boards bulged off by a bountiful harvest, and that the boys will have no more hard and hot luck like they had last fall.

LIFE ASSURANCE COMP'Y OF CANADA

HEAD OFFICE, MONTREAL.

Both in Magnitude and Profitableness, the Business for 1887 has been almost everything that could be desired.

The life policies now in force are 7,128 for $10,873,777.69, on 6741 lives. We have moreover $3,207,600 00 insured under 1,840 accident policies, so that the total current contracts of the Company are 8,969 for $14,081,377.69.

The income for the year shows the very large increase of $128,231.23 over the figures of 1886, the total being $495,831.54. The revenue is now half a million dollars per annum, or as mentioned in the report, over $1,600 for every working day in the year, and even this he believed was but a mere introduction to what it will be in a few years hence. The gains from time to time are well illustrated by the following table:—

Period	Gain in income.	Gain in assets.	Gain in assurances.
1872 to 1876, four years	$ 54,811 21	$169,492 69	$1,149,743 00
1876 to 1880, four years	38,580 87	196,188 29	1,167,288 14
1880 to 1884, four years	136,976 84	363,264 31	2,992,924 90
1884 to 1887, three years	217,451 99	475,977 24	4,029,373 65
Total in 1887	$495,831 54	$1,750,004 48	$10,873,777 69

It is very pleasing to notice that the gains for the last three years only are 60 per cent. more than those of the preceding four years.

GLADSTONE AND THE POPE

ANOTHER ESSAY ON VATICANISM PROBABLY FORTHCOMING.

A Possible Surprise in Store for the World—The Queen's Birthday to be Observed in London on May 26—Riches Serving a Noble Purpose.

LONDON, May 1.—It is probable that the next few weeks will witness the production of another essay on Vaticanism from the pen of the inexhaustible member for Midlothian. Mr. Gladstone combated fiercely the decrees which converted the doctrine of papal infallibility from a probable opinion into a dogma of the church. His attitude in that quarter was that of an outside observer; rather, perhaps, that of a dissentient or schismatic Catholic than of a Protestant of the English type.

Though Mr. Gladstone has promulgated enough, he has a more direct concern in the papal rescript which has been communicated to the Irish bishops, and will probably be soon made known by them to their clergy and flocks throughout the whole civilized world. The Pope is on the side of the ten commandments. His missive denounces the plan of campaign and boycotting. Doubtless an attempt will be made to detract from the weight of the censure by representing it as an unwarrantable interference on the part of the Pope in the domestic affairs of this country.

Mr. Gladstone, who has appeared in many new and astonishing characters, may have another surprise in store for the world. He may come forward as the leader of an agitation against papal aggression.

Court arrangements entirely depend on the health of the German Emperor. But if all is well, there will be a state ball and a state concert at Buckingham Palace during the first ten days of June, and a second ball and a second concert after Ascot. There has been a great deal of trouble in connection with the official celebration of the Queen's birthday, as the anniversary falls just in the middle of the Whitsuntide recess. It has been settled that the birthday will be kept in London on Saturday, May 26, so that the ministers and high officials will be obliged to curtail their holidays. They must return to town for the state banquet. The Prince of Wales will dine with Lord Salisbury.

I went to Grosvenor House, that sumptuous, gold-covered palace, where magnificent pictures from Sasso Ferrato to Teniers, and any number of articles of vertu, mosaics, china, bronzes jostle against each other, where the gold-bedecked carvings of the ceilings, the very magnificence of the doors and the rich, showy chairs in the hall preclude every idea that poverty can exist anywhere; yet if ever riches served a noble purpose it was the case on this occasion, where the object is the formation of a popular musical union which tries to keep poor people away from their deadly enemy, the public house, and teach them to sing. It is useful, recreative, and a prevention against temptation. The program set forth contained several interesting numbers. A most commendable specimen of the singing of the Whitechapel people was given in several songs very well executed.

Crofters to Come to Canada.

LONDON, May 1.—In the House of Commons to-day Right Hon. Mr. MacDonald, Lord Advocate of Scotland, stated that the Government proposed to advance £10,000 to promote emigration of crofters to Canada in addition to the sum raised by private subscriptions. Each crofter family will receive £120 to be repaid to the Government in twelve yearly instalments. Free land will be given to the crofters by the Canadian Government.

Delegates Banqueted.

LONDON, May 1.—Mr. White, the Secretary of the United States Legation, gave a banquet at his residence this evening, in honor of the delegates to the International Sugar Bounties Conference. The German, Austrian, Spanish, French, Italian, Dutch and Russian delegates were present. The proceedings were private and no speeches were made. After the banquet Mrs. White gave a reception.

Decided in Their Adherence.

DUBLIN, May 1.—At a private conference held to-day the priests of West Clare discussed the Papal rescript against the league. The speeches were of a deferential character, and no definite line of action was resolved upon. The people of Clare seem indifferent to the rescript and are decided in adherence to the entire program of the league.

Simcoe Assizes.

BARRIE, May 1.—The Spring Assizes for the County of Simcoe were commenced to-day before Mr. Justice Falconbridge. Mr. H. H. Strathy made an address, welcoming His Lordship to Barrie on the occasion of his first sitting here as presiding judge, to which Judge Falconbridge responded. Some forty-nine civil and twelve criminal cases will come up for hearing.

A $75,000 Blaze.

KEITHSBURG, Ill., May 1.—A block of business houses was burned here to-day, loss $75,000.

Chief Arthur Again at Chicago.

CHICAGO, May 1.—[illegible] Arthur of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers [illegible] this morning and took up his old quarters at the Grand Pacific. His presence seemed to cast a new light on the Burlington [illegible] and hopeful words about the men.

NOTES FROM THE CAPITAL.

SIR JOHN A. MACDONALD PROVED GUILTY OF A FALSEHOOD.

The Press Gallery Takes Up the Case of Minor Smythe—A Loan of $35,000,000 to be Floated by the Government—Politics in Russell County.

OTTAWA, May 1.—A lively scene occurred last night when Mr. Mills was speaking on the trade with England motion. He referred to Conservatives charging the Mackenzie Government with being "Men on the wheel," when Mr. Tarte interrupted and said that was Sir Richard Cartwright's original expression. Sir Richard told Mr. Davin he was [illegible] together even, and Sir John Macdonald chimed in that Davin was quite right. Sir Richard retorted that Sir John was making a statement utterly void of any foundation. Sir John heatedly rejoined that if Sir Richard denied it he was telling an untruth. Sir Richard then warmly told Sir John he was telling a falsehood.

In the House last night Mr. McCarthy propounded the new Tory policy which proposes to lower the tariff so as to admit English manufactures into the Canadian market on specially favorable terms, in return for which England is to give preference to Canada's natural products. Mr. McCarthy told the manufacturers that they had now been sufficiently protected to admit of the Government asking them to agree to the admission of English manufactures in order that the farmers might have a chance to prosper, but he would not admit that the N. P. was a failure. Oh, no! It was the very success that had built up Canadian manufactures at the expense of the farmers and now it was only fair that the farmers should have their innings. It has become evident to the Government that it cannot offset the unrestricted reciprocity with the United States by appeals to the N. P., and Mr. McCarthy said this is the alternative proposition. Sir John Macdonald sat facing Mr. McCarthy and listened with absorbed attention, and once or twice made a suggestion to Mr. McCarthy, which betrayed previous consultation, and coming as it does from a man of Cabinet rank and Cabinet expectations, if it takes, this policy will undoubtedly be endorsed by the Government and made the chief plank in its platform at the next general election.

Sir Charles Tupper has given notice of the Government's intention to float a 4 per cent. loan of $35,000,000, which was foreshadowed in the Budget speech.

Within three weeks of prorogation the Government have given notice of four new bills—one to replace the Minister of Justice's abortive bill to amend the Supreme Court Act, which will deal with French representation and the quorum; one to amend the Copyright Act and another the Bank Acts. The important Northwest bill has not yet even been printed.

At the nomination in Russell yesterday, Mr. Costigan, Minister of Inland Revenue, raised the Riel issue by stating that the rebellion was fomented by Liberals in the Northwest. Mr. Ernest Tremblay replied, and said the Government must then have hanged the wrong man. The meeting was very lively. Mr. Peterson of Brant made a speech in support of Mr. Edwards, who himself spoke in French and English. Mr. Edwards is certain to carry the county by 200 majority.

At a meeting of the journalists of the Capital held this afternoon a resolution protesting against the imprisonment of Editor John T. Hawke of The Moncton, N.B., Transcript, sentenced to two months for libel, on the ground that he had not been given an opportunity to try himself before his peers, was adopted. Another resolution was also carried. It asked the Minister of Justice to investigate the charges of drunkenness made against Judge Fraser by Editor Hawke, and appointed a deputation to wait on the Press Gallery, and decided as well to appeal to the Canadian Press Association.

In the Senate to-day the whole sitting, which lasted until 11.30, was devoted to consideration of the Fisheries Treaty. Mr. Power, who had opposed the treaty, moved an amendment to the last clause. Under the final sub-section of this clause the Government may keep alive the modus vivendi as far as Canada is concerned, even after the rejection of the treaty by the United States. Mr. Power's amendment was to the effect that rejection by the United States Senate should bring the matter to a close. This was rejected. Though Senators McInnes, Power and others opposed the treaty no vote was recorded, but the second reading of the bill was carried on a division.

It is learned on good authority that the Government has given instructions to have the cruisers used in the protection of the fisheries got ready for service at once. Whether they are intended to be ready for another campaign in defence of Canada's territorial rights in case of the absolute rejection of the treaty by the American Senate, or whether it is to attempt the protection of the inshore fisheries under the provisions of the treaty, which the Minister of Marine a year ago declared an impossibility, is not known.

Prince Ferdinand's Task.

BUCHAREST, May 1.—Prince Ferdinand of Bulgaria has arrived at Plevna. In an address at a banquet he said: The popular affection and loyalty strengthens me to defend the interest and lives of the people, and to secure a national triumph. My task is a difficult one, and I hope Bulgarian patriots will support me.

M. Stambuloff, Minister of the Interior, who accompanies the Prince, said the people and the army supported the Government and upheld the banner of independence while the country was without a Prince. After Prince Alexander, who had not the courage to remain, had departed, Prince Ferdinand, who represents the glory and independence of the country, was the only man who responded to the country's appeal.

The Extradition and Fisheries Treaties.

NEW YORK, May 1.—The Herald's Washington special says: Secretary Bayard stated yesterday that he called Minister Phelps from London to use his influence with senators to secure the ratification of the Extradition Treaty.

The majority of the Foreign Relations Committee yesterday reported adversely the Fishery Treaty. It is understood Secretary Bayard now desires the further consideration of the treaty to be postponed until next winter, but is not certain that the Republican majority of the Senate will agree to this. There is a disposition among the Republican senators to reject the Fishery Treaty at once.

A South American Mob.

SANTIAGO, May 1.—On Sunday a mob composed of the worst classes set fire to and destroyed thirty cars of the tram company in consequence of the company not acceding to a petition to reduce rates. The ringleaders were captured. Loss, $150,000.

Glass Factories Resume Work.

PITTSBURG, May 1.—All the flint glass houses in this district were fired up to-day. The resumption of the factories will give employment to 1500 men of this district who have been idle for over five months.

Defaulter a Defaulter.

NEW YORK, May 1.—The directors of the National Park Bank this morning authorized the statement that Assistant Cashier Charles Debeur was a defaulter in the sum of $96,000. He was under bonds but they will not cover the loss. Debeur resigned from all connection with the bank on April 19, stating that he did so by reason of ill-health. Since then he has not been at the bank.

RAISED TO THE MINISTRY.

THE PORTFOLIO OF AGRICULTURE GIVEN TO CHAS. DRURY, M.P.P.

The Appointment Regarded as a Good One—Sketch of the Honorable Gentleman's Life—He Presides in the Methodist Pulpit at Times.

TORONTO, May 2.

"Common honors are to be commemorate with all but peculiar honors with choice," saith the wise man. Verily, wealth and honors are not showered on men equally. Charles Drury was the choice at yesterday's meeting of Mr. Mowat's Cabinet and therefore he will come in for the peculiar honors

HON. CHAS. M. DRURY.

This is the picture of the new Minister of Agriculture. It will be seen that he is simply handsome and that he wears a serious and rather intellectual mien. He is burly in figure, plain in dress, Methodistic in appearance when you talk to him and then answers. Mr. Drury reminds one very much of a Quaker. His quiet demeanor and seriousness speak the "thee" and "thou" to anyone who does not know him.

His business is farming. He and his brother dwell together in friendly unity on a four hundred acre farm at Crown Hill, Simcoe county, and pursue their calling thriftily. Mixed husbandry is their style of farming.

The least events often turn the course of a man's life. Mr. Charles Drury, M. P. P., M. of A., but for a little circumstance, might now have been signing his name Charles Drury, M.A., D.D. He was a slender youth at 20 and religiously disposed. He thought of entering the Methodist ministry and went some distance in his course. But a cough intervened and he was obliged to engage in a more bracing pursuit. Even now, in his 43rd year, his inclination for the pulpit is still with him. He frequently ascends the Methodist pulpit near his home, and when duty calls, travels over the country to do service for other denominations.

As a speaker he may be considered a success, as when he rises to address the House the members all listen attentively; but his voice is husky, unless he keeps a glass of water handy.

He has been a widower since 1878, and his family consists of one son.

His full name is Charles Edward Drury, but he is contented with signing only the front name.

Charles Drury was born at Crown Hill, a village five miles from Barrie, on Sept. 4, 1844. He went to the Public School there when a boy and continued in attendance till he was 18 years old. At that time he went to the Barrie High School, then in high fame, being under the principalship of the Rev. Mr. Checkly. When he reached his majority he left the High School and turned his attention to farming, which pursuit he has been following ever since.

He began quite an eventful political life when in his 25th year. He was at that age made one of those all-powerful individuals—a school trustee. In 1875 he entered the lists for municipal honors, and was elected as councillor for the Township of Oro. Then he grew bolder. In the following year he contested the reeveship of that township with Mr. J. C. Steele, who had held the office for 17 years. Mr. Steele was elected by 60 majority. The next year, however, undaunted, he tried again and was elected reeve over Mr. Steele by precisely the same majority he was defeated by. He has been reeve of the township ever since. In 1883 he was a candidate in the Reform interest as representative of West Simcoe in the Dominion Parliament. Mr. Dalton McCarthy, his opponent, was elected by 240. In October of the same year he turned his attention to Provincial politics, contesting East Simcoe with Dr. Slavin of Orillia as representative in the Ontario Legislature, and this time he was elected by 221. On the dissolution of the House in 1886 he was again a candidate in East Simcoe as representative in the Local House. He was elected over Mr. H. H. Thompson by 23. The usual result, in the case of a close election, came—an election trial. The judges in the lower court disagreed on his cause, and the case was carried to the Court of Appeal. This court set aside the election, but held that they had no power to report the decision of the court to the Speaker of the Legislature. The judges in the court below, in their turn, held that it was not their duty to report the decision of the Court of Appeal. Hence, the voiding of the election was never reported and Mr. Drury's advisers maintained his right to take his seat. This advice was not taken, and the matter was finally settled by Mr. Drury's accepting a nominal appointment under the crown which vacated the seat. He then resigned the position and in the election which followed was successful in increasing his majority to 117. Owing to these late circumstances the constituency was not represented till 1885. In the general election in 1886 he was also returned, his majority being 214. He has held the constituency ever since.

Mr. Drury was elected in 1878 to represent agricultural district No. 12, consisting of Algoma, Parry Sound, Muskoka and Simcoe in the Council of the Agricultural and Arts Association. In 1882 he was chosen President of the Association and has been re-elected to the Council without opposition three consecutive terms.

In 1881 he was elected a director of the Canadian Fruit Growers' Association, but in 1884 he voluntarily retired. He has been one of the auditors of the Association since his retirement from the Board.

He has served a number of years as Director on the West Simcoe Agricultural Society's Board of Directors, and is at present a Director of the joint stock company which erected the exhibition buildings in Barrie.

The Dominion Guarantee Insurance Society has claimed him as Director ever since that society was instituted.

INDIGNANT LIVE STOCK MEN.

They Protest Against the Reserves Contained by the Steamship Companies.

TORONTO, May 2.

The Dominion Live Stock Association held a special general meeting, yesterday afternoon, in the Albion Hotel, to consider the action of the Allan, [illegible] Steamship Companies, compelling shippers to place their [illegible] through them. President John Dunn was in the chair, there being present Ald. Frankland, C. Flanagan, M. M. Thompson, W. H. Gould, A. J. [illegible], R. Morgan, George [illegible] Gould, S. Price, John Gunn, Hugh Kelly, J. [illegible] Coughlin, B. W. Craig, Thomas Crawford, C. M. Acer, T. O. Robeson, and about 100 others.

After the president had stated the object of the meeting, Mr. R. Jones, seconded by W. Cormack, moved this resolution:

Whereas it has come to the knowledge of this association that a combination has been entered into by the Allan [illegible] Steamship Companies, whereby [illegible] corporate companies who ship by their lines into exorbitant insurance conditions issued by the "Montreal Lloyds" and "Export Lloyds" on grain insured by the said Lloyds companies, and refusing the premium of insurance to their freight rates without even assuming the rate the shipper is paying for such insurance; such action on the part of the three principal steamship lines is detrimental to our interests as cattle exporters inasmuch as it has a tendency to prevent healthy competition between steamship companies for freight and between insurance companies for insurance rates;

Be it resolved that a committee consisting of John Dunn, Thos. Crawford, C. M. Acer, R. W. Craig, J. Gould, John Gunn, G. Flanagan, Samuel Price, T. O. Robeson and J. C. Coughlin be appointed to wait on the agents of these companies and endeavor to induce them to modify their "conditions" as follows, viz.:

That the steamship companies shall quote the shipper a rate of insurance by their respective lines separate and distinct from the rate for carrying live stock, and shall give shippers the right to accept or refuse such insurance; and that this committee report the result of their interview at a meeting of the Executive of the Association to be held in Montreal on Friday, May 4; and while this association is averse to resorting to extreme measures for the protection of their rights, yet in the event of this committee not being able to make the above mentioned arrangements with the steamship companies, the Executive Committee be empowered and are hereby instructed to immediately issue such instructions to the members of this association as will effectually counteract this threatened invasion of our rights.

Capt. Melly, who had been sent up by the steamship company from Montreal to defend their action before the association, quoted figures for half an hour in an effort to prove to the members that the motives of the combine were purely unselfish and influenced simply for the good of the trade. Ald. Frankland in a rousing speech tore the captain's arguments to pieces, the resolution being carried unanimously.

TORONTO TOPICS.

The warrants calling for the payment of 2½ per cent dividend to Central Bank depositors were payable yesterday, a large number being cashed at the Canadian Bank of Commerce.

The authorities of Savannah, Ga., are determined to secure possession of Adam Brown's pardon. Constable [illegible] Westbrook, of the city and Detective Kavanagh of Rochester arrived in Toronto yesterday with a view of pressing the extradition proceedings. They will try to get him back on a charge of attempted murder, it being alleged that he attacked Alexander M. Bebee, conductor on the Queen Line Railway, and assaulted him so severely that for a time his life was despaired of. In the Police Court yesterday Morse was remanded until to-day in order to give the County Judge time to issue the necessary warrant and have him brought before his court.

When the York Pioneers met in the Canadian Institute yesterday afternoon with Dr. Scadding in the chair, the committee on arrangements for the annual excursion reported in favor of the society going to Brantford on the evening of June 22 to spend the following day there. The report was unanimously endorsed, and a committee composed of Pioneers W. H. Dool, W. Lee and E. W. Crawford was delegated to precede the main body, and see that the members wanted for nothing.

THE DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

Debate on the Budget—Sir Richard's Amendment Lost on Division.

OTTAWA, May 1.—This was eminently a day of talk in both houses. The Senate continued the debate on the treaty till until 11.45 to-night, when the bill, after passing through committee of the whole, was read a third time and passed. This finishes the treaty bill as far as the Canadian Parliament is concerned.

The House went into Committee on Ways and Means and considered the "new statutory offer." Sir Richard Cartwright asked how it differed from the old one. Sir Charles Tupper said that green fruit, seeds, plants and trees were omitted because they were already free, and could not be made subject to a duty except by a tariff bill; also that the following articles mentioned in the old offer were omitted: Bran, coal, coke, hops, wheat, Indian corn, flour of wheat, flour and meal of any other kind, lard, tallow, salted or smoked meats. The following were added to the old list: Fish of all kinds, salt and fresh fish, oil, fish products, fresh meat, poultry, wood pulp, stone in the rough, marble in the rough, burr and grindstones, ground and calcined gypsum. Many of these changes were made in conformity with the Mills Bill, now before Congress. Mr. Mitchell strongly opposed the taking wheat and corn off the list. Mr. O'Brien said he opposed the proposal for exactly the opposite reason—first, because it placed the country in a humiliating position in regard to the United States, and second, because it was in antagonism to the N.P. He thought the statutory offer should be repealed altogether. The debate was resumed by Messrs. Mills, Mitchell, Watson, Jones and Sir Richard Cartwright, the latter declaring that the real reason for the change was the fear of losing the revenue on the omitted articles in view of the deficit.

Hon. Mr. Thompson stated his view that green fruits, etc., having been made free, could not again be subject to duty without legislation.

The amendment was lost on a vote of 117 to 66.

DESERVING ENCOURAGEMENT.

Peterborough, in some respects, is not so advantageously placed as the larger cities. Especially is this the case in the matter of entertainments. The town does not afford a sufficiently large constituency to warrant singers, elocutionists or lecturers in making a visit unsupported by some local organization, willing to undertake the financial responsibility, or develop a public interest equivalent to the assumption of such a responsibility. During the past season we have been indebted to sundry local societies for the visit of some eminent personages, whom the stay-at-home portion of our citizens would never have had the pleasure of hearing, but for these specially created opportunities. The latest caterers for public amusement and entertainment of the higher order, are the ladies of the Young Women's Christian Temperance Union, who have completed arrangements for the appearance in Peterborough of the noted poet, Will Carleton. The public, who are invited to spend "an evening with Will Carleton, will be favored with an intellectual entertainment of the highest and most refined character. We hope the public will show a practical appreciation of the enterprise which has made such an opportunity available. This excellent organization, the Y.W.C.T.U., exists for the promotion of objects which demand the active sympathy of all desirous of aiding the moral elevation of the community. And certainly the public will not be backward in manifesting this sympathy, when, in addition to doing good they will be getting good. Besides, the entertainment will be of the highest merit. Will Carleton is the poet of the heart and hearth, and if he has been able to write himself into the hearts of the people, surely he will be equally able to speak himself into their hearts. It will undoubtedly by a great treat to listen to the voice of one with whom we have spent so many happy hours, and such a treat the W.C.T.U. present to the public on Thursday evening, May 10th, in the Opera House.

Our good Tory rulers are constantly assuring us that Canada is a happy and prosperous country—that everything is going on swimmingly, and that we are making rapid strides to the status of a great nation. In one direction it must be admitted that immense progress is being made—that is, in piling up debt and increasing expenditures. A few figures will serve to show the rapid progress we are making. For instance in the year 1878, when the present careful and economical government came into power, the net debt of the Dominion Government was only $140,362,069. Under ten years of the careful and able administration of the government the net debt to-day is $238,235,786. Here is progress for you: an increase of public indebtedness of $87,873,717 in ten years, or on an average of $8,787,371 per year. The total yearly expenditure in 1878, when the present careful and economical government came into power, was only $23,503,156; during ten years of Tory rule it has grown to $35,658,161, an increase of $12,155,003, or a million and a quarter a year. This is a sample of progress made under Tory rule. Is this the kind of progress the people of this country admire? This immense burden of debt annually, this regular and appallingly regular increase of the yearly pay-roll, represents increased burdens for the people. The taxes, being paid indirectly are not directly felt, but that does not alter the fact that every man, woman and child in the Dominion has to pay a yearly tax of $7 in addition to municipal and school taxes, every family of five $35, and every family of ten, $70. And, what makes it worse, this burden falls more severely on the poorer classes, as set forth by Sir Richard Cartwright in the preamble to his recent resolution, offered in the House of Commons, as follows:

That the said debt and expenditure have increased in a ratio very far in excess of the increase of the wealth and population of the country during the said interval;

That the said expenditure is provided for by a system of taxation so adjusted as to press with extreme and unjust severity upon the thrifty and industrious producer, and especially upon all farmers, day laborers, mechanics, artisans and factory operatives, who are at present subject to a customs taxation on articles necessary to life and comfort amounting to nearly one thousand per cent. more than that levied upon members of the corresponding classes in Great Britain and Ireland;

That the mischief caused by the present system is further aggravated by the very general substitution of specific for ad valorem duties, whereby the injustice of the existing mode of taxation and the unfair preference shown to rich consumers, over the less wealthy is at one and the same time increased and concealed, and that it is expedient that the said injustice should be remedied and that the wealthy classes should be compelled to bear their fair proportionate share of the burden of taxation.

A MAN who accepts his seat as a member of parliament by the dictum of a partizan returning officer is not likely to be troubled with a superexcessitive conscience in other respects. Mr. Baird who sits for, but does not represent, Queen's county, New Brunswick, drew the whole of his sessional indemnity last year, save three days, although he was away from Ottawa from the 8th to the 26th of May. To obtain his indemnity he had to sign a declaration to the effect that he was present every day that the House sat with the exception of three days. "But mind," asks the Montreal Herald, "could he be expected of a man who would consent to occupy a seat stolen for him by a shameless Returning officer? If the members of the House of Commons have any respect for themselves they should bring such conduct to the notice of the House."

IF the mortality of members of parliament continues at the rate of the past short time, the lucky candidate will be the one who is defeated. The death of Mr. Gaudet, M.P. for Nicolet, is the ninth breach made by death in the ranks of the present parliament. There must be something radically wrong about the ventilation and drainage of the House of Commons Chamber.

GOVERNMENT WORK.

Mr. A. Ross has almost completed a big piece of work in putting in the piers at the head of the canal, filling in a leak in the locks with gravel and Portland cement, making some necessary repairs to the planking and repointing the stone work. The work has been thrown back a week by the bank breaking at the end of the coffer-dam and letting the canal fill. All that remains to be done now is to put in the new gates at the head of the locks which were built during the winter, and to put in new swinging gear under the swing bridge. Mr. Ross is an energetic foreman, and if his men do not work it is not because he does not set them a good example.

"Yes; I shall break the engagement," she said, folding her arms and looking defiant; "it is really too much trouble to converse with him; he's as deaf as a post, and talks like he had a mouthful of mush. Besides, the way he hawks and spits is disgusting." "Don't break the engagement for that; tell him to take Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. It will cure him completely." "Well I'll tell him. I do hate to break it off, for in all other respects he's quite too charming." Of course, it cured his catarrh. o

Water Filters.

To insure good health it is absolutely necessary to have pure water, and no water is entirely free from floating matter and disease terms without thorough filtration. The majority of cases of typhoid and other low fevers are in a measure caused from unfiltered and impure water, so that every family who values its health should have a reliable filter. Numerous filters are offered to the public varying in points of excellence, but for cheapness, efficiency and durability, our filters cannot be surpassed. No corroding substances are used in construction. The packing material is the most powerful specially prepared granulated carbon. It will last for years with the ordinary use of a family, and the material may be obtained from us at any time for replenishing at small expense. Sold in Peterborough only at China Hall. dw

BUILDING LOTS

Such as Nos. 1, 2 and 3, noted below are not like merchandise when sold; locality and situation cannot always be replaced. There are many persons living in distant parts of the town and Ashburnham to whom a residence within five minutes walk of any of the churches, Post Office, Market and principal stores, would be a great boon. To such we would say do not delay. Come to the office and discuss the matter. We may buy from you or sell to you. You have Something to Gain and Nothing to Lose.

1. That beautiful situation on Brock Street, east of and adjoining Mr. Nugents' new residence, so high above all surroundings, so central, so retired, and yet so convenient for all purposes. A most suitable place for a Doctor's Office and residence, or for any person wishing to reside near his Office or Business. Front Lot is 60x120 ft. to lane. Rear Lot is 65x124 ft., with an inexhaustable supply of first-class water. 30, 35 and 40 feet frontage can be had of this lot with stable accommodation if desired.

2. This is an extremely fine Lot, with about 75 feet frontage on Water Street, by 115 feet deep. It has an east front, facing St. Paul's Church, and will be sold in one or two lots. Act promptly.

3. Is a fine Lot on Stewart Street, 57x115 ft. opposite Messrs. Hall and Sheppard's beautiful mansions, protected on the north by the Chief of Police, and charmed on the south by a professor of music.

4. In addition to the above, we have good lots in north, east, south and west parts of the Town, and for large lots at low prices, we would call attention to the Ledgate, Carlisle, and Toronto Real Estate Investment Co'y's suburban additions, where good value can be had for small investments.

For Houses and Lots in all parts of the town, Ashburnham and Auburn, we have variety and value to suit any reasonable buyer. We have Garden Lots from one to ten acres for Sale and to rent. Also, several Farms, one large Farm with good buildings, fall crop and ploughing to rent cheap. All are invited to call at our office, or write for further particulars

WEDNESDAY, MAY 2, 1888.

LOCAL NEWS.

The Weather.

Moderate winds, fine and a little milder.

Seasonable and Sensible.

These words apply to the Golden Lion's unlimited stock of dress goods of unlimited variety and unequalled beauty. For ladies' dresses there are Chambreys, Chambrey embroideries, all-over embroideries, Swiss muslins, edgings, laces, prints, cashmerettes, crinkle cloths and anything else that can be asked for in the line of ladies' dress goods. The lady who cannot find what she requires at the Golden Lion, deserves the fate of Miss Flora McFlimsy—"nothing to wear."

Dont forget the Auction Sale of Mr. George Dunsford's household and other furniture to-morrow at 1 o'clock p.m., Thursday, 3rd of May, instant, near the Bank of Montreal, Simcoe street.

The Drama.

The two performances of Miss Claire Scott and her dramatic company at the Opera House gave general satisfaction to the slim audiences that attended. The plays were "Queen Bess," and "Mary, Queen of Scots," with Miss Scott in the title roles. Miss Scott is herself a fine actress, and portrays the characters skillfully and effectively, but her support, with the exceptions perhaps of Mr. Coburn and Miss Berkley, was none of the best. The costumes, though, were superb—faultlessly true to the times and very rich. Altogether the performances were thoroughly enjoyable and well worth the prices of admission. The company is deserving of better houses than greeted them here.

Steamer Golden Eye.

This staunch steamer has been thoroughly overhauled and fitted up with comfortable seats, and is now in first-class order. Several improvements have been made in her machinery by Mr. J. H. Peck, which will make her one of the fastest boats on the inland waters She will be commanded this summer by Capt. McDonald, the obliging officer who ran her so successfully last year. Regular trips will be made about the 14th May, when she will call at Jubilee Point, Harwood. Idyl Wild, and continue to White's Mill to enable the Alnwick people to make Peterborough their market town. Three afternoons in the week special trips will be made to Jubilee Point, when a string band will be on board for dancing.

Weather Lore.

The weather manufacturer must be in a fickle frame of mind. He is very arbitrary. Last week he jumped us from winter to summer in a day, and on Monday we were launched back again without warning. Judging from the snowfall on May Day (Tuesday) winter is still lingering in the lap of spring, to use an expression that was original about the time Noah scooted over the tree tops and mountains on top of the water. Old winter knows he has a "soft snap," too, and evidently intends to linger just where he is just as long as he is allowed. Rouse yourself, O mighty weather clerk! Give grim old winter the grand bounce and let young summer appear with his warmth and beauty.

Amateur Athletics.

A meeting of the directors of the P.A.A.A. was held Tuesday afternoon. The chief business considered was the proposal to enlarge the grounds, and a committee was appointed to negotiate for the purchase of land adjacent to the grounds, and report the terms obtainable to the board. The advisability of establishing a gymnasium during the winter was also considered and the same committee was instructed to wrestle with the proposition during the summer and, if found expedient, formulate a feasible plan for beginning operations in the fall. A quantity of cricket and baseball material was ordered, and the report of the committee regarding the arrangement with the Y.M.C.A. lacrosse club was approved of. With regard to the baseball league question, the board considered it had no jurisdiction, as the club would have to become professional in order to enter the league, and as the Association was amateur, it could not be consistently arranged. The committee appointed in connection with the Queen's Birthday celebration also reported progress.

Down to Business Again.

The School Board at Last Have a Meeting—The Collegiate Institute Squabbling—After the Truants Now—The North Ward School and other Matters.

In the absence of Chairman Stevenson Trustee Deane was voted to the chair at Tuesday night's meeting of the School Board. The members turned out in full force and seemed to be in good business trim after their two months and a half relaxation from the arduous duties devolving upon them in connection with their offices as trustees. There were present besides Chairman Deane, Messrs. Dumble, Hill, Kendry, Stratton, McWilliams, A. Rutherford, T. Rutherford, Dr. Burnham, Weir, English, Hughes, Wrighton and O'Meara.

COMMUNICATIONS AND PETITIONS.

A letter was received from the department stating that unless the obligatory requirements upon the Collegiate Institute were completed by September 1st, the status of the Institute would be reduced.—Received.

A large number of the pupils of the Collegiate Institute petitioned for the continuance of the services of Sergeant-Major Randle as drill instructor.—Received and dealt with later on.

A communication was received from the Minister of Education, pointing out the advantages of the Kindergarten system of teaching in schools, and requesting the Board to consider the advisibility of establishing the system in the Peterborough schools.—Received.

Mr. Stirling, Principal of the South Ward School, sent in a formal application for leave of absence to visit Scotland on business, which was granted.

Mr. James A. Fife asked for an increase of salary to the same amount as that paid the other assistant teachers in the Collegiate Institute. His application was referred to the Appointments Committee.

From Mr. T. A. Rowan, B.A., requesting a settlement of his claim for back wages. On motion $50 was granted as full settlement.

The Secretary stated that checks, $90, the meteorological grant, and $661.25, the Collegiate Institute grant, were received from the Department.

ACCOUNTS.

The following accounts were presented and referred to the Finance Committee:—

J. D. Baptie, athletic apparatus	$10 00
Salisbury & Bro	4 55
Times Printing Co	10 50
W. Bruce, copy slips	1 50

THE SCHOOLS.

Chairman A. Rutherford presented the report of the School supervision Committee, recommending the acceptance of the tender of Thos. Menzies for supplying stationery for the schools. The report stated also that the committee had visited the schools and found them in fairly good order. The committee, on enquiry, had found that there was a falling off in the attendance during March as compared with February, particularly the pupils coming from Ashburnham.

The report was adopted.

COLLEGIATE INSTITUTE.

There was considerable discussion respecting the equipment and buildings of the Institute.

Mr. STRATTON thought it would be well for the Board to extend an invitation to the Minister of Education to visit the Institute. Should he accept and come, it might be a means of arranging matters between the Board, the inspectors and the department, and probably the minister might be induced to forego his intention of withholding the Institute grant.

Mr. WRIGHTON could not see what good could come out of a visit from the Minister.

Mr. KENDRY said he had a resolution for a school in the north ward, which might solve the difficulty.

Mr. DUMBLE thought a visit from the Minister would enable him to see the buildings and the relation of the Institute buildings and the surroundings.

Mr. STRATTON thought no harm could come out of a visit and moved, seconded by Mr. English, that inasmuch as the recent reports of the Inspector of Collegiate Institutes have been adverse to the standing of this Institute, both in the matter of buildings and educational equipment, and whereas further neglect on the part of this Board to carry out the requirements of the departmental regulations in the above respects, will endanger the standing of the Collegiate Institute; therefore, resolved, that this Board invite the Hon. the Minister of Education to visit the town and inspect the premises and look over the situation generally, and to ascertain by personal observation whether he will consider it his duty to insist on the application of the letter of the regulations of the department in the matter of the Institute buildings and equipment.

The resolution was adopted, as well as a subsequent resolution to instruct the secretary to invite the Minister of Education to visit the school, and, should he consent, to name a day, and that the whole Board be a committee to accompany the Minister when engaged in the proposed inspection.

APPLICATION FOR CERTIFICATE.

Moved by Mr. STRATTON, seconded by Dr. Burnham, that whereas Mrs. Fowler (nee Miss Mathews) during her past fifteen years connection with this Board has rendered so efficient services that the Board has recognised her fitness as a teacher on more than one occasion, resolved, that the inspector be requested to communicate with the Hon. the Minister of Education, and ask him, on behalf of this Board, to issue to Mrs. Fowler a third class certificate.—Carried.

POSTAGE ON REPORTS.

Mr. RUTHERFORD stated that the postage bill of the principal of the Institute, in sending out the monthly reports was costing about $25 per year; he moved, seconded by Mr. Weir, that it be discontinued and the reports for the parents be handed to the pupils. After some discussion in regard to having these reports go by mail or hand, the resolution was adopted.

UNION ELECTIONS.

Mr. A. Rutherford gave notice that he would move at the next meeting of the board that the election for public school trustees be held on the same day and place as elections for councillors, and that the voting be by ballot.

Dr. Burnham gave notice that at the next meeting of the board that the government be memorialized to change the mode of electing high school trustees to the same manner as that of electing public school trustees—that is by popular vote.

NORTH WARD SCHOOL.

Mr. KENDRY moved, seconded by Mr. T. Rutherford, that Messrs. Deane, T. Rutherford, Weir, Dumble and the moved be a committee to choose a site for a North Ward school, the board to be called together as soon as the site is selected to hear and deal with the report.

THE DRILL SERGEANT.

The question of re-appointing Sergt.-Major Randell as drill instructor for the Collegiate Institute, next came up. Mr. Long and Mr. Smith attested the value of the exercises, which did not noticeably interfere with the classes. Several members of the Board also spoke in favor of the appointment, and it was pointed out that the school regulations provided for a government grant of $50 for such purposes.

TRUANT MASTER ALSO.

The proposition was mooted that the Sergeant-Major be appointed at a salary of $200 per year, he to look after truants in addition to his drill duties.

Mr. ROTHERFORD wanted the matter left over for consideration.

Mr. HUGHES supported him. He considered that the action of the Board in this matter might cause much comment from outside parties if they acted too hastily. He pointed out that if a drill instructor was engaged at a salary, a place would have to be provided for drilling in the winter. Nothing was to be lost by leaving it over for consideration. He was in favor of having the drill but wanted more time to look into the details.

It was shown in explanation that the drill and calisthenics were one of the obligatory requirements of the Institute.

Mr. DUNBLE moved, seconded by Mr. O'Meara, that Sergt.-Major Randell be appointed drill sergeant and truant officer at $200 per annum, the Supervision Committee to define his duties.

The motion was carried, after which the Board adjourned.

"Commercial" Progress.

Mr. Ed. Brown is thoroughly renovating the old "Commercial" Hotel, George street. Under Mr. Brown's energetic management the Commercial is taking a big stride towards the front rank.

The Governor General.

Governor General and Lady Lansdowne are saying farewell to their subjects in Montreal and Ottawa, where they have been tendered enthusiastic receptions. They will visit Toronto in a few days, and in doing so will have occasion to pass through Peterborough. Would it not be a good idea to get up some sort of a brief farewell reception while the train is waiting here?

"Will Carleton Coming."

The Y.W.C.T.U. have secured the services of the well known genre poet, and on Thursday, May 10th, the Opera House will be opened to the public to enjoy an "Evening with Will Carleton." These are contrasting subjects, each as "Wealth"—"Want"; "Fire"—"Water"; "Virtue"—"Vice"; "Travel"—"Home." An evening with Will Carleton will create a public debt of gratitude to the Y.W.C.T.U. ONTARIO TO THE FRONT!

A Matter Of Vital Importance.

The following unsolicited opinions from your friends and neighbors, men and women, whom you know and respect, ought to carry conviction to any doubting mind. These words of gratitude are from those who have been afflicted out are now well, and the persons giving them are naturally solicitous that others, troubled as were they, may know the means of cure. There is no reason why you should be longer ill from kidney, liver or stomach troubles. You can be cured as well as others. Do not longer delay of treatment, but to-day obtain that which will restore you to permanent health and strength:

286 McNab St. North, HAMILTON, Can., Nov., 2, 1886.—I had been suffering for over twenty years from a pain in the back and one side of the head, and indigestion. I could eat scarcely any thing, and everthing I ate disagreed with me. I was attended by physicians who examined me and stated that I had enlargement of the liver, and that it was impossible to cure me. They also stated I was suffering from heart disease, inflammation of the bladder, kidney disease, bronchitis and catarrh, and that it was impossible for me to live. They attended me for three weeks without making any improvement in my condition. I commenced taking "Warner's Safe Cure" and "Warner's Safe Pills," acting strictly up to directions as to diet, and took thirty-six bottles, and have had the best of health ever since. My regular weight used to be 180 lbs. When I commenced "Warner's Safe Cure" I only weighed 140 lbs. I now weigh 210 lbs.

Mrs. E. Hurlburg

FT CATHERINES, Ont., Jan. 24th, 1887.—About six years ago I was a great sufferer from kidney disease, and was in misery all the while. I hardly had strength enough to walk straight and was ashamed to go on the street. The pains across my back were almost unbearable, and I was unable to find relief, even temporarily. I began the use of "Warner's Safe Cure," and inside of one week I found relief, and after taking eight bottles, I was completely cured.

W. E. Kinney

Manager for American Express Co.

TORONTO, (18 Division Street) Sept. 17, 1887.—Three years ago last August my daughter was taken ill with Bright's disease of the kidneys. The best medical skill in the city was tasked to the utmost, but to no purpose. She was racked with convulsions for forty-eight hours. Our doctor did his best, and went away saying the case was hopeless. After she came out of the convulsions, she was very weak and all her hair fell out. The doctor had left us about a month when I concluded to try Warner's Safe Cure," and after having taken six bottles, along with several bottles of "Warner's Safe Pills" I saw a decided change for the better of her condition. After taking twenty-five bottles there was complete cure. My daughter has now a splendid head of hair and weighs more than she ever did before.

Mrs. Jos Brown

CHATHAM, Ont., March 6, 1888.—In 1864 I was completely run down. I suffered most severe pains in my back and kidneys, so severe that at times I would almost be prostrated. A loss of ambition, a great desire to urinate, without the ability of so doing, coming from me as it were in drops. The urine was of a peculiar color and contained considerable foreign matter. I became satisfied that my kidneys were in a congested state and that I was running down rapidly. Finally I concluded to try "Warner's Safe Cure," and in forty-eight hours after I had taken the remedy I voided urine that was as black as ink, containing quantities of mucus, pus and gravel. I continued and it was not many hours, before my urine was of a natural straw color, although it contained considerable sediment. The pains in my kidneys subsided as I continued the use of the remedy, and it was but a short time before I was completely relieved. My urine was normal and I can truthfully say that I was cured.

Jno Woods

GALT, Ont., Jan, 27, 1887.—For about five years previous to two years ago last October, I was troubled with kidney and liver trouble and finally I was confined to my bed and suffered the most exoruciating pain, and for two weeks time I did not know whether I was dead or alive. My physicians said I had enlargement of the liver, though they gave me only temporary relief. Hearing of the wonderful cures of "Warner's Safe Cure" I began its use, and after I had taken two bottles I noticed a change for the better. The pains disappeared, and my whole system seemed to feel the benefit of the remedy. I have continued taking "Warner's Safe Cure" and no other medicine since. I consider the remedy a great boon, and if I ever feel out of sorts, "Warner's Safe Cure" fixes me all right. I weigh twenty pounds heavier now than ever before.

A TRUCE TO HOSTILITIES.

THE GERMAN EMPRESS AND THE CROWN PRINCE.

Emperor Frederick's Health Improved for the Time—All Kinds of Ridiculous Stories in Circulation—Queen Victoria's Interview with Bismarck.

BERLIN, May 2.—The Queen's visit, which by the way was officially announced to be purely private in order to avoid dispute about social etiquette and precedence, has brought about a temporary reconciliation between the Empress and the Crown Prince, and it may be hoped that Queen Victoria, who is known to be a woman of much common sense when dealing with the affairs of the people, has impressed upon her eldest daughter the necessity which exists for her to take more pains to conciliate German susceptibilities.

The improvement in the Emperor's health is merely temporary, and there is no hope for his life being prolonged for more than a few weeks. All kinds of ridiculous stories are being circulated about him, and I have the best authority for stating that the interviews with the Court 'Chaplain, in which he is alleged to have desired that his release might be prayed for, never took place, and the tales of his pathetic messages to Field Marshal Von Blumenthal, and to His Majesty's old valet, are pure fiction.

The Queen was closeted with Prince Bismarck for an hour, but nobody can possibly be aware of what was said between them. It will be well, however, if amicable relations are thoroughly restored, for I learn that Count Munster, who has just returned to Paris, has expressed to Prince Bismarck his firm conviction that if General Boulanger triumphs he will not venture to attack Germany, but will give vent to the revenge fever which prevails in France by making himself generally troublesome to England, particularly in Egypt.

All idea of removing the Emperor to Hamburg or Wiesbaden has been abandoned since his last relapse, and if he ever leaves Charlottenburg it will be for the Neues Palais at Potsdam, where he could be conveyed by road.

The Kaiser's Condition.

BERLIN, May 2.—This morning's bulletin says the Emperor passed a good night and that he feels better. His fever is slight.

The Emperor was feverish this evening. He walked in his study for some hours to-day. His appetite has again revived, and it is possible that he will be able to drive in the park soon.

WESLEY'S FOLLOWERS.

The Bishops' Address to the General Conference—Progress of Methodism.

NEW YORK, May 2.—The second day's session of the General Methodist Conference opened at 9 o'clock. Bishop Merrill read the Bishops' address which reviewed the revival work that has been going on in the church since the last conference, four years ago. Since then not less than 480,000 souls have been brought into the church. The membership has increased from 1,709,634 to 2,089,234. There has been great improvement in the architectural designs of churches.

The address goes on to say: "The increasing arrival on our shores of members of the Roman Catholic Church makes it imperative that the members of the Methodist Church should work to convert them. The Bishops are of the opinion that the Church of Rome is a snare to the people and threatens our institutions."

It was advised that steps be taken to adopt some regular order of worship, so that in all churches the form would be the same.

The Bishops severely criticised the secular Sunday newspapers, and claimed that they are of no use, but are one of the means of robbing the people of their day of rest. The liquor traffic was deprecated and total prohibition advised. The liquor traffic, it was held, could not be legalized without sin.

The committee appointed to report on the eligibility of women as delegates reported that after serious discussion they had become convinced that when the rule was passed relating to the admission of lay delegates to the General Conference the church contemplated the admission of men only as delegates. Under the constitution and laws women are not eligible, and the committee agreed that the protest against the ladies should be sustained, and that the conference from which they were sent be notified that the seats are vacant. The report was signed by eleven members of the committee and six of the members refused to sign it. It was resolved that debate on the subject should be postponed until to-morrow.

James Greenfield, alias Brown, one of the gang sent to the Central two months ago for stealing from a Grand Trunk Railway car at Whitby, escaped from that institution yesterday afternoon, and despite all the efforts of the authorities remains still at large.

The vote on the election of a representative of the High School teachers of Ontario in the University Senate, has resulted in favor of Mr. H. B. Spotton, M.A., of Toronto.

BITTERNESS IN POLITICS

MANIFESTED IN THE BRITISH HOUSE OF COMMONS.

The Pope's Circular—The Impending Split Between Parnellites and Liberals—Gladstone Hosts the Irish Leader—Tories Beg Social Invitations.

NEW YORK, May 2.—"The Tory wrath over Lord Randolph Churchill's attack on the Government," cables George W. Smalley to The Tribune, "has not yet died away. Much more would have been heard of it had not the Pope's manifesto against the National League put Lord Randolph for a time out of court. No authoritative answer to the Pope has yet been made, nor is it clear what line the Parnellites mean to take. To say that the Pope is interfering in politics and must be kept within his proper domain, which is faith and morals, is but an academic answer. The Pope's circular is addressed to the Roman Catholic bishops of Ireland, and a copy of it went officially to each. It is a declaration by the Supreme Congregation of the Holy Roman and Universal Inquisition, confirmed and approved by the Holy Father, and therefore of final authority upon the consciences of good Catholics.

"The question of first interest is, What will the bishops do? They are ordered to admonish, prudently and effectively, the clergy and people. They are expected to see that the clergy obey and enforce obedience upon the people. Many of the clergy are leaders in the campaign which the league wages against the law. What Monsignor Persico saw and what led him to urge this course upon the Pope was, that if the priests could be taken out of this combination, its power would be reduced.

"The circular is directed expressly against the plan of campaign and boycotting, not against the league, urge the Irish organs. True, answer the English; but suppress the plan of campaign and boycotting, and what becomes of the authority of the league? The managers of the league have, of course, no idea of losing that powerful organization or to place [illegible] the Pope, they say, have gone over to the landlords. But they well know that they are now confronted with opposition of a very formidable kind, and some decision must speedily be taken."

The story of an impending change in the relations between the Parnellites and Liberals, which has been denied by one of the former, is repeated. Lord Randolph Churchill's speech last Wednesday is supposed to supply some proof of a coming break-up. "If," said Lord Randolph, "you will give Ireland the same privileges as England, you will do much to wile away from Mr. Gladstone many who now follow him in despair of getting what they want from this side of the house." That is not much evidence. Better may be found in the secrecy with which the Parnellites deny the story. It remains, however, for the present, in the form of a sheer rumor.

T. P. O'Connor is responsible for the statement that Mr. Gladstone and Mr. Parnell met last night for the first time in their lives at a dinner. The giver of the dinner was Mr. Armistead, formerly member for Dundee, and the scene Mr. Armistead's house in Cleveland-square, under the shadow of St. James'-place, Stafford house and Bridgewater house. There is no more aristocratic neighborhood. There was a company of six altogether, the other three being John Morley, T. E. Ellis and Herbert Gladstone. Mr. Ellis is a Nottinghamshire colliery owner, and member for the Rushcliffe division of that county. This meeting, I judge, is the fruit of Herbert Gladstone's diplomacy, as he is more or less a permanent guest of Mr. Armistead, who is a strong Home Ruler and a prosperous Russian merchant. So, perhaps, that terrible impending split between Mr. Gladstone and Parnell may be averted.

The bitterness of current politics again showed itself yesterday in the House on the bill for giving a salary to the Irish undersecretary. There are not two better-tempered men in England than John Morley and Mr. Balfour. But on this burning question they have contrived to fall out. Mr. Morley accused Mr. Balfour of bad faith. There is no evidence of bad faith, and Mr. Balfour resented the charge in terms which implied a breach of all personal relations between himself and Mr. Morley.

The fashion of turning social into political gatherings was again followed Saturday evening, though at a house of no importance. What importance the matter had was lent by Mrs. Gladstone, who arrived on the scene to excuse her husband's absence. The host, to her surprise, called on her for a speech. This speech, kindly and genial and altogether informal, to her further surprise, was reported in the Sunday papers. Exercises of this sort, with the publicity which attends them, are supposed to counteract in some mysterious way the activity of the Primrose League.

Arranging a Move Active Opposition.

LONDON, May 2.—A meeting of the Parnellites and Liberals has been arranged, the object of which is to organize a better system of persistent opposition to Government bills. There is a unanimous feeling in favor of a more active policy—not of blind obstruction, but of closer watchfulness and more constant criticism. The plan was discussed at Mr. Armistead's dinner on Monday evening.

O'Brien's Trial Resumed.

DUBLIN, May 2.—The trial of William O'Brien, M.P., who was arrested on April 14 in consequence of a speech made at Loughrea, was resumed to-day. The magistrate announced that during the night the office of the court session had been broken into by burglars, who stole a number of depositions and warrants, and that it would therefore be necessary to re-open the case at the beginning.

Court Gossip.

LONDON, May 2.—There is no shadow of foundation for the report that the Prince of Wales contemplates a visit to America next year in company with the Duke of Sutherland.

The drawing-room of next Wednesday will be notable for the absence of the Prince and Princess of Wales, who will not have returned to London from their expedition to Glasgow and Blackburn. The Queen will probably receive the whole of the company, as only a small attendance is expected. But if Her Majesty should get tired the later arrivals will be received by Princess Christian.

Several villas on the Fiesole side of Florence have been inspected with a view to the Queen either renting or purchasing one of them. But even the best of them seems poor after the Villa Palmieri. One result of Her Majesty's publicly announced intention of revisiting Florence next spring is that all the villas in the neighborhood have already risen in price, and certain English and American visitors have actually been negotiating for residences in the district which the Queen] particularly favors.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

HON. MR. THOMPSON'S BILL RESPECTING "GREEN GOODS."

Several Government Measures Advanced a Stage—Immigration Agents Employed on Election Wire-Pullers—Sir Richard Cartwright on Pauper Immigration.

OTTAWA, May 2.—The Minister of Justice engaged the attention of the House for a considerable time this afternoon in progressing various government measures. He also had passed through its various stages his act respecting the advertising of counterfeit money, and in doing so made some startling disclosures with regard to the operations in and manufacture of "green goods." The Minister displayed a unique and minute knowledge of the methods of the "merchant" man, the "green goods" swindler, the advertiser of the "queer," and the other kindred trade-marks under which these sharpers work. Mr. Thompson has evidently been on the track of these people, so far as their operations extend to Canada, for some time. He explained that formerly all the "work" was done from New York city, but of late branches had been established in different parts of Canada, the exact location of which he did not divulge to the House.

The "merchant" trick is an old one, but it still returns to operators handsome profits, some of whom, the minister said, were worth upwards of $250,000, all made out of "suckers." From names selected from the mercantile agencies' lists the country was flooded with circulars offering to sell quantities of counterfeit money for a small sum of the genuine article, and some of the Canadian victims had even been induced to visit given addresses in New York only to be taken in by being shown good bank notes as samples, making a purchase of the supposed "queer," and then finding their interest of good or bad bank notes they possessed a host of merchant. The operators shifted their addresses in a very adroit manner and some of them had been known by as many as 180 different aliases.

Latterly, the Minister went on to say, these circulars were sent from one part of Canada to another. Among the persons who had received these circulars and who had offered to negotiate with the operators for a supply of the "queer," the House would be surprised to learn, were municipal officers, justices of the peace and others holding important public offices. "I have several letters in my possession written from such public officials to the operators," continued the Minister, and he read one of them without disclosing the name or place of residence.

The act provides for the punishment of any person who contracts to buy counterfeit money equally with the seller or the sender of a circular. Sec. 2 provides that:

Every one who prints, writes, utters, publishes, sells, hawks, gives away, circulates or distributes any letter, writing, circular, paper, pamphlet, handbill or any written or printed matter advertising or offering, or purporting to advertise or offer, for sale, loan, exchange, gift or distribution, or to furnish, procure or distribute any counterfeit token of value, or what purports to be a counterfeit token of value, or giving or purporting to give, either directly or indirectly, information where, how, of whom, or by what means any counterfeit token of value, or what purports to be a counterfeit token of value, may be procured or had, and every one who aids or assists in any manner in any scheme or device whatsoever offering or purporting to offer for sale, loan, gift, exchange or distribution any counterfeit token of value, and everyone who purchases, exchanges, accepts, takes possession of, or in any way uses, or offers to purchase, exchange, accept, take possession of, or in any way use, any such counterfeit token of value, or what purports so to be, is guilty of felony and liable to five years' imprisonment.

The expression "counterfeit token of value" is described as meaning:

Any spurious or counterfeit coin, paper money, inland revenue stamp, postage stamp or other evidence of value, by whatever technical, trivial or deceptive designation the same may be described.

The act was read a third time and passed.

The House went into Committee of Supply and considered the items under the head of arts, agriculture and statistics, $147,000. The item of $10,000 for expenses in connection with the Dominion Exhibition was struck out, Sir Charles Tupper announcing that the grant would be discontinued this year. Under the item of health statistics, Mr. Mills managed to get in an announcement that Mr. Campbell had been re-elected in Kent. Under this head of immigration, $116,000, Sir Richard Cartwright referred to the question of pauper immigration, which he distinguished from the question of assisted immigration. He thought the superintendents of English and Irish workhouses were quite capable of sending their inmates out to be dumped on Canadian shores. He had no hesitation in saying that this class of immigrants should be sent back whence they came. He quoted the resolution recently passed by the Toronto City Council on the subject. Mr. Carling said that the reports about pauper immigration were exaggerated, and that his department had asked the Toronto City Council for particulars. The discussion was continued by Messrs. Wilson, Trow, McNeill, Cockburn and Jones.

A curious circumstance came to light while the salaries of the various immigration agents of the Government were under consideration. The Government supporters were enlarging on the importance of having immigration agents at various points in the Northwest to direct immigrants where to go. Mr. Mills asked some questions regarding a Mr. Baker and was told that he is now immigration agent at Qu'Appelle and receiving his salary as such. Thereupon Mr. Mills said that he was now canvassing in Russell for Mr. Mackintosh. He reminded the Government supporters of their declarations of the urgent necessity for having agents in the Northwest, and asked how it was that this agent was 1200 miles from his post of duty, canvassing for the Government. Mr. Carling offered the explanation that Mr. Baker was taking his holidays and was paying a substitute, a statement which was received with derision. Mr. Armstrong said that Mr. Baker turned up regularly at every election in Russell, and that the time of year when the great majority of immigrants came in was hardly a good time for Mr. Baker to "take his holidays." Mr. Lister pointed out that Mr. M. F. O'Donoghue was in a similar position. Mr. Mills told the Government that they should pay their election agents out of their own pockets and not misappropriate funds for that purpose.

The House adjourned at 1.30.

NOTES FROM THE CAPITAL.

Asking for a Subsidy—The Colonization Committee—Speech by Hon. Mr. White.

OTTAWA, May 2.—This afternoon at 3 o'clock a deputation, introduced Sir John Macdonald to solicit a subsidy of $6000 a mile for a railway to run from Claremont in the County of Ontario to Shelburne in Grey, to be known as the Western Ontario Railway. The deputation was introduced by Mr. Ward, M.P., of Port Hope, and was accompanied by the following members: Messrs. [illegible], Mulock, Symons, Smith and Magill, and consisted of the following: Messrs. C. C. Robinson, H. W. Piercy, of Aurora; Wm. Cain and E. Jackson, of Newmarket; Jos. Wright, Reeve of Boston; Wm. Jelly of Shelburne, and F. D. Craig, M.P.P., D. Chisholm, R. Popley and J. R. King of Port Hope.

The Colonization Committee this afternoon heard a letter of the Toronto City Council read complaining of unsuitable immigrants being brought to this country, and heard Mr. Lowe, Commissioner of Agriculture, who said that only 5 to 7 per cent. of the total immigration was found of a poor character. Mr. A. F. Jury, representing the Knights of Labor, pressed the complaint, and drew attention to the shipment of children dumped in Canada, many of whom grew up to be worthless citizens. Dr. Ferguson made some startling statements. He said that the largest proportion of the children brought out by Miss Rye and Miss Macpherson were from the slums of British cities, and were, as a general rule, tainted with syphilis. He instanced some cases brought under his notice. The disease was dormant when the children were very young, but it developed as they grew, and became apparent. He also brought a formidable indictment against Miss Macpherson, who told us in Canada that she brought over the best of children. In conversation with a directress of the depot in Glasgow, Scotland, from which Miss Macpherson's children are taken, Dr. Ferguson stated to them that the children she took to Canada were of a class who [illegible] to Scotland. Doctors Rosebrugh and Wilson supported Ferguson's statements as to the disease, while Mr. Trow testified that out of a thousand children brought to Stratford only a few were bad. The doctors' statements produced a sensation.

In the Senate Committee on Railways this morning, the Canadian Pacific Railway Bill, giving a charter to the Southwestern Railway, was carried by 20 to 7.

Lord Lansdowne will give a grand farewell ball at Government House to-night. Over 400 invitations have been issued.

It is said that the gratuity proposed to be granted to the widow of the late Hon. Thos. White is $25,000.

Prof. Brown of Guelph read a paper on the three judge system in cattle fairs. The paper advocated the appointment of only one judge in each class. A long discussion followed, the majority of the members seeming in favor of the one judge system.

These officers were elected: President, John Adams, Port Perry; First Vice-President, Charles Lawrence, Collingwood; Second Vice-President, S. C. Stephenson, Montreal; Secretary-Treasurer, Geo. McBroom, London; Committee, Dr. Swanston, Belleville; R. Power, Beattie A. McKenzie, Guelph.

THE FARMERS' MINISTER.

It did not need the appointment of Mr. Charles Drury, M.P.P. for East Simcoe, as the new Minister of Agriculture, to convince the farmers that the Mowat Government has the interests of the farmers at heart; not in a merely sentimental and general way, but in a practical sense. The population of Ontario is divided, according to the last census, into rural and urban in the proportion of three to one; the farm supplies more than half the exports of the country, the forest and mines the greater part of the other moiety. In moving the second reading of a bill establishing a Ministry of Agriculture, Hon. Mr. Mowat said it "was the object of the Government to make the profession of farming more lucrative and more inviting, and to take all the steps necessary with a view of collecting information valuable to those engaged in the industry." And practical effect has been given this statement by the appointment of Mr. Drury, who is in all respects a worthy representative of the progressive, practical farmer and a capable custodian of the farmers' interests, in so far as these are affected by departmental administration. The EXAMINER takes this opportunity of congratulating Hon. Mr. Drury upon his elevation to the high position in which he has been placed. There were many other eligible candidates for the position, and Mr. Drury's appointment is no reflection on their suitability for its duties; some man had to be appointed and the Province is large is well satisfied that a capable man, a successful, practical farmer, a man whose record enables the profession and whose legislative experience and knowledge of municipal matters are ample, has been chosen, while at the same time Central Ontario is well pleased that its claims to cabinet representation have been recognized.

OUR Finance Minister, Sir Charles Tupper, is a deep reasoner. He has discovered that a short crop is a blessing in disguise because it tends to prevent importations. It certainly prevents the farmer, primarily affected, in a beneficial way, for a very good reason, he is saved the trouble of paying his debts. On the same principle of reasoning, low wages are a blessing to the laborer and working man. They are saved the trouble of eating enough simply because they can't get enough to eat.

HON. MR. MERCIER, Premier of Quebec, thrives on opposition. In spite of the active and combined hostility of the Opposition Bleus and the Dominion Government, his parliamentary majority is constantly growing, till by the result of the recent by-elections it approximates to that enjoyed by the Ontario Government. The secret is honest application of Liberal principles to the government of the people and the administration of public affairs.

THE Empire says that a correspondent presents some convincing figures in support of iron smelting in Toronto. The figures indicating Sir Charles Tupper's additional duties were, at the time, supposed to be convincing and conclusive. They were to be the seed of a big crop of rolling mills and smelting furnaces. The N.P. is a great promoter of manufactures, especially if it is helped by bonuses and combines. Sir Charles does not gravely concern himself whether his iron policy is effective or not, and the London Advertiser remarks:—"Sir Tupper had to confess the failure of his great expectations in the development in the iron trade. But what does he care? He has hurried through with the budget speech, and in a few weeks will sail for England, where, so long as Canada continues to "put up" for his luxuriousness, he can let the people of this country whistle for their iron industries."

CORRECTION.

I wish to correct an error in the last week's issue, "Optical Delusion." I was made to say, "Editor and Chief of the Chronicle," while it should have read, "Editor-in-chief, etc." The former has not yet attained this dignity of keeping hens or a better half, being either a confirmed old bachelor or with a settled fate at a distance. So the village girls say, and some of them ought to know.

TOUR OF INSPECTION.

The village council, as a committee of the whole, made a tour of inspection over the village roads and walks on Tuesday, so as to be able to judge for themselves what improvements or repairs are required, and to obtain an estimate of the probable expenditure during the season. Work will be commenced at once where most required.

ENTERTAINMENT.

Mr. J. Moles is in summer quarters again.

One more added to the population.

The new cheese factory is now nearly ready for use, and when it is in operation will much increase the hum of business.

Mr. J. Bradshaw is slowly recovering from a severe attack of inflammation, similar to that to which his brother succumbed about the middle of last month.

By the way, do you read Mervin's letters? I notice some person has stretched our burly worthy a little, for he has addmitted over his own signature, that it is possible the bridge site may be changed. Be careful, Mervin, you don't "bust" him.

The seeding is being done almost without delay. Growth has been rather backward, but is now good. Fall grain has a good appearance, considering the exposure to frosts. Much of the grasses will have to be renewed on account of exposure and drought of last year.

Live Stock.

TORONTO, May 1.—Last week's receipts of live stock on the local market were 1,044 cattle, 112 sheep and lambs and 565 hogs. Trade was not so brisk to-day. Receipts were 24 loads of cattle in which were a few head of calves, sheep, lambs and hogs and one car of hogs. Local demand for butchers' cattle was good but there was little buying on outside account owing to unfavorable markets at Montreal. Values, however, were well maintained. Good loads sold at $4.25 to $4.50 per cwt., and picked lots of steers and heifers sold at $4.75. Good mixed loads of cattle weighing 900 to 1,175 lbs per head sold at $36 to $51 per head while fat cows, 900 to 1,100 lbs. average, sold at $30 to $40 per head.

The New Prize Story

is eagerly sought for, read with pleasure or disappointment, is then tossed aside and forgotten. But ladies who read of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, read it again, for they discover something to prize—a messenger of joy to those suffering from functional derangements of any of the painful disorders of weakness peculiar to their sex. Periodical pains, internal inflammation and ulceration, readily yield to its wonderful curative and healing powers. It is the only medicine for women, sold by druggists, under a positive guarantee from the manufacturers, that it will give satisfaction in every case, or money will be refunded. This guarantee has been printed on the bottle wrapper, and faithfully carried out for many years. a

I HAVE been a great sufferer from dry catarrh for many years, and I tried many remedies which helped me, but I had none which did me so much benefit as Ely's Cream Balm. It completely cured me.—M. J. Lally, 39 Woodward Ave., Boston Highlands, Mass.

I SUFFERED from acute inflammation in my nose and head—for a week at a time I could not see. I used Ely's Cream Balm and in a few days I was cured. It is wonderful how quick it helped me.—Mrs. Georgie S. Judson, Hartford, Conn. Apply Balm into each nostril. Price 50 cts. eodw18

THE SPRING DIET.

In the Spring a young man's fancies may "lightly turn to thoughts of love," but the fancies of older people more commonly turn to what they shall or can eat.

The "Spring appetite" is flagging and fickle. The keen relish of the sharp winter weather is dulled or gone. It is Nature's hint for a change in the quality and a let-up in the quantity of food consumed.

The golden rule of living is to adapt the diet to the season and to the needs of the system. For this reason

Canned Goods

LONDON, May 2.—There was an immense attendance at Newmarket to-day, the attraction being the Two Thousand Guineas, over the Rowley mile. There were seven starters, of which Sir Frederick Johnstone's colt, Friar's Balsam, was the favorite at 2 to 1 against. He did not gain a place, the Duke of Portland's colt, Ayrshire, winning by a length from his other colt, Sainfoin Morgan, with the Duke of Westminster's colt, Orbit, third. The race was run under the following conditions:

The colts only running of the Two Thousand Guineas Stakes; subscription of 100 sovs. each, h. ft. for 2-year-olds; cents 120 lbs., fillies 118 lbs.; the winner of the 2d Derby to receive 200 sovs. out of the stakes, and the 2d to save his stake; Rowley mile.—29 subs.

Another Victory for Toronto.

TROY, May 2.—The chief features of to-day's game were Burke's batting for Toronto and Atkinson's pitching for six innings, which mightily puzzled the Trojs. Stuart made a brilliant catch in centre of Decker's drive in the first inning, which was the chief fielding display of the game, although Hartnett and Rickley of the visitors were frequently applauded for brilliant and timely plays. The visitors won by hard and timely hitting, and the home team failed badly in this respect until the seventh inning, when they sized Atkinson up for three doubles and a single, scoring three runs on the spurt. ON STRIKE.

Railroad Laborers Quit Work Because of a Wage Reduction.

CLEVELAND, O., May 2.—Two hundred men employed by the New York, Pennsylvania and Ohio Iron and Dock Company to load ore on cars, quit work yesterday because of a reduction in wages. If a strike ensues 1000 men will be affected, but it is hoped a settlement will be made.

The "Q" Strike.

CHICAGO, May 2.—Alexander Sullivan, counsel for the striking engineers and firemen, said to-day that the report that the "Q" strike had been declared off was without foundation.

Chairman Hogg of the Grievance Committee of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, who has had practical charge of the strike since the second week of its existence, when asked if the "Q" strike had been declared off, paused quite awhile and then said: "The strike has not been declared off formally. The men, however, have been allowed to secure their old places with the company at the best terms they can get, wherever they can do so, and those who cannot get work here will go somewhere else."

A Big Output of Flour.

MINNEAPOLIS, May 2.—The Northwestern Miller says: The mills again outdid themselves last week, making the highest amount of flour ever produced in a single week. The total output was 181,866 barrels against 173,208 the week before and 130,309 for the corresponding time in 1887.

Attempts to Renew the War Scare.

The Growth of the Hair.

Should always be watched. Inattention to the hair often leads to premature grayness and baldness. When dandruff appears it should be looked after at once. By frequently using a bottle of Dr. Dorenwend's Great German Hair Magic the scalp will be kept in a clean and healthy condition and the strength and vigor of the hair greatly promoted. It is the only reliable. Do not be talked into using anything else. For sale by all druggists everywhere. dw

A Sure Relief.

I suffered from a hard Cough contracted by damp feet. Having consulted a local doctor without effect I thought I would try Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam as a last resort. Before I had finished the first bottle my cough had entirely disappeared, and to day I enjoy better health than ever before. I can conscientiously recommend it. Chas. H. Kent, Telegraph Operator. East Selkirk, Man. 2w18d

A Successful Result.

Sirs, I was troubled for five years with Liver Complaint. I used a great deal of doctors' medicine, which did me no good. I was getting worse all the while until I tried Burdock Blood Bitters. After taking four bottles I am now well. I can also recommend it for dyspepsia. Miss Hattie L. Swick, 3h. Williams P. O., Ont. 2w18d

A Severe Trial.

Those who endure the torturing pangs of Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Sciatica, Lumbago and similar painful complaints are severely tried, but their is a speedy relief in Hagyard's Yellow Oil, as thousands who have used it joyfully testify. It benishes pain and lameness quickly. 2w18d

A Last Resort.

LOCAL NEWS.

The Weather.

Easterly winds, increasing to fresh or strong; partly cloudy to cloudy weather with local rains.

Very Obliging Burglars.

At 11.34 last night Geo. J. Rossel, the new chief of police for Peterborough, arrived in town to enter on his duties, and probably by the same train came the enterprising burglar to cut out a job for the new chief. This is very kind on the part of the burglar, to give the town a chance to see what our new chief is made of, but not half so kind as the staff of the golden lion, who have both a pride and delight in showing the magnificent stock of millinery, dolmans and spring jackets to be found at r. fair's. Beautiful in variety, style, price and everything. Imported goods at importers' prices.

A Fire Nipped in the Bud.

A boarder at the Stewart House woke up about five o'clock this morning and from his window saw that some sheds in the yard were on fire. He gave the alarm and quickly a number of people were on the scene. The fire, which was in the roof of the laundry and cab-house, was extinguished by water secured from the yard pump. No alarm was sounded on the town bell. An examination showed that the fire had arisen from an ash-barrel standing in the laundry room, from which the flames ran up the partition to the roof. Had it not been so fortunately observed at an early stage of its progress a disastrous fire would have resulted. In the cab-house was a barrel of of silver plate just received from Montreal for use in the house. The damage was not very great.

Lindsay's Celebration.

According to the Warder, the celebration of the Queen's Birthday in Lindsay will be a "royal" one. There will be a match for the general athletic championship of the world, between E. W. Johnston, present champion and holder of the medal, and J. Buchanan, champion of Australia. Pat O'Donnell will be present and compete in athletics, and give his wonderful horse pulling act. Capt. J. C. Daly and Lieut Forrester will give a grand mounted sword combat. They challenge any man in Canada to compete with them. There will be a wrestling tournament for $200, open to all. Arrangements are nearly perfected to have Harry Bethune, champion runner of the world, present to give an exhibition of his speed. In addition to this strong bill the committee have, under great expense, secured the champion monarchs of the air, Ambler and Wilkie, the daring aerial artists. The remainder of the programme will be local, to consist of music by the Lindsay band, baseball, bycicling for men and boys, running, jumping and all out door games.

The Bishop's Throne.

In a few days the episcopal throne in St. Peter's Roman Catholic Cathedral will be placed beneath the beautiful new canopy which has been constructed from plans furnished by Mr. John Belcher, C.E., by Messrs. Wm. Ball and Geo. Kane. Mr. Thos. McGrath is putting on the finishing touches in the way of painting and gilding. The canopy stands on a dais two steps high on the gospel side of the altar, inside the altar rail. Its base is 4ftx2½ft and its height from base to apex of the cross which surmounts it, is 18ft. From the four corners rise turned gothic columns, and on these rests the roof of the canopy, consisting of two main gables and two gablets, perforated with trefoil openings to be filled with crimson cloth and crimson hangings are placed inside the canopy, reaching as low as the capitals of the supporting columns. These hangings will be bordered with heavy fringe of gold bullion. The wood work of the canopy, which is beautifully done, is painted in dead white, picked out with elaborate gilding. It presents a most imposing appearance and will be a fitting receptacle for the sedum episcopalium of his Lordship Bishop Dowling.

A Grand Concert in Prospect.

On the 9th of May next a delightful concert, given by the cream of Canadian talent will be given in Bradburn's Opera House. Miss Helen O'Reilly, of Ottawa, graduate of the Boston Conservatory of Music, of whom many Peterborough people have delightful recollections, will give a farewell concert previous to her departure for England, where she goes to join the opera company of Albini, the great Canadian prima donna. Miss O'Reilly, who occupies a place in the very front ranks of concert vocalists, will be assisted by Miss Tracey, of Boston, pianiste and accompanists, and Mons. Alfred De Seve, professor of the violin of the Boston Conservatory, and a flutist, and she will give her songs with violin and flute obligati. Mrs. J. E. McIntyre, who has recently taken a course of vocal training at the Conservatory, will also sing, as well as Mr. Tom Dunn. With our best Canadadian talent, outside and local, the public will be sure of a rare musical treat, and will see that Canadian talent can furnish concert music worthy of the highest taste. Mons. De Seve is a native of Quebec, and was at one time violinist to Isabella, Queen of Spain, and also to the Princess Louise, is an artist of the highest rank, and his exposition of the capabilities of the violin will be a revelation even to many who think they have heard good performers. Make a memorandum of the date and let there be a bumper Canadian house to greet a first-class Canadian concert company. Popular prices, 25c. and 50c. Plan of hall at Hartley's.

Father Conway, of Norwood, was in town to-day arranging for reduced railway fares from Peterborough to the pic-nic at Norwood, on the Queen's Birthday, in aid of the building fund of the new parsonage. The usual programme of sports, etc., will be prepared for the pic-nic There will, no doubt, be a good attendance from Peterborough.

An Intractable Horse.

Mr. J. W. Crosby and his assistant, Mr. Wetherall, started for the country early this morning to deliver an organ to a purchaser. One of their horses had never been in double harness before, and to show its appreciation of the novelty of the situation, it began to kick and plunge violently, baulking and sulking between times. After forcing the animal a couple of blocks the attempt had to be given up and the horse exchanged for one more tractable The pole of the wagon was splintered.

Congratulations.

Congratulations are extended to Mr. Ernest Sherwood, of Sherwood Bros., who was married on Wednesday to Miss Barnhart, of Bobcaygeon. "Ernie" was a general favorite about town, and though his young bachelor associates will regret the breech his marriage has made in their ranks, they will heartily join with the EXAMINER in wishing him and his young bride all the felicity imaginable; and it may cause some of them to see the error of their ways and lead them to "go and do likewise."

The debate between the Lindsay and Peterborough Y. M. C. A. fellows in St. Paul's church lecture hall to-morrow evening promises to be a lively one and a large and interested audience is expected. A Three Hundred Dollar Haul.

Harry LeBrun's Clothing Store Burglarized—Jewelry, Silk Handkerchiefs and Clothing Swept Away.

A burglary, in our generally well-behaved town, causes intense excitement among the citizens, and as a consequence Harry LeBrun's store is the centre of attraction to-day. Burglars went through the premises last night and to day the store is besieged with people anxious to learn all the interesting details. It is a good advertisement for Harry, but at the same time a costly one. The employes of the store thought curiously this morning of posting a bulletin at the door, containing full particulars of the "daring burglary, for the benefit of those people who could not wait till the evening EXAMINER was published to obtain an accurate account of the whole affair.

The burglary was a daring one. Mr. Fitzgerald, an elderly gentleman living with Mr. Mitchell, the grocery man, whose shop and residence are situated on Hunter street just in rear of LeBrun's store, about half past five o'clock this morning noticed the back door of the latter place standing wide open. He at once notified Mr. LeBrun, who hastened to his store and made that burglars had been through his premises during the night. A glance through the store revealed the "plan of campaign" adopted by the thieves. They effected an entrance through the large window at the first landing on the stairway in the rear end of the store, where the cutter has his stand, which was reached by means of an old ladder brought with them and left standing where it was first planted. Once inside all was plain sailing. The burglar (for it is generally supposed only one man is implicated) proceeded to help himself. He evidently had a bag or some other capacious receptacle with him wherewith to stow away his booty, for he took a considerable quantity. A show case of jewellery was first emptied completely, only the bare pasteboard boxes being left to stare the proprietor in the face on his entry. The loss here is estimated at $75 or $100. Next some 26 boxes of silk handkerchiefs were pulled down from the shelves and their contents disposed of in a similar manner. The boxes contained each about a dozen handkerchiefs, so that the loss is even more than that sustained on the jewellery. Then the thief to a new outfit of clothing. Some fine underclothing was stripped off the line, a hat chosen from one of the boxes, and a new ordered suit of Scotch tweed, lying tied up on the counter ready for delivery, was also appropriated. The burglar left lying in a heap on the floor his old clothes, or some brought there for the purpose, as if he had disrobed and donned his new suit on the spot. This may, however, be only a blind. An overcoat and undercoat of coarse fabric, dirty and pretty well worn, a greasy pair of blue over-alls and a pair of woolen socks that apparently hadn't seen water since the material left the sheep's back, were found lying on the floor. A parcel of underclothing was also tied up by the thief but left on the counter, as if he was unable to carry all his load. Having got all he wanted, or at least all he could conveniently navigate with, the fellow decamped, making his exit through the back door, which he didn't take the trouble of closing behind him.

That's the whole story as complete as it could be gained by inquiry. Chief Rossel was called in by Mr. LeBrun and has the case in hand. The old overcoat and coat left in the store were taken possession of by the police. The "haul" was evidently made by one pretty well acquainted with the premises. It was a well planned and

SKILFULLY EXECUTED BURGLARY.

The theif took plenty of time at the job, too. It has since been discovered that he stripped all the silk handkerchiefs in the window, the prettiest and most valuable in stock. To do this he must have stood upon a stool and reached up to them in full view of the street, as the curtain was not down. A rubber coat has also been missed, and before night doubtless other articles will be found out of their places.

Mr. LeBrun at once notified Chief Rossel, and in the meantime went down to the C.P.R. station and telegraphed the conductor of the early train to ascertain if any suspicious looking character had boarded the train here. A negative reply was received. Post-cards giving details of the burglary and booty stolen have been sent out through the province. As yet no clue has been discovered.

The ladder was taken from McKee's iron house, where a pair of soiled and greasy leather gloves were left behind.

Our New Chief.

Evidently the Right Man in the Right Place—A Newspaper Encomium.

Geo. J. Rossel has been sworn in as Chief of Police of Peterborough. He arrived in town from St. Catherine's last night and was called out of bed at 6 o'clock this morning to investigate the burglary. His duties began at once. Chief Rossel says he intends to systematize the operations of the force and do his best to make it efficient.

Chief Rossell is a native of St. Catherines, 38 years of age, 6 feet 1 inch in height and weighs 220 pounds. He has a fine, commanding presence, a fearless, blue eye, an open countenance flanked by a good-sized whisker, and a pleasant, genial, yet firm, manner—just the kind of man that should make a first class policeman. He has had eight years' experience in the business—was three years county constable and afterwards 5 years on the city force of St. Catherines, rising to the position of sergeant, when he resigned. He comes very highly recommended, and it is the duty of every citizen to give Mr. Rossel a fair chance—not to be too hasty in judging, but rendering him every assistance. He is practically unknown in Peterborough—let him have a fair opportunity to prove his capabilities.

CONGRATULATIONS.

The St. Catharines Evening Star says:—"Mr. George Rossell received his official appointment as Chief of Police of Peterborough this morning. During his years of services on the St. Catherines police force Mr. Rossel was ever a faithful, efficient and valuable officer, and by his appointment the people of Peterborough have secured an official in whom every reliance may be placed, and in whose hands the welfare of the thriving town will be well cared for."

Water Filters.

To insure good health it is absolutely necessary to have pure water, and no water is entirely free from floating matter and disease terms without thorough filtration. The majority of cases of typhoid and other low fevers are in a measure caused from unfiltered and impure water, so that every family who values its health should have a reliable filter. Numerous filters are offered to the public varying in points of excellence, but for cheapness, efficiency and durability, our filters cannot be surpassed. No corroding substances are used in construction. The packing material is the most powerful specially prepared granulated carbon. It will last for years with the ordinary use of a family, and the material may be obtained from us at any time for replenishing at small expense. Sold in Peterborough only at China Hall. dw

The "City" Assessment.

Peterborough Population Not Advanced—Larger than that of Belleville Why Not Incorporate?

The returns of the assessment of Peterborough (including the suburb of Ashburnham, which is practically a ward of the town, give us a total population of 10,447 and an assessment of $6,304,770. Belleville's "city" population is 10,320 and her assessment but $3,936,986. This ought to settle the question of supremacy between the two places and lead to the incorporation of Peterborough as a city.

The following table shows a slight difference in the population from that furnished by the re-capitulation of the assessors. It is a small matter, though, and will, no doubt, be rectified on the revision. In Wednesday's issue a comparison of this with last year's figures was given, showing a substantial growth all round. Following are the ward assessments and population:—

	Assessment	Population
No. 1 Ward	$ 787,695	2057
No. 2 Ward	1,717 690	2362
No. 3 Ward	972,560	2732
No. 4 Ward	862,300	2856
	$6,730,975	10007

OUR EASTERN SUBURB.

Ashburnham has also made considerable progress during the past year, as shown by the returns of the assessor:—

	1888	1887
Ratepayers	404	367
Resident lands	$262,575	$262,300
Non-resident lands	—	1,000
Personal property	13,035	11,575
Income	4,700	5,000
Total assessment	414,790	384 995
School children	225	215
Population	1,468	1,435

PAST PROGRESS.

The following table will show what progress has been made by Peterborough proper during the past few years, which, it will be seen at a glance, has been steady and at the same time rapid:—

	Total Assessment	Population,
1880	2,696,630	6,495
1881	2,668,395	6,615
1882	—	7,040
1883	2,897,440	7,323
1884	2,927,695	8,048
1885	3,193,275	8,191
1886	3,573,220	8,423
1887	3,739,275	8,963
1888	3,730,975	8,989

It was expected the assessment would amount up to fully $4,000,000 this year, as last season it was carefully estimated that some $200,000 worth of new buildings had been erected. The figures are, however, generally satisfactory, though, of course, there are a large number of persons whom it is impossible to place upon the roll. The assessors find great difficulty in extracting information from those to whom they apply. A single instance will suffice. The assessors one day stopped at a large house and asked the usual questions. One of the gentlemen remarked that it was a large house to be occupied by a man and his wife alone, and several times asked the lady if she was certain no one else was stopping at the house—friends, boarders, or children. No; the lady was positive no one but her husband and herself lived there. The assessors went away, and on turning the next corner met face to face a gentleman whom one of them knew. "Hello, Mr. B——, where do you board?" "Why, just around the corner at Mr. ——'s," naming the man whose very premises they had just left.

Similar cases were met with all along, and it was only by mere accident that this error was corrected. It is estimated by some that there are fully 500 persons in town who are never entered on the roll from this and other causes.

Personal.

Dr. R. W. Ball went to Ottawa last night to attend the dedication ceremonies of the new I. O. O. F. hall at the capital to-day.

Mr. Wm. Rutherford, President, representing the Peterborough Central Exhibition at the meeting of the Canadian Association of Fairs and Expositions, at Toronto, Wednesday, took a prominent part in the proceedings, and was appointed chairman of the Committee on Fees and Privileges.

Mr. James Alexander has accepted a situation in the drygoods establishment of J. C. Turnbull & Co. It is pleasing to learn that Mr. Alexander has decided to remain in Peterborough, where he has so many warm personal and business friends. The several societies of which Mr. Alexander is a prominent and active member especially would regret his departure. Mr. Turnbull is fortunate in securing the assistance of a gentleman so well qualified to perform the duties of his position; his knowledge of the business, and the personal popularity he has acquired by a long business career in town, will give additional value to his services.

DEATH OF JUDGE HENRY.

The Aged Jurist Succumbs to the Effects of a Recent Paralytic Stroke.

OTTAWA, May 3.—Hon. Wm. A. Henry, Puisne Judge of the Supreme Court, died this evening from the effects of a paralytic stroke sustained three or four weeks ago. He was in his 72nd year, having been born in December, 1816. He will be buried at his old home, Antigonish, and the body will leave Ottawa to-morrow morning.

[In his early life Judge Henry had been a leading Nova Scotia politician, becoming a member of the Executive Council in 1863. He took a leading part in the Confederation movement, sitting in Charlottetown in the union conference, in that at Quebec, and in the final conference assembly in London in 1866. He never entered the Parliament of the Dominion, which he had helped to form, the popular hostility of Nova Scotia to union having brought about his defeat in Antigonish, where he presented himself in 1867. In fact Nova Scotia on that occasion returned a solid contingent of anti-Confederationists with the solitary exception of Sir Charles Tupper. Judge Henry tried again in Richmond in 1869, but was again unsuccessful.

He was appointed to the Supreme Court in October, 1875, and at the time of his death was the fourth judge on the Supreme Court bench, Chief Justice Ritchie and Justices Strong and Fournier being senior, and Justices Taschereau and Gwynne being junior to him.

The deceased judge was one of the most active public men in Ottawa. As an instance of his activity and sturdiness it may be mentioned that at the time of the Lansdowne reception in Ottawa last summer, as an officer to the O'Brien crusade, Judge Henry took the lead of the mounted cavalcade as well as an important part in getting up the demonstration.]

The Quebec Bridge—A Verdict Against the Salvation Army in the Nuisance Case.

QUEBEC, May 3.—A deputation waited on Hon. Mr. Mercier this morning to ask aid of the Provincial Government towards the Quebec bridge. Mr. Mercier said he recognized the importance of the work, and pledged the assistance of his Government as soon as the Dominion Government had done its part.

The jury in the Salvation Army nuisance case before the criminal court came into court at 10 o'clock last night, and asked for a little longer time to consider. They were accordingly locked up for the night. This morning they returned a verdict of guilty.

The steamships Vancouver, Nestorian, Norwegian and Lake Huron succeeded in reaching the railway wharf yesterday, and landed their passengers. The four steamers left for Montreal this morning. The river is now almost clear of ice.

Hamilton's Misfortunes and Crimes.

In making tests of milk throughout the city Dr. Ryall finds few samples that are fully up to the standard in the test for cream; most of the milk is much below the standard.

An old man crept inside the porch at the City Hall to-day and laid down on the floor exhausted. He appeared to be nearly dead and could scarcely speak. After he had lain there for a couple of hours the patrol wagon was sent for and he was taken to the jail on remand. He told the police that his name was James Thompson, that he had walked in from Stony Creek yesterday and had no friends who were interested in seeing him keep alive.

William McCallum, arraigned on a charge of stealing from fair but frail Luella Mortimer, was discharged at a special session of the County Court this morning.

NOTES FROM THE CAPITAL.

THE M.P. FOR MONTREAL CENTRE AND THE CANAL MEN.

Further Testimony in the Combines Committee—The President of the Canadian Stove Founders' Association on the Stand—The Labor Commission.

OTTAWA, May 3.—The Combines Committee met this morning and examined Mr. A. W. Morris of Montreal, manufacturer of cordage, binder twine and hand plaster. There had been an association of five firms up to the beginning of this year. There was only one manufacturer of binding twine (a new Brantford firm) not in the association in 1887. The average home price in Canada was lower than in the United States. His price for twine in 1887 was, 10½ cents a pound, less 5 per cent., and freight paid to destination through Ontario and to Owen Sound on shipments to Manitoba.

Mr. Copp of Hamilton was examined with reference to stove combines. He was Vice-President of the Canadian Stove Founders' Association, which regulated prices of manufacturers, but did not seek to control retail dealers' prices. There were eighteen members of the association, but there were probably forty out of it, so that they had had active competition. Clendenning or Ives were not in the association. There had been an advance recently of 5 per cent., caused by an advance of 10 per cent. in wages to the men. The association imposed fines on its members for infringement of their agreement. It was impossible to fix a uniform price for stoves, and profits at present did not pay. The committee seemed to think this was not an oppressive combine at all. The Hamilton secretary of the association produced books, but gave no evidence. After hearing evidence on the cotton combination the committee will conclude its labors.

L. Mong Kow, a Chinese resident of Victoria, is here. He has come east to promote the exchange of Canada's natural products with Chinese teas and silks, and is establishing agencies.

The Royal Labor Commission, which opens here to-morrow, will sit two or three days in Ottawa and one day in Hull. This will conclude their labors and they will set about preparing their report. I learn that the report of the Commission will be of a startling character. They discovered that 62½ per cent. of Montreal's factory population cannot read or write, and that in one large factory, where over 700 were employed on one flat, chiefly children, only a dozen could read and write. In one case, out of a pay roll of $300,000 a year, there were fines inflicted, chiefly on women and girls, of $17,000.

Mr. S. S. Malcolmson, President of the Marine Engineers' Association, and Mr. Whiting, President of the Stationary Engineers' Association, are in the city. A deputation interviewed the Government relative to increasing the qualification of steam engineers.

The Quebec Board of Trade are petitioning the Government for further subsidies to the Lake St. John and Quebec Central Railway.

In the course of the debate on the importation of Immigrant Agent Baker from the Northwest to canvass in Russell, another subject, while not strictly germane, arose out of it naturally and aroused great interest. Mr. Mulock referred to the terrorism exercised to compel Government employes to be the political servants of the Government's political party, and quoted the case of the three Irishmen who were formerly employed on the Lachine Canal, and who, because they exercised the rights of free men, had their very living placed in jeopardy. He boldly charged Mr. Curran, M.P. for Montreal Centre, who is supposed to be the chosen representative of Irish Roman Catholics, of being responsible for this act of tyranny and injustice. Mr. Curran blustered and declaimed, as he always does, and entered upon a labored explanation and defence, but even when he was through Mr. Mulock, very justly, as it appears, declared that the hon. gentleman's statement practically confirmed all he had said. Mr. Curran's statement was that these men were not discharged. He laid great stress on this point. But they were men employed season by season, and when they came to work the season after the election the superintendent told them that as they had taken an active part in the election against the Government they would have to get a letter from Mr. Curran before they could be taken on. Two of them sought the letter and got it, but the other did not ask it. Mr. Curran stated all this, but he did not say that he had called the superintendent to account for putting him in the position of practically holding the fate of these men in his hand, as he did under the circumstances. Mr. Curran made a great deal of the fact that The Montreal Herald had withdrawn a charge similar to that made by Mr. Mulock, but from the explanation of Hon. Mr. Mitchell, who is president of the Herald Company, it appeared that this was published under special circumstances and was written by Mr. Curran himself. The facts stand that these poor men, Irishmen and Catholics, as Mr. Curran is, were compelled to come to him and ask for employment or leave situations which they had held every season for years. Mr. Curran did not help either himself or the Government by the explanation he made, but he gave an insight into the ingenious and cruel methods of terrorism in use.

Manitoba Legislative Notes.

WINNIPEG, May 3.—The question of exemption from taxation claimed by the Canada Northwest Land Company was brought up in the legislature this afternoon, and it was charged that thousands of dollars were due to various municipalities. A motion that the Government should make a test case by suing the company on behalf of the municipalities was opposed by Premier Greenway, who intimated that he would give increased grants to municipalities interested, by which they could take concerted action.

Mr. Marchoffer, who was alluded to by Premier Greenway as the new leader of the Opposition, moved an address to the Governor-General praying that the C. P. R. should construct the branch from Brandon to the South coal fields before winter, that section being denuded of fuel.

The Cardwell Nomination.

ORANGEVILLE, May 3.—Notwithstanding the article in The Empire to-day advising the Conservatives to nominate Mr. R. S. White, a son of the late member, the outlook in Cardwell is altogether in favor of a local man.

The Empire's article was telegraphed to Montreal and appeared simultaneously in The Gazette of Montreal.

Bad Boys at Orangeville.

ORANGEVILLE, May 3.—At the Police Court to-day ten boys, between the ages of 9 and 15, were placed on trial, a few of them charged with petty larceny and minor offences, and others with burglary. It came out in evidence that many more of the youths of the town are implicated, the most of them belonging to respectable families. The cases were adjourned until Wednesday next.

Miss Debar Taken Back to the Tombs.

NEW YORK, May 3.—Ann Odelia Diss Debar and "General" Diss Debar were arraigned in court this morning and pleaded not guilty to the indictments found against them. Madame Diss Debar proposed to deposit $5000 with the City Chamberlain as bail in lieu of a bondsman. Judge Martine, however, committed her on the charge of conspiracy without bail. The couple were taken back to the Tombs.

ART NEWS FROM LONDON.

The Royal Academy Exhibition—Salient Features of the Show.

NEW YORK, May 3.—The Times' London special says: The Royal Academy exhibition turned out to be the best we have had in a number of years. If there are fewer monumentally striking works there is a much higher average of merit, and ridiculous pictures are happily rare. Sir Frederick Leighton's big Andromache will probably attract the most attention. Alma Tadema's picture loses somewhat by by its environment, and will not be liked as much as W. Q. Orchardson's, which is simply exquisite. Andrew Gow's Flight of James II. is superb. A small picture by J. W. Waterhouse and one by S. J. Solomon, who has furnished the sensations of the past two years on the same bold, big lines, this year rather falls off; but Seymour Lucas, David Murray, Colin Hunter, Henry Woods and Marcus Stone are all seen to exceptional advantage, and are stronger and better than ever. Frank Nuller's careful picture is much praised. Of other familiar names Arthur Stocks deserves credit for an effective comical genre picture, almost the only laugh in the whole show.

Portraits, as usual, are strong features of the exhibition, and as usual Frank Hall leads the list with a wonderful study of Earl Spencer, than which it is difficult to conceive a nobler work. His portrait of Mr. Gladstone, although preferred by the artist to no other, is an interesting performance, but too dark and Italian in shadows to please the critics. Hubert Herkomer's Master of Trinity College runs Hall close in brilliancy and effect. W. B. Richmond has a number of ordinary portraits. Of these, Bismarck's is almost the weakest. One very noble and admirable work is a picture of Viscountess Hood, which seems to me to be the best he has ever done. Sargent is represented by three portraits, of which that of the son of Robert Hutchinson, a lad in sailor costume, is the least notable. The others are genuine triumphs.

The three most salient features of the show as a whole are the number of lion pictures, the number of portraits of Jews hung all over the place and the number of strong new men with almost unknown names who paint the bulk of the academicians into the shade.

SUICIDE AT ST. THOMAS.

A Man Lays Himself Down on the Railway and is Fearfully Mangled.

ST. THOMAS, May 3.—This morning about 6.30, as Conductor Ponsford was walking across the Michigan Central large iron bridge, just west of the city, he discovered the dead body of a man lying on the side of the line. The head was completely severed from the body and was found under the bridge, a distance of thirty feet below. The victim is a man about 5 feet 10 inches in height, smooth face, apparently 30 years of age, well dressed, wore soft felt hat, high top boots, such as worn by Michigan lumbermen. There are no bruises on the body, the wheels having passed squarely over the neck, completely severing the head.

The unfortunate man was seen wandering around the city yesterday, appearing very melancholy, and many who have viewed the body believe that the unhappy man, being tired of life, determined to kill himself, and deliberately placed his neck across the rail and was run over by a passing train, while others think that while stealing a ride on a freight train he had slipped and fallen under the wheels. From a letter found in his pocket it is learned that the victim's name is James Barnes and that he has a sister named Florence residing in Bouchville, N.Y.

Jumped Into the Niagara River.

FORT ERIE, Ont., May 3.—Two men who were out fishing this afternoon noticed a man walking on a reef at the mouth of the river. They thought his actions strange and watched, and after a few minutes the man suddenly jumped forward clear of the reef and into deep water. They at once proceeded to Chief of Ontario Police Griffin and reported the fact. Officer Griffin hastily procured a boat and rowed out to the spot indicated. Here he found the body of the man floating perpendicularly in the water and moving down stream. The body was identified as that of Theodore Sheehan, formerly a resident of Dunnville, Ont., but of late living in Buffalo.

A Deserted Wife Kills Herself.

SYRACUSE, N.Y., May 3.—Mrs. Robert Thomas, for eighteen years a resident of this city, committed suicide at the Kingsley House to-day. She had been deserted by her husband.

The Canadian Pacific's Mileage.

LONDON, May 3.—The Canadian Pacific Railway Company in reply to The Standard's charge of deceiving the public in regard to the Algoma branch traffic, state that it was never intended to run regular trains before June, and that not till it is operated will the mileage of the branch be included in the traffic returns.

A Birth in the Tombs.

NEW YORK, May 3.—Wilhelmina Liebknecher, who poisoned her two children on March 21 and is locked up in the Tombs awaiting trial for their murder, gave birth to a male child this morning. Her husband died a couple of years ago.

Killed His Father's Friend.

FORT GARLAND, Col., May 3.—Billy Carson, son of Kit Carson, the scout, shot and killed Thomas J. Tobins in a fight here yesterday. Tobins was a companion of Kit Carson, and almost equally famous.

It is said that Manager Fisher has been after Dunn of the Tecumsehs.

The Hams won their first championship game yesterday.

In the first ten games Mike Kelly played in this season he made this record: Batting average, 447; total batting average, 736. He made 18 runs, 17 hits, and stole 11 bases.

TORONTOS' THIRD VICTORY

WHEN AND WHERE THE LACROSSE TEAMS WILL PLAY.

Meeting of the Committee of Management of the Canadian Lacrosse Association—League and Association Games Yesterday—Racing at Ivy City—Sports of Sport.

TROY, May 3.—In the second game with Toronto to-day the home team were clearly outplayed at every point. Keefe was given poor support, while the Torontos backed up their pitcher in splendid shape, and Bartnett, Rickley and McLaughlin were frequently applauded for pretty plays in their positions. The Torontos batted well and got their hits when most needed.

But eight innings were played and the last one was not finished, as the supply of balls ran out. Seven balls had been in use and were knocked over the fence. These were gobbled by the boys, for whom free admission was not sufficient inducement to return the spheres, and the game had to be stopped with some players still to bat in the eighth inning. Lord Stanley, replying to the toast of "Prosperity to the Dominion of Canada," said he was going to fill a position where all must be for state, none for party. Hon. Fire at Guelph.

GUELPH, May 3.—Fire broke out in the furniture factory of Burr Bros. at noon to-day, and before it was got under control did damage to the extent of $2000, fully covered by insurance. The fire appears to have originated in the feeder for carrying shavings and dust to the engine house. The men on duty at the time say a loud explosion occurred and the next moment the engine room was in flames, the doors were blown off and two men badly scorched.

A GOOD ILLUSTRATION.

The argumentum ad hominem is generally very forcible, and in the case of the application of it made by the Hamilton Times, exceedingly apposite illustration is often more convincing in its effect than logical arguments, but when the illustration suggests a great deal of logic, it is doubly so. This is the way the Times puts it:—"Mr. Rykert, M.P., has left Ottawa and gone to Buffalo for treatment of a diseased ear. How inconsistent his conduct is when viewed by his trade contentions. There are ear and eye doctors of eminence in Hamilton and Toronto. They are the home industry in that line of business, and as such should have the first care of a believer in "protection to home industries," such as the member for Lincoln pretends to be. Yet he passes them by and carries his ear for repair to Buffalo. What excuse can he offer for his neglect of the home industry and the patronage of a foreign specialist? Perhaps he thinks he will get the job more cheaply or more satisfactorily done. Very well. He should be permitted to get his auricular appendage mended where he can get the best value for his money. But let a neighbor of Mr. Rykert's suggest that he wishes to exchange his honest earnings for some article bought in Buffalo, and the inconsistent member for Lincoln will rise up and say: "No matter how good a bargain you can get in the States, if you purchase anything there which you can get at home, even at an enhanced price, you are a traitor to Canadians interests." To prevent such a contingency, the Tory policy is to keep the taxes so high that foreign competition shall be next to impossible, and the rings can practically charge what they please. Mr. Rykert only believes in patronizing home industry when it suits his own purposes, and he is a type of a large number of Canadian Tories. But when a Liberal points out that the proper course is to remove all shackles from commerce, and enable everybody to make the most of his earnings, he is at once denounced as a traitor. The hollowness of the cry is fully exemplified in the case of Mr. Rykert and his broken-down ear.

TORONTO TOPICS.

Messrs. Hughes Bros., wholesale dry goods merchants, Toronto, suspended payment at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, owing to inability to meet engagements amounting to $25,000, $4000 of which was due in England and about $10,000 locally. The Canadian Bank of Commerce, with which the firm did their banking business, declined to advance the amount and no course was open but that of suspending. The total liabilities, according to the officers of the bank, are $200,000. The indirect liabilities, consisting of business paper discounted, are $200,000. This paper is held by the Bank of Commerce, but after careful estimation it has been found that $125,000 is questionable, and for that amount the bank puts in a ranking claim on the estate. The assets cannot be ascertained, but it is alleged that the estate will pay 60 cents on the dollar.

Visitors to the Exhibition grounds will remember seeing an old wooden building opposite the western entrance to the grounds. It was originally used as a summer hotel, but lately it has been tenanted by a lot of bad characters. During the past few months a man named Dan McCarty and his family have been living there. McCarty was drunk most of the time, and so was his wife. The other day he was taken ill and yesterday morning he died, drunk. A reporter went down to see the remains and was horrified. The man had literally been eaten by worms. The wife was lying drunk on the floor, and a neighbor said that Constable Wrinkt of Parkdale had seen the remains. Coroner Lynd has issued a burial order, which will be executed at the town's expense.

The Board of Trade yesterday elected these new members: W. T. R. Lawrie, mill furnishings; R. L. Nelles, freight agent; James Ball, coal dealer; and H. B. Gordon, architect, all of Toronto. The President reported that the council had decided to give Secretary Wills a bonus of $300 in addition to his leave of absence, which gave rise to some objections on the part of some of the members who thought Mr. Wills was paid enough. The report was adopted. The Board will meet at 3.30 next Thursday afternoon, when the agreement between the C.P.R. and G.T.R. will be discussed.

Yesterday afternoon Messrs. N. G. Bigelow and W. G. Murdoch applied to Chief Justice Galt for the discharge of J. H. Same, held on four writs of capias. Mr. Barwick and Mr. McRae, for two plaintiffs holding judgments, opposed the granting of the application. The case was enlarged until a week from to-morrow.

The Commercial Union Club met last night in its rooms in Association Hall, Prof. Goldwin Smith in the chair. The attendance was fair. Among those who spoke were the Chairman, Lockhart Gordon, S. H. Janes, and James Pearson.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

A BILL TO AMEND THE LIBEL LAW OF THE DOMINION.

Actions for Libel Against Newspapers to be Tried Within the Province Where Published—Old Sam Alexander Sat Upon—Boats of Judge Henry.

OTTAWA, May 3.—Hon. Mr. Thompson this afternoon introduced a bill to amend the law of libel. This provides that any action against a newspaper for alleged libel must be tried within the province where the paper is published. Also that in cases of alleged criminal libel a preliminary examination must precede indictment unless upon the fiat of the Attorney-General of the province or of a judge. The important clause of the amendment to the libel law reads as follows:

Every proprietor, publisher, editor or other person charged with the publication in a newspaper of any defamatory libel shall be dealt with, indicted, tried and punished in the province in which such person resides or in which such newspaper is printed. "The word "newspaper" here used applies only to publications issued at intervals not exceeding twenty-six days.

Mr. Davies announced that he would shortly call the attention of the House to the arbitrary imprisonment of John T. Mawhe, editor of The Moncton Transcript, for alleged contempt of court, and ask for amendment to the law of contempt also.

The sole remaining one of the Government bills on the order paper was next introduced by Hon. Mr. Thompson. This was amending the Copyright act by putting into force in Canada the provisions adopted at the recent Berne convention.

Hon. David Mills brought up the matter of the Northwest Territories Legislature Act, suggesting to the Government that the territories should be paid a specific amount per capita of the population, the same as the provinces, and that the Legislature should have control of the fund so created in place of being dependent on the Dominion Government for all expenditure. It was little short of a farce, he said, to give the territories the power of legislation and representation and no funds to carry on business.

Sir John said the idea was to make as little change as possible until the territories have a purely elective assembly representing the people. No sum would be voted to be disposed of by the new Legislature until the Government knew what their main ideas were.

Sir Hector Langevin told Mr McMullen, in reply to the latter's question, that the site for the public buildings in Strathroy has not yet been selected. The election in West Middlesex is over, so there will probably be no hurry about the selection.

Sir John Macdonald moved that the House go into Committee of the Whole on a future day to consider the resolution of which he had given notice regarding the indemnity of members and salaries of officers of the Legislative Assembly of the Northwest Territories. Mr. Mills said that without assuming to discuss the question at this stage, he would ask the Premier if he intended to place money at the disposal of the Legislature with power to spend it as they pleased. He thought it would be a mere farce to give them power to legislate without revenues of their own to properly carry out their own functions. This view did not commend itself to Sir John, who explained that the Assembly itself being partly elective and partly appointive, was itself divided on this question of revenues, and it was deemed advisable to have the views of the people's representatives, as expressed in the Assembly about to be constituted, before deciding upon anything further. Mr. Mills expressed the view that this was not a matter of mere advisability but of justice, the people of the North west having the same right to a subsidy in proportion to population as those of the existing Provinces.

Remarkable Surgery.

The science of surgery has made such wonderful progress in modern times, that the most intricate operations are now undertaken and carried to a successful issue. There are now several well authenticated cases of what is known as pneumotomy, that is to say, the removal of diseased portions of the lungs in cases of consumption. While, however, this delicate operation has sometimes been successfully performed, the risks attending it are so great, and the chances of recovery so slight, that it is seldom resorted to. The safest plan in consumptive cases is to use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. This will always cure the disease in its earlier stages, thoroughly arresting the ravages of the terrible malady, be removing its cause and healing the lungs. b

PRIDE, HUMILITY AND SOCIAL RIGHTS.

WRITTEN BY LATHAM.

(Written for the Examiner.)

One [illegible] principal characteristics of nature [illegible]. In the grown up man and woman [illegible] up in the youth and little child, there is the predominant manifestation of a feeling of being the possessor of something [illegible] is possessed by others. Even in [illegible] things this feeling exhibits [illegible] frequently in little [illegible] ions in words: "I have something you have not, or I am better than you." There is nothing so [illegible] as pride. It is a thing which [illegible] hate, and it oftentimes leads to quarrels and [illegible] never makes friends. Pride of wealth is more common than pride of anything else. And the man who has risen from poverty to affluence possesses it in a far greater degree than any other man, and he exhibits it more ostentatiously and with more insolence and heartlessness. And he fancies that others entertain the same high opinion of him as he entertains for himself. Such people cannot be happy because they stand upon uncertain ground and never have the respect and confidence of their fellowmen. They strut about in their fancied superiority for a short time and then disappear and are forgotten. And their names and memories are a byword and reproach so long as their names and memories remain. Now, by the way of contrast, look at the humble man. Be he rich or be he poor he is ever the same plain, friendly, sociable man he ever was, extending the hand of friendship to the most lowly and the most needy, and having a pleasant word for every one. He could not be proud if he tried. And he would despise himself if he gave way to such a feeling. And he would be uncomfortable and unhappy if he wounded the feelings of others by any manifestation of arrogance, or if, through his deportment, he was treated less friendly by those whose friendship and good will he desired to retain. He [illegible] the rights of others. With him, might [illegible] right [illegible] the test of a man's worth. Give him truth and honesty and sobriety and justice and he asks not whether he is rich or poor. Economy and industry and decent living, in his eyes, are what go to make up the man. And the man possessing these, however humble he may be, will stand, in public estimation, high up above the heads of other men, and will be honored and respected where others fail. And after this life is over he will be at peace in the life to come. Social life is good or bad according to the members. We want to know the character and worth of a people you must study their social habits and make yourself acquainted with their social and their domestic lives. And in proportion as the people are sober and industrious and honest so will their habits and lives be elevated and pure. The great feature of this life is pride and a love of idleness and display. The good old fashioned habits of industry and economy and simplicity are now very little known. People are no longer content with the old fashioned [illegible] them or even with honest. Everything must go by steam. And if a man can't travel at least twenty-five miles an hour he imagines that he gets along too slowly. Everything must be done with railroad speed now, and the consequence is that people are losing sight of their former selves, and they cannot be content with steady work and living happily and cheerfully. But these have all to give way to fast living and reckless and extravagants, leaving the old home neglected and oftentimes forsaken altogether. The healthy, bright, pure life of the country is fast giving way to the show and the glitter and tinsel of the cities and towns, and the young people of both sexes, of any pretensions, have begun to look down with contempt upon farm life, and are rushing into the cities and towns, where they vainly imagine they will pass their time in pleasure and excitement and fine living. It is well said that pride is the never-failing vice of fools. It invariably leads to extravagance and soon produces much trouble and misery, often ending by breaking up homes and leaving the family to go out into the world and take care of themselves. There can be no real domestic comfort in a house filled with pride and foolishness. Social life must look for its happiness and rights in plain living and economy, but when the family once set up pretensions of superior worth and intelligence, and [illegible] look down upon their neighbors as not as good as themselves, they have entered upon a road full of disappointments and trouble. If people were wise and if they studied their own interests, they would lay aside foolish pride and self conceit, and close distinctions and strive as far as possible to make themselves pleasant by treating their neighbors as their friends. When a man separates himself from his fellow men he places himself and his family in a position of antagonism to those around him. He exposes them to much envy and unpleasantness, and he makes their lives uncomfortable and sometimes miserable for no earthly purpose except to gratify their own vanity, and to let it be known that he thinks himself better than everybody else. He will not allow himself to see how completely he is isolating himself and his family from all around them, but they see it and feel its pernicious influence upon all their social and home life. If a person wants to see sociability and friendship in their purity, let him go into a new country, where the people are few and far between, and where everyone is striving to better his condition and to make good homes and to bring up their families in respectability and comfort. He will find no foolish pride there, and he will see neighbor visiting neighbor and all living in harmony and peace. It is in such a place that men are thrown upon their own resources, are, as it were, thrown back upon themselves, and they and their families are only too glad to see the faces of their neighbors and to extend to them the hand of welcome. Sometimes they have to go long distances to make these friendly visits and they look forward with impatience and pleasure to the time when they are able to do so. I have heard the early settlers along the front tell how lonesome they used to feel in their isolation and how glad they were to take their ox teams and sleds and travel all day long before they could reach the place of their destination and how happy they all felt to be together, and how greatly they enjoyed themselves, their visits often extending over two or three days. It was thus these early pioneers enjoyed social life, a life where they all felt themselves to be neighbors and friends, a life so different in these times of pride and extravagance and folly. These old people are now nearly all gone, but they have left behind them good, comfortable homes for others to enjoy, and pleasure to waste. And too often we see these homes, acquired after long years of privation and toil, passed and passing away into strange hands. And soon the descendants of these old settlers will have gone into other lands and will know their old homes no more. But they will often think of them and call to mind the days of their youth, and look at the old school house and the grounds where they played and [illegible]. And when [illegible] the [illegible] ground of their old [illegible] they will call to mind the days now long gone by, and full many times wished they had stuck to their old homes, and how they could have done so had they been wiser and better. It is among such people as these that we get the correct idea of social rights. They do not depend upon pride or upon humility, but upon equality of position. And equality and [illegible] upon which [illegible] Conducted [illegible] and intelligence and more money has nothing to do with their enjoyment. They depend altogether upon the people themselves, and with [illegible] the exception of the [illegible] and hospitals, [illegible] remember the more money's [illegible] the [illegible] than [illegible] wise. They [illegible] that [illegible] makes the man. Not that industry, and economy, and truth, and justice make the man. Drinking whiskey, and drinking cigars, and the abuse and neglect of wife and children will never give a man an honorable place in society or among his fellowmen any where. Those belong to the low, the depraved and the vulgar. Sobriety, and temperance, and honest labor, and good conduct can alone give their possessor a title to the respect and confidence of the world. Let a person be ever so poor and humble, but let him be upright and true, performing faithfully his duty to himself and to the community and he will stand higher in the estimation of his fellowmen than he would do if he [illegible] millions and [illegible] truth and honesty. It is a great pity that some people would not think more of these things and strive to give them a better observance. If they did so we would see fewer poor broken hearted women and fewer barefooted children. And some of them would not then hang their heads in sorrow and would feel happier and better and would enjoy those social rights and privileges which properly belong to honest industry and which elevate people and make them respected and free. Every one ought to feel that labor is the lot of all men. No man can feel more independent than the steady, honest laborer. He [illegible] what he receives and ought to know how to enjoy it, and so long as he does right he may hold himself as good as the best in the land. His destiny is in his own hands, and the happiness of himself and of his wife and children can only be secured by good conduct, by sobriety, and intelligence and honest industry.

BUILDING LOTS

Such as Nos. 1, 2 and 3, noted below are not like merchandise when sold; locality and situation cannot always be replaced. There are many persons living in distant parts of the town and Ashburnham to whom a residence within five minutes walk of any of the churches, Post Office, Market and principal stores, would be a great boon. To such we would say do not delay. Come to the office and discuss the matter. We may buy from you or sell to you. You have Something to Gain and Nothing to Lose.

1. That beautiful situation on Brock Street, east of and adjoining Mr. Nugents' new residence, so high above all surroundings, so central, so retired, and yet so convenient for all purposes. A most suitable place for a Doctor's Office and residence, or for any person wishing to reside near his Office or Business. Front Lot is 60x120 ft. to lane. Rear Lot is 66x124 ft., with an inexhaustable supply of first-class water. 30, 35 and 40 feet frontage can be had of this lot with stable accommodation if desired.

2. This is an extremely fine Lot, with about 75 feet frontage on Water Street, by 115 feet deep. It has an east front, facing St. Paul's Church, and will be sold in one or two lots. Act promptly.

3. In a fine Lot on Stewart Street, 67x115 ft. opposite Messrs. Hall and Sheppard's beautiful mansions, protected on the north by the Chief of Police, and charmed on the south by a professor of music.

4. In addition to the above, we have good lots in north, east, south and west parts of the Town, and for large lots at low prices, we would call attention to the Ledgate, Carlisle, and Toronto Real Estate Investment Co'y's suburban additions, where good value can be had for small investments.

For Houses and Lots in all parts of the town, Ashburnham and Auburn, we have variety and value to suit any reasonable buyer. We have Gordon Lots from one to ten acres for Sale and to rent. Also, several Farms, one large Farm with good buildings, fall crop and ploughing to rent cheap. All are invited to call at our office, or write for further particulars

The Daily Examiner.

FRIDAY, MAY 4, 1888.

LOCAL NEWS.

The Weather.

Strong winds, gradually veering to south and southwest; mostly cloudy with occasional rains; higher temperature.

Scandalous Belleville.

A statistical genius gives some curious social figures respecting Belleville. There are in that city 17 men who ill treat their wives, 6 wives who throw teapots at their husbands' head, 33 husbands who accumulate more or less divorce court evidence against themselves, and three wives who don't altogether live up to the example of Cæsar's wife, but there's not a woman in the whole city who has a chance at such big drives in dress silks as are given at the golden lion, Peterborough. For instance, 20 pieces pure silk merveilleux in black and all the new colorings worth $1 sold at 75c. Splendid bargains.

Western Ontario Railway.

Sir John Macdonald was interviewed Wednesday by a deputation which asked for a subsidy for sixty miles of railway between Shelbourne and Claremont. The proposed line is to be a branch of the Western Ontario railway. The object is to connect with Owen Sound on Lake Huron and some point at or near Port Hope on Lake Ontario. After the request of the deputation had been laid before him, Sir John Macdonald replied that the application would be submitted to the Government. He could not hold out any brilliant hopes. In a few days the Government would take up the question of railway subsidies and a decision would be announced.

Bishop Jamot's Anniversary.

To-day, as was intimated by the solemn tolling of the bell of St. Peter's Cathedral, is the anniversary of the death of the late Bishop Jamot. Vicar-General Laurent, of Lindsay, celebrated Requiem High Mass in St. Peter's Cathedral at 8 o'clock. The choir, under the leadership of Prof. Doucet, rendered special music. The large congregation present gave evidence of the fact that the memory of their late revered Bishop still holds a high place in their hearts. Rev. Father Conway, of Norwood, came to town to join in the anniversary services.

Slander.

A report insulting to the reputation of our citizens is now being circulated, viz:—"That nine-tenths of Peterborough's population have never heard of Will Carleton and his 'Farm Ballads.'" We hasten to deny the charge, and feel confident that a bumper house of our most intelligent and cultured citizens next Thursday evening will prove to a demonstration their innocence of the alleged crime of ignorance. d106

That Discrepancy.

Assessor Aldridge called this morning to explain the slight difference in the figures of the total population as given by them, and the total as added up by wards. There is a difference of 27, and of these, he says, 20 are inmates of the Protestant Home, which is not regularly assessed, and the remainder were families who moved into town and occupied buildings assessed to the owners. The only way he could get their numbers in the population was by placing them in the grand total. The assessment gives the town a population of within 11 of 9,000.

An Early Morning Blaze.

About two o'clock this morning a fire was discovered in progress at Stevenson's warehouse on Bethune street, between Charlotte and Simcoe streets. The alarm was rung and the brigade were quickly on the scene. The fire had already gained great headway, but they went to work and subdued the flames after a short, sharp fight. The building, a large frame one, was so badly burned that it will have to be almost entirely rebuilt to be serviceable. There were about 3,000 bushels of wheat, oats and peas, which were scorched, smoked and watered until the grain is fit for nothing but chicken food. About 70 barrels of flour owned by Messrs. Meldrum & Davidson were also damaged by water. The total loss is estimated at $2,500, the greater part of which will fall upon Mr. W. H. Wrighton, who held a lease of the warehouse and owned the grain. There was an insurance of $2,000 in the Commercial Union. It is not known how the fire originated.

Leary vs. Gordon.

This case was disposed of at the recent Cobourg Assizes. The World says:—"It was an action brought by Wm. Leary and Thos. Leary, of Peterborough, against Mrs. Elizabeth Gordon, of Contrecœur, claiming $370 for boring a well to the depth of 247 feet. The bargain was, no water, no pay, and though no water was obtained, the plaintiffs said it was because the defendant prevented them finishing the work. The defendant denied that she stopped them working, and advanced as a defence that they broke their tools and plant and could not proceed. The case was tried at the last Fall Assizes, when the plaintiffs obtained a verdict for $65 and full costs. The defendant obtained a new trial from the Divisional Court, and the second trial resulted in a verdict for the plaintiffs for $50, the jury recommending that each party pay their own costs. The plaintiffs' counsel stated that he would move in term to increase this verdict to the full amount claimed. Geo. Edmison (Peterborough) for plaintiffs; F. A. Hilton and J. W. Curry (Millbrook) for defendant."

The Debate To-Night.

The Lindsay Y.M.C.A. Glee Club and debaters will arrive by the 5 p.m. train to-day and will be at the Grand Central. Quite a little interest prevails concerning the [illegible] of the debate.

These prize [illegible] Pelmo[illegible] are [illegible] in the trade.

The 26th at Belleville.

The Belleville Oddfellows' band went the Canton Militant of Peterborough to rue an excursion to that city on May 24th, [illegible] had been written to with reference to the matter.

Alexander's Bankrupt Stock.

Willow and Wicket.

A cricket match, President vs. Vice-President, will be played on the grounds next Tuesday. The teams will be published to-morrow. The club is practising every day now. A better attendance at the afternoon practices is wished for.

Cobourg Rifle Association.

At the annual meeting of the Cobourg Rifle Association the following officers were elected:—Lady Patroness, Mrs. J. V. Gravely; President, Lieut.-Col. J. V. Gravely; Vice-President, Lieut. D. McNaughton; Secretary Treasurer, E. A. Macnachtan; Council, Captain H. J. Malgrove, Captain John McCaughey and Sergeant George Archer.

After the Burglars.

Mr. H. LeBrun offers a reward of $100 for information that will lead to the conviction of the burglars who raided his store Wednesday night. As Mr. LeBrun is an extensive ratepayer of the town and entitled to every police protection, it might be advisable for the town council to supplement the reward by another amount.

Special to the Ladies of Peterborough.

Mr. Jos. Stoval, representing the well known firm of Stoval & Armstrong, ladies' tailors, 69 King street, West Toronto, is now at the Oriental hotel with plates and samples, and is prepared to take measures for ladies' costumes, riding habits, ulsters and jackets. Ladies will be visited at their residence with plates and samples by special request. Address, J. STOVAL, room 41 Oriental Hotel, Peterborough. 2d106

That Double Track.

A Port Hope despatch says:—"Orders were received from headquarters on Saturday that the G.T.R. viaduct here will at once be rebuilt with cut stone abutments for a double track. Five new abutments were erected last year, which will have to be widened to correspond with the new work. This will be a heavy job and give employment for a large number of men in town. The whole line between Montreal and Toronto will be double tracked at once."

The Queen's Birthday.

It is now a settled fact that Peterborough will have to carry [illegible] 24th of May [illegible] without either the Queen's Own [illegible] or Grenadiers. The former [illegible] Ottawa and the latter to Guelph. However, the disappointment does not discourage the promoters of the celebration. The posters announcing the joint military and athletic celebration will be out in a day or two, and the Driving Park Association and firemen are preparing a fine programme of horse races, athletic events, fox and deer hunts, etc. It will be a big day after all.

Fleet Firemen.

An insurance agent says that the local fire brigade never made quicker time nor did better work than they did last night at the fire at Wrighton's storehouse. He was lying in bed awake when the alarm sounded. He arose at once and began to dress as quickly as possible, but before he was half dressed he heard the rattle of the hose van laying down a line of hose from the nearest hydrant. And when they got to business they made short work of the fire, as scores were remarking this morning. Down goes an emphatic entry on the credit side of the ledger.

Wait.

The purchasers of "Inveries" (the Judge Dennistoun property) are subdividing it into building lots. Parties intending to buy choice building lots should wait a few days until plans of this property are completed. For particulars apply to

dw W. LANGFORD.

Ashburnham Streets.

The village of Ashburnham is a thrifty little town—a little too economical perhaps—almost to the verge of injustice. For the past season or two four or five business men, to protect themselves, have paid for street watering out of their own pockets. This is not quite right. Everybody who uses the streets watered, gets the benefit of the expenditure for sprinkling, and it seems only fair that the expense should be borne by the corporation. Let the village fathers think over the matter till next council meeting and then decide to do what seems to be the duty of the corporation.

Water Filters.

To insure good health it is absolutely necessary to have pure water, and no water is entirely free from floating matter and disease germs without thorough filtration. The majority of cases of typhoid and other low fevers are in a measure caused from unfiltered and impure water, so that every family who values its health should have a reliable filter. Numerous filters are offered to the public varying in points of excellence, but for cheapness, efficiency and durability, our filters cannot be surpassed. No corroding substances are used in construction. The packing material is the most powerful specially prepared granulated carbon. It will last for years with the ordinary use of a family, and the material may be obtained from us at any time for replenishing at small expense. Sold in Peterborough only at China Hall. dw

The Coming Concert.

No other musical event during the past season has evoked the interest aroused by Miss Helen O'Reilly's concert on Wednesday, May 9th, in Bradburn's Opera House. Miss O'Reilly's unusual ability has attracted the attention of Madame Albini, the great American prima donna, and secured her a position in her London, England, Opera Company. De Seve, as a violinist, has no recognized superior, except, perhaps, Joachim. His performance on the violin will be the very witchery of music. The local talent is of well known and acknowledged merit, always listened to with delight. The programme, which will be issued in a few days, will be made up to contained an overflowing house. Those who wish to hear the best concert of the season should lose no time in selecting their seats. Popular prices, 25c. and 50c. Plan of hall at Hartley's.

"Free Masons'" Day.

Divided Into a Double Stream of Pleasure.

As has already been intimated in the EXAMINER, the Masonic fraternity of Peterborough is elated to fill [illegible] of the big days of the season. [illegible] from the energetic [illegible] preparations [illegible] Masons' day will come in as the [illegible] day—the Queen's birthday being the first. A meeting of the joint excursion committees from the various Masonic bodies was held in the Masonic hall on Tuesday evening. The following gentlemen were appointed executive officers of the general excursion committee:—Chairman, Mr. R. J. Ireland; Secretary, W. [illegible]; Treasurer, [illegible]. The [illegible] for the [illegible] office of the Grand Master, Mr. [illegible] was [illegible] by Mr. Brunsdon, and on motion, he has been entrusting with the Company, with a view to securing a date and the most favorable arrangements for a double excursion to Toronto. Thursday, June 7th, will the day agreed on, and the chairman, the secretary and Mr. Brunsdon were appointed a committee with the railway company. From what can be gathered from the members of the Committee, it may be stated that two special excursion trains will leave the Peterborough station for Toronto on the morning of June 7th, the first at 6.45 via Port Hope and the main G.T.R. line; the second at 7.30 via Lindsay, on the line of the regular morning express. Excursionists are to have the privilege of selecting their route according to preference or accidentally early or late rising. To give an idea of the probable magnitude of the excursion it may be pointed out that the territory to be drawn from [illegible] district under Masonic jurisdiction and covers a territory in which Masonic lodges most largely abound. By the above route, Lakefield, Millbrook, and on the main line, Trenton, Brighton, Colborne, Grafton, Cobourg, Port Hope, Oshawa, Brownsville, Newcastle, Whitby, and the country adjacent to these places. By the other route (by early connection over the G.J.R.) Belleville, and the villages and towns along this line, Omemee, Lindsay, Fenelon Falls, Bobcaygeon, Markham, Uxbridge and other villages. The rates from the various points have not yet been graded, but the rate will be low and the tickets will be good for two days (at the least), so that business men and others desiring to spend a couple of days in Toronto can do so and be back in time for Saturday's business. Nicholls our citizens will largely avail themselves of this cheap excursion. The following are the names of the committees representing the different Masonic bodies in town: R. A. Chapter—Messrs. Rob. Megaw, H. E. Ward, D. Spence, C. Cameron, E. Q. Dench; Corinthian Lodge—Rev. W. C. Brunsdon and Messrs. R. C. Winch, R. A. Peck, R. J. Lee and T. May; Peterborough Lodge—Messrs. B. Shortly, W. Brundrette, R. Calcutt, F. H. Dobbin and W. Menzies.

Police Court.

FRIDAY, May 4.

The [illegible] Statute Labor cases came up [illegible] Patrick Daley and Wm. Eastland were each fined $5 and costs. Simon Wilson [illegible] was discharged.

Hugh McDonald was found by P. C. Adams last night on Bon Accord street, where he was kicking up a row. He was this morning committed to gaol for a month as a vagrant.

A charge of "disorderly conduct" was preferred by John Cruickshank against Harry Lynch. The plaintiff says the defendant came into his bedroom while drunk and threatened to tear him to pieces and subject him to other gentle treatment. The charge was not proven and the case was dismissed.

Personal.

This morning Prof. [illegible] entered upon his duties as choirmaster of St. Peter's Cathedral.

Mr. and Mrs. W. [illegible] of Peterborough, are at Colborne on a visit with their daughter, Mrs. E. Brown.

Miss Mittie Fraipe, who visited Peterborough last winter under the auspices of the W. C. T. U., was married this week to Dr. Cook, of Minneapolis.

The Lindsay Watchman, in its report of a concert in St. Mary's church at that town Wednesday evening, says:—"Miss Begley, of Peterborough, gave two solos and was encored both times. Mr. Ball, of Peterborough was expected, but was unavoidably absent."

News Nuggets.

—The scene of the fire in Stevenson's storehouse examined this morning shows what good work was done by the Fire Brigade.

—The cutting down of Cathedral hill, Reid street, is not only an improvement to this street but to most of the streets adjacent.

—If the fire in Wrighton's storehouse had occurred in Toronto there would have been a big drop in the price of coffee—there were bushels of roasted peas lying about this morning.

—Talk about May being an unlucky month for marriages. The old superstition must be rapidly dying out, for ever since the month opened it has been the liveliest one in matrimonial circles of the year.

—There is said to be a firm in Toronto that deals in counterfeit bills, "green goods," from whom bogus money can be bought at the rate of ten cents on the dollar.

—A bald-headed editor in Colborne visited the opera house the other night and some wicked person stuck a patent medicine advertisement on his shining pate. The spectators tittered, and the old gentleman being informed of the cause of their mirth, pulled the paper off with the philosophical remark:—"I'll have to charge them double for an ad. in such a prominent place."

Lacrosse.

The Riverside Lacrosse Club will this year have a strong team. Besides the members of last year, who are still nearly all in town, the club will have the services of Mr. Joe Joyi, a former resident of the town and an expert with the stick. He played with the old Peterboroughs, and afterwards with the Boston Champions. His return to town will be gladly welcomed by the Riversides. Then during the present summer Mr. Patterson, of the Montreals, will play with the Riversides. Mr. Patterson has a business engagement in Peterborough that will continue all summer, and, being a first-class player, one of the late champion team of Montreal, will be a tower of strength to the club here. The Riversides ought to make a good showing this year.

J. C. Craig has opened out his two comfortable oyster parlors on George street, where the delicious bivalves will be served up at all hours, in any style desired. Drop in and try Johnny's stews. Steaks, mutton chops and tea and coffee served until 12 o'clock at night. d

Painting the Town.

Enough paint to do the whole town, ready mixed at that, ranging from the brightest vermillion to the sombrest black, and including all colors and shades made, can be had at Fortye & Phelan's.

Gifts of Poison.

It is time that respectable merchants withheld with commends for the suppression of all gift, prize and lottery schemes in connection with the sale of articles of merchandize. These schemes are not only demoralizing to legitimate business and to the morals of the community [illegible] the system flourish, there are being [illegible] used for the purpose of [illegible] the public stomach. They may be [illegible] what form they appear, nothing more or less than devices to swindle honest and unsuspecting people.

It is gratifying to learn in some instances the officers of the law have taken hold of the matter. In New York, and also in Chicago, parties who in this way offered [illegible] to purchasers of their packages have recently been arrested upon indictments for [illegible] pretences. The latter States, both for [illegible] operations, as criminal prosecutions, are the manufacturers of the [illegible] baking powders, who are both, by means of gifts and lottery tickets, disposing of large quantities of their corrosively poisonous compounds, which are so well known to be detrimental to health that no housekeeper will admit them to her kitchen knowingly. This form of swindle is not only peddled from house to house, but under the promise of large profits to be realized, the manufacturers are entrenching themselves behind the counters of many grocers by getting them to offer the alum goods with the gifts or lottery tickets attached, thereby shifting the liability to prosecution, in part, upon other, and perhaps innocent parties. Every grocer or dealer, for instance, who sells or offers for sale any of the prize or lottery baking powders is a criminal in the eye of the law, and liable, upon conviction, to fine and imprisonment, while those who sell the gift goods are, morally, as responsible, for they are offering an inducement, or prize, to housekeepers to use a food that contains a corrosive poison. This is a predicament in which it is not possible our grocers will care to place themselves when they come to think seriously of the matter.

It must be borne in mind that every one [illegible] gift or prize baking powders are alum [illegible] powders. These powders cost less than four cents a pound to produce; the gift or prize costs but a few cents more. They are sold at the price of a first-class baking powder, so that the swindle, in a commercial sense, is enormous. But the chief iniquity of the business consists in selling, as presumably wholesome, an article of a positively injurious character, and by means of gifts or bribes inducing servants or unsuspecting housekeepers to purchase and use it in our daily food.

There should be some prompt method of reaching these dangerous practices and punishing the parties engaged in their promotion. If the present laws are not ample, we commend the matter to the consideration of our State Board of Health, for recommendation of such additional legislation as shall be effective for the protection of the public.

A Sure Relief.

I suffered from a hard Cough contracted by damp feet. Having consulted a local doctor without effect I thought I would try Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam as a last resort. Before I had finished the first bottle my cough had entirely disappeared, and to day I enjoy better health than ever before. I can conscientiously recommend it. Chas. H. A Severe Trial.

Those who endure the torturing pangs of Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Sciatica, Lumbago and similar painful complaints are severely tried, but their is a speedy relief in Hagyard's Yellow Oil, as thousands who have used it joyfully testify. It banishes pain and lameness quickly. 2w18d

The Growth of the Hair.

Should always be watched. Inattention to the hair often leads to premature grayness and baldness. When dandruff appears it should be looked after at once. By frequently using a little of Dr. Dorenwend's Great German Hair Magic the scalp will be kept in a clean and healthy condition and the strength and vigor of the hair greatly promoted. It is the only reliable. Do not be talked into using anything else. For sale by all druggists everywhere. dw

LIFE ASSURANCE COMP'Y OF CANADA

HEAD OFFICE, MONTREAL.

Both in Magnitude and Profitableness, the Business for 1887 has been almost everything that could be desired.

The life policies now in force are 7,128 for $10,972,777.69, on 6741 lives. We have moreover $3,207,000.00 insured under 1,840 accident policies, so that the total current contracts of the Company are 8,969 for $14,061,377.69.

The income for the year shows the very large increase of $122,331.23 over the figures of 1886, the total being $495,831.54. The revenue is now half a million dollars per annum, or as mentioned in the report, over $1,600 for every working day in the year, and even this he believed was but a mere introduction to what it will be in a few years hence. The gains from time to time are well illustrated by the following table:—

Period	Gain in income.	Gain in assets.	Gain in assurances.
1872 to 1876, four years	$ 54,611 21	$160,422 69	$1,149,748 03
1876 to 1880, four years	38,580 67	195,186 69	1,169,395 [illegible]
1880 to 1884, four years	126,976 84	263,284 31	2,962,924 90
1884 to 1887, three years	217,451 89	475,977 24	4,029,373 65
Total in 1887	$495,831 54	$1,750,004 46	$10,873,777 69

It is very pleasing to notice that the gains for the last three years [illegible] 60 per cent. more than those of the preceding four years.

THE SPRING DIET.

In the Spring a young man's fancies may lightly turn to thoughts of love, but the fancies of the middle aged usually turn to what they shall eat next.

The "spring appetite" is nature's hint for a change in the quality and a let-up in the quantity of food consumed.

The golden rule of living is to adapt the diet to the needs of the system. For that reason

Canned Goods

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

MEASURES WHICH HAVE RECEIVED THE ROYAL ASSENT.

The Bucket Shop Bill Receives Its Second Reading—The Quarantine Vote Passed in Committee—Pension Bonus Discussed —The Militia Estimates.

OTTAWA, May 4.—In the House this afternoon the Bucket Shop Bill had its bill stand-ing, the Territories Real Property Act were passed [illegible].

In answer to Mr. Laurier, Sir John said unsold lands which the Canadian Pacific Railway Company proposes to entrust to trustees under the terms of the resolutions now before Parliament amounted to 14,334,400 acres. These sold first with sales still incomplete amount to 2,525,239 acres.

The House being summoned to the Senate Chamber Sir Wm. Ritchie, Deputy Governor, there signified the royal assent to the following measures this session:

An act further to amend the law respecting [illegible] Canada.

On resuming the House in committee [illegible] the vote for [illegible] quarantine service.

The vote for pensions, $60,916, was next proposed.

In answer to Sir Richard Cartwright, Sir John said the pension about to be voted to Mrs. Gowanlock, whose husband was killed by Indians at Duck Lake, would likely be the same as that which has been voted to Mrs. Delaney, whose husband was killed at the same time, namely, $400 per annum.

In the early part of the evening session there was a lively passage at arms. After some private bills had been advanced a stage, and the House again went into Committee of Supply, Mr. McNeill rose to speak. Sir Charles Tupper, who is impatient of any delay, motioned to him to indicate that no item had yet been taken up and there was nothing to discuss. Mr. McNeill said he only wanted to say a word. He said it. It was to the effect that he had suggested the issue of the Northwest medals, and Mr. Edgar last year had said that the volunteers would reject them with scorn. This furnished him with a text for his usual amendment on his own [illegible] and the disloyalty of members of the Opposition, of which he took advantage. Mr. Major explained that he had not said the volunteers would not wear the medals, but that while medals might be struck to commemorate a defence of the country [illegible] was a pity to strike [illegible] Conditions against [illegible] brought [illegible] by the neglect of [illegible] what he said last [illegible] Lister, member for [illegible] the explanation of Mr. McNeill, first remarked without rising that Mr. McNeill was a nuisance, and when he arose a moment later objected in the strongest language to the bumptious [illegible] assumption of superiority. This led to further complications [illegible] rose to reply to Charles Tupper objected, but after a great deal of confusion Mr. McNeill put himself in order by a formal apologizing to have the committee rise, and Sir Charles Tupper had to sit down under the chairman's ruling, which he did with anger in every feature. Mr. McNeill blew off his rage and the matter dropped.

A lively discussion on the 5th Battalion, to which Col. Amyot and Major-General Lewis took part, threw some new light on the famous electioneering between Col. Amyot and the Minister of Militia. The Major-General was asked by Col. Amyot to state under what circumstances the confidential telegrams which Mr. Caron afterwards read to the House were sent. He said that he had held conversation with Col. Amyot on the question of the expense of conducting the campaign. He believed Mr. Amyot's despatches to the Minister of Militia were sent as a result of these conversations and that he believed the correspondence had been misunderstood and misinterpreted and a different meaning given to them to that which was intended to be conveyed. The Minister of Militia did not refer to the subject.

The House adjourned at 1.10.

The Hughes Bros.' Failure.

MONTREAL, May 5.—The stock market was strong this morning, and considering the circumstances was quite active, the stocks which showed most strength there is a suspicion that the strength is not natural, that it is rather stimulated or fictitious. For months or rather years there have been rumors, periodically in circulation regarding the financial position of Messrs. Hughes Bros., one of the largest dry goods houses in Toronto. A few months ago, when rumors were last afloat, it was declared that this firm was quite sound. The announcement of its failure this morning was therefore a surprise to the brokers, and there was a good deal of astonishment when the price of Commerce stock, instead of declining, advanced from 119½ to 121, the heaviest sales being made at the highest prices. Over 2,000 shares were sold at this morning's board at 120¾ and 121.

Banks of the most [illegible] inclined say that certain wealthy Canadian Pacific shareholders are the buyers to-day. Under the circumstances the strength and activity of the stock looks more like the result of some kind of a deal.

Some conservative brokers believe that the Bank of Hochelaga [illegible] failure was long discounted. There were, no doubt, anticipations of it but the strong reassurances given so lately must have misled many. The afternoon the market continued fairly strong. Bank of Commerce sold down 1 per cent. to 120, the latter price being offered at the close, sellers 120½. It is reported that Mr. Duncan McIntyre [illegible] purchaser of 3000 shares of the Bank of Commerce stock sold this morning. Whether it was bought for investment or [illegible] the action which "bulls" and "bears" are fighting over. The report that Hughes Bros. will continue business with their credit practically unimpaired has, no doubt, had the effect of weakening the power of the announcement of their suspension.

The Outer Line to Religion.

ANDERSON, S. C., May 4.—The South Carolina Episcopal diocesan convention yesterday unanimously adopted a resolution looking to absolute separation of the two races into different organizations. The colored churches cannot be compelled to accept the arrangement, but it is believed they will.

ARRESTED FOR CONSPIRACY.

[illegible] Arrest to Prevent the Flight of a Young Man.

BOSTON, May 4.—Last evening Chief Inspector Hanson and Inspectors Gerraughty, Haughey and Collins arrested Lake W. Holman, a real estate broker of Washington-street, on the charge of conspiracy to cause the murder of Miss Emeline B. Holman of Worcester. In December Holman's father died leaving property valued at $80,000. Miss Holman, who is a hairdresser in Lake, was appointed executrix and Mr. Holman was to be allowed the use of $7000. Miss Emeline was keeping company with a gentleman and Mr. Holman thought the two would be married and that the property would be squandered. To prevent this Holman conceived the idea of either murdering his sister himself or getting some one to do so. Holman has two residences, one at the Aldine House on Court-street, this city, and one at No. 1 Golden-street, Worcester.

He could not nerve himself to do the deed and came to Boston in search of some one who would carry out his plans. He found a man who agreed to get another party to do the killing. The man gave the matter away to Chief Inspector Hanson. It was arranged that Holman should visit the party who was to do the job on Boston common on May 1. Holman was promptly on hand and so was Inspector Collins, the latter being disguised as a ruffian. Holman did not suspect anything. He said he wanted to have Miss Emeline put out of the way. He told the supposed ruffian whom she lived, gave him a key to her room, handed him her picture, told on which side of the bed she generally lay—she having a lady room-mate—and also gave him a plan of the room. He also suggested that as there were three gold watches in the room he had better take them so that robbery would be ascribed as the motive, and he also suggested as an easy way to kill the woman that a darning-needle be run through her heart.

The murderer was to receive $1000. Inspector Collins agreed to the job and a second meeting was arranged with Holman. Holman [illegible] Collins was to [illegible] The plans for the murder were again gone over. The job was to be done to-night, and the money was to be paid on May 13. Holman was to be in Springfield.

Thrown Out by the Railway Committee.

OTTAWA, May 4.—The bill of Dr. Hickey, M.P., for the construction of the Ottawa, Montebello and New York Railway, was thrown out to-day by the Railway Committee of the Senate by a vote of 16 to 3. There was a big discussion. Dr. Hickey, M.P., supported the measure, which was opposed by Mr. F. Keefer for the Ottawa and Waddington road. The reason given for this action is that the old charter has not yet expired.

Serious Accident.

RAMSEY, May 5.—In Reuben v. O'Brien the jury, after due consideration, brought in a verdict of "Not guilty," when the prisoner was at once discharged.

NOTES FROM THE CAPITAL.

THE HOUSE LIKELY TO BE PROROGUED MAY 10.

An Amendment on the Compulsory Question to be Proposed by Mr. Blake—The Prince Edward Island Subsidy—Diversion to be Granted—The Guelph Junction Railway.

OTTAWA, May 4.—A large deputation arrived to-day to interview the Government as to a subsidy of $3000 a mile for the extension of the Guelph Junction Railway from Guelph to Goderich. They saw Mr. Pope at his residence.

Catherine Morrison of Ottawa, and Lieut. Irving of Toronto, will get their divorces from the Senate. The respondent in the first case is in the penitentiary, and in the latter in the United States.

The Bucket Shop Bill hangs fire, and it is questioned whether the Minister of Justice will dare to put it through. It has stood on the Government orders for second reading for two or three weeks.

The Customs have directed that $24,000 worth of goods of the King Tye Ching Company of Victoria, B.C., be seized at Montreal for undervaluation. The branch was only just established there by L. Sing How, now in Ottawa. Mr. John Hall, Q.C., is here interviewing the department about the matter.

Dr. Hickey, member for Dundas, suffered a severe defeat in the Senate Railway Committee to-day by the rejection by 13 to 3 of his bill renewing an expired charter to build a railway from Ottawa to Morrisburg, on the ground that it was an invasion of the rights of the Ottawa, Waddington and New York Railway Company, which obtained a charter for the same route after Hickey's expired. There has long been a bitter fight between the two companies, and Captain Furlonger of Morrisburg has won.

W. T. R. Preston, Secretary of the Ontario Reform Association, and A. Hiles of the Ontario Bureau of Statistics, are here.

Hon. Mr. Sullivan, Premier of Prince Edward Island, is here to negotiate a settlement of matters in the dispute concerning the terms of Confederation. The Provincial Assembly a few days ago authorized Mr. Sullivan to accept $220,000 from Ottawa as compensation.

Hon. David Laird, ex-Minister of the Interior, arrived to-day.

Hon. T. H. Haviland, ex-Lieut.-Governor of Prince Edward Island, and now Mayor of Charlottetown, is in the city.

Mr. Mills has given notice of an amendment to Supply, declaring that in the opinion of the House the public interests and good faith to the Provinces of Ontario require that this Parliament should without further delay ask for Imperial legislation to settle, [illegible] and effectually the [illegible] of the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council [illegible] the boundaries of the Province of Ontario, which decision having recommended that such legislation should be obtained. The preamble to the resolution contains a history of the boundary question, the construction of Sir John Macdonald and the Ontario Government [illegible] of the Act of the Dominion Parliament, passed in 1889, [illegible] the Mowat boundary; the resolutions passed by the House in 1880 declaring that the western and southern boundaries of Ontario should be settled by the Supreme Court or the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council; the reference of the matter to the latter body and its decision, given in favor of Ontario on July 32, 1884.

A Cabinet Minister to-day said definitely that the present [illegible] Parliament will prorogue on May 10.

ARRESTED FOR BURGLARY.

Crooks Behind the Bars at Fergus—Long-Continued Depredations.

FERGUS, May 4.—For the last five or six years burglaries have been successfully carried on in this place, stores being broken into and dry goods, edibles, tobacco, etc., carried away in large quantities. On Sunday last a man known as Fritz, a shoemaker, happened to be around an alleged tailor shop located above the Police Magistrate's clothing store here and found two plugs of T. & B. tobacco. He surprised the occupant of the [illegible] and to his surprise and delight was told he could keep it, as he (the occupant) had a box of it. Fritz being jubilant over his good luck, was not backward in handing the word around among the crowd. This caused some suspicion, as it was something very unusual for Fritz to have so much tobacco on him at once. Two constables armed with a warrant went to the place, where they found a lot of stolen property, which was identified by James Philp and Thos. Armstrong.

Wm. Paterson, better known as "Scotch Wullie," and Michael Kelly, who were busy at work on a coat (being ostensibly tailors employed by Alex. Taylor, the dentist), were arrested and locked up. They told the constables that a man named Gilmour brought the stuff there, and that they knew nothing further about it. Gilmour being at work on the G.T.R. near Harristburg, Constable Alpan went down and arrested him and lodged him in jail. The probabilities are that there will be a number more implicated in the affair. It is needless to say that P.M. Taylor is free from all blame in the matter.

Fatal Accident at Cornwall.

CORNWALL, Ont., May 4.—An accident took place at the [illegible] mill this morning [illegible] a young man named Geo. WRECKING OF A "Q" TRAIN.

THE DISASTER ATTRIBUTED TO THE STRIKING EMPLOYES.

Serious Unknown Miscreant Throws a Switch in the Chicago Yards and Fifteen Cars are Piled up in a Hopeless Wreck in the Ditch.

CHICAGO, May 4.—A Chicago, Burlington and Quincy freight train was wrecked late last night when entering the Louisville, New Albany and Chicago yards, and under circumstances which led to the belief that it was the work of strikers or sympathizers. After the engine and two cars had passed, some unknown miscreant threw a switch, and the next fifteen cars were derailed and piled up a hopeless wreck in the ditch. Just as the switch was thrown a man near the rear of the train [illegible] the track, [illegible] the [illegible] and [illegible] a car of "Pilot," [illegible] a highly inflammable nature used for oiling wheels, which was in the center of the train, was set on fire. It blazed up fiercely and speedily, and the flames spread to the [illegible] cars. The Lake fire engines responded to an alarm, and but one car was burned. The wrecked train was strung along the tracks for nearly half a mile, three or four tracks being blockaded.

Just after the wreck occurred a policeman found the conductor, James A. Edwards, lying near the track at Forty-fifth-street, badly bruised and nearly insensible. When he revived he said three men had boarded his caboose at the Thirty-seventh-street crossing and attacked him. He was beaten over the head with some instrument, and his papers and valuables were taken, and then he recovered nothing more until he was found by the police. The physicians think he will die.

A Chicago and Atlantic engineer named Daniel Hannon, who was found lurking in the vicinity, was arrested on suspicion. The crew of the wrecked train was made up entirely of new men.

THE LATEST MARKET REVIEW.

TORONTO, May 4.

The heads of five stock were offered at the western cattle market to-day, 80 head, 40 sheep and lambs and two milch cows. There were fewer butchers' cattle at 3½ to 4¼ cents per pound live weight, and export from 4½ to 5 cents. Milch cows were slow at $30 and $40; sheep and lambs scarce at $5 to $6 per head; spring lambs in good demand at $3.50 and $6.50, and calves at $2 to $6 per head. Fat hogs sold at from $6 to $6.35 a hundred, and stores at $5.50 to $5.75.

The Rules of Trade.

NEW YORK, May 1.—Special telegrams to Bradstreet's fail to show any marked improvement in the movement of our orders in staple goods. The weather has been rainy throughout many sections of the west and interior, and the worst roads have suffered. Collections at almost all points are declared to be slow or unsatisfactory.

The Government statement shows a net debt of $1,151,022,342, a decrease of $37,726,028 within ten months. During that period the treasury receipts exceeded expenditures $27,429,000 and net cash on hand increased $10,000,000.

Leading domestic money markets continue easy until Mine rates low; funds tend towards the longer dates. The acceptance of [illegible] of the $20,000,000 bonds offered the Secretary of the Treasury within two weeks have emphasized this feeling of ease.

The New York stock market continued to advance till Wednesday, when reaction or weakness in London and renewed bear selling depressed prices a little. The feeling, however, is that as long as bond purchases continue the current of speculation will run on the bull side. Since April 2 the extreme advance in twenty active stocks has been ten points.

A lack of rain in California has had an effect in advancing wheat prices there, and exports have been checked.

Total foreign shipments this week, both coasts, wheat and flour and wheat are 1,662,676 bushels, about 600,000 bushels less than last week. Total of exports July 1 to May 1 is equal to 168,000,000 bushels (counting flour as wheat) against 125,104,000 bushels in two months, 1888, 1887. The advance is 5c on wheat, corn is 5c lower and oats have declined 5c; lard is 20 to 30 points higher; exports of hog products are 200 per cent less than at a like period in the preceding year; ten months' exports of Indian corn aggregate but 12,000,000 bushels, but half what they were a year ago. The prevailing impression at the West seems to be that winter wheat has been helped very little by the rains through the West. Such day brings more doleful reports from growing grain and strengthens the bull sentiment.

One special reports of Canada of wheat out of farmers' hands give a total at both coasts of 36,000,000 bushels against 72,000,000 bushels a month ago, a decline of 15,000,000 bushels, or 21 per cent. east of the Rocky Mountains. The decrease is from 60,000,000 bushels April 1, to 43,000,000 bushels April 23, or 11,000,000 bushels against a decline of but 13 millions during three months ended March 31. Flour stocks are reduced one-third.

Our Louisville advices are that much of the tobacco seed sown has failed to come up, and it is probable that the large planting contemplated will be reduced.

Refined sugar has been in light request. Demand for raws has been light also, notwithstanding reported shortage of the Cuban crop and views of holders favoring higher prices. Coffee has been about in higher on increased consumptive demand and reduced prices.

The trade in hosts and shoes is active, but prices are low. Leather trade in buyers' favor, and hides are low. Eastern dry goods jobbers report more activity, but manufacturers do not. Bleached fabrics move more freely since the cut of ½c per yard. Woolens are dull with light orders, but a fair delivery on old contracts. Wool prices favor buyers, but the movement is light. Shearing has begun in some of the territories, and the clip is in good condition. The quality of new Texas wool is excellent.

The downward tendency in the iron trade will probably continue for some time to come. Reductions in mining labor and furnace and mill labor have been made in some localities in Eastern Pennsylvania.

The Daily Examiner.

SATURDAY, MAY 5, 1888.

In these days of what may be called, without disrespect to the feelings of any, experiment in temperance reform, it may not be uninteresting to give the provisions of the High License Law recently adopted by New York State. There are, under this law, to be two kinds of licenses, one to sell spirituous liquors and all other intoxicating beverages, and the other to sell wines, ale and beer. These licenses are again to be divided into three grades, each as the Board of Excise may decide. The fee for the highest grade of liquor license is $1,000, and for the lowest, $200, and the beer licenses range from $400 to $100. There is also a storekeeper's license, the fees of which are between $500 and $200, as the Board of Excise may direct. Special arrangements are made for druggists.

Every friend of higher education heard with deep regret of the recent disturbances at Victoria University, which at one time threatened to imperil the usefulness of the institution. But the Globe learns "on pretty good authority" that the difficulty has been amicably settled. Proposals made by the Chancellor, Dr. Burwash, were considered at a joint meeting of the students' societies, and resolutions were adopted regretting the difficulty, asserting the honourable intention of the editors of Acta Victoriana, and recommending that a committee of the Faculty be appointed, to confer with a committee of the students, to define the province of the paper. These resolutions were forwarded to the Faculty and action was taken by that body thereupon. In consequence of this action an agreement was arrived at between the Faculty and students by which Acta was accorded the full liberty of the press, excepting only the right to criticise a professor's efficiency in his department. The Faculty, accepting the logical conclusion from such an agreement, reinstated the suspended editors without again demanding an apology. The students are well satisfied with the result. The Faculty of Victoria are to be congratulated upon the broad and liberal view which they have finally taken of the situation and the large measure of liberty in discussion of matters connected with the University accorded to the students.

Literary Notes.

Bryce's Publications.—The receipt is acknowledged of two new numbers of W. Bryce's series of popular novels—"Sara Crewe or What Happened at Miss Minchin's" and "Editha's Burglar." These are two short stories in one volume, by Francis Hodgson Barnett, the most popular and charming lady novelist of the day. The other is the "Abbey Murder," by Joseph Hatton, who handles his subject—weird only in name—in a charming and graceful manner. Both books are worthy, in literary style and conception, to rank as standard works and are published at the low price of 25c., by W. Bryce, Front street, Toronto.

Widower Jones.—This is the title of Edmund E. Sheppard's new book, put out by the Sheppard Publishing Company. It is a capital story, full of interest from start to finish, and as written in the vein which has made his other novels so decidedly popular. Mr. Sheppard has a most happy knack of dealing with the rural phase of Canadian life; his command of the vernacular is unrivalled. His writing is true to life in every particular, and after an hour's reading of "Widower Jones" one can fairly detect in the air the scent of new mown hay and freshly-ploughed soil. This book must be read by every one. Price only thirty cents at all the booksellers.

"Yes; I shall break the engagement," she said, folding her arms and looking defiant; "it is really too much trouble to converse with him; he's as deaf as a post, and talks like he had a mouthful of mush. Besides, the way he hawks and spits is disgusting." "Don't break the engagement for that; tell him to take Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. It will cure him completely." "Well I'll tell him. I do hate to break it off, for in all other respects he's quite too charming." Of course, it cured his catarrh.

Water Filters.

To insure good health it is absolutely necessary; to have pure water, and no water is entirely free from floating matter and disease germs without thorough filtration. The majority of cases of typhoid and other low fevers are in a measure caused from unfiltered and impure water, so that every family who values its health should have a reliable filter. Numerous filters are offered to the public varying in points of excellence, but for cheapness, efficiency and durability, our filters cannot be surpassed. No corroding substances are used in construction. The packing material is the most powerful specially prepared granulated carbon. It will last for years with the ordinary use of a family, and the material may be obtained from us at any time for replenishing at small expense. Sold in Peterborough only at China Hall. dw

A Sure Relief.

I suffered from a hard Cough contracted by damp feet. Having consulted a local doctor without effect I thought I would try Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam as a last resort. Before I had finished the first bottle my cough had entirely disappeared, and to day I enjoy better health than ever before. I can conscientiously recommend it. Chas. H. Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

An Interesting Decision.

At the Cobourg Assizes the last case tried was Nurse vs. Herald. The facts were as follows:—The plaintiff Richard N. Nurse, of South Monaghan, bought from R. W. Standley in 1871 part of lot number 16 Broken Front Concession of the Township of South Monaghan. The description of the south easterly boundary of this land was "along the edge of the drowned land." The defendant, Dr. Thomas of Omemee, subsequently bought all of lot 16 not sold to the plaintiff, so that the line between the land of the plaintiff and that of the defendant was the edge of the "drowned land." The plaintiff claimed that the "drowned land" was land covered by water either during the whole of the year or for so long a period as to kill vegetation and especially timber, so that wherever land used timber or natural grass should grow, there could not be "drowned land." The plaintiff, therefore, claimed that all land west cut as far as the natural grass and timber-line should belong to him now and then. The defendant claimed that "drowned land" meant land from low water mark up to the line to which the water usually rises during the spring freshets. This action was brought to determine which contention was right, and as there are many hundreds of acres of drowned land in the vicinity of Rice Lake, a very great deal of interest was manifested in the action by the people of that neighborhood. The plaintiff called a surveyor, Mr. Browne, and also two or three persons from South Monaghan, who swore that their understanding of the term "drowned land" was that contended for by the plaintiff. The defendant called three surveyors, Mr. Caddy, of Cobourg, Mr. Ledgerbo, of Peterborough, and Mr. Yarnold, of Port Perry, who all agreed that the definition of the defendant was the correct one and that always used in their profession. It was Mr. Caddy who gave the description in the plaintiff's deed, and he testified that he made high-water mark by the expression "edge of the drowned land" in the deed. The defendant also called 8 or 9 other witnesses who all agreed that the meaning always attached to that expression in the neighborhood of Rice Lake was that contended for by the defendant. The taking of the evidence occupied a full day and the matter was argued at length on Friday morning. The Court gave judgment forthwith for the defendant, dismissing the action with costs and granting a declaration that the south eastern limit of the plaintiff's land is the point to which the water usually rises during the spring freshets. It is rather singular that this is the first decision as to the meaning of "drowned land" known to be given in our courts.

The Growth of the Hair.

Should always be watched. Inattention to the hair often leads to premature grayness and baldness. When dandruff appears it should be looked after at once. By frequently using a little of Dr. Dorenwend's Great German Hair Magic the scalp will be kept in a clean and healthy condition and the strength and vigor of the hair greatly promoted. It is the only reliable. Do not be talked into using anything else. For sale by all druggists everywhere. dw

The Finishing Touches

No matter how rich her attire in other respects may be, no lady is well dressed who has not neatly fitting gloves and neatly fitting and stylish hose under well made boots. And as we have in town one lady (or so we are told) as a "Golden Rule," which is a superb stock of kid gloves and stylish hosiery is now on hand. Rare imported goods at importer's prices.

Ontario Sabbath School Association.

The Sabbath School Association of Ontario will hold their district convention for the Counties of Grey, Dufferin, Simcoe, Haliburton, Peterborough, Victoria, Ontario and the Districts of Parry Sound, Muskoka and Nipissing, at Orillia on Tuesday and Wednesday, May 22nd and 23rd. The morning and afternoon sessions will be held in the Presbyterian church and the evening session in the Methodist church.

It Sounds Spoken.

There is something poetical in the mere sound of the name of Will Carleton, and those who have read his works know there is the very soul of poetry in his pathetic verses, and those who have heard him read his poems know that the very apex of enjoyment is reached in listening to his readings. Go to the Opera House on Thursday evening, May 10th, and be delighted. Tickets 25, 50 and 75 cents. Plan at Hartley's. 1d

Ladies will be visited at their residence with plates and samples by special request. Address, J. STOVEL, room 41 Oriental Hotel, Peterborough. 2d

First in the Field.

It's perhaps as well to close stores early as late. Customers can as a rule well make their purchases during the day as not, and Mr. T. W. Robinson, of the Metropolitan Grocery, is the first to branch out independantly of the other grocers in town and announce that his store will be closed every evening, except Saturdays, at 7 o'clock. Mr. Robinson in his advertisement asks his patrons to support him in the movement by doing their shopping during the day. It is a move in the right direction, and Mr. Robinson's action should receive the approval and support of everyone, while his example should be followed by the other grocers of the town.

Another Proof.

The following letter is another of the many flattering recommendations received by Turner, the Awning King of Eastern Ontario:

LAKEFIELD, May 3rd, 1888.

DEAR SIR,—I thank you for the prompt attention you have given the filling of my order for an awning, and I will say it gives complete satisfaction, and is admired by all who see it.

Yours truly,
J. C CARVETH.

A full stock of awnings, tents, flags, waterproof clothing and campers' outfit always on hand. 1d

About Early Closing.

And now the drygoods merchants have fallen into line, a petition for closing at seven o'clock the year round having been signed by all but two or three of them. The petition includes dealers in hats and caps, gents' furnishings and dry goods. An endeavor is to be made to obtain a special meeting of the town council Monday evening to pass the by-law, so that it may come in force in two weeks. If the next regular meeting is waited for the by-law will not be valid for a month. The petitioners propose to go further, and among themselves, it is understood, will mutually agree to close at 6 o'clock during the five summer months, from May to September. The grocers of the town are now alone in their long-hour system. A movement was started among them not long ago but it failed. However, the Metropolitan grocery takes the lead and adopts early closing on its own account, hoping that the public will show its approval by doing their shopping during the day. The grocers of Ashburnham have also decided to close at seven o'clock. Are the Peterborough men to be outdone by their Ashburnham confreres and their fellow merchants in the other lines of business in town?

The Base Ball Question.

President Hanna has received a letter from the secretary of the Belleville Baseball Club anent the proposed new league. The secretary writes in confident terms of the money to be made by a good club in such a league. According to the [illegible] though, the prospects of the formation of such a league are not encouraging. A meeting was held in Belleville the other night. The secretary read communications to show that Ottawa would have a club this year; that Montreal wanted to sell its baseball outfit; Ogdensburg can't support a nine, and Peterborough wants to carefully reckon the cost before investing in the business; Kingston is cooked and primed and wants to shoot on the 24th. Port Hope and Cobourg have not yet organized, so that there is an immediate chance of the league being formed. Peterborough men are very apathetic in baseball matters.

Trials and Tribulations.

The McMaster family do not live in perfect harmony. In fact, they are continually broiling, and their domestic difficulties are frequently ventilated in the police court. It is only about a month since McMaster pere was bound over to keep the peace for threatening and abusing McMaster mere. The following from the Uxbridge Times will throw light upon their more recent movements. The Times says:—"About six weeks ago a person, calling himself Wm. McMaster, arrived here from Peterborough and rented a house from Mr. Isaac Bateman. When asked by Mr. Bateman when he expected his wife, he replied that he had no wife, and Mr. Bateman came to the conclusion that he was a widower. A short while afterwards a housekeeper came here, but Mr. Bateman thought it was only natural that a widower should have his deceased wife's sister for a housekeeper, and proceeded to make them comfortable. McMaster and the woman who was with him remained here a little over three weeks, when they paid a month's rent and suddenly left for Newmarket. Last week Master's wife turned up in Uxbridge, and told the following story:—"Wm. McMaster, who lived here lately, is my husband, and left me about six weeks ago in Peterborough. When he left Peterborough he took a girl with him, together with my children, whom he brought to Uxbridge, but I followed them and they went to Newmarket. Again I followed, and with the aid of two constables gained possession of my children and seized my household goods, which they had in their possession. Now I am going to Newmarket to get my goods and take them back to Peterborough, where I shall live with my children. Do I want to live with McMaster again? No, I cannot say I do. One who is so fickle as he has been does not deserve to have a wife. What do you know, he is fifty-seven years old, and if he has no sense now, I do not believe he ever will have any. McMaster is a carpenter by trade, but has not worked at his trade for some time, having been travelling with the Wizard Oil Co. Would I not dislike to have my name published in connection with his scandal? Well, I would for my children's sake, but it is necessary to do it in order to expose his villiany, and I am going to make an exposure if it is at all possible."

The Return Match.

A large [illegible] assembled in the Lindsay Y. M. C. A. rooms last night to almost fill to repletion the school room of the Y.M.C.A. rooms—for it was the room was just comfortably seated, with a few vacant chairs for emergencies. The principal features of the [illegible] between teams of the Peterborough and Lindsay Y. M. C. A.—the return match, as it were, between the two Associations. However, the Lindsay Association made quintette and the team "Lindsay" were [illegible] added greatly to the enjoyment of the entertainment. The Lindsay glee club was composed of Messrs. [illegible] Smith, Mackenzie, Andrews and McPherson. The local quartette comprised Messrs. W. H. Stevens, J. Miller, C. Bagsley and R. S. Henderson. Every number was loudly encored.

Interest centred in the debate, which was upon the subject of manhood suffrage. The Peterborough representatives, Messrs. S. R. Armstrong and W. H. Hill, upheld the affirmative, their opponents being Mr. M. Anderson and Mr. McPherson. His Honor Judge Weller occupied the chair and rendered judgment. The result of the debate was not altogether satisfactory. The Lindsay [illegible] that [illegible] tended that by manhood suffrage was meant not such a sweeping system but rather one with restrictions as to intelligence, mental soundness and morality; that manhood suffrage as generally understood had more reference to the abolition of property qualification than anything else. In this they were supported by the Judge, who held that in all such great questions the principle of the thing was first discussed and the details arranged afterwards. It was unfortunate that the resolution was not more definitely worded, as [illegible] to [illegible] understood. [illegible] decision [illegible] the same [illegible] of the [illegible] made. After the debate more singing followed, and received as warm encores and applause as before. Mr. J. R. Stratton moved a vote of thanks to the speakers and singers of the evening, particularly those from Lindsay, for the interesting and enjoyable entertainment they had provided, which was seconded by Rev. Mr. Parker and carried. Mr. M. Roger also moved a vote of thanks to the chairman, which on being seconded by Mr. A. Clegg was enthusiastically declared carried. After the singing of the National Anthem the assembly broke up. It is understood the silver collection taken at the door amounted to a handsome [illegible]

Material Entertainment.

After the concert the local Y. M.C.A. entertained their visitors and the chairman, Judge Weller, as supper. Mr. Geo. M. Roger, president, was in the chair, and Mr. W. H. Stevens, secretary, in the vice-chair. There were about twenty present. Addresses and songs were the order of the evening till about midnight, in which the hope was freely expressed that this series of inter-Association debates would be continued next winter. The Lindsay [illegible] have given the Peterborough boys a pressing invitation to [illegible] and it is understood a challenge will be sent down from Lindsay at once and accepted by the Peterborough Association.

The visitors returned home highly pleased, expressing their pleasure with the kind treatment they had received.

West End Green Houses.

Flowers and Plants for the Million—Increased Demand Leads to Increased Accommodation—Enough for All.

Friday afternoon a representative of the EXAMINER paid a visit to the West End Greenhouses, Park [illegible] at the head of London street. It is his annual visit. Every year he [illegible] changes and extensions. This year a similar experience awaited him. Since last year the main conservatory building has been extended westward 20 feet, [illegible] an addition of about 3,000 square feet of glass. This new building was intended for growing grapes under glass, but the demand for plants and flowers was so brisk that it was converted into a flower and plant house, and it makes, with what was before constructed, a continuous stretch of 160 feet of green house, including transepts enough to make the total length 200 feet. This space is completely filled with flowers and plants and the stock is continually changing. Customers empty the shelves which are at once filled from the propagating house. The past winter the business has been better than any previous winter, in spite of the intense cold. The stock, in addition to being [illegible] and [illegible] is such that any customer to make a demand for any particular plant or flower which cannot be supplied. The local demand is large and continually increasing, while the export trade is assuming large proportions, facts which attest the excellence of the plants and the satisfaction derived from dealing with the West End Green Houses. In addition to the flowers and plants department for house use, there is an endless stock of bedding plants grown under sash, as well as an [illegible] of [illegible], [illegible] and other [illegible] and desirable plants. These green houses under Mr. A. Blade's management, are growing yearly in popular favor and continually enlarging. This summer a rose house 24x40 will be built for the propagation and culture of roses under glass. This new department will largely assist in meeting the increasing demand for cut flowers for domestic decorations. In fine, any person wanting anything in the way of plants and flower plants can find a complete variety of the best quality at the lowest prices at the West End Green Houses.

Personal

Mr. S. Goldman, of Toronto, secretary of the North American Life Assurance Company, was in town yesterday and gave the EXAMINER a call. He was accompanied by the resident district agents of the Company, Messrs. J. F. Thornton and T. W. Gibbs.

THE SPRING DIET.

In the Spring a young man's fancies may "lightly turn to thoughts of love," but the fancies of older people more commonly turn to what they shall or can eat.

The "Spring appetite" is flagging and fickle. The keen relish of the sharp winter weather is dulled or gone. It is Nature's hint for a change in the quality and a let-up in the quantity of food consumed.

The golden rule of living is to adapt the diet to the season and to the needs of the system. For this reason are refreshing and appetizing—but only when prepared by an honest and reliable canning company, who will take care that none but wholesome Fruit and Vegetables or Fish are used, and that they are properly canned I have laid in a large and well assorted supply of these goods, put up by a reliable company, which I can warrant as fresh

Canned Goods

A TERRIBLE HOLOCAUST.

TWO SECTIONS OF A FREIGHT TRAIN CRASH TOGETHER.

The Collision Causes a Car Loaded with Powder to Explode—Seventeen Buildings Wrecked—Eight Persons Burned to Death and Thirty Injured.

MOUNT CARMEL, Pa., May 6.—Between 10 and 11 o'clock last night a terrible accident occurred on the Philadelphia and Reading Railway between this place and Locust Gap. Freight train No. 67, consisting of 75 cars bound for Williamsport, became disconnected by the breaking of a coupling, and the engine and three cars ran half a mile before the crew discovered that the train was divided. The first section awaited the arrival of the second at the foot of a heavy grade, and the two brakemen losing control of the second section, it dashed into the first section, causing an explosion in the third car, which was loaded with Dupont powder.

At the scene of the accident the railroad runs along a steep hill, at the bottom of which stood two rows of houses occupied by the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron Company's employes, among which stood a little cottage occupied by John Quinn and family of four children, two boys and two girls. The force of the explosion wrecked the buildings, seventeen in all, and the stoves set fire to the ruins. Quinn and his two little girls were burned to ashes. The two boys escaped with burns. Simon Kerwick's family occupied one of the other cottages. It consisted of Mary and Willie Cavanagh, adopted children, aged respectively 8 and 14; Daniel Kerwick, 8; Alice Kerwick, 5; and his wife and a newborn babe. Mr. Kerwick carried his wife from the burning building, but the children were burned to death. Thirty persons were injured.

Twelve cars were destroyed and many houses with their furniture. All the windows in the Locust Gap churches and schools were broken and the doors blown off. In Mount Carmel large store windows were broken. The total loss is estimated at $75,000.

A Bacchanalian Banquet.

HAMILTON, May 5.—William Spencer was remanded at the police court this morning on a charge of housebreaking and larceny, and Thomas O'Hara is held on suspicion of knowing something about it. A new hotel is being erected on the corner of Bay and Barton streets, and a quantity of liquor had been temporarily stored in one of the apartments. A few nights ago a gang of young men, accompanied, it is believed, by the mysterious young woman who is masquerading in male attire, broke into the premises and held a grand festival. The bacchanalian banquet lasted all night. The police believe they are on the right track, and that the picknickers will be brought to account on Monday morning The mysterious young woman begged a supper at a respectable private dwelling in the East End one evening this week.

The Sultan Will Arbitrate.

TANGIER, May 5.—The Sultan has agreed to submit the differences between his Government and the United States to arbitration on the following terms: The differences shall be settled by an arbitration court; the Moorish Government promise that no time shall be specified for the payment of personal or individual claims, debts or amounts due in court. The condition that the umpire's decision shall be subject to the Sultan's approval is withdrawn.

Crushed to Death Between Two Cars.

TEEWATER, May 5.—Yesterday evening as George Griffiths, engine-wiper, was coupling a coal car to a baggage car in the Canadian Pacific Railway yards here, he was caught between the cars and crushed to death. The poor fellow lived about 20 minutes, but never spoke or recovered consciousness. The coal car was started by hand on a down-grade to the other car, and the accident occurred in standing in the L broadside instead of sidewise in making the coupling between an ordinary freight coupling and the Miller coupling. He leaves a wife and four small children.

Protecting French Art.

PARIS, May 5.—The Friendly Industrial Council and Artistic Society, after a banquet at the Hotel Continental last night, discussed the question of fraudulent imitation of works of art in America. Louis Hottot presented a report dealing with the question in an able and vigorous manner, in which he advises that an association should be formed for the protection of French artistic and industrial property.

Bulgaria Determined to be Independent.

SOFIA, May 5.—Prince Ferdinand of Bulgaria has arrived at Tirnova on his tour. At a banquet given there in his honor Prince Ferdinand made a vigorous address in which he said that Bulgaria's forces were centered on the one idea of independence.

THE EMPEROR'S STRUGGLE.

FREDERICK ENJOYING A PERIOD OF COMPARATIVE RELIEF.

His Fever Has Abated but He is Extremely Weak—The Reconciliation of Crown Prince William and His Mother More Enduring Than Was Anticipated.

BERLIN, May 5.—The Emperor's sleep last night was the best he has enjoyed for many weeks, and he awoke with a good appetite and in good spirits. He asked the physicians if he would be able to enjoy the open air, but the doctors after consultation decided in the negative. The Emperor dined with his family, and this afternoon took a long rest and slept for a considerable time. His temperature remains almost normal. Though his fever has abated his inquietude regarding the slowness of the return of strength does not lessen. His attempts to walk yesterday and to-day proved the utter weakness of his limbs. He could not walk a step, though he was able to stand occasionally. The danger is, that in the event of a recurrence of the crisis, with his powers of resistance reduced to the minimum, there will be no chance for him to survive long. The aluminum canula now used has been a positive relief, as during the nights since it was first inserted the Emperor's fits of coughing have decreased.

The Emperor does no more than is necessary of official work, and relieves the tedium by changing his apartment. He is wheeled from his bedroom to the hall under the cupola, where he receives oral reports, thence to his study where he spends some time reading, and thence to his bedroom where he rests. His condition is certainly a credit to Dr. Mackenzie, and everything indicates that the Emperor has again entered upon a period of comparative freedom from the worst symptoms of his malady, which have hitherto been followed by increasingly dangerous crises. Dr. Mackenzie will not take a holiday until the Emperor is able to venture into the open air. The weather grows warmer daily. A cottage will soon be erected in the Schloss Park for the Emperor's especial comfort.

The Crown Prince, though absorbed in his extensive duties, confers with the Empress daily apart from his visit to his father. This marked change in the Crown Prince's demeanor was coincident with the visit of Queen Victoria, whose success in conciliating him proves to be more enduring than anticipated.

The Crown Prince has issued an order to the brigade under his command as to what tunes the bands shall henceforth play on the march. They must not be borrowed from operas but must be old-time tunes, formerly played when going to war or on a triumphant return therefrom. Above all he recommends the march "Entering Paris," the "Organ March," and the "Hohenfriedberg March."

Prince Bismarck has had another attack of rheumatism.

The Berlin Bulletin.

BERLIN, May 5.—The Emperor is stronger to-day. Though his fever has lessened, the doctors do not expect that it will subside entirely.

The German Socialists.

NEW YORK, May 5.—Blakely Hall sends a despatch to The Evening Sun from Brodenbach, Austria, stating that an outbreak of the Socialists is imminent at Berlin. It being impossible to get a word through the German telegraph offices, Mr. Hall took an engine to the Austrian frontier, where he is now stationed.

He says Frau Rubrisch Ost-Bahn has just been arrested by the police on the charge of Socialism. She is said to have been the most important female agent of the order. Another arrest to-day in Berlin was that of an alleged leader of the Social-Democrats, Albert Quandt, found at 26 Querbinger-strasse, in a house where was stored a large quantity of revolutionary pamphlets. Some were written by Lassalle, but several fiery ones were the work of the noted socialist writer Bebel. There were also printed copies in German of the last speeches, legal defence and sensational utterances of the Socialists who were hanged at Chicago.

Crowds constantly surround the building in Coppen-strasse where the Socialists' printing presses were seized. The number of arrests known is thirty-eight. There is not a line in any of the German papers giving information. The police are dumb and facts are exceedingly hard to get.

A Fairly Quiet Sunday.

BERLIN, May 6.—The Emperor was feverish during last night and he was frequently disturbed by an increased discharge of pus. His temperature rose to nearly 39 Celsius. By morning it had fallen, but the Emperor felt exhausted and the doctors advised him not to leave his bed. To-day there has been no discharge of pus, and the patient has had a tolerably quiet day. His face has a fairly healthy color and his eyes are bright. His breathing, however, is difficult and rapid. The Emperor is always pleased when he makes himself understood by signs and whispers. He finds writing irksome.

Another abscess has broken in the Emperor's throat.

Hopeful of Peace.

BERLIN, May 6.—It is stated that Prince Bismarck expressed to Mr. Carl Schurz his positive conviction that the peace of Europe would be maintained. The Chancellor said he thought the reinstatement of Gen. Bogandovich by the Russian Government afforded no ground for apprehension. He was confident that the Czar's word would prove more powerful than that of Gen. Ignatieff and his partisans.

With regard to France the Chancellor said that a disturbance of the peace through any Boulanger overture was out of the question. On this point he spoke with such emphasis that Mr. Schurz gathered that Prince Bismarck desired that his views, which were so much at variance with those of the press, should be made known.

Fire at Belleville.

BELLEVILLE, May 5.—Fire at an early hour this morning destroyed a house on Welland-street, West Belleville, owned by Miss S. M. Bull and occupied by Mrs. Williams, who left home early in the evening to spend the night with her daughter. The fire caught, it is supposed, from the stove, and burnt some time before the alarm was given. Mrs. Williams had an insurance of $500, and the house was covered by a similar risk.

The Color Line in the Episcopal Church.

CHARLESTON, S. C., May 5.—It is understood that the colored section of the Episcopal Church will not abide by the action of the Diocesan Convention at Anderson which looked to the establishment of white and colored branches of the church under one bishop.

Attempted Murder and Suicide.

NEW YORK, May 6.—Giovanni Cioni, an Italian, attempted to kill his wife to-day and then cut his own throat. The man will die but the woman may recover.

NOTES FROM THE CAPITAL.

The Contest in Russell—Location of the Experimental Farm.

OTTAWA, May 6.—The election in the Commons in the County of Russell takes place to-morrow. Last evening a number of meeting, were held in the interests of both candidates and the contest, so far as the discussion of the questions of the day is concerned, is practically closed. If the enthusiasm manifested at the different meetings in favor of the Liberals as the last moment be any criterion of the result of the election, the most bigoted Tory must admit that the return of Mr. Edwards is beyond a doubt. Particularly was this noticeable at a meeting of Mr. Mackintosh's, where Mr. Armstrong, M.P., was refused by the chairman an opportunity to speak. Two-thirds of the meeting demanded that he should be heard and the consequence was that the electors present, mostly French, were treated to a speech in favor of Unrestricted Reciprocity which carried the meeting, much to the chagrin of Mr. Mackintosh's supporters. At New Edinburgh, Mr. Bowman, M.P., addressed the Germans, who have voted Conservative in the past, and obtained an excellent hearing. But a more potent argument with the Tories is "boodle." Even to-day the subscription list has been going the rounds and this evening there has been an exodus from this city of Tory partisans who never intervene in a contest except on a money basis. The unscrupulous efforts that are being put forth to defeat the Liberals is shown by a despatch sent from Ottawa to Government organs, stating that Mr. Edwards, lumberman, was examined before the Labor Commission here on Friday, and testified that he paid his men in scrip, and that his men could only realize in his own store. No less than twenty-six witnesses were examined, but Mr. Edwards was not one of them. This statement was circulated before the last election, and an evening paper had to apologize afterwards for publishing it.

The Northwest members had an interview with the Government yesterday in regard to the location of the experimental station and the granting of subsidies to some small branch lines to connect with the C.P.R.

During the discussion on the militia estimates on Friday evening, Dr. Landerkin drew attention to the case of several volunteers of the Grey battalion who fell ill while attending drill in Toronto, and were rendered unfit to work for a long time. Dr. Sproule objected that the young men had left the country, but Dr. Landerkin pointed out that their friends had been put to costs which the Militia Department ought to recoup.

AFFAIRS IN MANITOBA.

A Printing Scandal—Gossip about the Coming General Election.

WINNIPEG, May 6.—Some interesting printing scandal developments are hinted at in The Sun. It is expected they will come out when Provincial Treasurer Jones makes his budget speech next Tuesday.

The city Liberal conventions for the election of candidates will be held next Thursday. It is generally accepted that Hon. Mr. Jones and Messrs. Luxton and W. H. Wilson are to be the Liberal candidates for North, South and Centre Winnipeg respectively. It is whispered that a constituency will be found for Mr. S. C. Biggs, Q.C., and that after the election he will succeed Mr. J. Martin as Attorney-General.

The rumor is again abroad that Mr. Laviviere is about to retire from Provincial politics, and that Mr. T. A. Bernier will be the future member for St. Boniface. It is also said that there is a probability of Mr. Marion retiring in Carillon and contesting La Verandrye against Mr. Prendergast, Provincial Secretary.

Methodists' Mass Meeting at N. Y.

NEW YORK, May 6.—The Metropolitan Opera House was crowded this afternoon with Methodists at the mass meeting under the auspices of the New York City Church Extension and Missionary Society. The boxes were occupied by those who have engaged them for the time the General Conference is in session. Rev. Dr. Ensign McChesney, of St. Paul's M. E. Church, presided. Rev. J. G. Spence, President of the Grant Memorial University of Athens, Tenn., read the opening hymn, "O, for a Thousand Tongues." Rev. Leroy M. Vernon of the Italian conference delivered the opening prayer, while Rev. J. R. Day of the New York conference read passages from the Scriptures. Rev. J. C. Watson Coxe of Iowa, Rev. John W. Hamilton of Boston, and Rev. John E. Robinson of Indiana, read other hymns or prayed. The benediction was pronounced by Rev. R. S. Rust of Ohio.

The event of the day was the sermon preached by Rev. Charles H. Fowler of San Francisco. His sermon was lengthy, but eloquent and effective, and was based on the 25th and 26th verses of the 3d chapter of Romans.

Have Agreed to Amalgamate.

OTTAWA, May 5.—The Reformed Church of England, presided over by Bishop Usher, and the Reformed Episcopal Church in Canada, of the American branch, have agreed on a basis of amalgamation at the synod here. Doctrinal differences caused a separation years ago, but there have been mutual concessions. A new bishop will be elected in September.

$10,000 a Year Not Enough for Fuller.

NEW YORK, May 5.—The Herald's Washington special says a rumor is current among those intimate with the President that it is possible Melville W. Fuller will not accept the position of Chief Justice of the United States because the salary is not large enough.

Suicide of a New Jersey Lawyer.

TRENTON, N.J., May 5.—Chas. J. Rutgers, a well-known lawyer aged 52, hung himself yesterday because he recently figured as one of the co-respondents in the notorious Williamson divorce suit.

A Trusted Clerk Takes $3200.

THE UNEASY MUSCOVITES.

IT IS SAID THAT BAYONETS ONLY WILL QUIET THEM.

The Battle Between Civilization and Barbarism Must Eventually Be Fought Out—What is Said at the German Capital about the Pan-Slavist Revival.

LONDON, May 5.—The political features of the week have been the Pan-slavist revival, the determined attitude of Russia and the virulent attacks of the German semi-official press upon the Russians. The Czar, these papers assert, is not now strong enough to resist the movement, and the earlier he arrives at a realization of his weakness the better it will be for him. The Vienna press, on the other hand, advises Prince Bismarck to change his policy. His attempts to please the Czar, they declare, are love's labor lost, and he is admonished that he would better think more of the general interests of peace and Germany's relations and obligations to her allies than to continue his endeavors to conciliate a power that will not be placated except at the point of the bayonet. The situation is aptly compared to the Gordian knot, one end of which is in London and the other in St. Petersburg. The battle between civilization and barbarism must eventually be fought out and the only question now at all difficult of solution is the precise limits of the battle ground.

The rumor which has gained circulation in Vienna that General Bogdanovich, Germany's bete noir, is going to spend his leave of absence in France for the purpose of endeavoring to cement an alliance between Russia and France, has created considerable comment in Berlin, where it is asserted that the General's furlough is merely a subterfuge to relieve Russia of the responsibility of his mission.

Alarm in German Official Circles.

BERLIN, May 5.—The resurrection of the Pan-slavist party in Russia has reawakened alarm in official circles. The Czar's reinstatement of Gen. Bogdanovich in his former position in the Russian service is not an isolated proof that the open adoption of an offensive policy approaches. The Czar's assent to the revival of the Slav associations, closed ten years ago under an edict of the late Czar, has been obtained. Gen. Tcherniefl will become the president, and a kindred association, the so-called "Slav Committee of Charity," with Gen. Ignatieff as president, will affiliate, thus forming a formidable body embracing both wealth and energy. The avowed aim is to incite insurrections among the Slav people and increase agitation until Russia comes into possession of Constantinople."

It is impossible that the sudden reappearance of the foremost men of the party is a mere coincidence. Gen. Bogdanovich's promotion might have been due to the influence of his friend Pobedonotsoff with the Czar, but simultaneously with the appearance of Stoumberds, Tcherniefl and Ignatieff there is a warning of a coming tempest in the unmistakable revival of a hostility of the German semi-official press, preceded by a distinct change in the attitude of Prince Bismarck towards the Czar. The Cologne Gazette suggests that Panslavism has grown mightier than the Czar himself, and may force his hand and cause him to enter into a fighting alliance with France. The Official Gazette of Berlin interprets the position in a similar way.

It is believed that the war party has convinced the Czar that the next French elections will return a war ministry, and that Russia ought to be ready to co-operate with France.

Mysterious Death at Merriton.

MERRITON, May 5.—Stephen Bradley, a carpenter, about 55 years of age, visited Niagara Falls yesterday and returned home in an apparently intoxicated condition during the night. He remained in a semi-unconscious state and, although medical aid was summoned, he died at 11 o'clock this morning. Whether death was occasioned by over-indulgence in liquor or other unnatural causes is as yet a matter of speculation. Deceased had been in poor health for some time, was an old resident and leaves a large family.

A Butter Factory Burnt.

WYOMING, May 5.—About 11 o'clock last night the butter factory of John Hartley, situated on the second line of Plympton, was totally destroyed by fire. The total loss is $2200, on which there is an insurance of $1300 in the Waterloo Mutual and Mercantile. The origin of the fire is unknown.

The New York Bucket Shop Bill.

NEW YORK, May 5.—Col. Fellows sent a letter to the Assembly recommending the passage of the bill introduced by Assemblyman Ives concerning "bucket shops." He says the number of people in moderate circumstances allured into and cheated in these places is increasing and the number of people led to crime by their agency is likewise on the increase.

A Suicidal Mania at Detroit.

DETROIT, May 6.—Francis Leonard was found guilty in the Recorder's Court yesterday of stealing an overcoat. Leonard attempted to commit suicide by taking poison as soon as he heard the verdict, but was removed to the hospital and pumped out.

Patrick McDonough, an umbrella mender arrested for drunkenness, hung himself in the Trunball-avenue police station yesterday.

Murdered with a Hairpin.

BOSTON, May 5.—Forest Johnson, who was stabbed in the hand with a long, steel hairpin by Mrs. Margaret A. Young, in a saloon in East Boston, April 16, died this morning of blood poisoning. Mrs. Young was out on $50 bail. She subsequently gave herself up and was held in $5000 for examination. Her counsel claim that Johnson died of disease.

HON. CHAS. E. DRURY.

The Packet of Orillia, the chief Conservative organ of East Simcoe, contains the following reference to Hon. Chas. E. Drury, the new Provincial Minister of Agriculture: "The Packet most heartily congratulates Mr. Drury on his elevation to the dignity of Commissioner of Agriculture; though it would, perhaps, be more in keeping to congratulate the Ontario Government on the accession of such a colleague. Here in his own riding, where Mr. Drury was born and has led an unblemished life of usefulness, his worth is recognized and admitted by political opponents as frankly and as ungrudgingly as by political friends. Mr. Drury does not possess the ductile versatility of some members of Mr. Mowat's combination; he is neither a bully nor a braggart, and is in a large measure void of the arts of such politicians as have hitherto appeared to dominate in the counsels of the Province. He is a man deeply in earnest, with strong moral convictions, and may be trusted not only to administer his own department capably and conscientiously, but also to exert a wholesome influence on the general policy of the Government. It will, of course, be necessary for Mr. Drury to return to his constituents for their approval of his acceptance of the new portfolio, but he will probably be returned by acclamation."

The Bridge Question.

To the Editor of the Examiner:—

SIR,—It is very amusing to the residents of South Monaghan to read the correspondence that emanates from the different writers upon that bridge meeting. I have seen and read the account of the meeting referred to and consider it a very fair and correct account. The same opinion is expressed by a good many others who were at the meeting, notwithstanding all that "Dictator" and "Disgusted Ratepayer" have said and written to the contrary. The charges that "Dictator" makes against it in both his letters to the EXAMINER are not only weak, but of a very puerile nature. He finds great fault because the reeve's speech was not given verbatim. But he is not at all anxious to have the other speakers' remarks reported to the public. Neither does he refer to the strong language that was used at that meeting by others than the reeve. He does not say anything about that resolution that he and his friends got up, which, when moved and read to the audience, could not get a seconder, and was immediately frowned down and had to be withdrawn. "Dictator" makes a great deal of capital out of the remarks that he reports the Reeve to have made; he fancied they were directed to a decent man some miles away and should have been published, when his name was not even hinted at in the meeting. The person referred to can thank his friend "Dictator" for bringing him into public notice and for any allusions that have been made to him. "Dictator's" letters do not appear to be of a very high order they do not contain much else but personal insinuations and unparliamentary expressions; his idea of manliness appears to be on the same plane as the tone of his letters. And in his fruitless endeavors to set himself right he is only weakening his own case. There is no use in either the Benafort correspondent, or "Dictator" or even "Disgusted Ratepayer" trying to conceal their identity by a nom de plume as they could easily be identified by the style of their correspondence; any one of them without difficulty could be picked out of a very large crowd.

The petition for the bridge, which they have now in circulation for signiture, is not meeting with a very flattering reception on account of the clause it contains to do away with the Wallace Point bridge. A few are signing it with honest intention, but more are signing it for fun, knowing well that it will not amount to anything, while others again refuse to sign it at all. The petition has already agitated a strong feeling against itself, which will eventually give rise to a petition being circulated in direct opposition to it. The best scheme that has yet been introduced to promote the interests of a bridge was the one embodied in the resolution that was moved, seconded and carried at that now famous bridge meeting, providing it could be carried out. If three or four thousand dollars could be raised by the methods the motion suggested, it would show that the people of South Monaghan were willing to take a share of the expense.

There is but little doubt, after all that has been said and done, that this much wished for bridge is still away off in the dim future.

Yours truly,
FAIR PLAY.

A Good, Honest Man.

Lines by request, upon the death of Walter Paterson, Sr., of Peterborough, on April 20th, 1888, aged eighty years. On hearing of his death, the general remark made to me was: "He was a good, honest man."

My friend's long life was lengthened to fourscore,
Through life his breast no shining medals wore
To tell of deeds of bravery or of fame—
A gem more precious, a strict, honest name:
No higher language ever marked a stone
Where sleep the ashes of a friend now gone.
In word, in act, through the long life he tred,
Honest with all men, honest with his God.

Honesty first failed in fair Paradise,
Honesty dwells not in hearts full of vice.
The guiding motives God to him had given
Were truly God-like; their fountain head was heaven.
In nature gentle, words and actions kind,
Plain, unassuming, clear, enlightened mind;
No flattering friends, nor foes ingratiate
Could change him from the path of rectitude.

Meek in his manners, free from worldly ide
In all his acts the bible was his guide.
He knew each action, just or unjust, they
Would be a witness on the Judgment Day.
Much like his Master while on earth below,
God's glory showing more than outward show;
His calm demeanour, fruits of inward grace,
Beamed with refulgence from his grace-lit face.

Full fourscore years he was a pilgrim here,
'Midst luring sins, with strong temptations near.
Few, very few, have passed through life the same—
Lived, died, and left such an unblemished name.
God in fair measure granted to him wealth,
And all through life he blessed him with good health;
And while we watched his robust frame grow weak,
The red rose tint was fresh upon his cheek;

His shaking hand, his tottering step, foretold
Life's worn-out thread would soon relax its hold.
His clay built structure, verging on decay,
His soul prepatin go on to pass away.
Its parted friend, through life God favored you,
Again at death his love he did renew.
No heavy sickness, pains nor anguish came—
Gently death's rod fell on his waiting frame.
To him death could no fear nor terrors bring,
His Christ robed soul was safe from every sting.
To conquer death he had no power nor will—
Pulse stopped, the worn out wheels of life stood still.

Don't call that death! To him it was a change
To sweet delight. To us how wonderous strange!
Here, but a pilgrim on this earth to roam,
Returning, after fourscore years from home,
Calm and composed his spirit passed away,
Freed from its long bound prison house of clay.
If life well spent secures eternal bliss,
To-day he shares a brighter world than this.

Friends, if to his memory you a stone do raise,
While friend or foe, as passing, stand to gaze,
Of earth's highest honors this is surely one
Here sleeps the ashes of an honest man.

WM. TELFORD, Smith.

A Prevailing Impression.

Says the Bobcaygeon Independent:—"There is an impression that the Mud Lake railway is likely to be opened this season. Surveyors have examined the road bed, and ties are being delivered. There is said to be some little difficulty about making a connection in Peterborough, but the present prospects are in favor of the line being opened by July 1st. It would be a great convenience to all this district, and of considerable advantage in many ways to Peterborough." The difficulty is not at Peterborough but at Bridgenorth. It is not of much consequence in any case, and the opening of the line is considered here more than "likely."

Are you sad, despondent, gloomy?
Are you sore and distressed?
Listen to the welcome bidding—
"Be at rest."
Have you aches and pains unnumbered,
Poisoning life's Golden Cup?
Think not there's no balm in Gilead, and
"Give it up."
A Golden Remedy awaits you—
Golden not alone in name—
Reach, oh, suffering one, and grasp it,
Health reclaim.

There is but one "Golden" Remedy—Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It stands alone as the great "blood-purifier," "Strength-renewer" and "health-restorer," of the age! The Liver, it regulates, removing all impurities. The Lungs it stengthens, cleansing and nouriahing them. The whole system it buils up, supplying that above all other things most needed—pure, rich Blood.

Water Filters.

To insure good health it is absolutely necessary to have pure water, and no water is entirely free from floating matter and disease terms without thorough filtration. The majority of cases of typhoid and other low fevers are in a measure caused from unfiltered and impure water, so that every family who values its health should have a reliable filter. Numerous filters are offered to the public varying in points of excellence, but for cheapness, efficiency and durability, our filters cannot be surpassed. No corroding substances are used in construction. The packing mateial is the most powerful specially prepared granulated carbon. It will last for years with the ordinary use of a family, and the material may be obtained from us at any time for replenishing at small expense. Sold in Peterborough only at China Hall. dw

BUILDING LOTS

Such as Nos. 1, 2 and 3, noted below are not like merchandise when sold; locality and situation cannot always be replaced. There are many persons living in distant parts of the town and Ashburnham to whom a residence within five minutes walk of any of the churches, Post Office, Market and principal stores, would be a great boon. To such we would say do not delay. Come to the office and discuss the matter. We may buy from you or sell to you. You have Something to Gain and Nothing to Lose.

1. That beautiful situation on Brock Street, east of and adjoining Mr. Nugents' new residence, so high above all surroundings, so central, so retired, and yet so convenient for all purposes. A most suitable place for a Doctor's Office and residence, or for any person wishing to reside near his Office or Business. Front Lot is 60x120 ft. to lane. Rear Lot is 65x124 ft., with an inexhaustable supply of first-class water. 30, 35 and 40 feet frontage can be had of this lot with stable accommodation if desired.

2. This is an extremely fine Lot, with about 75 feet frontage on Water Street, by 115 feet deep. It has an east front, facing St. Paul's Church, and will be sold in one or two lots. Act promptly.

3. Is a fine Lot on Stewart Street, 87x115 ft. opposite Messrs. Hall and Sheppard's beautiful mansions, protected on the north by the Chief of Police, and charmed on the south by a professor of music.

4. In addition to the above, we have good lots in north, east, south and west parts of the Town, and for large lots at low prices, we would call attention to the Ladgate, Carlisle, and Toronto Real Estate Investment Co'y's suburban additions, where good value can be had for small investments.

For Houses and Lots in all parts of the town, Ashburnham and Auburn, we have variety and value to suit any reasonable buyer. We have Garden Lots from one to ten acres for Sale and to rent. Also, several Farms, one large Farm with good buildings, fall crop and ploughing to rent cheap. All are invited to call at our office, or write for further particulars

THE SPORTING WORLD.

Hanlan Defeated in Australia—Baseball Record—Racing at Nashville.

SYDNEY, N.S.W., May 5.—A sculling match took place to-day between Peter Kemp of Australia and Edward Hanlan of Canada. Kemp won by five lengths. The race was rowed over the Parramatta course.

Kemp took the lead at the start. Hanlan's boat came in contact with that of his opponent before the mile post was reached. Kemp stopped and let Hanlan pass, and then went after him.

When off Gaesign's Bay Hanlan crossed the bow of Kemp's boat and again fouled him. Kemp got clear and proceeded, winning by five lengths. An enormous crowd witnessed the race.

The race was for the championship of the world and $2000 a side.

Toronto Beaten by Rochester.

ROCHESTER, May 5. The Champion Torontos ran against a snag in Pitcher Bob Barr to-day. Their hits, although as numerous as the Flour City team obtained, were so scattered throughout the game that there was no chance for the visitors to win. Conrad's team, however, was fortunate in bunching their hits and virtually won the game in the first innings when 6 hits were made off Shepherd, including a three-bagger by Knox. The Rochesters distinguished themselves by playing an errorless game. Score:

The Last Day at Nashville.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., May 5.—This was the last day of the West Side Park meeting. The weather was fine, attendance large and the track fast. The attractions were the Maxwell House Handicap at a mile and the Freeland Prize Handicap at one mile and a quarter. In both events the "short horses" won. White Nose, a 10 to 1 chance, winning the Maxwell and Paragon, a 7 to 1 chance, capturing the Freeland.

Charged with Conspiracy.

NEW YORK, May 6.—Francis J. C. Ferris and James A. Cowling were arrested to-day charged with conspiring to defraud Mrs. Adelaide E. Johnston out of $19,000. In the affidavit as presented by the complainant it appears that she lent Ferris $25,000 a year ago. He opened up a jobbing house for fancy goods and after running up debts to the amount of nearly $300,000 transferred his property to his clerk (Cowling), paying Mrs. Johnston $6000 on her claim. Afterwards Cowlin made an assignment and had less than $100 assets. The prisoners declined to make any statement.

My Toothache

is an exclammation heard every hour in the day. Tooth-ache is the most common ailment of young and old, and in the aggregate inflicts more suffering than perhaps any other single complaint. A one minute cure is just what every person desires to possess. Nerviline—nerve pain cure—acts almost instantly in relieving the agony, and as a sample bottle affords a quantity sufficient for 100 applications, 10 cents fills the bill. Poison's Nerviline is the only positive remedy for tooth-ache and all nerve pains. Sold by druggists and all dealers in medicine. 6d19w

Corn Sowing

The Growth of the Hair.

Should always be watched. Inattention to the hair often leads to premature grayness and baldness. When dandruff appears it should be looked after at once. By frequently using a little of Dr. Dorenwend's Great German Hair Magic the scalp will be kept in a clean and healthy condition and the strength and vigor of the hair greatly promoted. It is the only reliable. Do not be talked into using anything else. For sale by all druggists everywhere. dw

LIFE ASSURANCE COMP'Y OF CANADA

HEAD OFFICE. MONTREAL.

Both in Magnitude and Profitableness, the Business for 1887 has been almost everything that could be desired.

The life policies now in force are 7,128 for $10,873,777.69, on 6741 lives. We have moreover $3,207,600 00 insured under 1,840 accident policies, so that the total current contracts of the Company are 8 969 for $14,081,377.69.

The income for the year shows the very large increase of $122,331.23 over the figures of 1886, the total being $495,831.54. The revenue is now half a million dollars per annum, or as mentioned in the report, over $1,600 for every working day in the year, and even this he believed was but a mere introduction to what it will be in a few years hence. The gains from time to time are well illustrated by the following table:—

Period	Gain in income.	Gain in assets.	Gain in assurances.
1872 to 1876, four years	$ 54 611 21	$169,482 69	$1,149,743 00
1876 to 1880, four years	38,590 67	195,188 29	1,167,396 14
1880 to 1884, four years	136 976 84	363,284 31	2,902,924 90
1884 to 1887, three years	217,451 89	475,607 24	4,029,373 65
Total in 1887	$495,831 54	$1,750,004 48	$10,873,777 69

It is very pleasing to notice that the gains for the last three years only are 60 per cent. more than those of the preceding four years.

LOCAL NEWS.

The Weather.

Fresh to strong north to east winds, fair weather with local rains at night; stationary or a little lower temperatures.

The Finishing Touches.

No matter how rich her attire in other respects may be, no lady is well dressed who has not neatly fitting gloves and neatly fitting and stylish hose under well made boots. And at no place in town can a lady be so well served as at the Golden Lion, where a superb stock of fine kid gloves and stylish hosiery is now on hand. Rare imported goods at importer's prices.

Ottawa Oddfellowship.

The Oddfellows of Ottawa last Thursday dedicated their fine new hall in that city. The ceremony was attended by a large number of Grand Lodge and Canton Militant officers, among whom was Dr. R. W. Bell, of Peterborough, Grand Warden for Ontario, who, the Free Press says, occupied a seat at the right hand of the chairman, Past Grand Dr. Cousens, at the banquet in the evening, and to the toast, "Our Country's Defenders," made an appropriate reply in his capacity as Major of the 57th Batt. Mr. James Menzies, of the Free Press, also took a part in the banquet proceedings.

The New "Cruiser."

Tourists to the back lakes this summer will scarcely be able to recognize in Commodore Wright's new boat, the "Cruiser" that did such good service last season. The old boat has been demolished and a new one, considerably larger, built on the lines of the old one, nothing but the keel and portion of her planking being used in her construction. She has been widened 4 feet, making her beam 16 feet, and the total length of her upper deck about 65 feet. A spacious cabin forward for stowing freight, lavatories, and a "cook's galley" are new features of the new boat. The upper deck will be devoted entirely to passengers, while there is also ample room below. A new 40-inch screw from the Wm. Hamilton Manufacturing Company's Works will, with the powerful engine already in, give her good speed. Mr. Chas. Grylls is captain and Mr. Couch Grylls engineer.

It is gratifying to know that "The Pantry" is rapidly taking its stand side by side with the first class groceries of the town. Inspection of goods and prices invited.

"Triple A" Topics.

Remember the practice cricket match tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock. All members of the club, whether on the named teams or not, are requested to be present at 3 o.clock sharp. All will be chosen.

In this connection the directors of the Association wish it known that Mr. Day, the caretaker, has been instructed to allow no one to play who is not a member of the club. This rule will be enforced with the other games as well—only those having membership tickets will be allowed to play. Tickets can be had at any time from Mr. Geo. Schofield, the treasurer. Fees should all be paid in by May 1st, and those who have not yet joined the Association or one of the clubs, are urged to do so at once.

The Coming Grand Concert.

The public have not yet, and cannot have till after the event, a realization of the great musical treat in store for them at the grand concert in Bradburn's Opera House on Wednesday evening, May 9th. We have had a chance of hearing before all the artistes except the great De Seve, one of the greatest living violinists. He has electrified and charmed his audiences wherever he has appeared. The daily evening Herald of Newburyport, Oct. 22nd, 1887, says:—"Mons. De Seve was one of the most honored of the evening's artistes. He was encored on each of his selections, and at his last, "Der Freischutz," he was called out again and again. One encore was not enough, nor was his bowing satisfying. Again he responded and was honored with a perfect ovation. To his already high reputation he has added another step, and he will always be sure of an enthusiastic welcome here. Without doubt he is the finest violinist that has appeared in Newburyport since the days of Ole Bull, the greatest violinist the world has ever known."

The Future of the Civic Chair

Crop of Conjectural Candidates.

Now that the police matter has been disposed of for the present, a new civic question comes up,—who will be Mayor for 1889? Mr. Stevenson has signified his intention of retiring on his laurels, and the question is, therefore, a live one, and already several names are mentioned as probable candidates. It is said that Mr. R. S. Davidson, chairman, of the Finance Committee, is popularly mentioned as a not at all unlikely candidate, and one who, if elected, has business experience and qualifications that would make him an efficient representative. Councillor Moore, it is said, has his eye on the chair and is steering his course with that end in view. Mr. H. C. Winch has friends that are booming him, and some say that he is to be a candidate. Others again say that if Mr. Thomas Cahill wanted the position he might easily induce the people to give it him. Mr. Wm. Yelland, a solid citizen, is named as a probable starter in the race for the Mayoralty, and he has many friends who think that if he enters he will come in on wheels. Another gentleman who sat about the municipal board and was a successful councillor, is also credited with ample claims and abilities for the position. However, the proverbial "dark horse" may be looming up in the distance, and as all things human are uncertain, who knows but what Mr. Stevenson may yet be a candidate?

The Poor Unemployed.

To the Editor of the Examiner:—

DEAR SIR,—Since the Trent Valley Canal is dead, throttled by slow and expensive strangulation by a hostile engineer, and the coup de grace given by a commission, I should like to know why Messrs. Thompson, Fuller & Pollock are still retained, doing nothing at high salaries? Why is Mr. Tom. S. Rubidge still kept on the pay roll? He was employed to kill the canal and having done this, hasn't he done enough harm to this district without continuing to deplete the public purse to enable him to live in idleness and luxury? Why are half a dozen other persons, formerly connected with the canal, but now connected with it only through the medium of the pay roll, loafing around town in haughty idleness on the money of the people? The people of this district have lost enough by the virtual destruction of the T. V.C. scheme, to be spared the added insult of seeing their money wasted on idle upstarts drawing high pay for doing a great deal of nothing. Thanking you for the use of your valuable space, I remain

DISGUSTED AND INDIGNANT.

Monday Morning, 7th May.

A Pertinent Question.

To the Editor of the Examiner:—

DEAR SIR,—I am told, on what I think good authority, that an assistant or deputy inspector of streets and bridges has been imported from North Monaghan, who is no less a person than Mr. John Bennett, brother-in-law to the present inspector. I have seen no printed record in the reports of the council proceedings of the appointment of this apparently smuggled-in official. What claims has he to the position over scores of ratepaying citizens of the town? Has he any special qualifications, except being an outsider, for the position? Has he ever paid a cent of taxes in town? Has he any other interest in the town than that of drawing, in wages, a big share of the hard-earned taxes of its citizens? Can you give me any information on the subject?

Yours very truly,

INQUIRER

Peterborough, May 7th.

[All the information we can give is this: Upon the receipt of the above letter, we had inquiry made at the town clerk's office, and the name of John Bennett does not as ye appear on the pay roll, but it will figure in the next pay sheet, he being a corporation employee. As to the mode of his appointment, or the necessity for his services, there does not seem to be any available official information.—Ed. EXAMINER.]

Obituary.

The many friends of the family will learn with pain of the sudden death this morning of the wife of Mr. W. G. Yelland, son of Mr. Councillor Yelland. The deceased lady was a daughter of Mr. Frederick Edwards, of Douro, and was highly respected both in her former and late home. She leaves behind her two children, one three years and the other a year and a half old. Funeral from the family residence, Bethune street, on Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The Queen's Birthday.

The Toronto papers state that final arrangements have been made for the Grenadiers to go to Guelph and the Q.O.R. to Ottawa for the 24th.

The posters are out for the "gigantic celebration" here on the 24th. The events are a baseball match at 9:30, a military review at 11:20, sports and games at 1:30 and a promenade concert in the evening. All will take place on the P.A.A. grounds. The prize-list should draw out a large field of competitors.

Police Court.

An Interesting Case Dealing With the Fire Limit By-Law.

MONDAY, May 7.

At the police court this morning the case of Building Inspector Pope vs. Beavis came up for hearing. The defendant admitted a contravention of the by-law, and through his counsel, Mr. R. E. Wood, secured a delay of judgment for a month in order that he might fulfil the conditions of the by-law by placing a veneer of a brick and a half outside his frame structure. Mr. E. B. Edwards, town solicitor, this being the first case of the kind, did not push it any further, and allowed the judgment to stand.

It was understood, however, that the same leniency would not be exercised towards the next offender. The Inspector is bound to enforce the by-law, and builders are warned in time.

Town Solicitor Edwards requested the EXAMINER to publish a brief summary of the by-law, that builders may understand the conditions and save themselves trouble in the future.

In the first place, the fire limits are included between the following boundaries:—King street on the south, Bethune on the west, McDonnel on the north, and the east by the river, within which no wooden buildings of any kind, or any addition thereto, no wooden fence more than six feet in height, and no building other than with main walls of brick, iron, stone or concrete, and roofing of incombustible material, shall be erected or placed. The word "placed" has been interpreted to signify that no wooden building can be moved from one place to another within the limits.

Another paragraph also reads:—"In case of the repairing or alteration of roofs or external walls of existing buildings, within the said areas or limits, when any such repairs or alterations are made or become necessary to the extent of two-thirds of any such roof or external wall, no such external wall shall be repaired or altered with material other than brick, iron, stone or concrete, and no such roof shall be repaired or altered otherwise than in accordance with the provisions of paragraph seventeen of this by-law."

Another:—"That all walls in this by-law described as being of the thickness of a brick and a half shall not be less than thirteen inches and a half in actual measurement.

These are in the main the conditions of the by-law. Fuller details can be had from the printed copies to be obtained at the town clerk's office.

CHEESE FACTORY—On account of the wet weather the attendance of patrons at the cheese factory meeting last Friday was so small that it was deemed expedient to postpone it to next Friday evening.

THE BRIDGE.—While the roads of our township have this spring been particularly free from mud, there must be a great amount of it stored in some sections. Such dirty, low, vulgar, childish mud-throwing as has been indulged in by some literati of South Monaghan it has seldom been our lot to see. Presumably there are some would-be geniuses who want to display their learning and their eloquence, so as to perplex people by setting them to find out whether the letters were written by a Francis or a Burke. It is to be feared these persons have not yet learned the A B C of wisdom, viz., that they really know nothing. "Solomons," "Ones Who Know," "Dictators," etc. Forsooth! Well, well, perhaps it does the poor creatures good to "vent their ire," and if it does them good it is all right, as most assuredly it does no one else any harm, neither will it repair the old bridge or build a new one. If they really brought forth arguments why the bridge should be moved lower down on the one hand or retained in its present position on the other, there might be some sense in it. But these beastly little personalities, it is to be feared, only reflect the true inward characters of the writers, whose noms de plumes can easily be interpreted by most of the people. Persons wanting the new bridge will do better by seeing that there shall be more unity and action and less controversy.

Court House Park.

Mr. Roderick McLennan has been employed as gardener of the Court House Park the coming season, and with an assistant is busy putting the really beautiful spot into summer trim. An improvement is being made in filling in the walks so that they will not be so far below the level of the sward. The park came through the winter in excellent shape, the sward is unhurt and all the trees planted last and previous seasons with one or two trifling exceptions are alive and growing. A great deal of trouble is experienced from dogs, who destroy flower beds. A big brute of a dog stepping on the soft soil of a bed will make openings like post holes. Gardener McLennan's suggestion to convert one corner of the park into a cemetery for dogs poisoned or shot, being considered rather radical by the directors, it is probable that the plots will be protected with a low fencing of wire. It is hoped the park will be opened to the public about Saturday next. If the weather is fine couldn't we get the band out and have a formal opening?

THE SPRING DIET.

In the Spring a young man's fancies may "lightly turn to thoughts of love," but the fancies of older people more commonly turn to what they shall or can eat.

The "Spring appetite" is flagging and fickle. The keen relish of the sharp winter weather is dulled or gone. It is Nature's hint for a change in the quality and a let-up in the quantity of food consumed.

The golden rule of living is to adapt the diet to the season and to the needs of the system. For this reason

NOTES FROM THE CAPITAL.

UNRESTRICTED RECIPROCITY CARRIES RUSSELL COUNTY.

Mr. Edwards' Majority Increased from 155 to 250—An Enthusiastic Reception to the Member-Elect—Mr. Norquay to be Shelved.

OTTAWA, May 7.—It was a cold day for the Sir John administration in Russell County today. The Government was determined to carry Russell, situated as it is right at the door of a Parliament which but a few days ago declared against Unrestricted Reciprocity, no matter how unscrupulous the means might be. If they succeeded this would give some semblance to their arguments that the country was with them in their contentions on that all-important question, but they have ignominiously failed. The battle was fought on Unrestricted Reciprocity and on that alone. As a result Mr. Edwards' majority has been increased from 155 as the last election to about 250 to-day. In the Township of Clarence, where Mr. Tasse, ex-M.P., was specially imported to advocate the National Policy, Mr. Edwards got 501 of a majority, or some 50 more than at the general election. Ernest Tremblay, who did excellent work here for the Liberals, met Mr. Tasse on every platform and discussed Unrestricted Reciprocity as against the N.P. He made some 25 speeches in all. In Osgoode Township, where R. J. Baker, ex-M.P.P., now immigration agent at Qu'Appelle, was working for the Government candidate, Mr. Edwards gets an increase of 83 votes as compared with the last election. In every township the Reciprocity flag was nailed to the mast, and by it the Liberals were determined to stand or fall. The county was filled with Tory emissaries from all parts, and hundreds of teams from Ottawa were despatched to the county to bring Mr. Mackintosh's supporters to the polls. Never were the two organizations so complete. When Mr. Edwards arrived in the city this evening he met with a most enthusiastic reception. Particularly was this the case on his arrival at No. 6, where stirring speeches were made by himself in French, Mr. Bowman in German, Mr. Paterson in Indian, Mr. Ernest Tremblay, Hon. P. Mitchell and Hon. Mr. Laird. One of the first to welcome Mr. Edwards was Hon. Mr. Laurier. All of the speakers declared that Reciprocity was the battle cry of the Liberals.

Before the Labor Commission here, workmen complained that in the last five years rents had greatly increased. A girl employed in the Parliament printing office stated that they worked nine hours a day and got $2.50 a week. If they were a quarter of an hour late they lost an hour. The girls made their tea at the boiler in the press-room. They were sometimes fined for playing, but did not know the amount, the fine being made by the foreman. A girl of 14 had worked there a year and a half and got $3 a week.

The date of the Governor-General's departure from Ottawa is Wednesday, May 23, sailing from Quebec the following day. The farewell banquet at the Russell House takes place on Tuesday, May 15.

The $8000 in the estimates for rifled ordnance is to be devoted to the purchase of four nine-pounder guns for Cape Breton Battery. When this is done each of the twenty field batteries of Canadian artillery will have been armed with rifled ordnance instead of the smooth bore. The purchase of heavy guns for coast defences is under consideration.

Sixty recruits up to date have been enlisted for the Mounted Police, and twenty vacancies are yet unfilled.

The chief Government analyst has all but completed an analysis of the fertilizers, and a bulletin will issue in a few days. After an analysis of the water now on hand is completed samples of cheese will be collected for analysis.

It is rumored that Sir John Macdonald is being urged to call Norquay to the Senate in place of Schultz, when the latter is appointed Governor of Manitoba, and to give him the position of Indian Commissioner when Dewdney leaves the office. The object of this is to rid the Tory party in Manitoba of its Jonah before the general election there.

Fire at Feathill.

ST. CATHARINES, May 7.—This morning about 2.30 the Steele property at Feathill, consisting of a harness shop, occupied by Mr. H. E. Hunt, the well-known concert hall, Masonic Hall, and a dwelling house, also the tailor shop and residence of Mr. J. Dellenbach and the residence of Mr. J. Chase were reduced to ashes. Most of the contents were saved. The fire originated in the concert hall, cause unknown. The Steele property was partially covered by insurance, but there is none on the other buildings.

Queen Victoria has forwarded to the Women's Industries section of the Glasgow Exhibition a picture of the Empress of Germany.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

SCOTT ACT AMENDMENTS CARRIED IN THE HOUSE.

The Council of the Northwest Territories Petition for a New System of Government—Fraudulent Practices on Farmers—The Cost of Quebec Harbor.

OTTAWA May 7.—A petition was presented in the Commons this afternoon from the Council of the Northwest Territories praying for the introduction of a new system of Government there. Hon. Mr. Thompson introduced a bill to amend the Northwest Territories Representation Act, providing that the day of the general elections for the Dominion Parliament shall be the same there as in the rest of Canada.

In answer to Mr. Davies, Sir Charles Tupper said the advances by the Government to the Quebec harbor commissioners on account of harbor improvements in Quebec and the tidal dock at the mouth of the St. Charles River amounted to $2,31,000.

Mr. Brown was ready to present the resolution of which he had given notice for a committee to enquire into frauds practised upon farmers by getting their promissory notes fraudulently for seeds, agricultural implements and other merchandise. Mr. Brown was ready to make a speech also, but as it was very near 6 o'clock he was forced to content himself with a statement that these frauds were extensively practised. Mr. Laurier, after waiting for a few moments, in which nobody rose to speak on the resolution, suggested that surely the Government had something to say on this subject. This was not a matter for this Parliament to deal with unless these offences were made crimes, but they were within the control of the Provincial Legislatures. But in any case little if anything could be done at this stage of the session. Mr. Mackenzie endorsed what had been said with regard to the question of jurisdiction, and reminded the House that the Government of Ontario had already appointed a commission on this subject. Sir John Macdonald said that he was not before aware of the action of the Ontario Government on the subject, but that need not interfere with the work of this committee. The committee could at least find out to what extent these frauds had been practised. The resolution was carried, as were also several others calling for returns of various kinds, but a good many were still left on the order paper when the House rose at 6. Probably no other opportunity will be given this session to bring up these resolutions, at any rate such of them as call for discussion.

At the evening session Messrs. McCarthy's and Jamieson's bills amending the Canada Temperance Act occupied the attention of the House for several hours. Mr. McCarthy's, which only aimed at simplification in the manner of voting, had a clause added to it on motion of Mr. Haggart making it lawful for qualified physicians, chemists and druggists to supply liquor in Scott Act counties for medicinal purposes, and also to sell preparations containing alcohol but not intended as beverages. This amendment was carried in committee by a vote of 92 to 34.

The House then took up Mr. Jamieson's bill amending the same act, which was adopted in committee with unimportant amendments and read a third time and passed.

Mr. Edgar gave notice that it was his intention to move that the House go into Committee of Supply to call attention to the hardships of settlers in Bressalor, N.W.T.

The House adjourned at 12.30 a.m.

THE RUSSELL ELECTION.

Edwards (Lib.) Defeats Mackintosh (Con.) by a Safe Majority.

OTTAWA, May 7.—The complete returns from Russell had not been received up to midnight, but enough is known to make Edward's election sure by a fair majority. The majorities by townships so far as known are:

	Edwards.	Mackintosh.
Gloucester	..	302
Russell	..	77
New Edinburgh	..	69
Cumberland	..	17
Osgoode	84	..
Clarence	501	..
	585	464
Edwards' majority	121

THE QUEBEC LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL.

Vacancies Filled—The Council to be Abolished, Probably in 1889.

MONTREAL, May 7.—The vacancies in the Legislative Council of Quebec, caused by the demise of Hon. Messrs. Couture and Rivard, and the resignation of Hon. Mr. Prudhomme, have been filled by Messrs. Larochelle, M.P.P. for Dorchester, Wilfrid Prevost, Q.C., and Louis Tourville of this city. The appointments are pronounced excellent, although some Liberals blame the Premier for appointing one of his supporters in the Legislative Assembly and thereby losing two votes.

It is understood that the Nationalist candidature in Dorchester will be offered to Mr. L. P. Pelletier, advocate, of Quebec and editor of La Justice, who was defeated by thirty votes by Sir Hector Langevin in Three Rivers at the last general election. Mr. Pelletier's friends here say he will surely be elected, and that he will probably succeed Hon. George Duhamel in the Cabinet as the representative of the Nationalist-Conservative element, the Solicitor-General having become practically useless owing to the loss of his voice.

When a successor has been appointed to Hon. Dr. Lavallee, who is being tried for alleged malversation of office by appropriating colonization funds, the Government will enjoy a majority of two votes in the Legislative Council.

It is asserted that the Premier, following out the program he set forth at the last general election, has decided to do away with the Legislative Council as soon as he feels himself strong enough. This will not likely be done before the Session of 1889, but it is understood that the three councillors who have just been appointed have been given to understand that when called upon to vote for the abolition of the Council they will be expected to do so. The reason why the Government has decided to abolish the council is that it imposes an unnecessary and large expenditure on the province annually, the benefit derived form it being by no means proportionate to the cost of its maintenance.

The members of the Council will retire with the title of "honorable" and an indemnity. The total indemnity will, it is said, not be less than $250,000.

THE QUEBEC RESOLUTIONS.

Moved by Premier Greenway in the Manitoba Legislature.

WINNIPEG, May 7.—The Quebec resolutions were moved by Premier Greenway in the Legislature this afternoon.

In a moderate speech Mr. Norquay supported them.

Mr. La Riviere opposed those clauses which he thought encroached upon the prerogative of the Dominion, but supported those dealing simply with provincial matters.

Mr. Leacock followed in a lengthy historical review of Canada.

The resolutions will undoubtedly be carried, but there will be a division.

Suicide of an Eminent Lawyer.

CHICAGO, May 8.—Gen. Martin Beem, a veteran soldier and distinguished lawyer, of this city, committed suicide Tuesday night on a ranch near Staunton, Neb., by shooting. Cause, domestic troubles.

HORSES FOR ARMY REMOUNTS.

What a Horse Authority Has to Say to the Farmers and to the Purchasing Officers.

TORONTO, May 3.—Mr. T. C. Patteson was interviewed on the subject of the purchase of army remounts for the British cavalry, which was a pet theory with him 12 or 14 years ago, when he first wrote to the Horse Guards on the subject. The postmaster said that if the report was true that the English government intended buying horses here this summer the attempt would be as extensive a failure as it had heretofore proved from an economical standpoint, unless agents in the several counties were appointed who were professionally conversant with the art of buying horses from farmers. There had been instances of imposition when Col. Ravenhill was out here buying: of persons who had paid $90 for a horse readily selling it next day to the officers for $175—the maximum price. Col. Ravenhill's scheme of traveling through the country and advertising in advance where he would be on a certain day to buy horses was a failure because the farmers were themselves too ignorant of the points of the horse to know whether theirs were of the kind the Colonel wanted or not. A competent buyer going up and down the concession lines would have brought in for the Colonel's approval only the sort of horses that he was looking for. This is an animal exclusively the product of the thoroughbred stallion. The trotting stallion does not give to his produce the necessary obliquity of shoulder or height of withers to keep the army saddle and its upholstery in the right place. The farmers who have eligible horses in their possession should be getting them in condition to sell, and not bring them down to skin and bones with plows and harrows at seeding time.

Stanley's Whereabouts Still a Mystery.

LONDON, May 7.—Advices have been received at Zanzibar from Emin Bey, dated Nov. 2, stating that he had been reconnoitering for Stanley, but had heard nothing of him up to that time.

Train-Robbers Jailed at Hamilton.

HAMILTON, May 7.—At an early hour this morning nine freight cars containing wheat, cheese, ale, dry goods and other merchandise were broken into at Harrisburg station. Three tough-looking customers, who claim to hail from Michigan and give their names as James Reid, William Kennedy and Daniel Wheeler, were arrested for the crime, some of the stolen goods being found in their possession, and brought to this city. A man named Taylor was with them and is detained as a witness.

Rev. Dr. MacVicar of Montreal lectured on "Social Discontent" in the MacNab-street Church to-night.

Lillie Davey, an 18-year-old girl who has been masquerading in male attire, was arrested last night, and the Police Magistrate to-day sent her to the Mercer Reformatory for twenty-three months on a charge of vagrancy.

Arthur Bugghy, George Manders and George Robinson were charged in the Police Court to-day with wife-beating. Bugghy and Manders were fined $10 each and Robinson $4.

A Church Trouble Settled.

OTTAWA, May 7.—Bishop Stevens, the ecclesiastical head of the Reformed Church in Canada, speaking to a reporter in reference to the recent trouble in Emmanuel Church between Rev. W. Walsh and his congregation, said: "Everthing has been explained and I hope the congregation are again united. The rumor that a new congregation will be formed is the city by the malcontents is not true. Affairs will go on as they did previous to the trouble."

An Ottawa Builder's Serious Fall.

OTTAWA, May 7.—On Saturday night John D. Henbick, molder, ascended a flight of stairs from Simcoe-street to the Union Hall and after reaching the landing, not knowing that there was another stairway on the opposite side and the place being dark, he fell down, receiving serious injuries and remained unconscious until late last evening. There are hopes now of his recovery.

A Baltimore Bigamist.

BALTIMORE, May 7.—Dr. Wm. F. I. Young pleaded guilty to day to an indictment for bigamy. Both wives were present, and the first asked the court to be merciful to her husband, as she did not believe him responsible, because of the use of chloral, for his second marriage. Judge Phelps sentenced him to eighteen months, the lowest penalty, in the penitentiary, and annulled the marriage to the second wife.

Returned the Decorations.

ST. PETERSBURG, May 7.—General Von Schweinitz, the German Ambassador, has returned to the Czar the Russian decorations worn by the late Emperor William. In accordance with the latter's desire the Ambassador acknowledged the high distinction conferred upon the wearer. The Czar was greatly moved by this mark of the cordial attachment of the dead monarch.

Owen Sound Criminals.

OWEN SOUND, May 7.—William Cunningham, the young man from Toronto who was arrested on a charge of stealing several different articles, was sentenced by the Police Magistrate to-day to two months in jail with hard labor. Ben O'Hara, a powerfully-built, desperado-looking individual, was brought before the Police Magistrate on Saturday to answer for stealing a watch from one Charles Emmet and sentenced to six months in the Central Prison.

Smoked a Pipe 95 Years.

PARKESBURG, W. Va., May 7.—Thomas Eggleston died at Spurlockville last week, aged 111 years, 10 months and 23 days. He was born in the neighborhood where he died, and had not been more than 25 miles from home all his life. He smoked a pipe every day from the time he was 16 years old, and believed that his life was prolonged by it.

Anti-Chinese Riots at Brisbane.

LONDON, May 7.—Advices from Brisbane state that riotous anti-Chinese demonstrations have occurred there. Several shops belonging to Chinamen have been wrecked.

The Duelist Liberated.

PARIS, May 7.—M. Habert, the artist, who was arrested after killing M. Dupuis, a fellow artist, in a duel, has been liberated. He blames the seconds of M. Dupuis for failing to make an effort to settle the difficulty in a peaceable manner. If they had been less arrogant he says no harm would have been done.

Remonstrating against Restriction.

WASHINGTON, May 7.—Among the petitions presented in the Senate was one from Duluth, Minn., remonstrating against any restriction of the competition now existing be ween the Canadian and American railroads.

THE GOVERNOR-GENERAL.

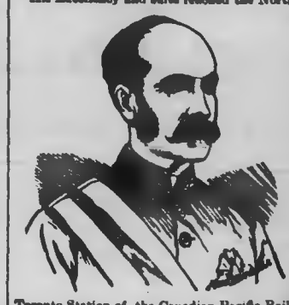
HIS FAREWELL VISIT TO THE QUEEN CITY OF THE WEST.

The Marquis, Marchioness and Suite Spend a Busy Day Among the Citizens—A Large Concourse of People Turn Out to Greet the Party.

TORONTO, May 8.

Lord Lansdowne is with the people of the Queen City for the last time, at least as Governor-General. It is just about a year ago since he paid Toronto a pleasant and extended visit. His reception on this occasion has been and will be quite as enthusiastic as it was then.

His Excellency and suite reached the North



Toronto Station of the Canadian Pacific Railway at 7.30 yesterday morning from the Capital on a special train. The party traveled in the Government car Cumberland, and was composed of:

LORD LANSDOWNE.
LADY LANSDOWNE.
CAPT. STREATFEILD, A.D.C.
HON. H. S. ANSON.
LORD FRED. HAMILTON, the latter a brother of Lady Lansdowne.

The party was welcomed at the station by Mayor Clarke, Col. Gzowski, A.D.C., City Clerk Blevins and Chairman Dodds and members of his Reception Committee. The Mayor and the rest of the company accompanied the train to Union Station, where a couple of hundred citizens were assembled to join in the welcome. Among those in the station were Col. Otter, D.A.G., Sheriff Mowat, Capt. Law, R.N., and several aldermen.

"O" Company and its band was stationed outside the station, and as the vice-regal party passed to a carriage "God Save the Queen" was played, and there was plenty of cheering. His Worship the Mayor escorted Lady Lansdowne to the carriage, and they were driven rapidly to Government House, while Hon. S. H. Anson and Lord Hamilton went to the Queen's.

Their Excellencies rested quietly at Government House during the morning. At 12.30 a deputation of the Canadian Institute consisting of Dr. Wilson, Dr. Scadding, Mr. Carpmael, Prof. Loudon, Prof. Wrights, Dr. Kennedy, Mr. VanderSmissen, Mr. James Bain, jr., Mr. John Notman and Mr. Pearce called upon the Marquis to present a memorial upon the subject of the extension of cosmic time notation. The president, Mr. Carpmael, introduced the subject by tracing the history of the movement from its first inception in the Institute and read the memorial. The Marquis expressed his pleasure in meeting with the members of the Institute and promised to forward the memorial at once and to follow it up and to urge it in person on his arrival in London.

The Emperor's Good Day.

BERLIN, May 7.—The Emperor has passed a good day and he feels somewhat better to-night. His fever is very slight. The Emperor said he felt stronger and fresher. The discharge from the throat is less. His temperature is 98.6.

A Fortune for a Book.

MADRID, May 7.—The committee having in charge the Christopher Columbus celebration offers a prize of $100,000 for the best book in any language on the geographical discoveries of Portuguese explorers prior to the time of Magellan. About the end of this month the Queen Regent will unveil a monument of Columbus at Palos.

Mr. Condon's Light Sentence.

DUBLIN, May 7.—Thomas Joseph Condon, M.P., who was arrested for offences under the Crimes Act, was to-day convicted on the charge of participating in an unlawful assembly and sentenced to two weeks' imprisonment without hard labor. The hearing on the other charges against him was adjourned.

The Patriotic League.

PARIS, May 7.—The Journal des Debats in an article in reference to the manifesto issued by the Patriotic League, in which General Boulanger is styled the leader of the National party, demands that the league be suppressed.

A Fight with Dacoits.

LONDON, May 7.—A despatch from Mandalay says that a British force surprised a body of Dacoits near that place, and that in the fight which ensued two officers and two privates were killed.

Ashburnham Village Council.

A Regular Meeting and the Business Transacted—A Glance at Them as they Are.

Ashburnham village council has a peculiar way of doing business,—and, in one sense, an eminently satisfactory one. They consider "business before pleasure" a motto worthy of adoption, and in this how different from a similar legislative body just across the water, whose members are seized with an epidemic of speech at every meeting, and fill up the early hours in labored efforts to demolish time, and only at a late hour realize the fact that they must be rapid if they wish to get home before midnight. The Ashburnham councillors assemble at an early hour, take their places around a long green baize covered table in the council chamber, in the town hall building, "hustle" through with the business at a rapid rate, and soon they have nothing to do. Then they light their pipes, tilt back in their chairs, their tongues become loosened and they rattle away on subjects as far removed from their jurisdiction as the sky is from the earth. Reeve Burnham pushes things through for all they are worth, and while there is a press of business the village representatives do more acting than talking. After the business of Monday night's meeting had been disposed of, however, the subjects of sidewalks, village pumps and water tanks were exhausted, after which the councillors fell back upon house-building, the advantages of brick over wood and vice versa, and various other details through which the obtuse reporter could not follow the voluable and warm debaters. Suddenly one recollected that he ought to be going home, and he rose, the others following suit.

Below will be found a report of the business transacted. Reeve Burnham and Messrs. Anderson, Calcutt, Craig and Wand were present.

PETITIONS AND ACCOUNTS.

An application for damages of $60 to horse and phaeton, which occurred through the negligence of the authorities in allowing the road near the locks to be filled with stone, was read from Mr. W. A. Stratton, barrister, on behalf of Mr. J. R. Stratton. The application was received.

A petition to open up three new streets—Carlisle, Munro and Crescent avenues—was read from a number of ratepayers. Messrs. Anderson and Wand were appointed to superintend the work.

The by-law exempting the Lindsay-Seldon Furniture Co.'s works from taxes received its third reading and final adoption.

A statement was read from the Collector regarding taxes uncollectable, and on motion the taxes were remitted and the Collector instructed to return the roll by the 18th inst.

The following accounts were ordered to be paid:—

M. Shannon, charity orders	$ 11 00
R. Moore, moving P.O. box	2 00
John Craig, constable, sundries	9 90
Pay sheet No. 4	11 75

" " " 6	37 13
" " " 7	44 75
" " " 8	28 38
Electric Light Co., street lights	103 00

A charity case was referred to a committee composed of Messrs. Anderson and Craig.

A petition was presented for a new sidewalk on the south side of Elizabeth street, from Lake to Mark street, and from Clifton street on Stewart street to the second brick house. The petition was granted.

NO STREET COMMITTEE.

During the discussion it had cropped up that no streets and bridges committee had been appointed, and on motion Mr. Calcutt was appointed chairman with Messrs. Anderson and Wand as coadjutors.

Mr. JOHNSON asked the council to consider the matter of grading the hill between the Rogers and Landy residences. The matter was referred to Street Inspector Craig.

The Street Inspector was also instructed to complete the grading of Dufferin street.

On motion the Court of Revision on the Voters' List was fixed for Monday, May 28th.

The council then adjourned.

WEATHER NOTES.—During April we had two extremes of weather, the month coming in cold and freezing, and on the evening of the 7th the thermometer went down to 20°, and on the morning of the 8th it stood at 15°; and only on one evening at sundown, namely, the 22nd, did it rise to 44°; but on the 25th a change was apparently taking place, the thermometer being as high in the morning as at night. Following we had 4 very hot days for April, between 1 and 3 o'clock on the 26th the thermometer rose to 68° in the shade, the 27th to 84°, the 28th to 86° and the 29th to 76°. On the 30th a cold wind was blowing from the east with every prospect of a rain storm, leaving the average temperture for the month at 31 24/30 degrees. Snow fell on 7 days to the depth of 3 inches, the last being on the 22nd; rain fell on five days to the depth of 1 inch and 14/100 of an inch. Auroral lights on the 2nd and 13th, on the 5th fog, also lightning at night, but no thunder. First wild ducks on the 12th, wild geese going north on the 16th sea gulls on the 17th, first frogs on the 23rd and first swallow on the 24th. Some windy weather occurred during the month, the severest gale being on the 6th and 7th. The following are the different points from which the wind was blowing at sunrise during the month, respectively, namely, south 2 days, west 3 days, south-east 3 days, north west 12 days, south west 4 days, east 1 day, north east 1 day and north 4 days.

WORK AND CROPS.—Fall wheat has come out better than expected. Although we had a cold time in March and April, still we will, according to present appearance, have about 85 per cent. of an average crop. Spring work is well advanced. For a number of years the land has not been in such fine trim for seeding, being so dry in the fall and no thaw during the winter of any consequence. The water got away as the snow melted and the farmer could get on the land as soon as the frost was out. Feed has been scarce with some, but that deficiency will shortly be overcome.

TOLMIE'S CONVENIENT STORE.

Partly on Canadian and Partly on U.S. Soil—Montreal Officers Can't Get Him.

MONTREAL, May 7.—Some five years ago one John Tolmie, who keeps a general store on the border line at Dundee, near Fort Covington, came to this city and made a purchase of $1200 worth of wines and liquors from wholesale merchants and ordered that the goods be shipped to his place of business. This was done, and the barrels and kegsheads of liquor were shipped and received by Tolmie at his store on the Canadian side, he having to pay no duty.

Tolmie's store is curiously situated. It is built apart from other stores, and is directly on the border line. His main store is in the State of New York, and his back store and kitchen are in Canada. Tolmie sits in the United States during the day, and eats and sleeps in Canada. American goods are kept at one side of the store, which is in the States, and Canadian merchandise on the other side. The wines, etc., received from Montreal were received into the store through the back kitchen, which is in Canada. They were placed in another part of Canada, which is nothing more than his back store room, but the merchants here learned that he was intending to defraud them by smuggling goods across the house into the States, and a bailiff named Bruneau was despatched to make a seizure. When Bruneau arrived, seven or eight men rolled the barrels into the American part of the store and the bailiff was foiled.

Another attempt was made on Saturday with a renewal of the old warrant. Deputy High Constables Bissonnette and Champagne, dressed as roughs, proceeded to Dundee and, arriving at Tolmie's store on Saturday morning, entered and were about to arrest him when he threatened them if they came near him, saying loudly that he was on American soil. This, to their surprise, proved to be the case, only a few feet dividing them. Still they could not, in view of this, effect his capture. Several armed men were in the store on the American side, and with revolvers pointed at the Montreal officers said they would shoot them if they attempted to touch Tolmie. The officers returned to town this morning.

SUICIDE AT WHITBY.

Herbert Allen Sends a Bullet Through His Heart—The Inquest.

WHITBY, May 7.—Last night about 10 o'clock Herbert Allen, salesman of bankrupt stocks, formerly of Brantford and later of Simcoe, Tillsonburg and Port Dover, died from a pistol shot. His wife states that she awoke and saw him standing by the side of the bed with a revolver in his hand. He said, "Good-bye, darling," and also said something about his father and mother, and then placed the pistol to his breast and fired. The ball passed through his heart apparently. His wife says that he then pulled back a large trunk placed against the door, which he opened and called to his brother-in-law, Wm. Wilson, who was sleeping in an adjoining room. He then returned and caught hold of his wife and tried to shoot her, saying that he could not go without her, but she knocked the revolver out of his hand. He tried to pick it up again, but she kicked it away and got possession of it. She then ran and burst open Mr. Wilson's door and sent him for Dr. Meldrum, but Allen died before the doctor arrived.

An inquest was begun to-day before Coroner Carson and a jury. Allen's wife is unable to assign any good reason for the rash act. Mrs. Wilson deposed at the inquest that she asked him why he shot himself, and he was unable to reply, but shook his head. So far it has not been shown that there was any quarrel between deceased and his wife. His parents live at Eden Centre, N.Y., and are in good circumstances. The inquest was adjourned until to-morrow evening.

TORONTO DEFEATED AT SYRACUSE.

The Stars Win by Timely Hits and Errors by the Champions.

SYRACUSE, May 7.—The Stars had little difficulty in defeating the champions in this city to-day, making timely hits and being assisted by timely errors. Atkinson was very effective and the score should have been much closer, the Stars earning but one run. The home team played without a fielding error. Bob and Will Higgins, Walker, Battin and Decker did particularly fine work. Score:

It is the only reliable. Do not be talked into using anything else. For sale by all druggists everywhere. dw

The Daily Examiner.

TUESDAY, MAY 8, 1888.

LOCAL NEWS.

The Weather.

Fresh to strong north to east winds, fair weather with local rains at night; stationary or a little lower temperatures.

Only Need to be Mentioned.

The high reputation of the Golden Lion is such that the fact need only be mentioned that the millinery, mantle and mantle order departments are complete in all respects and that the most fashionable goods, the most stylish and the most meritorious are embraced in its stock. Unvarying satisfaction is the experience of all those who benefit themselves by patronizing the Golden Lion. Remember —goods directly imported, offered at importers' prices.

An Explanation Wanted.

The EXAMINER is in receipt of a vaguely-worded communication regarding the Sunday evening performances of a couple of "bold young ladies" on Dalhousie street, who were endeavoring to "throw a certain garden into the creek." The meaning of the contribution is rendered still more obscure by the writer omitting to send his name. Will our unknown contributor kindly supply his real name (not for publication) and enlighten us as to the nature of the performance necessary to "throwing a garden into a creek."

Club vs. Church.

The fame of the Otonabee Canoe Club debaters is getting them into trouble. They are being challenged to a number of outside debates, which, with their regular weekly meetings, gives them plenty of occupation in that line. They are billed for a debate at the Y. M. C. A. rooms on the 17th inst., and Monday night arrangements were made for a debate at the George street Methodist church on the 21st with representatives of the Y. P. A., who will probably be Messrs. Dobbin and Colbeck. Messrs. A. Clegg and A. Tebb were chosen to represent the Club. The debate is, it is understood, to form part of a concert in the church.

Prohibition for Canada.

A lively debate took place at the rooms Monday night among the members of the Otonabee Canoe Club on the subject of prohibition. Mr. John J. Douglass occupied the chair, having on his right the leaders of the affirmative, Messrs. Jno. Millar and W. H. Hill, and their support, and on his left the negative debaters, captained by Messrs. G. J. Smith and A. E. Dixon. The speakers numbered eight on a side. After a close and interesting discussion the palm of victory was awarded the affirmative on a narrow majority. A debate will be held next Monday night as usual at the rooms, the subject being, "Resolved, that Canada is more desirable as a place of residence than the United States." The affirmative leaders are Messrs. Douglass and Barrie; the negative, Messrs. F. J. A. Hall and L.W. Allingham.

Farewell Words.

Mr. John Millar, B A., Commodore of the Otonabee Canoe Club, leaves Thursday afternoon on a trip to the Old Country, to be absent probably a year or more. At Monday night's meeting, the last of the season he will be able to attend, after the debate, a vote of thanks was tendered the Commodore for his generosity in placing his elegant suite of rooms at the disposal of the club, a privilege which he has kindly further extended during his absence. The motion was made by Mr. Little and seconded by Mr. Dixon, and every one present added a few remarks expressive of their esteem of the genial and obliging Commodore, and of their wishes for his speedy return to his home in Peterborough. He was rightly credited with being the real founder of the club, in which he always took an active part, and its immediate success and continued prosperity is as gratifying to him as to the individual members of the club. Though his good offices as Commodore will be greatly missed this summer, in the Vice-Commodore, Mr. H. W. Stock, the club has an active and able leader, who will fill the position well. To the numerous kind expressions Mr. Millar returned his thanks, and in turn wished the club all manner of progress. He leaves Thursday afternoon via the Grand Junction. The EXAMINER begs to add its quota to the sentiments so nicely put by the club members, and wish Mr. Millar bon voyage and a quick return.

3,000 boys and girls in Peterborough have voted that The Pantry is a grand institution for supplying their wants.

Won the Prize.

Miss Norton, town, won the prize given by P. D. Doran, to the lady making the largest purchase at his dry goods store last Saturday.

Norwood Oddfellows.

About half a dozen Norwood Oddfellows were in town last night visiting Otonabee Lodge, when they witnessed an interesting exposition of floor work as it should be done.

You have Never had a chance, and will not soon have another chance of hearing a violinist like the great De Seve. Opera House, Wednesday night.

Painting the Town.

Enough paint to do the whole town, ready mixed at that, ranging from the brightest vermillion to the sombrest black, and including all colors and shades made, can be had at Fortye & Phelan's.

Suspicious Characters.

Night constable McGinty reports having seen three strangers in town early last evening whose appearance aroused his suspicion, and he watched them for a while, but they slipped out of sight again in a few moments. This may have some connection with the safe robbery.

Military.

Lieut. Hill requests a full turn-out of No. 4 Company at the Battalion drill to-night. There is something special he wants to say to his men. The other companies also meet to-night and the first Battalion drill of the year will be held. There is very little time left now till the 24th, and the most must be made of it.

Car (Track) Coupling.

A considerable gang of men is at work making the connections between the town lines and the Chemong Lake road. The work will be pushed and it is hinted as possible that the new line may be open for traffic by July. It wouldn't be half a bad idea to have a Dominion Day excursion over it to Bridgenorth.

McALPIN'S famous Tobaccoes — Silver Shield, Virginia Leaf and Jubilee, for sale at The Pantry.

Won the Medal.

A shooting match took place on the Riverside Park this forenoon between Messrs. J. E. McIntyre and A. E. Thompson, members of the Gun Club, for a gold medal to be supplied by the loser. The contestants shot at ten birds, Mr. Thompson winning by a score of 6 to 3. A few spectators witnessed the match.

Price Doesn't Make Perfect.

At the Ashburnham council Monday night one of the village representatives incidentally made a comparison of the village pump and Peterborough's town well. The former, he stated, cost only $33 while the latter cost over $250—and yet there was no comparison between the two for general usefulness. Our village cousins must have something to be proud of.

IT IS gratifying to know that "The Pantry" is rapidly taking its stand side by side with the first class groceries of the town. Inspection of goods and prices invited.

Narrow Escapes.

As the ice clears away in the spring and leaves the water open, children are wont to play with the dangerous element, and very frequently narrow escapes from drowning are heard of. Sunday afternoon a little girl playing on the lake shore fell in and was rescued by a young man, and a similar case of a little boy in the west end who fell into the creek was reported Monday afternoon.

Going Fast.— Seats for the Miss O'Reilly Concert. Call at Hartley's soon or you'll be too late.

Opening Out.

The old fences around St. Peter's Cathedral have been removed, and on the west and south sides and on the east side, dividing the grounds from the building, light, low fences, consisting of turned posts pierced by two lines of gas piping, will be placed. Inside the grounds a slat walk is being laid on the west side of the cathedral, from the Hunter street walk to the door of the west transept.

A Capital Excuse.

Instruct your children next Thursday evening to say to visitors, "Betsy and I are out" —at the Opera House, to attend the recital by Will Carleton. There will be delicate humor, dainty fun, touching pathos and refined entertainment. Our advice is, don't neglect this chance. The enterprise of the young ladies in providing a high class, intellectual and emotional treat for the public should be practically appreciated. Select your seats at A. L. Davis & Co.'s, where the plan of hall is placed. Tickets 25c., 50c. and 75c. 1d

Water Filters.

To insure good health it is absolutely necessary to have pure water, and no water is entirely free from floating matter and disease terms without thorough filtration. The majority of cases of typhoid and other low fevers are in a measure caused from unfiltered and impure water, so that every family who values its health should have a reliable filter. Numerous filters are offered to the public varying in points of excellence, but for cheapness, efficiency and durability, our filters cannot be surpassed. No corroding substances are used in construction. The packing material is the most powerful specially prepared granulated carbon. It will last for years with the ordinary use of a family, and the material may be obtained from us at any time for replenishing at small expense. Sold in Peterborough only at China Hall. dw

St. Luke's C. E. T. S. Concert.

The closing concert for the season of the St. Luke's C. E. T. S. was held in the school room, Ashburnham, on Monday evening, and was very fairly attended. The programme, as given below, was well carried out, the song by Mr. Turner and the violin solo by Miss Yokome calling forth vigorous encores, which were responded to in both instances, while the tableau, "Woman's Rights," was greeted with round after round of laughter and applause. Mr. Miller's exhibition of mind reading was received with exclamations of wonder and surprise The dialogue by Miss Baker, the Misses Pratt and Mr. Baker was excellent. Dr. Clarke greatly assisted the programme by a humorous reading, and Mr. Kingscote's songs were much appreciated. Mr. Jaques played an instrumental solo and also the various accompaniaments in his usual good style, and the little ones attended the funeral of Cock Robin with all decorum The whole programme and the interest taken in it proved the Society to be in a very healthy and flourishing condition.

GOD SAVE THE QUEEN.

A Safe "Scooped."

The Busy Burglar in the North End—Hilliard's Safe Robbed.

The foreman of Hilliard's flour mill on going to work this morning was astonished at finding that the safe in the office had been opened during the night. His first attention was drawn to the fact that the window had been broken, and, investigating further he found the door of the safe open and its contents gone, about $20 or $25 in cash and some papers. The safe was not injured—either the door had been left unlocked or the burglar had a key and understood the combination. The office men state positively that they locked the safe at night.

The burglary must have been committed at an early hour, as the nightwatchman employed by Mr. Hilliard passed through the mill about one o'clock and picked up an envelope containing some papers from the floor. He thought nothing of the occurrence, however, deeming it to have been dropped by some one connected with the mill. It is evident, however, that it was the trail of the burglar he had struck.

Not till this morning was the burglary known. The police have the matter in hand. There is apparently a clever burglar, or a gang of them, at work in town. Property owners should take the hint and exercise still greater precautions.

Mechanics' Institute.

Annual Meeting—Reports and Election of Officers.

The twentieth annual meeting of the Peterborough Mechanics' Institute was held on Tuesday evening. Mr. W. English, President, occupied the chair.

The usual reports of the directors, Library Committee, auditors and Drawing Class, were read and adopted. All were of a satisfactory nature, and will be published in full to-morrow.

The election of officers took place as follows:

PRESIDENT—Robt. Robertson.
DIRECTORS—Rev. W. C. Bradshaw, Geo. Burnham, M.D., John Clarke, M.D., John Corkery, James English, Wm. English, John Fraser, T. A. Hay, F. J. Lewis.

The Vice President and Secretary-Treasurer will be elected at the next meeting of the directors.

Votes of thanks were passed to the retiring President, Mr. W. English, and to the late directors, after which the meeting adjourned.

Frank Mason's Greenhouses.

Thrifty and Busier than Ever—A Severe Winter a Blessing in Disguise—Growth of the Demand for Flowers.

On Monday a representative of the EXAMINER paid a pleasant visit to Mason's Green Houses, at the north end of the town, and was surprised at the unusually thrifty and healthy appearance of the flower plants that fill the two large conservatories. The winter was unusually severe and consequently better care was bestowed upon the plants with the result that they are in an unusually vigirous and healthy condition. We find two extensive green houses, each 20x100 feet, filled to repletion with an apparently endless stock and variety of flowering plants. A speciality is made of hanging baskets, between 150 and 200 beautiful baskets awaiting the public order. To keep pace with the demands of the trade, Mr. Mason has added a wing 20x25 feet for the special growth of bedding plants and opposite this is another annex, 20x25, devoted specially to propagation and foliage plants of which several new varieties have been added for this season. Mr. Mason, in addition to an increase of his local trade, has an increasing trade in outside orders, and so brisk is this demand that every resource is taxed to keep pace with these orders.

In respect to business, Mr. Mason says he finds no cause to believe in the cry of "hard times." The way in which people continue to buy flowers shows that they have money to spend in luxuries, for, being something that can be done without, flowers are to be considered a luxury. The public demand gives him all he can do, and, being reasonable, he can ask for no more.

In his outside department he has a fine stock of pansies and cabbage plants for bedding, as well as celery, tomato and other plants.

A new feature of Mr. Mason's business is the manufacture of cork vases. Large tubs are covered with cork tree bark, a substance that is practically indestructible and will last for years and years and can be used repeatedly for covering the tubs. These rustic vases have a very pretty effect on lawns, and are deservedly popular. In every department of his business Mr. Mason shows intelligent enterprise and appreciation of public requirements.

Part of the property connected with his greenhouses is a plot broken by a ravine, through which flows a brook. This is being planted with trees and shrubs, and will be converted into a pretty little park for the use of Mr. Mason's customers.

Young Men's Reception.

The First Entertainment of the Kind in the Murray Street Baptist Church.

Himself a young man, Rev. P. Clifton Parker, pastor of the Murray street Baptist church, is endeavoring to do his duty towards the young men who attend his church, and for this purpose has instituted a series of annual receptions, the first of which took place in the church Monday evening. The reception was nominally for the young men, but a great many others of the congregation attended and partook of the enjoyment, material and mental, incidental to the occasion.

There was a good attendance, and the ample supper prepared by the ladies of the church was partaken of with evident gusto by the guests.

After supper an entertainment was held. Rev. Mr. Parker presided, and in his opening address referred to the object of the reception, which he said was to become personally and more intimately acquainted with the young men of the congregation and church. The following programme was then rendered:—

Song—"Holy Friar" ..... Mr Howell
Recitation—"The Quaker and the Robin" ... Rev. Mr. Parker.
Song—"Gather Them In" ..... Mr. Routley
Selection—"Stars of the Summer Night" ... Y.M.C.A. Quartette.
(Encore: "Call John.")
Vocal Duet—"Dear Old Home" ... Mrs. W. J. Milsore and Miss Orith.
Reading—Selected ..... Mr. Croly
Song—"The Monarch of the Woods" ..... Rev. Mr. Parker.
(Encore: "Killarney.")
Song—"John Sharp" ... Mr Wm. Graham Smith
Song—Selected ..... Rev. Mr. Daft
Recitation—Selected ..... Mr. R. J. Kidd

At this juncture in the programme a vote of thanks to Rev. Mr. Parker and the ladies of the congregation for providing such an excellent evening's entertainment, was moved by Mr. J. R. Stratton, seconded by Mr. S. R. Armstrong and carried with hearty emphasis. The programme was then concluded as follows:—

Song—"I Fear no Foe" ..... Mr. Howell
Song—"Steady, Boys, Steady!" ... Mr. Routley
Recitation—"All's Well that Ends Well" ... Mr. H. Rossiter.
Address and Prayer ..... Rev. Mr. Parker

GOD SAVE THE QUEEN.

Personal

Mr. Simon Weir left town last evening for Kingston, to attend, as a delegate, the annual meeting of the Grand Lodge of Orange True Blues.

The EXAMINER has much pleasure in congratulating Mr. W. C. Edwards and his relatives and friends in town upon his triumphant election, Monday, in Russell county as Liberal candidate, by a majority of 250, in a constituency Conservative since Confederation, and in which in 1882 a Conservative was elelected by a majority of 309.

The Good in Flowers.

What Rev. Dr. Talmage Has to Say of Them

At the request of a gentleman who is deeply interested in the subject, the following portion of Dr. Talmage's sermon on Easter morning is re-published. His church was crowded and the floral decorations were elaborate. In his sermon he said:—

"This morning I mean to discuss what flowers are good for. That is my subject. What are flowers good for? I remark, in the first place, they are good for lessons of God's providential care. That was Christ's first thought. If you insist on asking me the question, What are flowers good for? I respond: they are good for the bridal day. The bride must have them on her brow, and she must have them in her hand. The marriage altar must be covered with them. A wedding without flowers would be as inappropriate as a wedding without music. So much of the pathway of life is covered up with thorns we ought to cover the beginning with orange blossoms.

"If you insist on asking me the question, What are flowers good for? I answer:—They are good to honor and comfort the obsequies. The worst gash ever made into the side of our poor earth is the gash of the grave. It is so deep, it is so cruel, it is so incurable that it needs something to cover it up. Flowers, for the casket, flowers for the hearse, flowers for the cemetery.

"Oh, yes! flowers are almost human. Botanists tell us that flowers breathe, they take nourishment, they eat, they drink. They are sensitive. They have their likes and dislikes. They sleep, they wake. They live in families. They have their ancestors and their descendants, their birth, their burial, their cradle, their grave. The zephyr rocks the one and the storm digs the trench for the other. The cowslip must leave its gold, the lily must leave its silver, the rose must leave its diamond necklace of morning dew. Dust to dust. So we come up, we prosper, we spread abroad, we die, as the flower—as the flower!

"But, my friends, flowers have no grander use than when on Easter morning we celebrate the reanimation of Christ from the catacombs. All the flowers of to-day spell resurrection."

—A new plate glass is being put in the window of P. D. Doran & Co.'s store.

Miss O'Reilly's Concert.

Public expectation is at a high key in reference to the great merit of the concert to be given on Wednesday evening, and that this expectation is likely to be realized is shown by the success achieved by the performers elsewhere. Yesterday special refered was made to the great success and wonderful powers of De. Seve, the violinist, and here is the Boston Herald's reference etc Miss O'Rielly: "Miss M. Helene O'Rielly created a most agreeable impression by her delightful singing of the "Shadow Song" from "Dinorah," Meyerbeer, at Boston Music Hall last week. Her voice possesses great range, and is exceedingly pure and flexible; every note of the most delicate passages was distinctly heard throughout the immense hall. Her trills and cadenzas were brillant and smooth; her staccatos crisp and exact. The echoes, supposed to be sung by the Shadow, were given in the most captivating manner; her quiet, listening attitude was perfect, while the exquisite echoes rippled from her throat in a manner to charm the audience. The entire song was rendered with refined and artistic effect, and gave evidence of a thoroughly musical soul, and a training of rare excellence. The floral offerings and enthusiastic applause which followed expressed the appreciation of the audience. Admission 25 and 50 cents. Seats at Hartley's. d1

Literary Notes.

The Canada Citizen, a weekly temperance newspaper published in Toronto, sends out sample copies and offers a trial of six weeks for 10c. The Citizen is nicely printed and full of interesting temperance articles and news items.

The Chicago British-American is a patriotic newspaper devoted to the interests of British subjects residing in the American Babylon. It does a good work, and through its columns the names of many old friends who left Canada to seek fame and fortune in the West are kept in view and not lost sight of in the great metropolitan maelstrom. The British-American should, however, pay more attention to the Midland district and Peterborough, its "hub." Seldom, if ever, is there the slightest mention of this part of the Dominion. A great many people go out to Chicago from here, of whom it would be pleasing to hear through the British-American.

VOL. VI. NO. 109. PETERBOROUGH, WEDNESDAY, MAY 9, 1888. PRICE TWO CENTS.

TURNBULL'S.

We wish to call your attention this week to our Large Stock of Black Cashmeres. They range in price from 25 cents a yard up to $1.25. The one at 25 cents is a good black with sightly appearance which is all we say about it. But when you advance to 45 cents you have a nice rich color, particularly suited for mourning, good weight and fully 44 inches wide. At 50, 60, 75, 85, 90 and $1.00, we have a new line by a French maker which is much nicer than the old make and deservidly popular, being much finer in appearance, more like a Henrietta, to be had in blue and jet black.

GERMAN CASHMERES.—These Goods are made in Saxony where the makers vie with each other in producing a Superior article. We have secured a make that cannot be spoken of too highly. It is a double warp and finished like a satin. They are now open for inspection. (on 3rd counter to left from George street entrance).

In our Custom Made Tailoring Department we show a nice range of Pantings, Worsted Suitings, Light Overcoatings, etc. Only first-class work turned out. (2nd counter to the right.)

Early last fall when the public began gathering around their stoves and were thinking about Flannels and Blankets, we were looking ahead and gave large orders with the leading manufacturers of Chambrays, White and Colored Muslins, Lawns, etc. These Goods are now in stock, and will be found on the 1st counter to the right.

Our first stock of Sailor Hats has been bought up rapidly which is sufficient evidence that they are the correct thing. Our second shipment, bought at a much lower price is now in. All sizes and styles to choose from. The prices will please you when you see the style and quality.

NOTES FROM THE CAPITAL.

MEETING OF THE COMMITTEE ON FRAUDS ON FARMERS.

Echoes from the Russell Contest—Efforts Made to Constitute the French Vote in Favor of the Government—Mr. Chapleau's Franchise Act.

OTTAWA, May 8.—The Committee on Frauds on Farmers met this morning and elected Mr. Adam Brown chairman. During the chairman's address he said that the Minister of Justice was desirous that some short measure should be passed this session to protect farmers. Communications have been sent out asking information from various parties in regard to the matter. The various frauds practised on farmers were briefly discussed. From remarks made by Mr. Amyot it would appear that the Courts in Quebec have taken a view which, whether legally sound or not, is more in accordance with justice than the decisions of the Ontario Courts. It has been held in Quebec that promissory notes obtained by fraud from farmers who supposed they were signing agreements are nullities, and therefore cannot be sued upon even by the innocent third party who usually pops up in these cases. As Mr. Wood of Brockville remarked, the notes are treated in the same way as if they were forgeries. Mr. Wood was disposed to think that the farmers themselves were to blame in the celebrated "seed grain cases," having been gullible enough to accept the promises of agents to pay them an absurd price for the product of the seed. Mr. Barron thought that if a deliberate fraud had been practised Parliament should interfere. All the members of the committee, however, were agreed that there were many cases which could not be attributed either to the folly or cupidity of the person defrauded. Among these was the fraud by which a person ordering a dozen lengths of stovepipe has himself, by some mysterious operation, been made a party to an agreement to buy enough stovepipe for the whole township. Mr. Wood said it was doubtful whether in the case of the substitution of a note for an agreement, the fraud was accomplished by some manipulation of the paper or by actual forgery facilitated by the possession of the genuine signature. Mr. McMullen, Mr. Carpenter, Mr. Smith of Ontario, Mr. Fisher and others took part in the discussion. A sub-committee was appointed to procure the attendance of witnesses, etc.

In connection with the Russell election it may be said that the appointment of Mr. Olivier as Judge of the County of Prescott was forced upon the Government by Mr. Mackintosh's supporters, with the idea of increasing his strength in the French portions of the county. A requisition was signed by the Tory lawyers of this city and prominent Conservative wire-pullers to this effect. One or two refused to sign it, and now they are jubilant over the result. The story was circulated during the campaign that if Mr. Mackintosh was elected he would be appointed Secretary of State, owing to his somewhat long and rather peculiar knowledge of "printing contracts." Once in the Cabinet, all his friends were sure of positions.

Sir John Macdonald, having written a letter to Cardwell supporting the suggestion that Robt. White, son of the late Minister of the Interior, editor of The Montreal Gazette, should be elected in his father's place, Mr. White has signified his willingness to accept the nomination, if tendered by the forthcoming convention, and the chances are that an effort will be made to unite local jealousies on young White.

Mr. Chapleau's bill amending the Franchise Act gives away all the contentions of the Ministry for uniformity, as it confers manhood suffrage on Prince Edward Island, which is the Provincial franchise. As Ontario's franchise is now a manhood one, the Government should logically exempt Ontario from the operation of the Franchise Act, and the Opposition will move an amendment to this effect.

The Labor Commissioners ended their Hull session last night. The Commissioners met for the last time in Ottawa, and will end their six months' labors to-night and begin to prepare their report. All evidence taken has been sent to Government as fast as it was transcribed.

Before the Combines Committee to-day George Taylor, M.P., gave evidence in regard to the alleged barley combines. He denied that any combine existed among buyers of barley. Canadian barley commanded a higher price in the American market than the American barley. American maltsters must have our barley. Oswego was the point where Canadian producers met the buyers. There was a maltsters' ring in the United States. The committee have now ended their labors and will make a report.

In the Senate Railway Committee this morning a bill to authorize the construction of bridges over the Assiniboine at Winnipeg and Portage la Prairie was passed.

The promoters of the Ontario Pacific Railway are pressing hard for a bonus, but the probability is they won't get it.

In the Banking and Commerce Committee to-day the bill to enable the Bank of London to wind-up its affairs was reported, consent of the shareholders having been obtained since the bill was thrown out a few weeks ago. The bill giving decisions of the Toronto Board of Trade arbitrations the force of law was also reported.

To-day's news from Winnipeg confirms my despatch yesterday that Norquay is to be deposed from the leadership. The Tory organ there to-day attacks Norquay for supporting the Quebec resolutions, and says the party discontent has culminated in the necessity for the party to choose a new leader on the floor of the Legislature.

Erastus Wiman, who is in Montreal to-day, is expected here this week.

THE CARDWELL VACANCY.

The Conservative Convention To-morrow—Strong Opposition to Mr. Bob White.

MONO MILLS, May 8.—There is to be a big gathering hereon Thursday at the Conservative convention. The feeling in favor of a local man grows more intense, notwithstanding that letters have been sent all over the county, signed by Sir John, in favor of Mr. Robert White. The letters run thus: The Old Man says he has received a number of inquiries as to what should be done; that while he does not wish to interfere he thinks it would be a gracious thing to give the nomination to Mr. White, jr., and that the latter has his cordial approval. But responses have already been sent to the chief to the effect that a local man must get the nomination. Among the local men mentioned are the Caledon boy, Mr. Willoughby, Mr. Evans and Mr. Stubbs. The local aspirants have united on the submission of a resolution at the opening of the convention in favor of a local man—that is he must be a voter in Cardwell. Mr. Campbell of The Brampton Conservator, who has a record for hard and active work in the cause, is also in the field. He is not a resident of Cardwell, but quite near it and well known to everyone.

Considerable amusement was caused among those versed in political matters by the article in The Empire in favor of young "Bob" White. In Frontenac Geo. A. Kirkpatrick in 1870 succeeded his father, who had represented the constituency from the Union. The Kirkpatricks are large landed proprietors in the county, and after the death of Mr. Kirkpatrick the elder his son was the most prominent man in the county. In Restigouche, Robert Moffat succeeded his father, Geo. Moffat, at the age of 38 years. Mr. Robert Moffat was at the time of his election engaged in extensive mercantile operations in the county. Edward Holton, the only surviving son of the Hon. L. R. Holton, was chosen in Chateauguay on the decease of his father, and this is the case given by The Empire of the son succeeding the father, a non-resident of his constituency. But Chateauguay adjoins Montreal, the home of the Holtons, and in Chateauguay they have large financial interests. The other precedent given by The Empire is Charlevoix, where recently the son of the late member, Mr. Cimon, was selected as the Conservative candidate and elected by a large majority. But Mr. Cimon is also a resident.

The news that Mr. Maclean would contest the riding on the Butter Reform platform has been received with great interest, and it will affect the situation considerably. He has sent word that he will be in the county this week and the intelligent farmers are avoiding committing themselves until his plans are announced. They see that an out-and-out Conservative candidate would do them neither good nor harm; but that Butter Reform means $100 a year to every farmer in the county. Several prominent agriculturalists have written Mr. Maclean that they will assist him by stumping the county and canvassing.

ARTS AND MANUFACTURES.

Annual Meeting of the Council at Montreal—Fire Insurance Rates.

MONTREAL, May 8.—The annual meeting of the Council of Arts and Manufactures was held here this morning. S. E. Dawson read his annual report, which thoroughly reviewed the work of the year. He pointed out that the Montreal committee had effectually carried out the wishes of the Council on technical training. Throughout the province 1213 pupils during the past year had been taught. A committee was named to draft a memorial asking further assistance from the Government to extend and develop the work of practical teaching which the Council had taken in hand. The old board of officers was re-elected.

An agreement to support any fire insurance company commencing business on fair and equitable rates is in circulation and has been largely signed. It is said that owing to the high rates one of our largest railway companies has withdrawn its risks from the Canadian and placed them with an American company.

Hon. Mr. Lavallee, Legislative Councillor, has been arrested. It is alleged that on Aug. 22, 1885, at the Parish of St. Felix De Valois he forged the name of Pierre Lefreniere for $18. Hon. Mr. Lavallee was released at the preliminary examination on Monday.

A New York Broker's Mysterious Death.

NEW YORK, May 8.—The dead body of Nathaniel W. F. Hatch, a banker and broker at No. 14 Nassau-street, was found this morning in the yard in the rear of 64 West Twentieth-street. Mrs. Lilian Scofield and her husband, who occupy the premises, have been arrested. One story of Mr. Hatch's death says Mrs. Scofield was a lady customer with whom Mr. Hatch had done business at his office during the day. He escorted her home, accepted an invitation to enter and was surprised by the husband, to avoid whom he locked himself in a bath-room. In an apparent attempt to escape he jumped or fell from a one-story extension that runs under the bath-room windows and was killed. His skull was crushed.

The Whitby Suicide.

WHITBY, May 8.—The inquest on the body of Herbert Allen was finished this evening. The father of deceased gave evidence showing that Herbert was in financial difficulties when he left Buffalo. Witness was not aware of his son's marriage until his death. A bottle which had contained laudanum was found in the pocket of deceased.

The jury returned a verdict that the deceased died from a pistol shot, and that they were of the opinion that the shot was fired by himself.

THE DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

The Debt of Canada—The $25,000,000 Loan Discussed.

OTTAWA, May 8.—The House this afternoon agreed to adjournment from Wednesday to Friday, Thursday being Ascension Day and a statutory holiday, and also to sitting on Saturday.

Sir Charles Tupper moved his resolution asking authority to borrow to an extent not exceeding $25,000,000 to pay floating liabilities and for other purposes. In moving the resolution he entered into a minute explanation of the position of Canada with respect to the national debt. He first explained that the loan was necessitated at the present time by reason of the fact that the reduction of the maximum of deposit in Government savings banks had deprived the Government of funds from this source, and this, in conjunction with stringency in the money market, had made it necessary to incur in London a floating indebtedness of $1,000,000. To wipe off this was one of the objects of the loan. Though power was asked to borrow $25,000,000, it must not be supposed that the Government intended to borrow to this amount, or to any amount that was not absolutely necessary.

Having pointed out the valuable assets possessed by Canada as an offset to the debt, he held that whereas the borrowings of this country are not intended to be paid at maturity, but to be renewed, the amount of the debt is to be measured by the terms upon which we will be enabled to meet it when due. Calculating upon this principle and upon the basis of the increased credit of the country and reduction of the rate of interest upon loans from 4½ per cent. of twelve years ago to 3½ to-day, it would be found that the debt of the country, which in 1877 was $129,000,000, had increased not to the figure of $227,000,000 which it nominally is to-day, but to a sum $68,000,000 less, or $174,000,000. That is, at the rate of interest now paid a loan of $227,000,000 could be renewed now at a charge not greater than would have been involved in borrowing $174,000,000 in 1877.

The debt of 1877 was:

In England	$116,000,000
In Dominion notes above specie held	5,000,000
In savings banks' deposits	7,000,000
In trust funds	1,000,000

At present it is $160,000,000 in England, representing by the above system of computation $114,000,000; in Dominion notes $13,000,000, the nominal increase of $4,000,000 costing the country only the cost of management, that is ½ per cent. or $430,000; savings banks deposits now represent $40,000,000 of debt, but the Government proposed to ask authority from Parliament, though not just at present, to so deal with savings banks deposits that no higher interest should be paid for them than the Government now had to pay upon its loans, this being 3½ per cent. He did not think depositors would have just cause for complaint as long as they were paid interest as high as the Government paid elsewhere. This would reduce this portion of the indebtedness to $32,500,000 in place of $40,000,000. Then there is the Canadian Pacific Railway guarantee deposit of $13,000,000, on which 4 per cent. is now paid. This being replaced by a loan at 3½ would reduce this portion of the debt to a burden of $8,320,000, and lastly there is the debt of $13,000,000 due for trust funds, on which we were bound to continue to pay 5 per cent. interest.

In answer to the question as to why the Government asked for a loan larger than it desired to spend, Sir Charles said a margin was always left, their being at the present time $11,000,000 remaining unborrowed which the Government had obtained authority to raise, if desired, for various purposes.

Mr. Charlton took the view that the debt had increased at such a ratio as to weaken the credit of the country, and increase rather than lessen the burden.

Mr. Laurier was sorry that he could not consider the large figure of $53,000,000 of decrease computed by Sir Charles as anything but a figure of speech.

The debate was continued by Messrs. McLelan, Patterson, Davin, Davies and Mitchell. In the course of his remarks the last named referred to and condemned the proposition for the sale of the Intercolonial Railway to the Kamper Syndicate which, he said, had formed the subject of negotiations at London between the syndicate on one hand and three ministers—Sir Charles Tupper, Hon. Mackenzie Bowell and Hon. Mr. Chapleau—on the other.

Sir Charles Tupper thereupon denied that he had ever been a party to any negotiations for the sale of the Intercolonial, and said that at the interviews in London the only subject discussed was the establishment of iron and steel works in the Lower Provinces.

Mr. Mulock followed, criticising Sir Charles' methods of finance, and at 6 o'clock Mr. McMullen had the floor.

After recess, further immaterial discussion followed, and the resolution authorizing the loan was then considered in committee of the whole and adopted.

Sir Charles Tupper then moved the House into committee to consider the resolution providing for the assumption of the Montreal Harbor and Lake St. Peter Channel debt. Sir Charles said he thought the time had arrived when this great waterway should be made free in the interest of the trade of the whole country, and in assuming this debt the Government had made it a condition that all tonnage dues were to be removed.

The resolutions were considered in committee and adopted and the House then went into committee on the resolutions authorizing assumption of the Quebec Harbor Commissioners' debt. These were also adopted, discussion being deferred by special agreement until a further stage.

The House adjourned at 1.25 a.m.

PREMIER MERCIER REORGANIZES HIS CABINET.

That It Is Only a Temporary Arrangement—

How the Portfolios Are Distributed.

QUEBEC, May 8.—The long-expected reorganization of the Cabinet is announced to-day, but is only temporary until after the session. The office of Solicitor-General is abolished and the one of Minister of Agriculture created. Premier Mercier resigns the Attorney-Generalship and takes the post of Commissioner of Agriculture and Colonization. Hon. A. Turcotte, at present without portfolio, becomes Attorney-General, and the other offices are distributed as follows:

Minister of Public Works—Hon. P. Garneau.
Minister of Crown Lands—Hon. G. Duhamel.
Provincial Treasurer—Hon. Jos. Shehyn.
Provincial Secretary—Hon. C. E. Gagnon.

Hon. Mr. Duhamel, who occupied the Solicitor-Generalship, takes Hon. Mr. McShane's place.

THE QUEBEC RESOLUTIONS.

Discussed by Manitoba Legislators—An Amendment by Mr. Luxcock.

WINNIPEG, May 8.—In the debate on the Quebec resolutions Mr. Luxcock moved in amendment:

That while changes in the Confederation Act may be advisable this House is not prepared to commit itself, and regrets that the question of the trade relations of Canada should have been dealt with by the conference, as while the members thereof were protesting against interference with provincial rights by the Dominion authorities they were assuming themselves the right to deal with matters clearly outside their functions.

Resolved, That a copy of the resolutions be forwarded to the Governor-General with a request to direct that such action be taken as will ensure any necessary amendments to the British North America Act which may be required to more definitely declare the respective powers and jurisdiction of the Dominion and Provincial Governments.

The debate was continued this afternoon and to-night.

THE DIFFICULTY UNSETTLED.

Hamilton Painters' Troubles—Fatal Accident—Two New Industries.

HAMILTON, May 8.—The painters' difficulty with the bosses remains unsettled. The employers have got all the men they want for the present and those who are out on strike are working at odd jobs on their own account.

On Sunday last Michael Sullivan, hotelkeeper, took a drive to the Beach, and just as he was nearing Dynes' Hotel his horse started off and ran against a tree, throwing Mr. Sullivan out. He was removed to Dynes', and it was found that he had sustained a severe fracture of the spine. He was taken home shortly afterwards, and lingered until 9 o'clock this morning, when he died.

The manufacturing industries of this city have received two important additions in the Hamilton Steel Wire Nail Company and the Stone Manufacturing Company. The latter company will employ fifty hands at the start and manufacture lanterns, pressed and stamped ware and other specialties.

Mr. William Golding, a civil and mechanical engineer of New Orleans, La., has revived an old project by which "he proposes to supply the city of Hamilton with water power sufficient to drive nearly all the manufactories of Canada."

Last evening County Constable McNair arrested a young man named Daniel Jones for assaulting Mrs. Taylor, wife of L. Taylor, the Barton pound-keeper, and removing five cows from the pound.

The African Methodist Conference.

INDIANAPOLIS, May 8.—The eighteenth quadrennial session of the General Conference of the African Methodist Episcopal Church began here yesterday and was called to order by Bishop Payne. From 41 annual conferences 200 delegates, representing every State in the Union, Canada, and the Bermuda and Demerara Islands, make up the official roster. Bishop J. P. Campbell delivered an address of welcome, and Rev. J. W. Gasoway also welcomed the delegates. He said that the Governor and Auditor of the State and the noble Harrison had sent words of welcome, accompanied by substantial help. Harrison's name was enthusiastically received.

The Right Kind of Conductor.

ST. LOUIS, May 8.—A dozen tramps boarded a Chicago and Alton train at Bridge Junction, East St. Louis, between 1 and 2 o'clock yesterday morning and undertook to rob the passengers; but the conductor rallied the train crew, and after a tussle ejected the ruffians and the train proceeded. No property was secured by the tramps. Three of the tramps were subsequently arrested.

The Lehigh's Immoderate Speed.

CHICAGO, May 8.—An important decision was rendered yesterday by Judge Blodgett in the collision case of Thos. Hood, owner of the schooner Lucinda Van Valkenburg, to recover damages for the sinking of the schooner by the propeller Lehigh off Thunder Bay, light, about midnight May 31, 1887, during a dense fog. The court found that the evidence showed that the steamer must have been going at an average speed of twelve miles an hour, which was immoderate in a dense fog. A decree was directed to be entered in favor of the owner of the schooner.

RUSSELL ELECTION.

Both in Parliament and in the by-elections, the Dominion Government is coming to grief. A great blow to its prestige is the result in Russell on Monday, when Mr. W. C. Edwards, Liberal, was elected over the great contract broker and government favorite, Mr. Macintosh, by a majority of 250. Russell is under the very shadow of the Parliament buildings, and this carrying of the war into Africa does not by any means tend to the development of a reassuring feeling. Since Confederation, Russell has been a Tory stronghold till recently. During that time there were, up to 1882, six elections. In five of these the Conservative majority averaged 350, the highest being 600, in 1867, and the next highest 515, when Hon. John O'Connor was returned, in 1878. In 1887, Mr. Edwards redeemed the riding, being elected by a majority of 155, but being unseated through the too practical zeal of an agent, he again became a candidate, and though the whole strength of the government in a Conservative constituency of twenty years' standing was used, he was triumphantly returned by a sweeping majority. It is claimed that his platform was unrestricted reciprocity straight, and the friends of the movement have grounds for being greatly encouraged in the hope that when the country has an opportunity of pronouncing generally on this subject, the result will be in favor of the beginning of rational trade relations.

A RABID Tory sheet, which is the mouthpiece and untiring advocate of monopolists and monopoly-making institutions, clamours loudly for "Canada for Canadians"—to complete the alliteration and aptness it should add, "and the combines."

Mechanics' Institute Reports.

The Reports Submitted at the Annual Meeting and Adopted.

The annual report of the directors was as follows:—

Annual report for year ending April 30th, 1888. The Board of Directors, in compliance with the by law to that effect, herewith submit their twentieth annual report for the consideration of the members of the Institute.

The year just ended has been one in which trade in general has been depressed, and the Institute shows the effect of duller times in a falling off in the membership, though the amount received from the sale of tickets is but slightly less than was received last year.

But one class was held during the winter, the subjects taught being Mechanical and Freehand Drawing. The number in attendance was fair, and the progress made fully as great as could be expected. The great trouble in connection with the classes is the same as that in the public schools, namely, irregularity in attendance; and it is impossible for a teacher, no matter how thorough and energetic he may be, to bring on pupils who may not attend over half the time.

Several changes have been made in the list of periodicals taken for use in the reading-room and some new ones have been added. There are now five daily papers:—Mail, Empire, Globe, N.Y. Sun (including Sunday edition), and one of our local dailies and eight weekly papers. There are also eleven magazines:—Harper's, The Century, Atlantic, Scribners, Cassel's Chambers' Journal, Good Words, St. Nicholas, Nineteenth Century, Litterary Magazine and the popular Scientific Monthly. Besides the above, there are eighteen periodicals, including several specially suited to the taste of lady subscribers.

The library has been increased by the addition of a large number of valuable books, and now contains about five thousand volumes. The number of volumes read during the year was very large, and there was a slight increase in the issue of works on Science and Art, and Travels. Full particulars will be found in the report of the Library Committee. A statement of the financial condition of the Institute is also appended.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

WM. ENGLISH,
President.

DRAWING CLASS REPORT.

The drawing class report was as follows:—

PETERBOROUGH, April 30th, 1888

To the Directors of the Peterborough Mechanics' Institute:

GENTLEMEN,—I beg to submit for your consideration the report of the drawing class for the term ending April 30th, 1888.

The class started with a membership of nineteen, of which number fifteen studied machine drawing, two freehand drawing and two industrial design. Several of the class, it is to be regretted, were unable to attend shortly after the first of January, on account of having to work at night in the works of the Wm. Hamilton Manufacturing Company.

The interest taken and the work done has been fairly satisfactory, but I would respectfully suggest that it would be an improvement to have a shorter term. Five months is rather long a period for 26 lessons to cover, and at the same time give the percentage of attendance which is required by the Education Department. On this account, I extended the number of nights to 32, and by doing so covered the number of nights required by the Department for each pupil to attend.

Number of lessons	32
Number of students who sat ended 20 and over	14
Average attendance during term	12

The following students have decided to try the examination for certificates:

Machine drawing	5
Freehand drawing	1
Industrial design	2

Water Filters.

To insure good health it is absolutely necessary to have pure water, and no water is entirely free from floating matter and disease germs without thorough filtration. The majority of cases of typhoid and other low fevers are in a measure caused from unfiltered and impure water, so that every family who values its health should have a reliable filter. Numerous filters are offered to the public varying in points of excellence, but for cheapness, efficiency and durability, our filters cannot be surpassed. No corroding substances are used in construction. The packing mateial is the most powerful specially prepared granulated carbon. It will last for years with the ordinary use of a family, and the material may be obtained from us at any time for replenishing at small expense. Sold in Peterborough only at China Hall. dw

A Sure Relief.

I suffered from a hard Cough contracted by damp feet. Having consulted a local doctor without effect I thought I would try Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam as a last resort. Before I had finished the first bottle my cough had entirely disappeared, and to day I enjoy better health than ever before. I can conscientiously recommend it. Chas. H. BALTIMORE, Md., May 8.—The Pimlico Spring Meeting of the Maryland Jockey Club began to-day. The attendance was only fair, though the weather was fine and the track in good condition. Lacrossemen in Council.

The tenth annual convention of the National Amateur Lacrosse Association was held at New York on Saturday night. Delegates from the New York Club, Maple Leaf of Camden, University of New York, Staten Island Cricket and Baseball Club, Stevens Institute, and the Druids of Baltimore, were present. Cambridge, Harvard and the Boston lacrosse clubs were represented by proxy.

It was determined to divide the association into two divisions, the Eastern and the Western. The Eastern division will take in all clubs east of Pittsburg.

Messrs. J. C. Gerndt of New York, H. G. Penniman of Baltimore, and J. R. Flannery of Brooklyn were appointed a committee to wind up the affairs of the National Association and to take steps to recover the championship cup from the Independent Club of Boston and transfer it to the Calumet Club of Chicago, who were declared the champions last year by the National Association.

The Eastern division was then formed, and Henry G. Penniman of Baltimore was elected President; J. C. Gerndt, Secretary-Treasurer, and Messrs. Flannery, Powell and Boardman as the Executive Committee.

My Toothache

is an exclamation heard every hour in the day. Tooth-ache is the most common ailment of young and old, and in the aggregate inflicts more suffering than perhaps any other single complaint. A one minute cure is just what every person desires to possess. Nerviline—nerve pain cure—acts almost instantly in relieving the agony, and as a sample bottle affords a quantity sufficient for 100 applications, 10 cents fills the bill. Polson's Nerviline is the only positive remedy for tooth-ache and all nerve pains. Sold by druggists and all dealers in medicine. 6d19w

A Successful Result.

Sirs, I was troubled for five years with Liver Complaint. I used a great deal of doctors' medicine, which did me no good. I was getting worse all the while until I tried Burdock Blood Bitters. After taking four bottles I am now well. I can also recommend it for dyspepsia. Miss Hattie L. Swick, 3t. Williams P. O., Ont. 2w18d

The Growth of the Hair.

Should always be watched. Inattention to the hair often leads to premature grayness and baldness. When dandruff appears it should be looked after at once. By frequently using a little of Dr. Dorenwend's Great German Hair Magic the scalp will be kept in a clean and healthy condition and the strength and vigor of the hair greatly promoted. It is the only reliable. Do not be talked into using anything else. For sale by all druggists everywhere. dw

Biliousness.

"I should not think it right did I not give my testimony of what I know to be the of Burdock Blood Bitters. Being a sufferer from Biliousness, I took one bottle of B. B. B. and it gave me immediate relief. I recommend it as a cure for Biliousness. Anne McLean, Woodville, Ont. 2w18d

A Severe Trial.

Those who endure the torturing pangs of Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Sciatica, Lumbago and similar painful complaints are severely tried, but their is a speedy relief in Hagyard's Yellow Oil, as thousands who have used it joyfully testify. It banishes pain and lameness quickly. 2w18d

A Last Resort.

Last summer, says Wm. J. James, of Atherley, Ont., I felt very miserable with pains over my kidneys, fluttering of the heart and nervousness; after taking different kinds of medicine, hearing of B. LIFE ASSURANCE COMP'Y OF CANADA

HEAD OFFICE, MONTREAL.

Both in Magnitude and Profitableness, the Business for 1887 has been almost everything that could be desired.

The life policies now in force are 7,128 for $10,873,777.69, on 6741 lives. We have moreover $3,207,600 00 insured under 1,840 accident policies, so that the total current contracts of the Company are 8,969 for $14,081,377.69.

The income for the year shows the very large increase of $122,331.23 over the figures of 1886, the total being $495,831.54. The revenue is now half a million dollars per annum, or as mentioned in the report, over $1,600 for every working day in the year, and even this he believed was but a mere introduction to what it will be in a few years hence. The gains from time to time are well illustrated by the following table:—

Period	Gain in income.	Gain in assets.	Gain in assurances.
1872 to 1876, four years	$ 54,611 21	$169,482 69	$1,149,743 00
1876 to 1880, four years	38,590 67	195,188 29	1,167,896 14
1880 to 1884, four years	136,976 84	363,254 31	2,962,924 90
1884 to 1887, three years	217,451 89	475,607 24	4,029,373 65
Total in 1887	$495,831 54	$1,750,004 48	$10,873,777 69

It is very pleasing to notice that the gains for the last three years only are 60 per cent. more than those of the preceding four years.

Keeping Safes Safe.

It is the custom in town, during the burglary epidemic, in order to prevent safes being blown open, to label them "This Safe is Open." It's a bad time, just after house-cleaning, for burglars to come into houses with muddy feet, spoiling carpets, etc. But first-class carpets of all kinds, oil cloths etc., can be procured at such reasonable figures that the loss by their destruction will not be so serious a matter. A splendid stock of the most stylish curtains also kept on hand at r. fair's

More of His Work.

At Muncaster's jewellery store four photographic views, the work of Mr. R. M. Roy, are on exhibition. Three are of the Gun Club, and very good indeed they are, but the picture of the new post office building for clearness and precision of outline is considered the best. It was taken by the instantaneous process, and shows a couple of pedestrians in the very act of walking. Mr. Roy is a highly successful amateur photographer.

The Last Sad Rites.

The funeral of the late Mrs. W.G. Yelland at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon to the Little Lake Cemetery, was an unusually large one, the cortege extending over four blocks and numbering about 70 vehicles. It was an unmistakeable proof of the high esteem in which the deceased lady was held and the general feeling of sorrow entertained for the bereaved husband. Rev. I. Tovell conducted the burial services.

On the Cards.

At the next shoot of the Gun Club Friday afternoon it is probable a gold medal will be shot for, the winner in the last contest having challenged another anxious and confident candidate for sportsman's honors.

Barnardo Home Boys.

Mr. A. B. Owen, travelling agent for the Barnardo Homes, who is domiciled at 204 Farley Avenue, Toronto, a distributing station for the Homes, arrived in town Tuesday evening and had an interview with Capt. Annesley, of Hazel Brae, previous to his leaving for the Old Country. He sails from New York on Saturday. On his last trip some 200 boys were brought out to Canada and placed in the distributing home in Toronto, but inside of 24 hours every one of them had been placed in private homes. For these 200 boys there were filed over 500 certified applications. Mr. Owen expects to sail from Edinburgh on May 31st with another batch of 200 boys.

An Explanation.

Will Carleton is not coming. The committee who have been working in the interests of Will Carleton's recital, advertised for Thursday evening, May 10th, desire to make an explanation. Finding that the indifference of the public to the merits of the lecturer was such as to preclude the possibility of securing an audience numerically worthy of his talents, or of meeting the financial requirements, they have wired him to that effect and received a release from the engagement. The citizens who have made arrangements for attending the recital will receive price of tickets by presenting the same to the ladies from whom they were purchased. It is to be regretted that a gentleman of so high a reputation in a town like Peterborough.

Their First Public Appearance.

Next Friday evening the drill and calisthenic class of the Collegiate Institute will have their first public "review" or rehearsal at the Lansdowne skating rink. The pupils will muster at 7 o'clock sharp, and it is expected will turn out about 160 strong. The band will be present and furnish music for the occasion. Sergt.-Major Rundle, under whose skilful tuition the class has made such excellent progress in its drill, will be in command and put the "battalion" through a programme of calisthenic exercises, company and regiment marching, etc. The Institute pupils are preparing to give a grand concert the latter end of June, of which calisthenics and fancy drills will form an important feature, and the public will be able to judge somewhat of the merits of the treat in store by witnessing the review Friday evening.

Seasonable Advice.

Though freakful seasons may desert their old accustomed channels, the wise man takes no hint from them, but hangs on to his flannels. What though the spring, too previous, with dallyings delusive, puts forth a mild and balmy breath that's too catarrh conducive? We know a man may smile and smile, and still may be a villian; so, too, that fickle jade, the spring, will cheer, the while she's chillin. The very life-blood in your veins, within your bones the marrow, and piling up rheumatic pains your days and nights to harrow. Bethink you, spring is but a She! And, though half-way she meet you with smile and wife and winning way, or soon or late she'll cheat you. Who trusts her will get "left"—what's more, he will be left a-freezing; she's bound to leave him in the lurch, and sure to leave him sneezing. Think not Old Winter's gone because Spring skips! If you've got gumption you'll know too much by half to slip on such a slim assumption. Still pin your faith to flannel shirts, umbrellas and goloshes; pawn not your topcoats till July, nor then your macintoshes!

AT HARTLEY'S,

THE BOLDEST BURGLARY YET.

The Roman Catholic Parsonage Raided.

The Safe Blown Open—Reckless Attempts to Shoot Two Priests—Criminal Debilitation of the Desperadoes — Well Laid Plans Carried out to the Letter—Sacred Spoil Secured—The Church Decorated — The Police in After the Death.

This morning early, the boldest, most deliberately planned and most deliberately executed burglary ever "worked" here took place at the R. C. Parsonage, Reid street. The safe was blown open and its contents abstracted under circumstances which show that the villains were cool, calculating, fearless, not to say desperate, professional crackesmen, determined to finish their job, regardless of personal risk on their own account, or of the blood they might shed in accomplishing their ends.

THE CIRCUMSTANCES ARE THESE:

About four o'clock this morning the occupants of the Roman Catholic Parsonage were aroused by the sound of a loud explosion in the lower part of the residence. Rev. Fathers McEvay and Rudkins, who were sleeping on the second floor, at once arose and came to the doors of their rooms, and Rev. Mr. Rudkins, with great presence of mind cried out to Father McEvay to shoot. No sooner were the words out of his mouth than a man, standing on guard in the hall below, shielded behind a dark lantern, the light of which flashed up the staircase, shouted, "Ah would y'u! Y'u ————————!" and crack came the report of a pistol, and the bullet went crashing in the ceiling over the landing, its course being in a line with where Rev. Father Rudkins' head would have been had he, as he naturally intended to do, started to descend the stairs. This put him on his guard and he judiciously kept in the back ground, both he and his brother priest being unarmed. The burglar evidently fearing trouble from above, defended his Thermopylic, the staircase, with vigour. He kept up a fusilade, firing in all six shots, any one of which would have been fatal to any person appearing at the head of the stairs. To fire one of the shots, the ruffian evidently ascended a few steps—there was a light in the passage, at the head of the landing, leading to the servants' quarters, which he evidently regarded as dangerous — the bullet striking the woodwork almost on a level. Considering the subsequent boldness shown by the burglars, it is altogether likely that, but for Father Rudkins' hint about firearms, the burglars would have visited the second story.

REV. FATHER M'EVAY ACTED PROMPTLY.

Finding his way cut off by the stairs, he opened a window on the north side of the residence, gained the balcony, passed around and attempted to arouse the Bishop's servant man in the palace next door, but was unsuccessful. He then made for Mr. Thomas Mahoney's, on Downey street, and despatched him for the police. Meanwhile the bold burglars were busily at work demolishing the interior of the safe and getting at the contents. It took them fully twenty minutes to complete their work, and as Father McEvay was crossing the palace lawn he could see the burglar at work, while his pal guarded the approaches in the hall.

The work was undertaken systematically. Evidently the first step made was to enter the Cathedral, access having been gained by way of the basement. Here the burglars broke open the poor box at the entrance door, and took the contents—a trifling amount. When told of this, Mr. John Doherty said: "Ah! I got the start of them!" He had opened the box on April 30th and taken out the contents. Here also they took a chisel and brace belonging to Mr. Wm. Ball, who was working on the premises, for use in subsequent operations, and also a wax candle, the remains of which was found burning on the mantel of the office near where the safe stood. Proceeding to the parsonage the lower glass of the sash of the French window on the north side of the first floor was broken and the bolt at the bottom drawn. The coast clear, the way of retreat was provided for, the French windows of the reception room and the office were opened, a man placed on guard in the hall, a sofa placed against one door and a table weighted down with books against another. Two holes were drilled in the door of the safe opposite the lock, (one being too low) and a charge, evidently of dynamite, exploded,

COMPLETELY WRECKING THE DOOR OF THE SAFE.

No attempt was made to muffle the sound of the explosion, the miscreants having evidently determined to murder any one who might interfere with their operations. They were, however, poorly paid for their work. The safe only contained $5 in five cent pieces. The burglars doubtless counted on the fact of a large amount of diocesan funds being at the parsonage, the residence of Rev. Father McEvay, the Chancellor of the diocese. They must have expected large booty for their plans were well laid, they took great risks and included in their programme, bloodshed and, possibly, murder.

The extreme audacity of the robbers is astonishing to everybody. One man worked away deliberately fully twenty minutes, going through the interior of the safe, after their operations were known. The occupants of the residence were wholly unarmed and their interference might have resulted in being shot. The rascals got away safely only a few minutes before the arrival of policeman McGinty, who came alone, P. C. Stewart, who was at the station, refusing to leave without orders from the Chief. The prompt arrival of the police would have resulted either in the capture of the thieves or in gaining a clew to work upon in a pursuit. When returning from Mahoney's Father McEvay noticed a man seated in a buggy, no doubt waiting for the robbers. The only only clew so far is a coat found hanging at the front gate of the parsonage. It is now in the hands of the police. It is a brown, fashionably-made spring overcoat of worsted, lined with farmers' satin, with velvet collar. In the pockets were found an old handkerchief, a jack-knife, a box of boot blacking and a small brush.

MR. MAHONEY'S VERSION.

Mr. Mahoney, who was sent for the police by Rev. Father McEvay, states that he found Officer Stewart at the station, but the latter refused to go to the scene of the burglary, as he had strict orders not to leave his beat without orders from the Chief. Then Constable McGinty was hunted up, and at first he took the same view of the matter. Finally, after much wasted talk and time, Officer Stewart went to awaken the Chief, and Officer McGinty decided to take the risk and started for the priests' house, where he arrived, Mr. Mahoney states on the authority of Rev. Father Rudkins, just about two minutes too late. Afterwards, Chief Roszel and Officer Stewart arrived on the scene. Mr. Mahoney is positive it the police had acted promptly on his information the burglars would have been caught.

First Blood Drawn on the Cricket Field —The Initial Match.

Those who can't see any "fun" in cricket should have watched the game on the P.A.A.A. grounds Tuesday afternoon, and they would have been quickly convinced of the fact there must be "something in it" to induce the men to play for a couple of hours under a steady downpour of rain. This is what they did, but then it was the first match of the season and the enthusiastic cricketers were not to be done out of their game by a little rain.

Play was begun at about half past three, new sides having to be chosen in the absence of a number of the appointed players. Judge Weller, President, and Mr. W. H. Wrighton, Vice-President, selected their men, the former gentleman not taking a hand in the game, but acting as referee. The result was a victory for the Presidential team. The Vice-Presidents' side went in first, Day and Ray at the stumps, and before Ray was bowled they piled up nearly 70 runs. Day carried his bat through the innings, but after Ray had been disposed of the innings soon closed.

The President's side did better, but the score was chiefly made up by Rutherford and M. Hamilton, who stayed well together and made over a hundred runs. A number of the President's men retired before the game was finished, so that their scores (it is presumed they would have had scores of some kind) could not be added to the total. The game as concluded is:

Dogs and Lawns.

It appears that Toronto is troubled with the omnipresent dog as well as Peterborough. It was pointed out in the EXAMINER of Monday, that the depredations of dogs tended to destroy the beauty of Court House Park. This is how the Globe howls over the dog nuisance in the goody-goody city:—Gardens and dogs—the two things are as incompatible as flowers and chickens. In this dog-trodden city every householder who possesses a lawn knows that he cannot keep it tidy unless he first fences it in with a fence so tight that a dog cannot squeeze through. There are some small open lawns which are not free from dogs for ten consecutive minutes during the twenty-four hours. The condition of these lawns when the snow goes off is frightful to behold. Until we can find some means of reducing our canine population by at least nine-tenths, it is useless to think of keeping lawns and boulevards in presentable order. The proposition to take away the fence from the Horticultural Gardens while we have at least 20,000 useless curs in the city is absurd. To admit the dogs to that piece of ground would be simply to ruin it. After the dogs have been reduced to manageable numbers and the survivors brought under control the fence should go, not before.

TURNBULL'S.

We wish to call your attention this week to our Large Stock of Black Cashmeres. They range in price from 25 cents a yard up to $1 25. The one at 25 cents is a good black with sightly appearance which is all we say about it. But when you advance to 45 cents you have a nice rich color, particularly suited for mourning, good weight and fully 44 inches wide. At 50, 60, 75, 85, 90 and $1.00, we have a new line by a French maker which is much nicer than the old make and deservidly popular, being much finer in appearance, more like a Henrietta, to be had in blue and jet black.

GERMAN CASHMERES.—These Goods are made in Saxony where the makers vie with each other in producing a Superior article. We have secured a make that cannot be spoken of too highly. It is a double warp and finished like a satin. They are now open for inspection. (on 3rd counter to left from George street entrance).

In our Custom Made Tailoring Department we show a nice range of Pantings, Worsted Suitings, Light Overcoatings, etc. Only first-class work turned out. (2nd counter to the right.)

Early last fall when the public began gathering around their stoves and were thinking about Flannels and Blankets, we were looking ahead and gave large orders with the leading manufacturers of Chambrays, White and Colored Muslins, Lawns, etc. These Goods are now in stock, and will be found on the 1st counter to the right.

Our first stock of Sailor Hats has been bought up rapidly which is sufficient evidence that they are the correct thing. Our second shipment, bought at a much lower price is now in. All sizes and styles to choose from. The prices will please you when you see the style and quality.

OTTAWA, May 9.—The special committee of the Senate appointed yesterday to investigate the sawdust nuisance in the Ottawa, got to work this morning. It is composed of Hon. Messrs. Smith, Scott, Miller, Clemow, Ross (De la Durantaye), Botsford, Macdonald (B.C.), Haythorne and Glasier. Senator Miller was elected chairman. The committee discussed the scope of the enquiry. It was decided to first obtain the report of Mr. Gray, C.E., of the Department of Public Works, who investigated the nature of the sawdust deposits. The matter of obtaining witnesses was left to Senator Clemow.

Senator Scott created something of a sensation when he intimated that the cause of the fever epidemic last fall was due to the decomposition of the cuttings and edgings, the gas or effluvia from which permeated the atmosphere about the city. The loss of scores of valuable lives he believed was directly attributable to this cause. Prompt steps should be taken to put a stop to the nuisance, as Montreal was liable to experience a similar outbreak from the same cause. He said it was necessary to investigate the methods of disposing of the sawdust from the mills at the Chaudiere. The mill-owners claimed that their mills as at present constructed possessed no other means of disposing of refuse except by dumping it into the river. If this privilege was taken away the lumbermen said it meant removal of the mills from Ottawa.

Senator Clemow announced that he had got hold of a witness who could show how the dust could be disposed of without affecting the navigation of the river, and more important still, the health of the community. The committee meets again on Friday.

More about the Ottawa Coal Combine

OTTAWA, May 9.—Last year's deal between the local coal combine, the Rathbun Company and the Canada Atlantic Railway, was the subject of further explanation at the meeting of the Combine's Committee this morning, when Mr. R. C. Carter, representative of the Rathbuns, was examined. This company, he said, had last year contemplated selling coal at retail in Ottawa, but being rather late they had abandoned the idea on the understanding that the local dealers should buy a quantity from him wholesale, the coal to be delivered over the Canada Atlantic. This coal was to be purchased from the Delaware and Hudson Company, but for some reason unknown that company refused to deliver any for shipment over the Canada Atlantic. He explained the situation to the Carriage Company, and after some delay they consented to take coal supplied from other than the Delaware and Hudson, and he carried out his contract at a loss.

Mr. Carter said his company had contemplated establishing a business in Ottawa this season, but nothing had been decided yet. There would be several new dealers here, the high prices of last winter having led them into the business.

Divorce Cases.

OTTAWA, May 9.—In the Senate to-day most of the sitting was taken up in the discussion of the Tudor-Hart divorce case. Speeches were made by Senators Power, Macdonald (B.C.), Kaulbach and McInnes (B.C.), all of whom opposed the bill. Hon. Mr. Abbott delivered an able resume of the law bearing on the case, and in concluding a criticism of the evidence stated that the facts were sufficient to justify him in voting for the bill, which was subsequently passed, 33 to 19.

The Morrison and Irving divorce bills were subsequently read a third time.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

MR. HAWKE'S CASE DISCUSSED IN THE COMMONS.

Mr. Davies Moves That the Imprisoned Editor be Released—The Minister of Justice's Answer—The Motion Withdrawn at Midnight.

OTTAWA, May 9.—The imprisonment of Editor Hawke of The Moncton Transcript for contempt of court arising out of Justice Fraser's decision in the Westmoreland election trial was brought to the attention of the House this afternoon by Mr. Davies, who, in a speech of nearly two hours' duration, contended that such imprisonment had been unjust and outside the authority of the court which inflicted it. After reciting the circumstances of the case with great minuteness and stating that it was not his contention that the press are to have unlimited powers of criticism of verdicts of election or other trials, he proceeded to argue that should they exceed their legal right the remedy of judges was not such as had been applied in this case.

He denied that these judges had power arbitrarily and summarily to bring offending editors before them and punish them without the intervention of a jury, except when a trial is in progress, as he held that after a trial is ended and judgment delivered, no language by newspapers can be punished except by trial for libel in the ordinary way before a judge and jury.

He concluded with an appeal for the liberation of Hawke and a remission of the fine imposed.

Mr. Thompson said that Mr. Davies had based his argument upon the view that the Supreme Court of New Brunswick had committed an error in law. If that were the case there was a remedy by habeas corpus, either in the Supreme Court of New Brunswick or in the Supreme Court of Canada, but this Parliament was not a court of appeal from the Supreme Court of New Brunswick.

Mr. Davies asked how the hon. gentleman had acted in the case of those imprisoned by Judge Travis at Calgary.

Mr. Thompson said that this was not a proposal to deal with the judgment of an inferior magistrate, but to deal with the judgment of a bench of judges, the Supreme Court of a Province, from whose decision there was appeal. He (Mr. Thompson) had always taken the position that he would not interfere in the cases of persons who had open to them an appeal to the highest court, or one who, having taken advantage of that appeal, had had judgment given against him. He thought it would be the height of impertinence on his part to go to the Governor-General and urge interference in this case, more particularly as there was not a single mitigating circumstance in favor of the person imprisoned or a single sign of contrition on his part. He went into a consideration of the facts, which he did not understand to be as Mr. Davies had stated them. He contended that the statements were in effect that the judge had been improperly influenced, and said that no jury would fail to find them so.

Mr. Davies: "All I ask is that a jury should have a chance to say whether you are right or wrong."

Mr. Thompson said it was fortunate for Mr. Hawke that he was tried for a minor offence, fortunate that he had not been, as he might yet be, tried for libel. He went on to enlarge upon the enormity of Mr. Hawke's offence and to say that if Mr. Hawke were not a liar or was fit to be a member of decent society he should have proved his imputation of corruption or have apologized for it, but he did neither. Mr. Thompson referred to the case of Dwyer Gray as one in which there had been a conviction for contempt of court committed after the close of a trial, although he admitted that the trial in question was one of a series which was being tried by a commission. The ground of the conviction in that case, just as in the case of Mr. Hawke, was that the publication passed the limits of fair criticism. He agreed that nothing could be a contempt of court unless it interfered with the due administration of justice.

Mr. Davies: "How was the administration of justice interfered with here?"

Mr. Thompson said that was a question for the judges alone to decide. The object of giving the judges this power was to render them independent both of the public and the press.

Mr. Weldon (St. John) said that the members of the Supreme Court of New Brunswick were his (Mr. Weldon's) personal friends, and he had confidence in the integrity of Justice Fraser. He had been disappointed in Mr. Thompson's speech. He expected that holding a judicial position he would have approached the question in the same spirit as Mr. Davies, but the Minister of Justice reminded him of a very able lawyer in New Brunswick who confessed that he did not believe his own argument, but hoped to make the Court believe it. [Laughter.]

Mr. Casey said that the Minister of Justice and his friends had displayed great ingenuity in avoiding the real issue, which was not the justice of Mr. Hawke's criticism but the extraordinary course taken with a view to punishing him. Mr. Davies spoke against the contention that the dungeons of Fredericton were the best means of improving respect for the courts of the land. He believed that some hon. gentlemen opposite were glad in their secret hearts that Mr. Hawke was in prison because he had criticised the action of a judge who had prevented the Westmoreland petition from being tried. He dissented from the old and accursed Tory doctrine that the judges had an unlimited right to punish those who criticised them.

MR. ABBOTT'S GAMING ACT.

THE OPINION OF TORONTO BROKERS ABOUT THE BUCKET SHOP BILL.

Some of Them Say They Will Have to Close Up if the Measure Passes—The Municipal Men Would Suffer the Most—A Few Pros and Cons.

Every one who (A), with the intent to make gain or profit by the rise or fall in price of any stock of any incorporated or unincorporated company or undertaking, either in Canada or elsewhere, or of any goods, wares or merchandise, and without the bona fide intention of acquiring any such shares, goods, wares or merchandise or selling the same, as the case may be, makes or signs or authorizes to be signed any contract or agreement, oral or written, purporting to be the sale or purchase of any such shares of stock, goods, wares or merchandise, and every one who acts, aids or abets in the making or signing of any such contract or agreement; or (B) with the intent to make gain or profit by the rise or fall in price of any stock of any corporated or unincorporated company or undertaking, either in Canada or elsewhere, or of any goods, wares or merchandise, makes or signs, or authorizes to be made or signed, any contract or agreement, oral or written, purporting to be for the sale or purchase of any such shares of stock, goods, wares or merchandise, in respect of which no delivery of the thing sold or purchased is made or received, and without the bona fide intention to make or receive such delivery; and any one who acts, aids or abets in the making of any such contract or agreement is guilty of a misdemeanor and liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding five years and to a fine not exceeding $500.

This little instrument is just at this time the cause of a good deal of interest among speculators and brokers. The bill was introduced in the Senate by Hon. J. J. C. Abbott, leader of the Government, and received the assent of that body without a division. It was sent over to the House of Commons and it has, up to date, received two readings.

A few Toronto brokers were interviewed and gave the following opinion respecting the bill:

Mr. Fenwick said that if the act come into force they would have to close up, he supposed. He had no intention of fighting the bill, and he did not think others in the trade had any. The only thing he had to say was that the Government, if convinced of the wisdom of the passage of the measure, should not permit it to become law till the expiration of a year. This would be respecting the contracts they had made. The contracts with the telegraph companies were entered into in good faith, without the slightest supposition that there would be Government interference. As to the effect of the bill he was of opinion that it would affect stock exchanges the same as the so-called bucket shops. Nine-tenths of the business of stock exchanges was done on margin. If a man came to his office and wanted to buy ten or a hundred shares of stock in New York outright he could get it in 24 hours, as soon in fact as the mails would bring the script. The business was done on the same plan. Of course if their business was closed and the exchanges exempted, the latter would profit. The business left the exchanges because of the unsatisfactory facilities. The so-called bucket shops had continuous quotations coming from New York and Chicago. No one could dispute their correctness, while the exchanges were sometimes half an hour behind. He regretted that Hon. Mr. Abbott, in his speech before the Senate, was inaccurate in his statements. Hon. Mr. Abbott was misinformed, or he surely would not have made the statements he did.

Mr. Robt. Cochran did not appear to think that the bill would amount to much, in view of the legal opinions lately given. He said that if any persons bought in the ordinary commercial way for a rise in values—say if Rice, Lewis & Sons bought 1000 tons of iron for an advance—they would be subjected to the provisions of the bill.

Mr. Tisdale says that if the bill is going to stop all speculation, all right. But he doesn't think it will stop it. Speculation was natural and men would speculate.

Mr. Buchan of Gzowski & Buchan was in favor of the bill. The effect would be favorable to legitimate brokers, who carried on a straight buying and selling business. The bill, he said, would not affect legitimate brokers. The transactions were out and out sales or purchases. The closing of the bucket shops would increase the business of men who carried on the brokerage business as it should be carried on.

Mr. Thomas Lonsborough said the bill would affect him in no way. He did not encourage a marginal business and did very little of it. He was of opinion, however, that it would affect those brokers who did a marginal business.

Mr. Pellatt had not paid much attention to the bill, but so far as he saw of it his opinion was that there would be no difficulty in carrying on legitimate brokerage. Marginal transactions could not be prevented. Stock could be bought out, but there was nothing to prevent a man borrowing on his property. It was the same exactly as placing a mortgage on a piece of land.

The fate of the bill will be decided within the next few days. There has been considerable lobbying done at Ottawa to prevent its passage, but from all that can be learned it is not likely that the third reading will be headed off.

A "Queer" Shover in Quod at London.

LONDON, May 9.—A short stout man about 36 years of age, with dark full beard and moustache, was arrested this afternoon on a charge of passing counterfeit money. He passed $5 on Mr. J. W. Bartlett who, however, followed him into Dobbin's store and recovered his money. The fellow also passed a bad bill at Essex's place, and the bill was subsequently accepted by the bank. When arrested $90 in Bank of British North America $5 bills was found on him, all counterfeit, besides a $10 Bank of Commerce bill which on investigation was pronounced good. At the station he gave his name as Lee, but a watch was found on him with a ticket bearing the name of Alex. Brownlee, watchmaker, Alloa Craig.

John Largan, ex-champion of the Thames, who is practicing on the Harlem River, says that he was not so much surprised as most people at Hanlan's defeat by Kemp. Largan insisted that simply because Bubear beat Kemp in England the latter should not be lowered in the rating, as he was unfit to pull against a lad when he met Bubear. The Englishmen considers Kemp fully as good a man as Beach, with the advantage of being younger.

It is likely that if Carr, the English sculler, beats Bubear in their coming race he will accept O'Connor's challenge.

THURSDAY, MAY 10, 1888.

THE PRESIDENTIAL ELECTION.

The presidential election is the one political topic of the hour amongst our cousins across the line. The indications are that the issue upon which contest will be waged will be tariff reform. This is the battle cry of the Democrats, who are unitedly working, and who have this advantage over the Republicans—that they are united in their candidate, who is Grover Cleveland, the present incumbent. The Republicans, in the matter of a candidate, are by no means a happy family with one opinion. Mr. Blaine has intimated his intention of declining the nomination, but it is not impossible that he expects to discount aspiration on the part of other candidates for the nomination, by showing that without him the united action of the party cannot be secured. There is no dearth of Republican candidates, but their chance of getting the nomination of the convention is not very good. After all it is likely to come to this, that Mr. Blaine will be forced into the contest, although his reluctance may be like that of the maiden, whose coyness is simulated as a means of showing that she cannot be too easily won. Mr. Blaine, in spite of his former defeat by Mr. Cleveland, has still an evident longing to reach the highest goal of ambition possible to an "American" citizen. The real fight will be between tariff reformers and the "trusts", between the commons and the combines.

In both Rome and Boston the streets are not only sprinkled to prevent the dust rising but they are disinfected as well. The system in use in Boston is to place a sack of bichloride of mercury in every watering cart and, although the solution is weak, the result of the constant sprinkling with it is found to have a strong antiseptic effect. There can be no doubt that street dust upon well travelled streets must be injurious to health, a breeding ground for microbes in fact. This simple precaution would appear to be a valuable one, and in the above or some other form might with advantage, if a cheap enough disinfectant can be found, be taken in Peterborough, where, the absence of sewerage facilities render sanitary precautions particularly advisable.

A Ground of Complaint.

To the Editor of the Examiner:—

DEAR SIR,—The evils of assisted emigration on native Canadian mechanics and laborers is equalled by the policy of the head of our corporation in importing farmers from the country into the town to compete with old residents who have paid taxes for years. First we have a street inspector imported from the country and appointed by the council. Now we have a deputy inspector of streets imported from the country and appointed by, Lord knows whom. Besides we have farmers' teams employed on street work and for these, town teamsters who pay taxes in town have to stand aside. I know of the case of one of the oldest teamsters in town whose team went upon the street, and because he was five minutes late was told it was not wanted. The team was five minutes late on account of drawing a load of sand for work being done for the Mayor of the town, who is very kind to farmers and their teams, but fails to instruct his street inspector to do justice to the town teamsters. I say the whole thing is wrong. If teams for street purposes are required, let teams owned by residents of the town, who pay taxes, be hired in preference to farmers, who lease their farms and are brought into town to take jobs away from town teamsters. It may be all right enough for some parties to stand in well with the farmer teamster—their votes may come handy—but there is such a thing as fair play, and it's no fair play to expend the town funds to reward outsiders who may prove useful at election times. I hope some of our honest representatives, at the next meeting of the council, will have the matter looked into. I should like to ventilate the charity wood contracts, but I will save that for another day.

Yours respectfully,
VINDEX.

Peterborough, May 9th, 1888.

"Still Unprotected."

To the Editor of the Examiner:—

DEAR SIR,—While the report from the explosion of the safe at the scene of the late burglary is still ringing in our ears, is it not a pertinent question to ask, are we still without police protection? And, if so, why? From the amount of money voted so short a time ago for that purpose one would think there would have been men appointed to supply this long felt want. Or, is it still another police force composed of, what will we call them? old women or flunkeys, either of which might apply well to the present staff, in part at least. Why, I would ask, employ men on the force who from ignorance or cowardice, or both, fail to and positively refuse also to act when duty, and that too a duty of emergency, requires their prompt services? Why, I say, have and pay a force that is simply a farce?

What excuse is it for a policeman to offer that he had his chief's order not to leave his beat without his (the chief's) orders? None whatever. Such orders, in my opinion, simply meant not to absent himself from duty until relieved by his chief, orders which could not confine him to a short parade before the police station if he felt inclined to perform his duty. But no, it was something else that held our police constable in check, not the chief's orders. If it had been a poor unfortunate after a little over indulgence in the "ardent spirit" and who was unable to retain his equilibrium how soon the "brass buttons" would come to the rescue and "run him in," but when there is danger ahead, well, they are not there, as proven by the exertions made by them to capture the parties to the late burglaries.

While we do not claim any right to interfere with our councillors in their making appointments for such offices, we do claim a right to criticize the actions of such as they do appoint. And if we do not deem them, after a fair trial, capable of filling the positions they occupy we would ask for their removal and the appointment of an efficient staff.

Yours etc.,
STILL UNPROTECTED.

A STABBING AFFRAY.

Two Italians Quarrel in St. John's Ward Over the Affections of Libby Downs.

TORONTO, May 10.

In a small court in rear of No. 42 Edward-street stands a square little wooden house in which John Ballone, an Italian, lives. Apparently the place is not noted for the selectness of its callers. At 8.30 last night Frank Parma of 590 Bathurst-street and Frank Cattapan of 177 Chestnut-street, two young Italians, visited the place. They there met Venonzo Delica, aged 29, also an Italian, who does not like Parma for several reasons, the most important being that the two men are rivals for the affections of a blighted beauty of St. John's Ward named Libby Downs.

A quarrel was developed at once, and Delica unearthed a savage-looking butcher knife, with a 7½-inch blade, and brandished it in Parma's face. Parma ran out into the court, closely followed by Delica. The latter, overtaking his rival, plunged the knife into the left side of the abdomen, to a depth of three or four inches.

The murderous Italian then ran off and Parma fell to the ground, uttering a series of groans and oaths. Cattapad set up a cry of murder, which brought Policeman Kettle to the scene. Delica made his escape, going towards North Toronto. After Drs. Wagner and McPhedrain had examined Parma's wound he was removed to the General Hospital. At a late hour last night he was reported in a serious condition. The wound was a clean one, and internal bleeding set in. The knife was found in the court and is at the Agnes-street station.

A general alarm was sent out by the police. It was thought Delica would make for the tracks of the Ontario and Quebec Railway and go east. Telegrams were sent in that direction.

Delica was trying to borrow a revolver yesterday, and he seems to have made up his mind to "do" his rival whenever he met him.

It was only yesterday that Magistrate Denison sent Jack Downs to jail for two months for assaulting his sister Libby, the erring young female over whom the Italians quarreled.

THE MINING COMMISSION NAMED.

Mr. John Charlton, M.P., to be Chairman—His Associates on the Board.

TORONTO, May 10.

The personnel of the commission to enquire into the extent of Ontario's mineral wealth and to discuss the best means of developing it has been fixed on. These gentlemen have been appointed:

John Charlton, M.P., North Norfolk, Chairman.

Robert Bell, LL.D., M.D., C.M., F.G.S., Assistant Director of the Dominion Geological Survey.

Wm. Hamilton Merritt, F.G.S., Associate of the Royal School of Mines, Mining Engineer.

Wm. Coe, Madoc, iron mine proprietor.

Mr. A. Blue of the Ontario Bureau of Industries, Secretary.

The first meeting will be held in Toronto on Saturday. It is probable that the commission will devote its attention to the collection of information which can be procured from government reports, miners, engineers, etc., and to having such information published in such a way as to be readily got at by prospectors. It will also be the duty of the members of the commission to visit different parts of the province to ascertain the exact worth of the places where minerals occur, and to have maps of the same prepared. Nothing as yet has been decided on, the course to be taken having been left largely in the hands of the gentlemen composing the commission.

Are you sad, despondent, gloomy?
Are you sore and distressed?
Listen to the welcome bidding—
"Be at rest"
Have you aches and pains unnumbered,
Poisoning life's Golden Cup?
Think not there's no balm in Gilead, and
"Give it up."
A Golden Remedy awaits you—
Golden not alone in name—
Reach, oh, suffering one, and grasp it,
Health reclaim.

There is but one "Golden" Remedy—Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It stands alone as the great "blood-purifier," "Strength-renewer" and "health-restorer," of the age! The Liver, it regulates, removing all impurities. The Lungs it steengthens, cleansing and nourishing them. The whole system it builds up, supplying that above all other things most needed—pure, rich Blood. a

A Last Resort.

Last summer, says Wm. J. James, of Atherley, Ont., I felt very miserable with pains over my kidneys, fluttering of the heart and nervousness; after taking different kinds of medicine, hearing of B. B. B. I though I would try it; one bottle completely cured me. I can highly recommend it to others. 2w18d

FAME VERSUS BUSINESS!

Let the World Be the Judge

The People of the County, our Court!

Statisfied Customers, our Witnesses!

We Plead our Case, and Carry off a VERDICT!

In re. GOUGH BROS. et al.

THE COURT.—The bar will observe that the case is now open. You have heard the indictment read. It is clear and explicit. What say you, Gough Bros., why sentence of the Court should not be prunounced upon you.

GOUGH BROS.—May it please your Lordship: To the serious charge that we have revolutionized the clothing trade in Peterborough we plead guilty. The facts are so apparent that denial were useless. But, may we ask the Court to consider extenuating circumstances of great weight. We have established a business by the peope, for the people and of the people. We have placed within the reach of all clothing of any grade, at prices that shatter Monopolies, and Paralyze High Prices. When the Court remembers that we have taken a $2.50 boy and clothed him in a 65c. Suit of Clothes, the Court will appreciate our enterprise. When the working man who wants Clothing can walk up to the trough and help himself to a suit at $2.50, there is something in life worth living for. When a pair of Pants that are a thing of beauty and joy forever, can be carried from our counters for the small sum of 25c. the Court will realize that our politicans are not a of our sincerest benefactors.

Should the Court, for example, so direct, we will fit out our learned friend on the other side with one of our Special Made Suits, and his immediate relatives will testify that the garments are better than most custom work; are cut from Stylish Patterns, made up by artists who consider Beauty and Finish and Good Work as a first requisite.

We ask the Court's inspection of a special line of 500 suits for Men and Youths. These are gems of purest rays serene, so Good, so Stylish, so Cheap that stealing will become, in truth a struggling industry. Then we have secured a niche in the temple of fame by large sales of our best classes All Wool, French Worsted and English and Scotch Tweeds, fit for the wear of a prince, pontiff or politician. This, your Lordship, is our plea.

THE COURT.—Gough Bros., You have ably stated your case. You are excellent counsel. The ruling of the Court is that you are honorably discharged and that the Court adjourn sine die.

SPECIAL LINES.—Boy's Coats 19c. each; Boy's Suits 69c., $1.10 each and up. Parents, Gough Bros., will save you 50 per cent. on Children's Clothing. Men's Working Suits at $2.50, worth $5.50, Sunday Pants $1.25, worth $2.50.

GOUGH BROS., THE WONDERFUL CHEAP MEN.

BUILDING LOTS

Such as Nos. 1, 2 and 3, noted below are not like merchandise when sold; locality and situation cannot always be replaced. There are many persons living in distant parts of the town and Ashburnham to whom a residence within five minutes walk of any of the churches, Post Office, Market and principal stores, would be a great boon. To such we would say do not delay. Come to the office and discuss the matter. We may buy from you or sell to you. You have Something to Gain and Nothing to Lose.

1. That beautiful situation on Brock Street, east of and adjoining Mr. Nugents' new residence, so high above all surroundings, so central, so retired, and yet so convenient for all purposes. A most suitable place for a Doctor's Office and residence, or for any person wishing to reside near his Office or Business. Front Lot is 60x120 ft. to lane. Rear Lot is 65x124 ft., with an inexhaustable supply of first-class water. 30, 35 and 40 feet frontage can be had of this lot with stable accommodation if desired.

2. This is an extremely fine Lot, with about 75 feet frontage on Water Street, by 115 feet deep. It has an east front, facing St. Paul's Church, and will be sold in one or two lots. Act promptly.

3. Is a fine Lot on Stewart Street, 87x115 ft. opposite Messrs. Hall and Sheppard's beautiful mansions, protected on the north by the Chief of Police, and charmed on the south by a professor of music.

4. In addition to the above, we have good lots in north, east, south and west parts of the Town, and for large lots at low prices, we would call attention to the Ludgate, Carlisle, and Toronto Real Estate Investment Co'y's suburban additions, where good value can be had for small investments.

For Houses and Lots in all parts of the town, Ashburnham and Auburn, we have variety and value to suit any reasonable buyer. We have Garden Lots from one to ten acres for Sale and to rent. Also, several Farms, one large Farm with good buildings, fall crop and ploughing to rent cheap. All are invited to call at our office, or write for further particulars

THE TORONTOS DEFEAT THE STARS AT SYRACUSE.

Opening of the Season at Hamilton and Toronto—Other Baseball Games—Racing in England, at Lexington and at Baltimore—The Walking Match.

HAMILTON, May 9.—To-morrow will be Baseball Day here, the home team meeting the Torontos in the first championship game of the season here. The game will be under the patronage of His Worship the Mayor and aldermen. The 13th Battalion band will furnish music at the grounds, and it is that 3000 people will witness the game. Wood and Moore will be the Hams' battery.

The Opening Game on Saturday.

TORONTO, May 9.—The season will be inaugurated here on Saturday, when the champions will meet the Tecumsehs from the Forest City. The grounds are in excellent condition, and the improvements mentioned a week ago have been carried out. The championship flag, which has just been finished, will flutter from the staff on the grand stand. A band will parade the streets and escort both teams to the grounds. This will undoubtedly be the greatest season for baseball Toronto has ever had, and when the ball rings on Saturday to call the players out fully 5000 spectators will be within the grounds, no doubt many coming from London. The sale of reserved seats will open at Nordheimer's this morning, and already many applications have been made.

My Toothache

is an exclammation heard every hour in the day. Tooth-ache is the most common ailment of young and old, and in the aggregate inflicts more suffering than perhaps any other single complaint. A one minute cure is just what every person desires to possess. Norviline—nerve pain cure—acts almost instantly in relieving the agony, and as a sample bottle affords a quantity sufficient for 100 applications, 10 cents fills the bill. Polson's Nerviline is the only positive remedy for tooth-ache and all nerve pains. Sold by druggists and all dealers in medicine. 6d19w

The Growth of the Hair.

Should always be watched. Inattention to the hair often leads to premature grayness and baldness. When dandruff appears it should be looked after at once. THE SPRING DIET.

In the Spring a young man's fancies may "lightly turn to thoughts of love," but the fancies of other people more commonly turn to what they shall or eat not.

The "Spring appetite" is flagging and fickle. The keen relish of the sharp winter weather is dulled or gone. It is Nature's hint for a change in the quality and a let-up in the quantity of food consumed.

The golden rule of living is to adapt the diet to the season and to the needs of the system. For this reason

The Daily Examiner.

THURSDAY, MAY 10, 1888.

The Weather.

Moderate to fresh southeast to southwest winds. Generally fair and warm with local showers.

The Police and the Burglary.

There seems to be inclination on the part of the public in the matter of the burglary of Wednesday morning, to handle the police without gloves. Now, there are two sides to the question, and a great deal may be said on the behalf of the police if the real facts were known. There are, however, no two sides to the fact that at the golden lion there are to be found the most superb, varied and stylish stock of gloves and hosiery ever found in Peterborough. Imported goods at importers' prices. Something that should be examined.

The Royal Arcanum.

The Grand Council of Ontario held its third annual session at St. Catherines on Wednesday. The next meeting is to held at Peterborough on the second Wednesday in May, 1889. Rev. W. C. Bradshaw, Regent, represented Peterborough Council at Wednesday's meeting.

3,000 boys and girls in Peterborough have voted that The Pantry is a grand institution for supplying their wants.

Suspicious Characters.

To a resident of the south ward, the parsonage burglary gave additional importance to the suspicious movements of three hard-looking persons. On his way to and fro, he noticed these persons on Sunday and on Tuesday morning and no doubt concluded underneath the staging of the platform used for loading cattle on the C.P.R., near Park street, and in the interval they were noticed by other persons, who also saw them coming towuwards. One of the party was seen to use a jackknife to cut tobacco, and then pass it back to the man with the brown overcoat. Their place of rendezvous was chosen for some particular reason, as the place is neither clean nor inviting. One of the gang had a brown overcoat like that left by the burglars at the priests' residence, and it is more than likely that these rascals know a great deal about the burglary, since which they have not been seen.

A Reminiscence.

An old Cavan settler writes the following reminiscence of the late Hon. Thomas White:—The fact of his death brought to my remembrance his visit to our (Mount Pleasant) village about thirty-eight years ago, when he, along with some others, came from Peterborough here for the purpose of opening a division of the Sons of Temperance. He was then about twenty years of age and of a boyish appearance. Previous to the night arranged for the formation of the order notice was given "that a public meeting would be held in the school house and a lecture delivered explaining the object of the Sons 'of Temperance." I was surprised to see the boy Thomas White arise and take the platform and to hear from him one of the best lectures on organization and total abstinence that I ever heard. His appearance then seemed to foretell the future of the boy. In youth he was a diligent student, kind and agreeable and willing to assist those in need of his held. When he became a politician his speeches were full of thought and without those bitter personalities often indulged in by politicians.

Lacrosse.

The northeastern district delegates of the Canadian Lacrosse Association met at Orillia Wednesday and the following schedule was agreed on and signed by Geo. Thompson for Orillia, Will J. Edmonson for Bradford, Herb. Lennox for Barrie, J. B. Henderson for Peterborough and W. A. Garrett for Meaford:—May 24, Meaford at Bradford; May 24, Peterborough at Barrie; May 24, Beaverton at Orillia; June 6, Orillia at Beaverton, June 6, Barrie at Peterborough; June 6, Bradford at Meaford; June 20, Meaford at Barrie; June 20, Beaverton at Bradford; June 20, Peterborough at Orillia; July 1st, Beaverton at Peterborough; July 1, Bradford at Orillia; July 1, Barrie at Meaford; July 12, Meaford at Beaverton; July 12, Peterborough at Bradford; July 12, Orillia at Barrie; July 25, Orillia at Peterborough; July 25, Bradford at Barrie; July 25, Beaverton at Meaford; August 1, Peterborough at Meaford (not to be played); August 1, Meaford at Peterborough (not to be played); August 8, Peterborough at Beaverton; August 15, Beaverton at Barrie; August 22, Orillia at Bradford; August 22, Barrie at Beaverton; Civic Holiday, Barrie at Orillia; Civic Holiday, Orillia at Meaford; Sept. 5, Meaford at Orillia; Sept. 5, Barrie at Bradford; Sept. 6, Meaford at Beaverton; Sept. 13, Bradford at Peterborough.

There is no change in the rush of customers to the store of the Griffin Shoe Company. The big bargains still continue and the public still seek them. Come, all who want big bargains! tf

A full assortment of Japanese china just received at "China Hall." Five o'clock and full tea sets, vases, urns, spice jars, salad, slop and porridge bowls, flower pots, hot water kettles, etc. Quite new and all the rage. Call and see it. dw

A Misunderstanding.

Chief Roazel thinks the strictures on the police in Wednesday's EXAMINER were rather too severe. The whole thing, he says, was a misunderstanding. His instructions were for the police to remain on their beats unless something transpired that would warrant their leaving. Officer Stewart's determination to strictly obey orders led him into an indiscreet disregard of the importance of the burglary at the priests' house.

Synod Meeting.

The annual session of the Synod of Toronto and Kingston is being held at Owen Sound. Rev. Mr. McRae, the representative of Peterborough Presbytery, was appointed to look after the interests of the fund for aged and infirm ministers in his district, the fund of late having fallen off in receipts. The usual reports were read and it was decided to hold the next session at Bowmanville.

A Sneak Thief.

Last evening about nine o'clock a domestic employed at "Inglewood," the residence of Mr. W. E. Sherwood, was frightened by the sudden appearance of a tough-looking fellow with blackened face at the back door. The dogs started up, but the fellow shut the door and made his escape. Mr. Sherwood and his son at once searched the grounds and saw foot marks in the mud, but did not catch the intruder.

Meeting for Young Men.

At the request of the local Y. M. C. A., Rev. A. B. Mackay, pastor of Crescent street Presbyterian Church, Montreal, has consented to give an address to young men next Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The meeting will be held in the Association hall and will be for young men only. Mr. Mackay is a particular favorite amongst the young men of Canada's metropolis, and there will undoubtedly be a large turn-out to hear him.

A Dangerous Spot.

The road on the east side of the river, leading to the locks bridge, is blocked up with stone to be used in the erection of the new piers. It is a dangerous place and an imminent cause of accident to passing vehicles. This morning a buggy was upset and its occupants, Mr. Wm. Campbell and a young lad named Weir, thrown out on the road. Mr. Campbell was cut about the head and young Weir was hurt on the arm. Fortunately, their horse did not run away.

Young Doctors.

Among the names of those who have passed the final examination at the Ontario College of Physicians, and become full-fledged M.Ds., are the following from this district: D. Bechard, Stony Lake; J. H. C. F. Fisher, Baillieboro; P. McNaughton, Norwood; J. F. Palling, Allandale. Messrs. L. W. Allingham, Warkworth (now of Peterborough), and C. B. Coughlin, of Hastings, passed their primary examinations with honors.

Matrimonial.

Wednesday evening Mr. C. L. Huffman, town, was married to Miss Fanny Hamilton, daughter of Mr. F. Hamilton, Ashburnham. Rev. J. C. Wilson performed the ceremony at the bride's residence in presence of a large number of guests. The presents were handsome and numerous. Mr. and Mrs. Huffman will take up their residence on Sherbrooke street. "Kit" is a well known and popular young man, worthy of the excellent wife he has won. His hosts of friends give their congratulations and best wishes.

A Bonanza Struck in Big Bargains.

Times are hard, money is close, the competition among business men is as keen as a knife, and there is necessity for the closest buying on the part of merchants and the sharpest buyer is sure to come to the top and win public patronage; for his close buying means a saving of money to the public. Such shrewd men are Gough Brothers. They are always on the look-out for bargains for their customers. Mr. E. D. Gough is constantly in the market on the watch for rare chances. Wednesday the Gough Bros. received this telegram:

MONTREAL, May 9th.

Never struck such oil. Twenty-five hundred suits. The prices will astonish you.

E. D. GOUGH.

This huge stock of clothing purchased at such a tremendous drop will be sold at prices to astonish the public. The goods will be received at once, and will be opened and placed on sale on Saturday or Monday. Here is a chance for cheap clothing. Goods bought at way down, deep sea prices, will be sold at the same rate. Don't delay or neglect this chance, for the big bargains which will rage at Gough's for the next fortnight will clear off these goods with a rush. Now is the time. Strike while the iron is hot. Buy while the bargains boom.

The Opera House Concert.

A Success Scored by the Visiting and Local Musicians—Vocal and Instrumental Music Galore.

An audience of goodly proportions, comprising some of the best people in the town, assembled in the Opera House Wednesday evening. Of the concert, it may be said it gave general satisfaction. It was entirely a musical one, vocal and instrumental. Miss O'Reilly was down for three numbers on the programme, but these were not sufficient to satisfy the audience, who encored every song. Miss O'Reilly has a voice of surprising compass and power, over which she has perfect control. In the Shadow song particularly was this shown. Mons. De Seve can fairly claim, however, to have been the lion of the evening. His violin performances fell like a revelation on the audience. From the first magic touch of the bow on the strings a hush of silent admiration and wonder settled over all, to be succeeded at the conclusion of each number by an uproar of applause and undeniable calls for an encore. He fairly carried the hearts of his listeners by storm, and in the second part received the most enthusiastic encore that was ever accorded to any performer in the hall before. His violin obligato to a couple of Miss O'Reilly's solos lent additional charm to the singing. Miss Tracey gave two piano solos that displayed brilliant execution and a thorough mastery of the instrument. Piano solos are as a rule slow at public entertainments, but in this instance the performances were gratifying exceptions. The share in the concert taken by our local talent was no mean one. The solos by Mrs. McIntyre and Mr. T. Dunn were heartily encored. All our readers have doubtless before this had the pleasure of personally judging of the excellent vocal attainments of both. Their duet, the concluding number, was beautifully sung. Prof. Doucet's orchestra was present and opened each part by overtures rendered in their usual good style. Accompaniments were intelligently played by Miss Bertha O'Reilly and Mrs. T. Dunn. The concert as a whole was highly successful, and the visitors, particularly Mons. D. Seve, will leave most favorable impressions behind them that may redound to their credit and profit should they again visit Peterborough. The public are greatly indebted to the local promoters of the concert, whose energies and taste in procuring such an admirable entertainment for the music-loving people of Peterborough is worthy of every commendation. The concert was a farewell one on the part of the visiting artists, who are en route to Europe to join the concert company of Madame Albani, the great Canadian prima donna, who has shown a wise as well as sentimental preference in selecting native talent for her leading support. On their farewell tour they are meeting with flattering receptions wherever they appear.

Ascension Thursday.

Special Services in the Churches.

To-day, Ascension Thursday, special services are being held in the Roman Catholic and Anglican churches.

At St. Peter's cathedral this forenoon three services were held—mass at 6 o'clock, first communion at 8 o'clock and high mass at 10.30. At the eight o'clock service over 100 children attended their first communion. The little girls were dressed in pure white, with long veils, and the boys in black suits with white sashes around their sleeves and white gloves. Rev. Father Rudkins said the mass. At three o'clock this afternoon an instruction service was held, His Lordship Bishop Dowling delivering an excellent address to the children. The usual May services will be held this evening.

At St. John's church communion service was held at 8 o'clock and full morning service at 11. The full evening service will be held this evening at 7.

Obituary.

The Late Malcolm McIntyre

On Wednesday, May 9th, Malcolm McIntyre, a highly respected resident of North Monaghan, passed to his rest at the age of 61 years. Mr. McIntyre was of Scotch parentage, his father, the late Donald McIntyre, having been a native of Kingussie, Invernessshire, Scotland, from which place he emigrated to Canada sixty years ago, settling in the township of North Monaghan. His late mother was Margery Davidson, sister of the late James Davidson, of North Monaghan, who came to Canada from Scotland about a year after Mr. Duncan McIntyre. The deceased lost his parents some years ago, and he and his sister lived together on the old homestead. About eighteen or twenty years since, deceased was married to Miss Jane Leslie, of Glengarry, but there were no children born to them. About a year since, Mr. McIntyre's failing health induced him to lease his farm, and he took up his residence in the suburbs, just west of the town. During his long residence in North Monaghan, Mr. McIntyre, by his many excellent qualities of character and unostentatious life of true usefulness, gained universal respect. He was a loyal and faithful member of St. Paul's Presbyterian church, in politics a staunch Liberal, and abundantly worthy of respect in every relation of life.

Police Court.

THURSDAY, May 10th.

A couple of young men were before the Cadi this morning, charged with disorderly conduct. Mr. Terry Smith was the plaintiff, and stated that on Sunday evening last, as he was passing an hotel, they came out drunk and began abusing him, and finally assaulted him. Both were fined, one $5 and costs and the other $2 and costs.

A Horse Sale.

Mr. T. G. Hazlitt yesterday disposed of his fine chestnut horse to a buyer for $225. The sale was brought about in a peculiar manner. Mr. Hazlitt drove the animal at a funeral in the afternoon, and on passing down George street in the procession it was observed by the buyer, who watched for Mr. Hazlitt's return and at once closed the bargain.

THE BURGLARS BAGGED!

Arrest of Two Tough Looking Characters.

A Part of the Stolen Goods Recovered With Them—They Made a Rendezvous of a Byre.

Acting on the information imparted by a member of the EXAMINER staff last evening, a successful raid was to-day made on the burglars' rendezvous in the south end. In another column is an item under the head of "Suspicious Characters" which will throw some light on the subject.

The police were informed last night of the circumstances, and to-day Chief Roazel laid his plans accordingly. About two o'clock the Chief and officers Adams, Stewart and McGinty, accompanied by a number of citizens and found two men in hiding. The police found in their possession also a number of silk handkerchiefs and some clothing, which it is believed were stolen from Mr. H. LeBrun's store.

WENT TO THE PLACE INDICATED

The men are average sized, hard looking, rather roughly dressed and apparently about 25 or 30 years of age. They have and when arrested were lying about in their shirt sleeves. They quietly submitted to arrest, seeing that they were overpowered by numbers.

They were at once taken to the police station. They would not say anything for themselves or how they came to have the goods. This will probably come out at the preliminary examination to-morrow morning.

It is believed there are two others connected with the gang, and the place will be revisited and a thorough search made for them. Further developments are expected.

LATER.—Two more arrests.

Masonic Notes.

The Observance of St. John's Day—The Big Excursion—Personal Items.

The double excursion to Toronto on Thursday, June 7th, is a constant topic of discussion amongst members of the craft.

On dit, that H. Rush, the popular W.M. of Peterborough ▭ will be the recipient of Grand Lodge honors this year.

The lecture on the Tracing Board on the 2°, by D. Spence, S. W. of Peterborough ▭, at the last regular communication, was a feature of the evening, and secured the close attention of the brethren present.

B. Shortly, D.D.G.M., has about completed his official visits to the lodges in his Ontario district. Before he gets through the local lodges will, no doubt, be visited, and their work, discipline and official proficiency inspected.

It has been noticed for some time past that the Masonic hall on Water street has been lighted almost every night. The goat, as a usual thing is not called out for service so frequently, but perhaps the grist has been coming in so rapidly of late that the "grinding" process must be kept up night and day.

St. John's Day falls on Sunday, June 24th, and steps have been taken by Peterborough ▭ No. 155 to properly observe the day by attending divine worship at St Andrew's Church, and in this, it is expected, will be assisted by the local fraternity. A committee has been appointed to arrange details and gain the consent of the officials of St. Andrew's Church. If one of the local clergymen does not preach the sermon, it is possible one from a distance, a member of the Order, will be secured.

It is remarked that A. Dawson, W. M. of Corinthian ▭, discharges his duties in a manner that excites the admiration of the brethren. But then, why shouldn't he; he is so well skilled as an operative mason that to him speculative Masonry is greatly simplified, and he wields the gavel with a skill and cunning equal to the way he handles the trowel and plumb rule. He has the assistance of a faithful and painstaking secretary, who is a prompt and hardworking recorder. His S.W. and J.W. are diligent watchmen over the interests of the West and South.

News Nuggets.

—Mr. Geo. Rickey has leased the blacksmith shop on King street, owed by Mr. H. Rush.

—The posters are out for the races at the Driving Park on the Queen's birthday.

—The Gun Club will hold its regular weekly practice to-morrow afternoon on Riverside Park.

Supplying the Connection.

The item explaining the withdrawal of the engagement of Will Carleton, in yesterday's issue, is itself in need of explanation. The last sentence as printed was meaningless for the simple reason that it was not concluded. It should have read:—"It is to be regretted that a gentleman of so high a reputation should fail of appreciation in a town like Peterborough."

VOL. VI. NO. 111. PETERBOROUGH, FRIDAY, MAY 11, 1888. PRICE TWO CENTS.

TURNBULL'S.

We wish to call your attention this week to our Large Stock of Black Cashmeres. They range in price from 25 cents a yard up to $1.25. The one at 25 cents is a good black with sightly appearance which is all we say about it. But when you advance to 45 cents you have a nice rich color, particularly suited for mourning, good weight and fully 44 inches wide. At 50, 60, 75, 85, 90 and $1.00, we have a new line by a French maker which is much nicer than the old make and deservidly popular, being much finer in appearance, more like a Henrietta, to be had in blue and jet black.

GERMAN CASHMERES.—These Goods are made in Saxony where the makers vie with each other in producing a Superior article. We have secured a make that cannot be spoken of too highly. It is a double warp and finished like a satin. They are now open for inspection. (on 3rd counter to left from George street entrance).

In our Custom Made Tailoring Department we show a nice range of Pantings, Worsted Suitings, Light Overcoatings, etc. Only first-class work turned out. (2nd counter to the right.)

Early last fall when the public began gathering around their stoves and were thinking about Flannels and Blankets, we were looking ahead and gave large orders with the leading manufacturers of Chambrays, White and Colored Muslins, Lawns, etc. These Goods are now in stock, and will be found on the 1st counter to the right.

Our first stock of Sailor Hats has been bought up rapidly which is sufficient evidence that they are the correct thing. Our second shipment, bought at a much lower price is now in. All sizes and styles to choose from. The prices will please you when you see the style and quality.

THE FISHERIES TREATY.

Objections of the U.S. Senate Foreign Relations Committee Majority.

WASHINGTON, May 10.—The Senate discussed in secret session the resolution providing for the presence of an official reporter during the debate of the Fisheries Treaty. The resolution was adopted as slightly amended by Senator Teller, and it is probable that the debate will be published from day to day in the Record. The question of giving publicity to the reports of the Foreign Relations Committee adverse to and in support of the treaty was then discussed and the injunctions of secrecy were removed from both. The majority report, after an extended review of the objections urged and criticisms of the methods of negotiation, summarizes the objections as follows:

1. The United States recognise as British territory and renounce forever all claim of independent right in all the great bays along the British North American coasts named in the treaty and admit that all such bays form a part and are within British territorial sovereignty and jurisdiction.

2. Of the few of such great bays that are left to be visited by American fishermen, the larger part are understood to be valueless, and some of them are subject to French fishery rights, older than our own, if they are British Bays.

3. If bay fishing is not profitable now it may be in future.

4. Whether profitable or not the United States ought not to give up upon any consideration whatever the right of its vessels of every character to visit and carry on business in any part of the public seas.

5. The treaty surrenders the claim and right of the United States—which has been acted upon and exercised for now more than a century, of its vessels engaged in fishing or other occupations to visit and to carry on their business in these great bays and the principle of which claim and right has once been solemnly decided against Great Britain by a tribunal organised under a treaty with that Government.

6. The new area of delimitation described in the treaty greatly increases the danger of our fishermen unintentially invading prohibited waters and thereby exposing them to seizures and penalties.

7. The treaty by its fifth article renounces any right of the United States in any bay, etc., however large that cannot be reached from the sea without passing within the three marine miles mentioned in article I. of the convention of Oct. 20, 1818.

8. The treaty is a complete surrender of any claim of a right now existing either under the treaty of 1783 or the treaty of 1818, the acts of Congress and the British orders-in-council of 1820, or the XXIX. article of the treaty of 1871, for vessels of the United States engaged in fishing anywhere on the high seas, and even having a commercial character also, to enter any part of British North America for any commercial purpose whatever, and puts in the place of these clear rights, which in respect of British fishing vessels exist in the United States to the fullest extent, greatly restricted and conditional rights.

9. It binds the United States to be content with whatever is given by this treaty as the full measure of its rights and to be content with it forever, or until greater hospitality and freedom of intercourse can be obtained by further concessions or considerations on our part.

10. In face of all this it leaves British North American fishing vessels possessed of all commercial rights in all the ports and waters of the United States.

14. Instead of diminishing sources of irritation and sources of difficulty, different interpretations and disputes, it will, the committee thinks, very largely increase them.

BUFFALO'S BIG BLAZE.

St. Paul's Cathedral Completely Destroyed by Fire—Firemen Badly Burnt.

BUFFALO, N.Y., May 10.—A fire occurred in Dr. Pierce's dispensary this morning, caused by an explosion of natural gas. The cement floors undoubtedly saved the establishment from complete destruction. Four firemen had their faces badly burned. The entire basement, in which is located the dining-room and various offices, was flooded.

It was only a few minutes after the breaking out of this fire that St. Paul's Cathedral was discovered to be on fire. In a very short time flames were bursting through the magnificent chancel windows and the memorial windows, and it was at once evident that the beautiful St. Paul's was practically doomed. This being Ascension day services were to have been held at 10.45, and the assistant sexton, Mr. Tremaine, turned on the natural gas about 9.20. Immediately there was an explosion, and the force was so terrific as to blow open the doors on Pearl-street side. Mr. Tremaine rushed out and met the sexton, Robt. Wilkinson, on the street. They hurried back into the church and were amazed to find the interior a mass of flames. An alarm was at once turned on, but before the department could arrive the flames were bursting out of nearly every window in the structure. Within fifteen minutes from the time the alarm was given the entire interior of the church was a red hot furnace, and the flames bursting out of the tower. By hard work only the walls were saved. An overpressure on the fuel gas mains by reason of the small amount in use, was the presumed cause.

The structure is valued at $200,000, and is insured for $45,000. The interior work is valued at $300,000 by insurance men. There is an extra insurance of $2000 on the Dr. Shelton memorial window and $2000 on the organ. The handsome spire is uninjured.

Struck by Lightning.

PARRY SOUND, May 10.—The barns and stables of John Hunt, a farmer living four miles from here, were struck by lightning during the storm last night and totally consumed by fire, together with four horses and four cows, a quantity of hay grain, etc. The loss is about $1200, no insurance.

Heavy Rainfall in Texas.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., May 10.—Reports from Western Texas record the heaviest rainfall for many years. All the streams are overflowing their banks.

NOTES FROM THE CAPITAL

THE PROROGATION OF PARLIAMENT LIKELY TO BE POSTPONED.

The Business Remaining to be Transacted Said to be too Large to Prorogue the House on May 22—The Petition Against Mr. Choquette—Cotton Combine Exposed.

OTTAWA, May 10.—Before the petition against the return of Mr. Choquette of Montmagny was dismissed, he had agreed, it is said, to void the seat and save law costs, but when the petition was dismissed for want of sufficient service that ended the matter. Mr. Royal has put a ridiculous notice on the paper to refer Choquette's case to the Committee on Privileges and Elections. There is nothing for the House to take cognizance of, and the notice is placed on the paper at the instance of Mr. Landry, ex-M.P., the defeated candidate, as a piece of vindictiveness, well knowing that it will not be reached before prorogation. Mr. Choquette rendered great service to his party in the recent contest in Kent.

It is rumored to-night that on account Mr. Pope's declining health it is definitely decided that he will resign his seat in the Cabinet. It is very likely his successor will be Mr. Colby of Stanstead. Even if Sir John Macdonald were willing that Mr. Pope should bequeath the office to son-in-law Ives, who has been described as having married into politics, the party would not stand it. Mr. Ives is a very narrow gauge politician, and ranks with Baird and Taylor (of Leeds) in personal unpopularity. Besides, a man who cannot run a ranche in Texas is hardly fit to manage the railways of Canada. Mr. Hall of Sherbrooke is also named as successor to Mr. Pope, and he is not without fitness for the place, but he will probably find the claims of Mr. Colby and the influence which make for his selection too strong to be resisted.

It is regarded as very singular that Mr. Clarke Wallace's Combines Committee has not called any of the members of the Cotton Combine to give evidence concerning their ring for the plundering of the public. It is notorious that there is such a ring, and it is believed the Government has given Mr. Wallace strict orders that he is not to find out anything about its workings.

The hops of an early prorogation seems likely to be disappointed. A common opinion now is that the end will not come until June 1. Much of the original estimates are still to be considered and the supplementary estimates have not been touched. The C.P.R. settlement is to be dealt with. The bill to amend the Franchise Act, which may draw an amendment from the Liberals in favor of manhood suffrage for Ontario, has not had its second reading. The local franchise of Prince Edward Island is to be adopted and manhood suffrage conceded to the Island. Ontario has also adopted manhood suffrage for the Provincial elections, and therefore, as respects Federal contests, and the same franchise should prevail unless there is to be discrimination in favor of the Eastern Province. The Tory followers from Ontario would be placed in an awkward situation if such an amendment were offered. They would hardly dare to oppose it. In fact, there is a movement in Ontario Toryism to get the Government to amend the measure by adding a clause enacting manhood suffrage for the Upper Province. It is not thought the Ontario contingent could be bullied into casting a solid vote against manhood suffrage, even if it were proposed from the Liberal benches. Another question of equal gravity for the supporters of the Government from Ontario is embraced in Mr. Mills' motion for Federal consent to the ratification of the award of the Privy Council fixing the northerly and westerly boundaries of the Province. Sir John Macdonald has made it very clear that he will wear out the remainder of his days in defence of his badly frayed reputation as a constitutional lawyer and in fighting the unconquerable Premier of Ontario, and this motion promises to revive the whole boundary controversy and raise from the dead the old issue both in Local and Federal contests. If the Tory contingent go with their leader against their Province, it will be bad for their future, and it may be necessary for Mr. Meredith to make another right-about. The bill to amend the law of libel, which will also provoke a keen debate, is still to be considered. The prohibition resolution is in the same position. It is a great pity the Government will not see that Unrestricted Reciprocity would be the hardest blow that could be dealt the combines, and that the triumph of the same movement would kill the worst frauds that are practised on the farmers of Canada. But they will not, or rather dare not, see this, and so we wait the outcome of the Wallace and Brown efforts. If all these things come, however, the session must be prolonged, for even Sir John Macdonald's expectation of prorogation on May 22 cannot be realised except by a wholesale slaughter of the foundlings.

The Rathbun Company are protesting against the decision of the Government to withdraw the privilege from bonded warehouses of manufacturers' methylated spirits, owing to the fraudulent use of such in connection with potable drinks.

The Senate, by a vote of 32 to 19, gave Mrs. Hart of Montreal her divorce.

The amending Insurance Bill of which Sir Charles Tupper has given notice is merely to correct a technical error in the Consolidated Insurance Act.

The dates for the various military camps are fixed and will be made known in a few days.

No private notice or bill remaining on the paper can be reached this session.

As an earnest of the Government's anxiety to end the session it is believed the House will sit Saturday evening as well as Saturday afternoon, if the protests are not too many.

LONDON, May 10.—Public and private accounts of the German Emperor's condition strangely differ. Advices to the foreign office here say that the Emperor is absolutely incapable of transacting business, and that he is delirious nearly all the time. STARTLING "SKULL DRUGGERY."

Unearthed by a Committee of the Manitoba Legislature.

WINNIPEG, May 10.—Some startling "skull druggery" was unearthed to-day by the committee of the Legislature appointed to investigate the complaint of the Morris Council regarding the legalization in '83 of the bylaw bonusing the Canadian Pacific Railway, the petition for which had been withdrawn from the House. While another bylaw was being legalized some one clandestinely inserted the name of the obnoxious bylaw and both were legalized without the knowlege of the Legislature. Evidently a gross fraud was perpetrated.

Great interest is taken in the budget speech to-morrow, which promises startling revelations respecting recent defalcations, etc.

Winnipeg Reform Nominations.

WINNIPEG, May 10.—At the conventions of the Reformers to-night to select candidates to contest the various city constituencies in the forthcoming elections, Hon. Mr. Jones was chosen as the party standard-bearer for North Winnipeg, Capt. McMillan for Centre and Mr. Luxton for South. A ratification meeting was held subsequently.

MERCIER'S PROGRAM.

Government Measures to be Submitted to the Quebec Legislature.

MONTREAL, May 10.—The Local Legislature opens on Tuesday next. The session will be short and will not in all probability exceed a month in duration, it being the Premier's intention to call the House together again in the autumn. The budget, which is all ready and in print, will be brought down three days after the House opens. The principal measures to be brought forward by the Government are:

1. Amendments to the code of civil procedure by which the legal delays will be shortened and purely commercial cases decided in a reasonable time.

2. The conversion of the $33,000,000 of provincial debt now bearing 5 per cent interest into 4 per cent, thereby saving the province over $300,000 annually.

3. The reorganization of the Crown Lands Department and a scheme for developing and settling the Lake St. John district. This latter will receive the personal supervision of the Premier, who has taken the department in hand.

4. The settlement of the Jesuits estates.

5. The amendments to the license law as proposed by Rev. Abbe Larocque and Messrs. David Desnoyers and Dugas.

Mr. Mercier will meet the House with a majority of 16, which is explained as follows: At the last session he had a majority of 6. Since then the Conservatives have lost Chicoutimi, La Prairie, Ottawa, Maskinonge and Hochelage, which means a Liberal gain and a Conservative loss of 5 votes. In addition to this it is more than probable that Mr. Deschenes of Temiscouata will vote with the Government. The House now stands 33 Liberals, 7 Nationalists, 23 Conservatives, Deschenes of Temiscouata doubtful, and Shefford unrepresented.

LATEST MARKET REVIEW.

TORONTO, May 10.—Call loans and rates of discount remain unchanged.

There is a better feeling in the market for breadstuffs this week than last.

The butter trade presents no new features, and there is little doing in anything except large rolls.

Provisions are very firm all around. Dressed hogs are scarce and in good demand. Bacon and lard are firm and dressed meats are steady.

In groceries trade has been more active this week and a better feeling prevails. Canned goods are active.

There was a scarcity of all kinds of produce offered on the St. Lawrence Market to-day, but it did not have the effect of raising prices any. Poultry of all kinds is offered in limited supply; spring chickens are worth from 75c to 90c per pair, and ordinary fowls from 60c to 75c. In vegetables trade is quiet, supplies light and prices unaltered. Dressed hogs took another jump upwards to-day, and sold at $8.10 to $8.75. The hay and grain markets were quiet.

BEERBOHM'S REPORT.

Beerbohm reports to-day as follows: London—Floating cargoes—Wheat a turn dearer, corn steady: arrivals, nil; sold, wheat 2; waiting orders, wheat 3 and corn 1. Cargoes on passage—Wheat a turn dearer; corn steady; French country markets firm. Liverpool—Buyers and sellers tending up.

LIVERPOOL MARKETS.

Liverpool reports wheat firm to-day, with demand good and holders offering sparingly. Corn steady, with fair demand. Quotations: Spring wheat, 6s 9d; red winter, 6s 9d; No. 1 Cal. 6s 9d; corn, 5s 5½d; peas, 6s 10d; pork, 57s 6d; lard, 41s 3d; cheese 57s; colored cheese, 58s.

Hamilton Notes.

HAMILTON, May 10.—A meeting of the Police Commissioners was held this morning for the purpose of further considering the bylaw regulating livery stable keepers, but no action was taken. The rules of the commissioners were amended, raising the standard of height for police force applicants to 5 feet 10 inches. The applicants will also have to reside in the city six months before applying, and be not over 32 years of age.

The funeral of the late J. W. Kerr took place this afternoon from his late residence to Burlington Cemetery, and the large number of attendants showed the high esteem in which he was held.

Jeremiah H. Hogan, a native of Ireland, but for thirty years a resident of Hamilton, died at his residence in this city this morning.

A young man named Wm. Hall was arraigned before Police Magistrate Cahill this morning for stealing a game rooster belonging to James Murphy. He pleaded guilty and will appear for sentence on May 21.

Matthew Corner, a 15-year-old boy, was sent to the Reformatory for four years this morning on a charge of vagrancy.

Killed by a Stray Bullet.

MONTREAL, May 10.—Capt. Valcourt of the Eighty-fourth Battalion was accidently shot at St. Cimon, County of Bagot, on Saturday last. He was at the rifle range, and preparing to fire when he was struck by a stray bullet, which shattered his thigh. It was thought at first that the limb would have to be amputated, but Dr. Hingston dressed it and all would probably have gone well had not the patient become delirious during the night and got out of bed. He stumbled and fell, and the bandages gave way. Medical aid was procured, but Capt. Valcourt died before morning.

READY FOR EMERGENCIES.

ENGLAND COMPARES FAVORABLY WITH FOREIGN POWERS.

No Occasion for a Panic—Formation of a Third Army Corps and a Reserved Field Corps—The Artillery to be Increased.

LONDON, May 10.—Right Hon. Edward Stanhope, Secretary of State for War, yesterday received a deputation of members of Parliament, who presented an address urging the necessity of placing the country in a proper state of defence. In reply the War Secretary declared that there was no occasion for panic. England's preparations compared favorably with those of foreign powers; still the Government recognized the necessity for immediate action. At all the military ports and coaling stations the work of strengthening the defences was being carried on with renewed activity, and at the leading mercantile ports every effort was being made to complete the submarine mining defences. An attack upon London by way of the Thames would be made an absolute impossibility.

Multifarious forces of regulars, militia and volunteers were about to be organized, and the Government would be able to produce at short notice a field army sufficient to defend England and primarily to protect London. The leading feature of the plan would be the formation of a third army corps, composed of regulars, militia and volunteers, to be used chiefly in the defence of ports, also the formation of a reserve field artillery corps. The points of concentration and lines of defence were being carefully arranged. The transport service would be ready for any emergency. The volunteer artillery would be increased by the addition of 220 mobile and eight heavier guns. The danger did not lie in the want of numbers, but in incomplete preparations. The Government appealed to Parliament to assist in preparing to avert any danger that might threaten England.

Mr. Stanhope's remarks were applauded.

The Standard commenting on the War Secretary's statement, admits the soundness of his intentions but complains strongly that he does not move fast enough. The Daily News says it is glad that responsibility has been shifted from Parliament to the Administrative department. It approves the extended use of auxiliary forces. The Times says Mr. Stanhope was too airy and optimistic at a moment when our most serious defences are unfortunately of a kind which cannot be rapidly supplied whatever efforts may be made.

MR. ONGA'S QUESTION.

A Foo-Chee Delegate Puts a Puzzler to the M.E. Conference.

NEW YORK, May 10.—This was the ninth day of the Methodist Episcopal General Conference. Bishop Fowler presided and Rev. D. W. Hayes, a colored delegate from Tennessee, conducted the devotional exercises. Bishop Andrews announced a number of committees. Bishop Foss read a report of his visit with Albert S. Hunt as fraternal delegates to the British Wesleyan Conference and the Irish Wesleyan Conference in 1886.

Rev. E. A. Stafford of Toronto was introduced as a fraternal delegate representing the Methodist Episcopal Churchin Canada.

Rev. Dr. J. H. Bayliss introduced a resolution calling on the Committee on Judiciary to define what the constitution really is.

Rev. Dr. L. L. Fish of Michigan offered a resolution protesting against admitting Utah as a state until conclusive evidence is shown that polygamy has ceased to exist among the people there. It was adopted.

Mr. Onga, delegate from Foo-Choo, presented a memorial asking if converts from heathenism having more than one wife can still retain more than one wife and at the same time be good Methodists. The matter was referred to the Committee on the State of the Church.

Lay Delegate Pullman moved that a committee be appointed on unacceptable preachers.

The house voted to go into the election of bishops and of officers of the General Conference on May 17.

Fatal Bridge Accident.

GLENCOE, May 10.—About 9 o'clock this morning while workmen were engaged building the iron part of the Watterworth bridge, about six miles from Glencoe and between the Counties of Middlesex and Elgin, a temporary bridge on which the men were at work laying the heavy iron stringers, gave way and all were precipitated into the river. In falling a Mr. Lamb of Acton, Ont., in the employ of the Hamilton Bridge Company, was struck on the head by some timbers which killed him instantly. Alex. Watterworth, son of Joseph Watterworth of Moss, was killed also. The injured so far as learned are Daniel Mills of Moss, hand and leg badly crushed; Hiram Lumley of Moss, badly hurt about shoulders; J. W. Madigan of Hamilton, hand crushed and leg hurt, and B. Campbell of Komoka, legs bruised and wrist sprained. Watterworth's body was found after about five hours' search pinned beneath the debris.

TORONTO TOPICS.

The nominations in North York for Dr. Widdifield's seat in the Ontario Assembly will be on May 22 and the voting on May 30.

In the General Sessions yesterday Judge Morgan heard the case of Thomas Hope, charged with obtaining a note for $240 from Farmer George Hollingshead of King by false pretences. The scheme was the old seed wheat dodge, Farmer Hollingshead being taken in in the most approved style. The case was not finished. The Grand Jury will bring in their presentment to-day.

HALL, INNES & Co.

The Daily Examiner.

FRIDAY, MAY 11, 1888.

THE most significant fact about the Russell election contest is that the Government candidate was defeated by Conservative votes. It is a strong Conservative county, that is, when a Conservative, of even approximate honesty, is the candidate.

THE combines are thriving under the protection of the N.P. in a most booming manner. We have had sugar combines, iron rings, stove combines, oatmeal combines, cotton combines, coal combines, and now we have, added coffin combines. The monopolist leeches even haunt the ashes of the dead to suck profit from the sacred remains.

THE Dominion Government seems determined to make good Sir John Macdonald's boast that he will leave nothing in the public treasury when he left office, and he is bound to that he will not only make way with all the taxes which can be collected, but with all the money that can be borrowed on the credit of the country. He proposes now to borrow twenty million dollars more than the Finance Minister declares is necessary.

THE farmers who suffer from the action of the "trusts" or "combines" have the remedy in their own hands. The New York Times says:—"The farmers cannot protect themselve by playing trust against trust, but they can gain relief by overthrowing the trusts under whose exactions they suffer. They can attack them in three ways—through a revision of the tariff, by enforcing existing state laws concerning corporations, and by enacting new laws if existing laws do not provide a remedy. The greed of certain notorious trusts or combinations can be checked by reducing the tariff duties which enable them to exact unjust prices."

THE Liberals have always claimed that the Dominion Franchise Act was a perfectly gratuitous and useless invasion of the province of the provincial legislatures in this respect. That this position is tenable and that the contention is correct, is shown by the Government itself. The bill to amend the Franchise Act, which Mr. Chapleau stated related only to the printing of lists, actually contains a clause providing that the Franchise Act, so far as it relates to the qualifications of voters, shall not apply to the province of Prince Edward Island, and that the provincial franchise shall be the Dominion franchise there. If the local lists in Prince Edward Island are suitable for Dominion elections, why not those for all the other provinces, which are more simple, fuller and more liberal, especially those of Ontario, than the Dominion lists. The provincial lists are the only ones by which an honest expression of public opinion can be made at the polls. They are prepared by municipal officers untainted, as a rule, by party bias, and if, as it is held, there are occasional partizan municipal officers, they are comparatively few, and, throughout a province about evenly divided, the one will balance the other and neutralise any injustice, which, at the greatest, cannot be very great.

Colonization Road Grants For West Peterborough.

The following is list of sums for colonization roads in this riding, whose appropriation by the House was procured through the exertions of the local member, Mr. Stratton, a circumstance which shows the advantage of having a representative intent on promoting the interests of the county, instead of seeking to antagonize the Government, and obstruct its administration. The following is the list:—

Burleigh Road, to repair south end, north of Young's Point to Burleigh Falls $750
Buckhorn Road, south of Buckhorn..$150
Buckhorn Road, north of Buckhorn..$400
North Harvey road leading to Buckhorn Road $800
For roads in the township of Galway and Caveudish....$950
Bobosygeon Road....$150
Young's Point, stop logs, piers and repairing locks....$2,385

This means a total sum of $5565, to be expended in improving the roads of this county and facilitating access to Peterborough, the market town. Of this sum, however, parts of one or two items are county for township grants, made conditional on the Government giving an equivalent sum, which was done.

Dangerous Food Adulteration.

The Fraudulent use of Alum and Lime in in Cheap Baking Powders.

If consumers prefer to buy an adulterated article of food because it can be had at a lower price, they undoubtedly have the right to do so, provided the adulterants are not of a character injurious to health. If such articles are not falsely sold as pure, and the customer is not deceived as to their real character, the transaction is not illegitimate.

But the great danger in the traffic in adulterated food arises from the deception that is practised by manufacturers usually classing such goods as pure. This is almost invariably done when the adulterant is one that is injurious to health. For instance, manufacturers of alum and lime baking powders not only fail to inform the public of the real character of their goods, but carefully conceal the fact that they are made from these poisonous articles. Most of these manufacturers also claim that their articles are pure and wholesome, while some go still further and proclaim boldly that they are cream of tartar goods, or even the genuine Royal Baking Powder itself. No consumer will buy alum baking powders knowingly, for it is well understood that they are detrimental to health. The sale of the lime and alum baking powders as pure and wholesome articles is, therefore, criminal, and it is satisfactory to notice that several persons engaged in such sale have already been brought to justice in the courts.

The official analysts have recently been active in the pursuit of these dishonest articles. The baking powders of several States have been carefully and critically examined. The officals are surprised at that large amount of lime and alum goods found. It is a suggestive fact that no baking powder except the Royal has been found without either lime or alum, and many contain both. Dr. Price's baking powder has been found to contain nearly 12 per cent. of lime; Cleveland's 11 per cent. of impurities; the phosphate powders over 12 per cent. of lime.

The chief service of lime is to add weight. It is true that lime, when subjected to heat, gives off a certain amount of caboniс acid gas, but a quick-lime is left—a caustic of most powerful nature. A small quantity of dry lime upon the tongue, or in the eye, produces painful effects; how much more serious must these effects be on the delicate membranes of the stomach, intestines and kidneys more particularly of infants and children, and especially when the lime is taken into the system day after day, and with almost every meal. This is said by physicans to be one of the causes of indijestion, dyspepsia, and those painful diseases of the kidney's now so prevalent.

Adulteration with lime is quite as much to be dreaded as with alum, which has heretofore received the most empathitic condemnation from food analysts, physicians and chemists, for the reason that while alum may be partially dissolved by the heat of baking it is impossible to destroy or change the nature of the lime so that the entire amount in the baking powder passes, with all its injurious properties, into the stomach.

The large profits from the manufacture of lime and alum baking powders has placed many of them in the market. They are to be found in the stock of almost every retail dealer, and are urged upon customers calling for baking powders upon all occasions. Because of their well-known detrimental character it is desirable that prompt means be taken to suppress their manufacture.

Pure baking powders are one of the chief aids to the cook in preparing perfect and wholesome food. While those are to be obtained of well-established reputation, like the Royal, of whose purity there has never been a question, it is proper to avoid all others.

CANADA'S CONSOLATION.

She Has Secured Valuable Admissions, Even if the Fishery Treaty is Rejected.

NEW YORK, May 10.—Under the above heading The Sun to-day has this special from Washington: The Dominion papers are evidently well aware of the chances that the Fishery Treaty will be thrown over by the Senate, and have been making the best of that prospect. Some recent utterances of The Montreal Gazette on the subject are particularly noticeable, because its proprietor is a member of the Dominion Cabinet, and in such matters it carries a certain official weight:

If the treaty is rejected by our neighbors, we will simply fall back on the arrangement of seventy years ago, and deny to their fishing vessels any privileges in our ports, excepting those of obtaining wood, water, shelter and repairs. They cannot come within the three-mile limit to fish; they cannot enter any of the bays for trading purposes; they cannot purchase bait or fishery supplies, or transship cargoes or ship seamen. The treaty of 1818 shuts them out absolutely from any of those privileges, and the Democratic Administration has said that our interpretation of that treaty is right and justified.

This is rather strong language, and the first impulse may be to deny and resent this triumphant declaration. But on examining the message with which the President accompanied his transmission of the fishery treaty to Congress on Feb. 21 last, some basis for the foregoing assertion may, perhaps, be found in the following words:

The right of our fishermen under the treaty of 1818 did not extend to the procurement of distinctive fishery supplies in Canadian ports and harbors; and one item supposed to be essential, to wit, bait, was plainly denied them by the explicit and definite words of the treaty of 1818, emphasized by the course of the negotiations and express decisions which preceded the conclusion of the treaty.

This is apparently one foundation of the Canadian claim that whatever the Senate's decision on the Fishery Treaty, the Dominion has been the gainer by the negotiations. The treaty itself, though inferentially an abandonment of American ground, does not expressly assert that the rights of our fishermen are at present limited and circumscribed in any given way. It is in the unfortunate message with which the President accompanied the treaty that such declarations are found.

No doubt the Senate will do its utmost to counteract the effect of this surrender of the American view.

IN FAVOR OF PROHIBITION.

The Synod of Toronto and Kingston Discuss the Temperance Question.

OWEN SOUND, May 10.—The Presbyterian Synod of Toronto and Kingston closed its annual session here to-night under the moderatorship of Rev. D. McLeod, Barrie. The delegates, who have been here for the last three days, were not very numerous, owing to this town being at the extreme end of the synodal district. The main question debated to-day was the report on temperance presented by the Synod's committee. It was warmly discussed in pretty much the same spirit as was manifested in the Presbytery of Toronto a few days ago. The recommendations of the committee were adopted, with several emendations. The principal recommendation as amended by Professor McLaren is:

That in view of the manifold evils which attend the manufacture and sale of intoxicating drinks as a beverage, this Synod records its conviction that the entire prohibition of the traffic by law comes legitimately within the scope of the power with which God has endowed the Government for the good of the people, and that the Christian community should be encouraged to use all suitable efforts to raise the tone of public opinion so as to secure the enactment and the successful enforcement of an effective prohibition law, which shall extend at least to the entire province.

THE CARDWELL CONSERVATIVES.

Unite on a Local Horse Doctor in Preference to Editor White.

ORANGEVILLE, May 10.—Robert Evans was selected at Mono Mills to-day as Conservative candidate for the vacancy in Cardwell caused by the death of Hon. Thomas White. After the first ballot, all the candidates dropped out but Robt. White, son of the late member, and Robert Evans, and Evans was elected on the third ballot, the vote standing 74 to 51.

Robert Evans, V.S., is a resident of Bolton, in Albion township. He graduated from the Ontario Veterinary College in 1872, since which time he has been a resident of Cardwell. He is president of the Conservative Association, and has been an active man in all the fights in the county.

FAME VERSUS BUSINESS!

Let the World Be the Judge

The People of the County, our Court!

Statisfied Customers, our Witnesses!

We Plead our Case, and Carry off a VERDICT!

In re. GOUGH BROS. et al.

THE COURT.—The bar will observe that the case is now open. You have heard the indictment read. It is clear and explicit. What say you, Gough Bros., why sentence of the Court should not be prunounced upon you.

GOUGH BROS.—May it please your Lordship: To the serious charge that we have revolutionized the clothing trade in Peterborough we plead guilty. The facts are so apparent that denial were useless. But, may we ask the Court to consider extenuating circumstances of great weight. We have established a business by the peope, for the people and of the people. We have placed within the reach of all clothing of any grade, at prices that shatter Monopolies, and Paralyze High Prices. When the Court remembers that we have taken a $2.50 boy and clothed him in a 65c. Suit of Clothes, the Court will appreciate our enterprise. When the working man who wants Clothing can walk up to the trough and help himself to a suit at $2.50, there is something in life worth living for. When a pair of Pants that are a thing of beauty and joy forever, can be carried from our counters for the small sum of 25c. the Court will realize that our politicans are not of our sincerest benefactors.

Should the Court, for example, so direct, we will fit out our learned friend on the other side with one of our Special Made Suits, and his immediate relatives will testify that the garments are better than most custom work; are cut from Stylish Patterns, made up by artists who consider Beauty and Finish and Good Work as a first requisite.

We ask the Court's inspection of a special line of 500 suits for Men and Youths. These are gems of purest rays serene, so Good, so Stylish, so Cheap that stealing will become, in truth a struggling industry. Then we have secured a niche in the temple of fame by large sales of our best classes All Wool, French Worsted and English and Scotch Tweeds, fit for the wear of a prince, pontiff or politician. This, your Lordship, is our plea.

THE COURT.—Gough Bros., You have ably stated your case. You are excellent counsel. The ruling of the Court is that you are honorably discharged and that the Court adjourn sine die.

SPECIAL LINES.—Boy's Coats 19c. each; Boy's Suits 69c., $1.10 each and up. Parents, Gough Bros., will save you 50 per cent. on Children's Clothing. Men's Working Suits at $2.50, worth $5.50, Sunday Pants $1.25, worth $2.50.

HAMILTON 3, TORONTO 2.

THE CHAMPIONS BEATEN IN THE FIRST CANADIAN STRUGGLE.

One of the Finest Exhibitions of Baseball Ever Witnessed in Canada—Yesterday's Games Abroad—Racing in England—The New York Walking Match.

HAMILTON, May 10.—About 2 o'clock this afternoon it was easily ascertained that something more than ordinary was going to take place. Crowds of people began to gather around the Royal and St. Nicholas hotels. The red coats of the 13th Battalion band could be discerned, but the most interesting parties were the Toronto Baseball Club and the Hamilton ditto in their new uniforms. At 2.30 the clubs proceeded to fill the vacant seats of six cabs, four in each, and headed by the band took a view of the city, after which they proceeded to the park and performed one of the finest exhibitions of ball-playing ever witnessed in this city.

Although Hamilton both out-fielded and out-batted the Torontos, yet the Hams had no walk over. For the first four innings everything was a blank. Although some brilliant plays had been made no run had been scored. In the fifth Atkinson let Andrus get his base, after two men were out, on balls, from which he stole second and third. Rainey then went to bat, made a hit and let Andrus in. Rainey managed to get second, but Knight was put out by a brilliant play of McLaughlin's in throwing to Hartnett.

In the sixth Swartwood went to bat and was put out at first. Here Hamilton commenced to do their slugging. Visner went to bat and knocked the ball for first base. Wood followed with a two-bagger, bringing Visner home, and Mansell made a hit good enough to bring home Wood. Phillips knocked a liner to Kerns, who by an excellent pick-up threw it to Hartnett, who threw it to Decker just in time to put Mansell out before crossing the plate. This finished the scoring for the Hams. Up to the eighth inning it looked as if it was going to be a blank for Toronto, but in this inning the boys seemed to find the ball. Rickly went to bat and hit the sphere for one base, and was followed by McLaughlin with a two-bagger, bringing him home. Kearns elevated the ball into left field, but Knight caught it, but not in time to save McLaughlin getting third. Here Atkinson made a sacrifice hit, bringing in the second run. Greer was caught by Knight, this retiring the side and finishing. The scoring, the heavy batting and superior pitching of "Pete" Wood was the feature of the game. As for brilliant plays every player had his share. Score:

My Toothache

is an exclammation heard every hour in the day. Tooth-ache is the most common ailment of young and old, and in the aggregate inflicts more suffering than perhaps any other single complaint. A one minute cure is just what every person desires to possess. Nerviline—nerve pain cure—acts almost instantly in relieving the agony, and as a sample bottle affords a quantity sufficient for 100 applications, 10 cents fills the bill. Polson's Nerviline is the only positive remedy for tooth-ache and all nerve pains. Sold by druggists and all dealers in medicine. 6d19w

The Growth of the Hair.

Should always be watched. Inattention to the hair often leads to premature grayness and baldness. When dandruff appears it should be looked after at once. By frequently using a little of Dr. Dorenwend's Great German Hair Magic the scalp will be kept in a clean and healthy condition and the strength and vigor of the hair greatly promoted. It is the only reliable. Do not be talked into using anything else. For sale by all druggists everywhere. dw

A Severe Trial.

Those who endure the torturing pangs of Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Sciatica, Lumbago and similar painful complaints are severely tried, but their is a speedy relief in Hagyard's Yellow Oil, as thousands who have used it joyfully testify. It benishes pain and lameness quickly. 2w18d

LIFE ASSURANCE COMP'Y OF CANADA

HEAD OFFICE, MONTREAL.

Both in Magnitude and Profitableness, the Business for 1887 has been almost everything that could be desired.

The life policies now in force are 7,128 for $10,873,777.69, on 6741 lives. We have moreover $3,207,600 00 insured under 1,840 accident policies, so that the total current contracts of the Company are 8,969 for $14,081,377.69.

The income for the year shows the very large increase of $122,331.23 over the figures of 1886, the total being $495,831.54. The revenue is now half a million dollars per annum, or as mentioned in the report, over $1,600 for every working day in the year, and even this he believed was but a mere introduction to what it will be in a few years hence. The gains from time to time are well illustrated by the following table:—

Period	Gain in income.	Gain in assets.	Gain in assurances.
1872 to 1876, four years	$ 54,611 21	$169,482 69	$1,149,743 00
1876 to 1880, four years	38,580 67	195,188 29	1,167,386 14
1880 to 1884, four years	136,976 84	363,264 31	2,962,924 90
1884 to 1887, three years	217,451 89	475,607 24	4,023,373 65
Total in 1887	$495,831 54	$1,750,004 48	$10,873,777 69

It is very pleasing to notice that the gains for the last three years only are 60 per cent. more than those of the preceding four years.

FRIDAY, MAY 11, 1888.

The Weather.

Moderate to fresh winds, mostly east and south; fair weather, with showers in some localities at night; not much change in temperature.

That Burglarious Brown Overcoat.

The now noted brown overcoat, left behind by the burglars on Wednesday morning, was almost stylish enough and well enough made to have been turned out of the tailoring department of the golden lion, where gentlemen will find the finest and most varied assortment of tweeds and overcoatings, broadcloths, etc, awaiting orders to be made into stylish suits, guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction in fit, finish and figure. Goods of direct importation. If you want good, stylish clothing leave your order with r. fair, golden lion.

3,000 boys and girls in Peterborough have voted that The Pantry is a grand institution for supplying their wants.

Reclaiming Bad Land.

By an agreement between the Chemong Lake railway authorities and Mr. H. Denne, owner of the two lots of land east and west of George street, north, on which are the high embankments of the old Chemong railway, the property is to be reclaimed and become of value. The embankments are to be cut down and utilized as filling-in for the new connection, and the lots when levelled will be good building sites

Court House Park.

The directors, after consultation, have decided not to throw it open to the public on Saturday (to-morrow) as at first intended and announced in these columns. There is considerable work to be done yet. The walks are being filled in and made a great deal more like walks and a great deal less like trenches, and it will be probably the latter part of next week before the public can be conveniently admitted. The gardener is now ready and anxious to receive contributions from the public for the park, especially perennial roots, bulbs, etc., such as the peony lilies, etc. In spring, masses of these flowers can be subdivided and yield large quantities for transplanting. The season is now advanced, and whatever shrubs are contributed will have to be given quickly.

A Friendly Fire.

Fire swept away an old landmark in the town this morning and at the same time obliterated an unsightly rookery that was of little value and marred the appearance of the locality. It was one of the oldest houses in town, and was occupied by one "Jim" Watson, a travelling tinker, who yesterday started out on one of his journeys and left the house closed. The fire was discovered about eight o'clock, the alarm was rung and soon the brigade was on hand. About all the contents, a stove, table and some chairs, were saved. The firemen did not try to save the building, the fire too had a good start, but they prevented it spreading to the wood and lumber piles and sheds around, and afterwards pulled down the old walls. It was the property of the Chamberlen estate, but the loss will be small. By those who have built or are building in the neighborhood its removal will not be regretted. Mr. John Douglass is building a handsome brick house alongside of it.

McALPIN'S famous Tobaccoes — Silver Shield, Virginia Leaf and Jubilee, for sale at The Pantry.

The Chemong Railway.

Work is proceeding rapidly on the Chemong Lake railway, at the switch in the north end of the town. Mr. Geo. Clarke, foreman, has a gang of about 40 men and 6 teams of horses working on the connection, which begins just a little north of Smith street. There will be, of course, a heavy grade, about 2 feet in a 100, as the elevation of the old Chemong road is much greater than the Grand Trunk line. There will also be a pretty sharp curve the whole length of the switch line, about 500 feet in all. The connecting line is being graded, and already a few lengths of rail have been laid down for the purpose of transporting the "dump" or filling-in material. This is being taken from the old embankment, which will not require to be used in any other way. The cutting at the top of the switch is also being widened. This is the only part of the line on which work is being done at present, as it is not yet known exactly where the terminus is to be situated at Bridgenorth. An endeavor is being made to secure right of way to the Chemong Park. Mr. Clarke expects to have the connection completed in a short time.

Mr. G. Gumpricht is in town. Orders may be left at Messrs. Taylor & McDonald's drug store or A. L. Davis & Co.'s book store.

Father Conway's Pic-nic.

Rev. Father Conway's R. C. Pic-nic, at Norwood, on the 24th, the Register says, promises to be a grand success. They expect a big crowd down from Peterborough.

IT IS gratifying to know that "The Pantry" is rapidly taking its stand side by side with the first class groceries of the town. Inspection of goods and prices invited.

St. Paul's Church Anniversary Services.

A service of praise in connection with above will be held in the church Monday evening. A splendid programme has been prepared. Chorus of over 50 voices. Silver collection at the door. 2d111

Painting the Town.

Enough paint to do the whole town, ready mixed at that, ranging from the brightest vermillion to the sombrest black, and including all colors and shades made, can be had at Fortye & Phelan's.

No Change.

There is no change in the rush of customers to the store of the Griffin Shoe Company. The big bargains still continue and the public still seek them. Come, all who want big bargains! tf

Immigrants.

A special train of nine cars of immigrants and three cars of their baggage passed west over the C.P.R. yesterday, while the day before seven carloads went westward. More are expected every day. The C.P.R. does a large business in transporting these immigrants to their western homes.

A Sale of Useful and Fancy Articles

Under the auspices of the ladies of St. Andrew's Church, will be held in the School Room of the church on Tuesday afternoon and evening, May 15th. Admittance free. Refreshments extra. 6d107

The Rifle Butts.

The route of the Chemong railway line passes directly through the rifle range of the Peterborough Rifle Association, and new grounds will have to be secured. A meeting will be held probably next week to consider the question.

Special inducements to farmers and all others during the busy season at J. T. Stenson's boot and shoe shop, George street. Prices are cut so Low that no time is lost in making a bargain. Rapid sales and everybody delighted. Come and see.

A full assortment of Japanese china just received at "China Hall." Five o'clock and full tea sets, vases, urns, spice jars, salad, slop and porridge bowls, flower pots, hot water kettles, etc. Quite new and all the rage. Call and see it. dw

Street Inspection.

Several members of the Street Committee are to-day making their annual tour of inspection of the town. They will traverse every street and investigate the condition of the roads and sidewalks. The committee will likely present a big report at the next council meeting.

Hastings Bridge.

Messrs. Somerville, Forbes and Carnahan, of the Midland Railway engineering department, were in Hastings yesterday making a inaugurating work on the new bridge over the river Trent at that place. The bridge will be of iron, 200 feet in length, with a swing. Work will soon be begun on its erection.

A Slip.

A delay was caused at the fire hall this morning by one of the horses falling down on the new floor, which is of oiled hardwood and very slippery. Basswood run-ways have been laid out from the stable doors to the trucks, and a heavy matting with zinc ends is to be put down in front of the trucks where the horses stand. This will prevent slipping in future.

The Burglar Scare

The Supposed Burglars Remanded—It is Not Believed They are the Men—A Couple of More Reports of Burglaries.

At the late hour at which the arrests were made yesterday it was impossible to get an accurate account of the affair. All sorts of exaggerated rumors were in circulation, and the police station was so besieged and crowded and excitement ran so high that to get at the real facts of the matter, to ravel out the tangled threads of truth, exaggeration and fiction and therefrom weave a reliable and accurate tale, would have required an hour's investigation. The EXAMINER, like a railway train, had to come out "on time," and the facts as given were as nearly correct as could be learned at the moment.

It is now thought, however, that the guilty men have not been captured. There has certainly been nothing of a convicting nature discovered against the four suspects. The police, however, hope to make out a case, and for that purpose the prisoners were last evening remanded by the magistrate, the first two for a week and the two subsequently arrested till Monday.

When arrested, the men were searched, and in their pockets there was found a new silk handkerchief, a couple of pairs of new kid gloves, a bunch of keys, a jack-knife (afterwards recognized by Officer Adams as belonging to him, having been stolen at the police station by one of the men who stopped there Tuesday night as a tramp and registered as Wm. Scott, (a moulder from Guelph), a cake of soap, an empty cartridge box (Winchester, 32 calibre), and some moulders' tools. None of the goods have, however, been identified by Mr. LeBrun. In fact, nothing on which a case might be made out was found on the men.

The arrests were made in a small cedar bush in a pasture field alongside the track in the lower end of the town, of which they made a rendezvous. Acting on the information received, the police made the arrests as related in the EXAMINER yesterday. The subsequent arrests were made by Constables Adams and McGinty, who traced their men through the west end of the town, and, after about half an hour's chase, caught the fellows they were looking for.

All were locked up in the station till evening, when they were remanded and transferred to the gaol.

The names given by the first arrested are Wm. Scott and John Sullivan. The second pair were sent up as Jos. Thorpe and Thos. Filz. There were remainded as vagrants, the only charge upon which they could at present be held.

ANOTHER BURGLARY.

Yesterday afternoon Lieut.-Col. H. C. Rogers made the discovery that his residence in Ashburnham had been visited by thieves. Last fall Mrs. Rogers went to California and the house was closed up. Yesterday Mr. Rogers' son notified him that a trap-door leading to the cellar was open, a suspicious circumstance, as it had been carefully closed up in the fall. The Col. visited the house and found that thieves had been at work, and a lighted lamp found burning on the cellar floor, indicated that they had been there only the night before. The house had been thoroughly ransacked, a closet full of boots overhauled, the sideboards and cupboards examined, all the bureau drawers opened out on the floor and their contents well sorted. So far the Col. only misses his long military boots which were hanging on the wall and a suit of clothes minus the vest. The drawing room was visited and some pieces of table ware lifted off to the floor. None of the bedding was touched. Fortunately all the family plate and everything movable of much valuable had been put in a place of safety last fall. In the cellar were some jars of preserves packed in straw, and one of the jars was found open and another broken. The Col. thinks it was rather the work of mischievous boys than determined burglars. A gardener has been working around the place all spring but did not notice anything unusual.

No further burglaries are reported other than an attempt upon Mr. Calcutt's residence Wednesday evening. In this case the burglar was seen and scared away.

NOTES.

Officer Adams thinks he can at least make out a case against the man Scott for stealing his jack-knife.

The Kingston Whig says:—"The two Peterborough priests who had such an alarming time with burglars are well known here. Father McEvay was the priest who was rescued from the sunken steamship, Oregon, and who was first in the Kingston diocese. Father Rudkins is a Peterborough youth, who was formerly prominent in lacrosse life."

A peculiar feature of the arrests yesterday is that the latest copies of the Times, Review and EXAMINER were found lying on the ground by the men. Besides this, yesterday forenoon the baggage man at the C. P. R. station observed some tramps washing clothing at the bridge, and one of them who was reading a newspaper to the others threw up his hand and snapped his finger, at which they all laughed. They are the ones arrested.

Personal

Messrs. McIntosh and Aikins, two of the "boys" of Millbrook, were in town to-day.

Rev. Prof. Wallace, of Victoria University, is in town to day in full health and vigor. He will preach in the George street church on Sunday.

Mr. John R. Hall, head of the "Secretary's Branch" of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, and nephew of Mr. John J. Hall, Collector of Inland Revenue, paid a flying visit to town yesterday and to-day.

Mr. J. S. Pell, from the office of the Canadian Fire Underwriters' Association, Toronto, was in town yesterday on a visit of inspection, of some new special risks, now under advisement. Peterborough, according to Mr. Pell, ranks well, from a fire protection point of view, at the headquarters of the Association.

Port Hope Guide:—"Rev. S. J. Thompson, formerly of Perrytown, now of George street church, Peterborough, called on us to-day. He will leave for British Columbia, to engage in the mission there, about the first of July next. His old friends in Port Hope and surrounding country will be sorry to lose him from this part of the country."

Local Legal.

At Toronto on Friday the following case was disposed of at Osgoode hall:—

Robinson v. Leary.—Appeal by plaintiffs from the judgement of Ferguson, J., in an action of ejectment. Judgment reserved. Cassels, Q.C., and Peck (Peterborough) for appellants. Nesbitt and Edmison (Peterborough) for respondents. The plaintiffs, representatives of the late Edmund Chamberlen, relied on a deed of the land in question given by the defendant to the said E.C. in 1869. The defendant pleaded the Statute of Limitations, and, further, that the deed was merely a security for advances made by E.C. to him at that time. The trial judge ruled in favor of the defendant on the latter point, holding the deed to be merely a mortgage, and directed a reference to the L.M. to take accounts.

Water Filters.

To insure good health it is absolutely necessary to have pure water, and no water is entirely free from floating matter and disease terms without thorough filtration. The majority of cases of typhoid and other low fevers are in a measure caused from unfiltered and impure water, so that every family who values its health should have a reliable filter. Numerous filters are offered to the public varying in points of excellence, but for cheapness, efficiency and durability, our filters cannot be surpassed. No corroding substances are used in construction. The packing material in the most powerful specially prepared granulated carbon. It will last for years with the ordinary use of a family, and the material may be obtained from us at any time for replenishing at small expense. Sold in Peterborough only at China Hall. dw

ONTARIO TO THE FRONT!

A Matter Of Vital Importance.

The following unsolicited opinions from your friends and neighbors, men and women, whom you know and respect, ought to carry conviction to any doubting mind. These words of gratitude are from those who have been afflicted out are now well, and the persons giving them are naturally solicitous that others, troubled as were they, may know the means of cure. There is no reason why you should be longer ill from kidney, liver or stomach troubles. You can be cured as well as others. Do not longer delay of treatment, but to-day obtain that which will restore you to permanent health and strength!:

296 McNab St. North, HAMILTON, Can., Nov, 2, 1886.—I had been suffering for over twenty years from a pain in the back and one side of the head, and indigestion. I could eat scarcely any thing, and everthing I ate disagreed with me. I was attended by physicians who examined me and stated that I had enlargement of the liver, and that it was impossible to cure me. They also stated I was suffering from heart disease, inflammation of the bladder, kidney disease, bronchitis and catarrh, and that it was impossible for me to live. They attended me for three weeks without making any improvement in my condition. I commenced taking "Warner's Safe Cure" and "Warner's Safe Pills," acting strictly up to directions as to diet, and took thirty-six bottles, and have had the best of health ever since. My regular weight used to be 180 lbs. When I commenced "Warner's Safe Cure" I only weighed 140 lbs. I now weigh 210 lbs.

Mrs. E. Hurlburt

ST CATHERINES, Ont., Jan. 24th, 1887.—About six years ago I was a great sufferer from kidney disease, and was in misery all the while. I hardly had strength enough to walk straight and was ashamed to go on the street. The pains across my back were almost unbearable, and I was unable to find relief, even temporarily. I began the use of "Warner's Safe Cure," and inside of one week I found relief, and after taking eight bottles, I was completely cured.

W. J. Kennedy

Manager for American Express Co.

TORONTO, (18 Division Street) Sept. 17, 1887.—Three years ago last August my daughter was taken ill with Bright's disease of the kidneys. The best medical skill in the city was tasked to the utmost, but to no purpose. She was racked with convulsions for forty-eight hours. Our doctor did his best, and went away saying the case was hopeless. After she came out of the convulsions, she was very weak and all her hair fell out. The doctor had left us about a month when I concluded to try Warner's Safe Cure," and after having taken six bottles, along with several bottles of "Warner's Safe Pills" I saw a decided change for the better of her condition. After taking twenty-five bottles there was complete cure. My daughter has now a splendid head of hair and weighs more than she ever did before.

Mrs. Jos Burns

CHATHAM, Ont., March 6, 1888.—In 1884 I was completely run down. I suffered most severe pains in my back and kidneys, so severe that at times I would almost be prostrated. A loss of ambition, a great desire to urinate, without the ability of so doing, coming from me as it were in drops. The urine was of a peculiar color and contained considerable foreign matter. I became satisfied that my kidneys were in a congested state and that I was running down rapidly. Finally I concluded to try "Warner's Safe Cure," and in forty-eight hours after I had taken the remedy I voided urine that was as black as ink, containing quantities of mucus, pus and gravel. I continued and it was not many hours, before my urine was of a natural straw color, although it contained considerable sediment. The pains in my kidneys subsided as I continued the use of the remedy, and it was but a short time before I was completely relieved. My urine was normal and I can truthfully say that I was cured.

J. W. Goode

GALT, Ont., Jan, 27, 1887.—For about five years previous to two years ago last October, I was troubled with kidney and liver trouble and finally I was confined to my bed and suffered the most excruciating pain, and for two weeks time I did not know whether I was dead or alive. My physicians said I had enlargement of the liver, though they gave me only temporary relief. Hearing of the wonderful cures of "Warner's Safe Cure" I began its use, and after I had taken two bottles I noticed a change for the better. The pains disappeared, and my whole system seemed to feel the benefit of the remedy. I have continued taking "Warner's Safe Cure" and no other medicine since. I consider the remedy a great boon, and if I ever feel out of sorts, "Warner's Safe Cure" fixes me all right. I weigh twenty pounds heavier now than ever before.

VOL. VI. NO. 112. PETERBOROUGH, SATURDAY, MAY 12, 1888. PRICE TWO CENTS.

TURNBULL'S.

We wish to call your attention this week to our Large Stock of Black Cashmeres. They range in price from 25 cents a yard up to $1.25. The one at 25 cents is a good black with sightly appearance which is all we say about it. But when you advance to 45 cents you have a nice rich color, particularly suited for mourning, good weight and fully 44 inches wide. At 50, 60, 75, 85, 90 and $1.00, we have a new line by a French maker which is much nicer than the old make and deservidly popular, being much finer in appearance, more like a Henrietta, to be had in blue and jet black.

GERMAN CASHMERES.—These Goods are made in Saxony where the makers vie with each other in producing a Superior article. We have secured a make that cannot be spoken of too highly. It is a double warp and finished like a satin. They are now open for inspection. (on 3rd counter to left from George street entrance).

In our Custom Made Tailoring Department we show a nice range of Pantings, Worsted Suitings, Light Overcoatings, etc Only first-class work turned out. (2nd counter to the right.)

Early last fall when the public began gathering around their stoves and were thinking about Flannels and Blankets, we were looking ahead and gave large orders with the leading manufacturers of Chambrays, White and Colored Muslins, Lawns, etc. These Goods are now in stock, and will be found on the 1st counter to the right.

Our first stock of Sailor Hats has been bought up rapidly which is sufficient evidence that they are the correct thing. Our second shipment, bought at a much lower price is now in. All sizes and styles to choose from. The prices will please you when you see the style and quality.

MANITOBA'S FINANCES.

Treasurer Jones' Budget Speech — Loose Bookkeeping and Defalcations.

WINNIPEG, May 11.—In his Budget speech this afternoon Treasurer Jones made some of the promised revelations. A full audit could not be obtained for lack of data, but sufficient had been learned to justify all the charges made against the late Government, which many supposed exaggerated.

No cash book was kept in the Treasury Department and for fifteen months the appropriation book was not written up for the guidance of the Provincial Auditor. The bank book was loosely kept.

Both Harrison and Greenway failed to negotiate a loan, and he succeeded in getting a temporary one, afterwards making a fair arrangement. The school grants were not paid in full although the late governments paid themselves and friends.

It would take $317,000 to pay the current liabilities of the Province, whose assets he estimated at a little over $4,000,000.

Negotiations for $1,500,000 loan were entered into quietly, he fearing interference of the Dominion Government as in Norquay's case, where the bonds sold at 2½ premium, and afterwards were declared off because the Dominion advised the purchasers, Morton, Rose & Co., that they disapproved of the purpose for which the loan was floated.

The estimates presented amount to $502,098, which with sums specially authorized amount to over $700,000.

All the deputy heads are cut off and chief clerks substituted at lower salaries. The educational grant is increased, to $120,000 and printing is reduced from $20,000 to $9600. The lumber clerks are dismissed and several positions abolished.

After recess Treasurer Jones exposed the printing scandal. When work was supposed to be done by the Canadian Printing Company of St. Boniface it was really done by Lovell of Montreal and double prices charged the Government. Even freight was asked on work from Montreal to Winnipeg.

He said the Government paid for telephones in ministers' private residences. Moneys received by the Agricultural Department were retained by officials for nearly two years and only paid back when the new Government came into power. Interest on moneys deposited was considered perquisites by officials and the law changed so that money could be manipulated by Ministers personally for their own personal benefit.

The Liquor License Department was run recklessly and no books kept, there being a shortage of $1191. The defalcation of the late Queen's printer reached $13,000.

He claimed great saving would be effected in all departments, and after all there would be a surplus of $37,000 over expenditure.

Mr. Norquay rose to reply at 10.30. He expressed surprise at the statements of the Treasurer, and deeply deplored the state of affairs, expressing regret that the persons charged were not present, to answer the accusations.

Boiling Water and Battering Rams.

LONDON, May 11.—Exciting struggles took place at Carmack, near Thurles, Ireland, yesterday between a force of emergency policemen and tenants, whom they sought to evict. The police used a battering-ram in effecting entrances to the houses. The tenants threw boiling water at them and assaulted them with sticks and stones.

The Man on Horseback.

PARIS, May 11.—Gen. Boulanger, Count Dillon and Deputies Laguerre and Mayer have gone to Dunkirk. Two hundred persons gathered at the depot to witness their departure and there were some cries of "Vive Boulanger."

Eighty canvassers are scouring the environs of Grenoble in behalf of Gen. Boulanger's candidacy, and thousands of placards and voting tickets are being scattered.

Local Nominations in Shefford.

WATERLOO, Que., May 11.—The nomination for the vacant seat in Shefford, occasioned by the death of the late Thos. Brassard, M.P.P., last fall, took place here to-day. Mr. John P. Noyes was nominated last November as the Liberal candidate but yesterday resigned in favor of Dr. Degruslois, who was the candidate having the next largest number of votes in the Liberal convention. Mr. A. F. Savaria, who was defeated by Mr. Brassard in October, 1886, was nominated by the Conservatives.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

LIVELY DEBATE ON THE C.P.R RESOLUTIONS.

Sir Charles Tupper Introduces the Arrangement Arrived At—An Amendment Moved by Hon. Mr. Laurier and a Brilliant Speech.

OTTAWA, May 11.—Sir Charles Tupper today introduced a bill to amend the Insurance Act, so as to authorize companies incorporated in the Provinces to transact business throughout the Dominion on payment of a deposit to the Government.

Sir Charles Tupper on rising to move the resolutions in favor of the guarantee of C.P.R. bonds, the terms of which are well understood, did so in dead silence, partly due no doubt to the thin attendance, partly to the fact that the members are tired and disgusted on general principles, but certainly partly due to the utter inability of the Conservatives to work up the slightest show of enthusiasm over this finally, finally, and etc., etc., final arrangement with the C.P.R. octopus. Sir Charles pleaded the stage of the session and previous discussion of this subject in the press as a reason why he should not speak at length. He began with a history of the present Canadian Pacific Company. Almost at the outset he stated a fact which, if generally known, is not often referred to, that when he and his colleagues went to England to arrange for a company to construct the road they had a great deal of conversation on the subject with the President of the G.T.R. He quoted the monopoly clause, and said it was absolutely necessary to the securing of the co-operation of capitalists that the Government should make that condition because of the sparse settlement of the country. A great deal of agitation had arisen because of the monopoly, but it would be remembered that he had some years ago expressed the hope that it would not be necessary long to maintain the monopoly. When last session Mr. Watson raised the question he had called attention to the changed circumstances between the time when he made that promise in 1884 and the time when the matter was last under consideration in 1887. He would not, he said, discuss the position of the Government in changing its announced policy, but went on as follows: True statesmanship requires the Government of a country to meet the circumstances in relation to every question of great public importance, but if a changed course of action is demanded by altered circumstances the Government would be unworthy of their position and would be recreant to their duty if they did not take into consideration those changed circumstances and change their action accordingly. He went on with excuses for maintaining the monopoly so long—the three bad harvests, which he believed were abnormal and most unlikely to recur, the lamentable outbreak of 1885, which he declared was unlooked for and such as "nobody could foresee."

Sir Charles was not going to enter into the legal question of whether the Canadian Pacific Railway had a right to be protected from competition in Manitoba, but they had undoubtedly that right in the Northwest Territories, and if the Government had abolished the monopoly in Manitoba and retained it in the Northwest disallowance would have become a burning question in the Northwest Territories, for the Territories would have had cause to complain that they were placed upon a different footing from every other part of the Dominion. When the Government made proposals to the Canadian Pacific Railway they were agreeably surprised to find the Canadian Pacific Railway anxious to have the question disposed of forever. They wanted the country settled up, they wanted to put an end to the cry that the Northwest was afflicted by a huge monopoly, exaggerated as that cry was. Before closing he dwelt in his usual grandiloquent style upon the fact that the money would be spent in improving the railway, in equipment and otherwise, and urged the House to believe that this was so much pure gain to the country.

Mr. Laurier said the prophecies of the Government with respect to this company had so often failed of accomplishment that it was with considerable doubt he heard the prediction that the country was not to be put to a heavy expenditure on account of this agreement. This monopoly clause had been the bitterest pill which even those who favored the Canadian Pacific Railway contract had to swallow. He would not say whether or not the company had a just claim to compensation for relinquishment of the monopoly.

He read Sir John's historic declaration, "We cannot check Ontario, we cannot check Manitoba," and also a speech of the late Hon. Thos. White, to show it was the contention of the Government that they had no right to interfere with Manitoba in chartering railways within its border. He also read from The Hamilton Spectator to show that the Conservative press agreed with this interpretation of the utterances of the Premier and his Minister, yet within a few months the solemn pledge that Manitoba should not be checked was violated by disallowance of the charter granted by that province for a railway within its borders.

He concluded by moving in amendment:

1. That the exclusive privilege granted to the Canadian Pacific Railway Company by virtue of Article 21 in the agreements between Her Majesty and the company contained in the schedule to Act 44 Vic., Chap. 1, does not apply and never was intended to apply to the Province of Manitoba as it existed at the time of the passing of said act, to the Province of British Columbia or to any other province, but solely to territories over which the Parliament of Canada had exclusive and paramount legislative jurisdiction.

2. That the policy hitherto maintained by the Government of disallowing legislation by the Provinces of Manitoba and British Columbia authorizing construction within the limits of each province of railways to the boundary line of the United States, was one directly at variance with the statements of the leader of the Government when submitting the agreement for the construction of the Canadian Pacific Railway to Parliament, and has been productive of great loss and injury to said provinces and the Northwest Territories and of well-grounded discontent on the part of the people.

3. That this House, whilst ever ready to discharge honorably all engagements legally assumed by the Government of Canada with the company, regrets that the terms entered into by the Government and the company for the relinquishment of the exclusive privilege which the company maintains under said act, involve Canada in enormous contingent liabilities without providing adequate security for indemnifying the Government against the payment of the interest it guarantees and may be compelled to pay, and that this House further regrets that such terms do not provide for the expenditure of the principal moneys to be raised on such bonds in the construction of branch railways of the Canadian Pacific Railway in Manitoba, British Columbia and the Northwest Territories.

After Mr. Perley of Assiniboia had spoken the House divided. Mr. Laurier's amendment was lost; yeas 63, nays 111.

Montreal Burglars Rob a Jeweler.

MONTREAL, May 5.—A deliberate and daring burglary was perpetrated early this morning in the large jewelry establishment of Alfred Taves in Notre Dame-street. Watches and jewelry to the value of $5000 were carried off. The place was in charge of a burglar alarm protective association. The burglars appear to have grounded the wire and then had the course clear to themselves.

CHALLENGED TO FIGHT A DUEL.

An Angry Oshawa Town Father Invites an Editor Out on the Sidewalk.

OSHAWA, May 11.—Two or three weeks ago some of the town councillors insinuated that the Oshawa printers' rates were too high and suggested that tenders be asked to do the town printing for the remainder of the year. The Printing Committee were instructed to invite tenders from Whitby, Bowmanville and Oshawa offices, none of which sent in any except The Whitby Gazette, which was awarded the contract. On Wednesday last The Vindicator had an article on the subject which touched the feelings of the promoter of the scheme, who on Thursday interviewed the editor of The Vindicator, when some warm words took place between both parties. It is said that some of the language used was too forcible to be published. The town father invited the editor to step out on the sidewalk for a duel, which challenge the editor declined.

Last night the Streets Committee met for the transaction of some trifling business, when on motion the second deputy-reeve was deposed from the chairmanship of that committee by passing a vote of want of confidence in him. He will be succeeded by John Dickie, who is now termed the Premier of Oshawa.

It was rumored to-day that the chairman of the Relief Committee infringed the rules of the councillors by selling goods to an indigent and giving her an order on the town treasurer to pay him for them. The tenders for lumber are also being discussed.

A Question of Morals not of Politics.

DUBLIN, May 11.—Archbishop Walsh in a letter to The Freeman's Journal in reference to the Papal rescript, says: "The rescript decides a question of morals not of politics. If doubts and controversies arise concerning its meaning the Irish bishops or the Vatican will explain it. The Irish people may be assured that neither the National movement nor the National League shall be in the least injuriously affected."

The Pope and Parnell.

ROME, May 11.—The Pope, conversing with an official yesterday, took exception to the remarks made by Mr. Parnell at the Eighty Club banquet. His Holiness said: "The Nationalists themselves disapproved of boycotting, and the Plan of Campaign still more. Is it the duty of the Curia to tell the people of the objectionable character of their actions?"

THE LATEST MARKET REVIEW.

TORONTO, May 11.—Bank counter rates remain unchanged and easy. Posted rates for sterling in New York are unchanged.

Call loans are quoted unchanged. Discount rates are easier.

One feature of St. Lawrence Market to-day was the disappearance of parsnips, which vegetable will be replaced by spinach to-morrow. There is a good steady demand for apples, but the supply is scarce. Northern Spies sell at $5 per barrel, russets at $4.50. There is a vast amount of old, bad butter on the market which the dealers are attempting to shove with little success. New grass butter is beginning to come in. Eggs continue firm in jobbers' hands, the combine price is 12c, while to outsiders it is 12½c and 13c. Provisions are jobbing out quite freely and prices are firm. The market is well stocked with meat and prices are steady.

LIVERPOOL GRAIN MARKET.

Liverpool—Wheat dull, demand poor; holders offer freely. Corn strong, demand fair. Weather fine. Spring wheat 6s 9d, red winter 6s 9d, No. 1 Cal. 6s 9d. Corn 5s 7d. Peas 5s 10d. Pork 67s 6d. Lard 41s 6d. Bacon 36s 9d to 41s. Cheese 57s.

The Success of a Female Swindler.

PHILADELPHIA, May 5.—Mrs. Fannie B. Gold, a young widow, was held in $3000 bail yesterday on the charge of swindling Joel T. Kirkbride, ex-County Clerk of Camden County, N.J., out of $10,000 cash, and with passing upon him forged checks to the amount of $13,000.

PARNELL AND GLADSTONE.

THE SPEECHES OF THE IRISH AND THE LIBERAL LEADERS.

Mutterings Among the Nationalists—Boycotting and the League—The G. O. M.'s Frankness—The Key to His Utterance—How the Tories Meet His Complaint.

NEW YORK, May 11.—G. W. Smalley cables to The Tribune from London: Whether the two speeches, Tuesday and Wednesday, by Mr. Parnell and Mr. Gladstone have much affected English opinion or modified the political situation is hard to say. There is no independent paper to consult, nor are there many persons in London who keep their minds in a condition of complete impartiality, but everybody admits the cleverness of the conception by which the delivery of these speeches was arranged. An invitation from the Eighty Club to Mr. Parnell is itself a political event. That club contains the fine flower of the more youthful Gladstone-Liberalism. The dinner given to the Irish leader was far more numerously attended than usual. One man of great eminence, John Morley, was present, and a dozen others of some distinction. I asked a member of the club how Mr. Parnell was received. "Most cordially," answered he, "we had made up our minds to give him a good reception, and we did." This sounds as if it had been an effort. It was at any rate a successful effort. He did not impress the club as a good speaker. His speech reads well, but it was delivered with that hesitating indifference or coldness of manner characteristic of Mr. Parnell. He has a truly English way of stammering out sentences which may affect the fate of the empire.

So much of this discourse as related to Lord Carnarvon was listened to with but moderate interest. What people wanted to know was, what line Mr. Parnell would take about the papal circular. There, too, he was thought disappointing. To say that he, as an Irish Protestant, would leave the Irish Catholics to fight it out between them sounded like his abdicating his leadership of the Irish Catholics. The explanation is that Mr. Parnell, who is the most calculating of men, had not yet information enough from Ireland to enable him to speak decisively.

What he said of the plan of campaign was the surprise of the evening. There was no want of frankness here. Mr. Parnell's dislike of the plan has long been an open secret. His unreserved admission of this dislike, his disclosure of the conditions which he had imposed, and his avowal of its evil political influence in England have none the less angered his colleagues. Some of them say that Mr. Parnell has given in to the Pope. Many are the mutterings which are heard. Some find their way into the Parnellite prints. But they signify little. These gentlemen have grumbled against Mr. Parnell before now, but always ended by obeying his wishes. They will do so now.

Mr. Parnell thinks that the plan of campaign has done its work and may be laid aside. That will dispose of one part of the controversy with the Pope. Of the other more important papal censure, that on boycotting, he says nothing. The National League never could have established its ascendancy without boycotting. To abandon it now would be to abandon the league, which is the last thing Mr. Parnell proposes to do. But on discussion of this practice. The watchword for the moment is a parliamentary policy of full unios with the Liberals.

Mr. Gladstone is far more outspoken than Mr. Parnell, or than he himself has ever been before. Not even in Nottingham did the Liberal leader denounce the Government, the magistrate and the police, or vindicate opposition to legal authority in such terms as he used yesterday in Memorial Hall. He has cast in his lot with those who proclaim their allegiance to a law higher than statute law. He has harassed, he declares, and he means to continue to harass the Government in enforcing the Crimes Act or other acts in a manner which he thinks unjust. He goes much further than Mr. Parnell in approval of the plan of campaign. He complains—it is the key to his whole speech—that English politics in principle and in detail are decided by the question whether Ireland shall have Home Rule or not, a condition of things, he adds, so extravagant that the good sense of the country ought to rebel against such a system. True, retort the Tories, but it is you, not we, who are responsible for it, and their chief organ describes Mr. Gladstone as saying in effect that the people are bound only to obey the law when it pleases them. When it ceases to please them they are to follow Mr. Gladstone's example, call the state domineering, and resist by council or by act the law which they dislike. It is a theory, says The Standard, which can only end in anarchy.

A "FATAL BLUNDER."

Speeches by Michael Davitt and Sir William Vernon Harcourt.

LONDON, May 11.—Mr. Michael Davitt, in a speech here last night, said that to secure county government for Ireland before obtaining Home Rule would be a fatal blunder. He feared that if the Parnellites continued to ask for the extension of county governments to Ireland the Ministry would adopt Lord Randolph Churchill's advice and take them at their word.

Sir William Vernon Harcourt spoke yesterday at Croydon. Referring to the Papal rescript he said that with all respect to the Pope he would remind his audience that the court of Rome had not been successful in its dealings with temporal politics. It had in fact been distinguished for having allied itself with the worst forms of oppressive government.

The Times says that the annual election of the executive of the Cork branch of the National League brought the Fenian element in greater prominence than ever before.

GALLOPING INTO DEBT.

Too frequently, alas, events turn up to show that the heedless, extravagant and ruinous financial policy of the Dominion Government is adding tremendously to our terrible burden of debt. The Montreal Herald puts the financial position so strongly, in commenting on recent financial proposals in Parliament, that its remarks are worthy of careful perusal. The Herald says:—

Probably the Finance Minister thinks that a poor excuse is better than none at all, and the possibility of the depositors withdrawing their deposits from the Government Savings Banks, appears to be the chief avowable reason for the issue of the intended loan of $25,000,000. The real reasons are that the credit of the country is good, in spite of the enormous obligations the present Government have imposed upon the Dominion, and that the Government are hard up, and do not know how much more money they may be required to squander. Without money to placate this, that, and the other interest, they could not retain their position, and, therefore, they take time by the forelock, and borrow while they can, with the fixed intention, as Sir John has avowed, of leaving the treasury empty when they go out of office. Argument is ever wasted on a spendthrift, and when the day of reckoning is synchronical with the cessation of extravagance, advice is only thrown away. The Government are acting on the principle that they might as well be hanged for a sheep as for a lamb, and they are plunging accordingly. To expect any controlling influence to be exercised by those whom Sir John now has at his back in the House of Commons would be the acme of folly. Numbers of them have found, or hope to find, their account from the bountiful hand of the Finance Minister, and they are all more or less in that state of political lethargy that renders them incapable of uttering a word in defence of the taxpayers. When a government is supported in throwing away between three and four millions of the public money on such a scheme as the Chignecto Ship Railway, it is quite clear that they have disciplined their supporters into a condition of obedience which renders them fearless of parliamentary restraint. After them the deluge. The net debt of Canada has increased during the last term of Sir John's regime by $7,000,000; the annual expenditure has gone up from $23,000,000 to $37,000, and the foreign trade of the Dominion is practically at a standstill. But so long as they can bamboozle the country in allowing them to remain in power they evidently intend to borrow and spend as much as they can lay their hands upon. They will take care, they say, that there shall be nothing left when they go. (Sir John's speech at Quebec) But they appear to have some doubt on the score of their ability to keep the programme going. They admit that they have no intention of repaying their loans, assuming that so long as they continue to pay interest no one will want the principal; but something has taught them that they are nearing the end of their tether. They find that they cannot continue subsidising their friends in Parliament through the medium of railway subsidies, and that they have been overrunning the constable to an extent which causes even Sir John to pause. With his usual ability Sir Charles mixed his figures up, and entered upon elaborate calculations to show that a certain amount, if divided up into its component parts and then added together again, would not be more than it was at first, but he did not succeed in hiding the fact that, unauthorized by Parliament, the Government had been running into debt, and were obliged to borrow from Peter to pay Paul. As a kind of comforting assurance he said that although the amount of $25,000,000 was to be added to the already too heavy debt, the money could not be used except by vote of Parliament. This, though true enough in theory, is unfortunately at variance with practice. The country has learned by sad experience that when the Goverament desires to spend a few millions in a manner inconvenient to be disclosed to Parliament, they simply defy the law and the constitution, and obtain Governor-General's warrants for what they require, and then call upon their docile supporters to whitewash them. And so it will go on until some day the Dominion will awaken from the stupor into which Sir John has mesmerized it, and will then curse its own folly in having allowed him to carry on his pranks for such a length of time. In the mean time he will be out of reach, with his thumb at his nose, chuckling at the fact that he has cleaned out the treasury, and left his successors to carry on the Government as best they can. And a portion of Canada professes to be proud of this statesmanship.

The Police and the Public.

To the Editor of the Examiner:—

SIR,—Allow me to put in a word for the much maligned police. One man blames a policeman for obeying the orders of his chief and another blames him for not obeying those orders. A messenger coming in hot haste to summon a policeman to a distant part of the town might be a decoy to deprive the business portion of police protection so that some store might be burglarized without police interference. Perhaps the best way as a rule is to have discipline. In the long run the effect will be better. It won't do to have every policeman acting altogether on his individual judgment. There must be organization and system, and in the end this will doubtless be found to be the best. Come, now, let us be reasonable. Every man in a position of trust, as a rule, does what he thinks is for the best. He is liable to errors in judgment, like many persons who are so ready to find fault. While we have human beings to deal with we shall be troubled with errors in judgment from the best. A policeman's lot is a hard one and he is more in need of sympathy and support than of condemnation without rhyme or reason. If a citizen has a ham or old coat stolen, the police are blamed, as if it were expected they should stand on guard in his particular back yard to keep his property from being stolen. That is natural and inevitable. But let a policeman arrest a burly tough and have a hard struggle, and you will see that nine-tenths of the average street crowd will sympathize with the tough, and will applaud any advantage the struggling rascal may gain over the conservator of the peace. Let the public support the police and aid them, and they will give better service. Nobody but a fool, to the manner born, expects a police force to keep down crime any more than a man of sense expects the erection of a lightning rod to put a stop to thunderstorms. Who expects four policemen to cover every part of a town spread over an area of about 1,500 acres?

Yours, in reason,
COMMON SENSE.

The Crop Outlook.

Reports of Crop Prospects for the Three Counties.

The Toronto papers publish full crop reports from all over Ontario, from which the following are taken:—

PETERBOROUGH.

PETERBOROUGH, May 10.—Fall wheat in this section looks well. It has been somewhat damaged, but only slightly. Of spring wheat it is rather soon to give any definite opinion, but as the weather was favorable for sowing, and the ground in good condition, and the weather now very favorable, it will come up right. What little is up looks well. Oats and barley should come up well with the present good weather, and the ground having been in splendid condition for sowing, in general, as much and more spring wheat and barley was sown this year as last.

VICTORIA.

LINDSAY, May 10.—Fall wheat, as far as can be judged, is a failure, but the spring grain have been got in early and in excellent condition. The warm, showery weather the last three days is having a most beneficial effect on the spring crops. Farmers in this vicinity are in good spirits.

DURHAM.

PORT HOPE, May 10.—Very promising. Copious rains at the right time are doing the work in splendid order, and the promise for an abundant harvest never looked better.

FAME VERSUS BUSINESS!

Let the World Be the Judge

The People of the County, our Court!

Satisfied Customers, our Witnesses!

We Plead our Case, and Carry off a VERDICT!

In re. GOUGH BROS. et al.

THE COURT.—The bar will observe that the case is now open. You have heard the indictment read. It is clear and explicit. What say you, Gough Bros., why sentence of the Court should not be prunounced upon you.

GOUGH BROS.—May it please your Lordship: To the serious charge that we have revolutionized the clothing trade in Peterborough we plead guilty. The facts are so apparent that denial were useless. But, may we ask the Court to consider extenuating circumstances of great weight. We have established a business by the peope, for the people and of the people. We have placed within the reach of all clothing of any grade, at prices that shatter Monopolies, and Paralyze High Prices. When the Court remembers that we have taken a $2.50 boy and clothed him in a 65c. Suit of Clothes, the Court will appreciate our enterprise. When the working man who wants Clothing can walk up to the trough and help himself to a suit at $2.50, there is something in life worth living for. When a pair of Pants that are a thing of beauty and joy forever, can be carried from our counters for the small sum of 25c. the Court will realize that our politicans are not all of our sincerest benefactors.

Should the Court, for example, so direct, we will fit out our learned friend on the other side with one of our Special Made Suits, and his immediate relatives will testify that the garments are better than most custom work; are cut from Stylish Patterns, made up by artists who consider Beauty and Finish and Good Work as a first requisite.

We ask the Court's inspection of a special line of 500 suits for Men and Youths. These are gems of purest rays serene, so Good, so Stylish, so Cheap that stealing will become, in truth a struggling industry. Then we have secured a niche in the temple of fame by large sales of our best classes All Wool, French Worsted and English and Scotch Tweeds, fit for the wear of a prince, pontiff or politician. This, your Lordship, is our plea.

THE COURT.—Gough Bros., You have ably stated your case. You are excellent counsel. The ruling of the Court is that you are honorably discharged and that the Court adjourn sine die.

SPECIAL LINES.—Boy's Coats 19c. each; Boy's Suits 69c., $1.10 each and up. Parents, Gough Bros., will save you 50 per cent. on Children's Clothing. Men's Working Suits at $2.50, worth $5.50, Sunday Pants $1.25, worth $2.50.

THE GUILELESS GRANGER.

Ontario Farmers Tell Adam Brown's Committee How They Were Taken In.

OTTAWA, May 11.—Adam Brown's "Hayfork" Committee met to-day. A letter was read by F. G. Dunstan of Britannia, complaining that he had been swindled out of $340 on seed wheat. He will be summoned to give evidence.

A. R. Kelly of Ancaster gave evidence. Oliver Perry of the Ontario Grain and Seed Company, accompanied by Elliott, a Dunham farmer, called on him saying they were connected with a new institution chartered by the Ontario Government, with whom they had deposited $35,000. Their object was to get a clean variety of seed among the farmers who wanted to increase their stock. Witness agreed to purchase 12 bushels of wheat at $15 a bushel. They were to take from him 24 bushels at the end of the year at $15 a bushel, retaining $5 as their commission. He gave his note for $180. He received a bond from Perry, stating that all transactions covered by obligation were of a speculative character, and not based on the real value of the grain. The wheat turned out a bad mixture. Perry, he learned, was now in the States, a fugitive. He had to meet the note, which was purchased by Lawyer Roaf of Toronto. It was in February this transaction occurred and in May the company burst. They paid 85c. a bushel for the wheat they sold for $15. Their headquarters were at Toronto and London. He could convict every man of them.

Levi Turner of Trafalgar had a different case. He was asked by a man named Rymal of Parkdale to act as agent for a new kind of wheat and distribute it among his brother farmers. After cropping it they were to deliver it back to him, and he was to retain half and give half to the company. Afterwards a man named Hope of Brantford came along with the wheat and orders from the farmers, on the strength of which he gave a note for $240. He found, subsequently, that the orders were not signed, and he had Hope arrested, but he was acquitted. He was given Manitoba spring wheat.

John Macpherson of Elgin had a model hay fork left in his barn for exhibition and was induced to sign an order for delivery to him as agent. Afterwards another gentlemanly looking swindler called and got him to sign two notes for $150 each as agent's security. He afterwards knew he had been taken in.

My Toothache

is an exclamation heard every hour in the day. Tooth-ache is the most common ailment of young and old, and in the aggregate inflicts more suffering than perhaps any other single complaint. A one minute cure is just what every person desires to possess. Nerviline—nerve pain cure—acts almost instantly in relieving the agony, and as a sample bottle affords a quantity sufficient for 100 applications, 10 cents fills the bill. Poison's Nerviline is the only positive remedy for tooth-ache and all nerve pains. Sold by druggists and all dealers in medicine. 8d19w

The Growth of the Hair.

Should always be watched. Inattention to the hair often leads to premature grayness and baldness. When dandruff appears it should be looked after at once. By frequently using a little of Dr. Dorenwend's Great German Hair Magic the scalp will be kept in a clean and healthy condition and the strength and vigor of the hair greatly promoted. It is the only reliable. Do not be talked into using anything else. For sale by all druggists everywhere. dw

SATURDAY, MAY 12, 1888.

The Weather.

Fresh or strong winds, gradually shifting westerly, generally cloudy with showers and thunder-storms, turning cooler at night and clearing cooler to-morrow.

A Down-trodden Industry.

One would not be surprised to see depression in the carpet making industry. Its products are always being trodden on and put under foot, but there is one place where there is lively business and that is the golden lion, where there is on hand a complete stock of every kind of carpet in use, from the cheapest to the most expensive, and also floor oilcloths, stair carpets, etc. To correspond, there is an immense range of beautiful curtains of all the latest designs. All imported goods at importers' prices.

Early Harvest.

Accounts from the western and southern parts of the county, and it is presumed that the rest of the county is in similar condition, indicate that the coming harvest will be early and bountiful. The spring crop is now, as a rule, all in and in excellent condition, the season being much earlier than other years. The fall wheat generally looks well and, with favorable weather, the coming harvest will be both a good and an early one.

Addresses to Young Men.

At 4 o'clock to-morrow afternoon a young men's meeting will be held in the Association Hall. The Rev. A. B. MacKay, of Montreal, will give an address. Clifton Parker will speak in connection with the regular Sunday evening meeting. Young men are cordially invited to attend these meetings.

The New Route.

It is expected that about the 21st of this month a new time-table will take effect on the Midland Railway that will greatly alter the service. The local train, which at present runs from Cobourg to Toronto, will in future leave Peterborough in the early morning and make fast time, via Port Hope, to the Queen City. There will also be a return train at night by the same route. The Grand Junction trains will be affected by the new table. Close connection will be made between the morning Montreal express at Belleville, and the 8.15 express for Toronto at Peterborough, thus practically giving a direct through route from Belleville to Toronto. The afternoon Grand Junction train will have connection with the noon Grand Trunk express from Toronto. This is about the basis of operation of the new time-table, but until the cards are published nothing more definite can be announced.

Division Court.

Some half dozen cases were disposed of by Judge Weller at the Division Court Friday. Court sat till nine o'clock in the evening but all the business was not complete, a few cases having to be adjourned till Monday at 11 o'clock. The case of Haslitt vs. Archer was a dispute over a horse, in which the plaintiff claimed that the defendant had represented a horse purchased from him to have been sound, while it was in reality unable to work. The defendant contended that he made no such statement and that the horse was not disabled as the plaintiff endeavored to show. It was a jury case, and occupied from 10 o'clock till 1.30. A large number of witnesses were examined. A verdict was given for plaintiff for $53.25. A new trial will be applied for by the defendant's counsel, Mr. E.B. Edwards. Mr. A.P. Foosette, Q.C., conducted the plaintiff's case. Another case of local interest was Green vs. Dingwall, a suit regarding commission for cheese-buying.

The Girl Brigade Boy Battalion and the on Parade.

In June next it is proposed to give a public entertainment in the skating rink with the boys and the girls of the Collegiate Institute, now under charge of Sergt.-Major Rundle, similar to that recently given by Capt. Clark, of Guelph. The entertainment will consist, on the part of the girls of calisthenic exercises, dumb bell exercises and Indian club swinging, rifle exercises, military manœuvres and fancy marching and evolutions. The boys will appear in company and battalion drill with arms, manual, firing and bayonet exercises, formation of company squares and charging in line.

Last night at the rink there assembled about 160 eager girls and boys for a preliminary rehearsal. The skating rink was crowded with spectators, who evinced great delight in the exercises and showed their approval by enthusiastic applause.

THE PROGRAMME RENDERED

is given below. On this occasion Sergt.-Major Rundle gave the explanations in order to show the steps by which the proficiency exhibited was gained.

(1) All the girls, about eighty, were drawn up at interval and went through five exercises in calisthenics. This was done with great regularity and precision, every motion being simultaneous, and the whole company moving with the regularity of a beautiful machine. It was a fine sight,—the girls with their whole soul in the exercises, eager faces, chests expanding, bodies swaying with rythmic regularity and the distended nostrils, taking in extra draughts of air.

(2) All the boys (80) were drawn up at intervals and went through the extension movements corresponding to the calisthenics of the girls. These were all well done also.

(3) The second form of boys paraded for battalion drill—two companies. They went through various evolutions—wheeling from column into line at both quick and double, breaking into column from line at quick and double, deploying from quarter column, and from quarter column into line, advancing in column, closing from column to quarter at the halt and on the march.

The battalion was efficiently officered as follows :—No. 1 company—Captain, A. Fife; 1st Lieutenant, Geo. Boucher; 2nd Lieutenant, G. Edmison; left marker, A. Amys; right marker, B. Boucher. No. 2 company—Captain, H. Fitzgerald; 1st Lieutenant, R. Hicks; 2nd Lieutenant, J. Fairbairn; left marker, J. Eastland; right marker, W. Squires.

(4) The third form of boys paraded for company drill,—marching in column by the left, wheeling into line, breaking into column by the right, counter-marching, marching past as on review. The soldierly discipline infused into the boys is shown by a little incident. Master Alfred Carveth, as adjudant, marked the wheeling point. After the march past and the company had broken off, he stood at "tion!" in his place like a Roman soldier till the Major's attention was called to him and he was relieved.

(5) The first form of boys went through squad drill in single rank, file marching, forming to front, wheeling and turning.

(6) The whole battalion of girls paraded, two deep, formed fours and marched at quick step to the music of the 57th Batt. band, marched past in column with remarkable steadiness.

(7) The third form of girls paraded, marched to vocal accompaniment by themselves, in column of sections, wheeled into line, broke into column of sections to right, marched in single rank, countermarched, and went through most intricate evolutions and came out in perfect order. This exercise was one of the best of the evening.

(8) All the boys paraded, formed fours on the march, wheeled, countermarched, and front form on the march, and marched in columns. This latter was capitally done, especially when the different sizes of the boys was taken into consideration.

(9) All the girls paraded, formed in single rank, advanced in line, slow time, and saluted.

This wound up the programme, and a most satisfactory evening was spent. The boys gave three cheers for Sergeant-Major Rundle, who is in complete sympathy with his classes. Both girls and boys are fond of their drill, and it is found to have not only a most beneficial physical result but reacts upon the domain of study. In their drill they unconsciously become subjected to discipline, and, carrying this spirit into school, they are more easily controlled and submit with more readiness to the demands of school routine. Their bodies are invigorated, their minds refreshed, and they are better fitted for study. The teachers are unanimous in crediting the drill with a marked improvement in, and greater ease in maintaining, discipline in school.

DEATH OF REV. J. J. LYNCH

THE ARCHBISHOP OF TORONTO IS CALLED TO HIS LAST REST.

A Victim of Hard Work, He Succumbs to the Grim Visitor in His 72d Year—Only Ill for a Few Days—How and When Dissolution Came—The Last Rites.

TORONTO, May 12.

John Joseph Lynch, Archbishop of Toronto, died at St. John's Grove, the archiepiscopal residence, on Sherbourne-street, at 1 o'clock this morning. His age was 72. His Grace was sick but a very few days, and his illness was known, after a brief illness only to the attaches of the palace, his physicians and the clergy. His death therefore will be a great shock to the citizens of Toronto and of the entire Dominion.

The history of His Grace's illness was very much like that of the late Hon. Thomas White. Thursday evening he returned from St. Catharines, feeling unwell. On the train en route to the city he was seized with chills, accompanied by copious attacks of vomiting. Arriving at The Grove he was utterly prostrate. Subsequently inflammation of the lungs set in, and in spite of all that the physicians could do, His Grace passed peacefully away at the hour named. He was in the full possession of his faculties up to the moment of dissolution.

Yesterday afternoon Vicars-Generals Rooney and Laurent administered the holy viaticum and anointed him for death.

What Dr. Wallace Says.

Dr. Matthew Wallace, of 128 George-street, medical adviser to His Grace, was seen by The World. "The Archbishop" he said, "was in Merriton and St. Catharine's until Thursday evening, when he returned to The Grove. He was feeling unwell the day before, and on his journey home was seized with chills accompanied by fits of vomiting. As soon as he arrived at The Grove he sent for me, but I was away at the time and Dr. Irving Cameron was summoned. He found His Grace suffering from congestion of the lungs and prostration. I saw him this (Friday) morning and remained with him the greater part of the day."

A Biography of His Grace.

Archbishop Lynch was born in the neighborhood of the market town of Clones, in the County of Monaghan, in the diocese of Clogher, Ireland, on the 6th of February, 1816. When he was about 2 years of age his parents removed to Lucan, a village situated a few miles west of Dublin, and here the future Archbishop grew up to manhood. From his earliest years he had been intended for the priesthood, and when he was about 16 years of age he commenced his classical studies under the private tuition of a B.A. of Trinity College, Dublin. He made rapid progress, and soon became an excellent classical scholar. He then entered a college of the Carmelite Brothers, near Clondalkin, where he spent twelve industrious months. In 1833 he entered St. Vincent's College, Castleknock. At this establishment he continued his classical studies with much profit and also made great progress in rhetoric, natural philosophy and metaphysics. He rose to the position of a Superior long before the period at which such a dignity would ordinarily have been conferred upon him. In 1839 he entered the novitiate of the Congregation of the Mission of St. Lazaro, Paris, where he pursued the study of theology. In 1841 he took upon him the vows of the order, and in the next year received ordination at the hands of Monseigneur Affie—known as "The Martyr of the Barricades"—in the Church of St. Sulpice. He offered to go out on a mission to China. Meantime he returned to Ireland, and in 1843 was ordained deacon and priest at Maynooth College by the then archbishop of Dublin. He celebrated his first mass in the chapel of St. Vincent's College. He remained there three years, during which we went on missions to various parts of Ireland. In 1846 he went as missionary to Texas, where he spent between two and three years. In 1848 he was appointed Superior of St. Mary's Seminary of the Barrens, in Perry County, Missouri. For several years he was engaged on missions in the Western States. In 1855 he went on a special mission to Rome, upon which occasion he had a long conference with the Pope and received from him many marks of favor. Father Lynch returned from Rome in 1856, during which year, in response to the solicitation of the Bishop of Buffalo, he founded a house of his order in that diocese. He first laid the foundation of a preparatory seminary in Buffalo, but afterwards removed to Niagara. The institution is known by the name of the Seminary of our Lady of the Angels. Father Lynch's exertions on behalf of this seminary made him known to the Roman Catholic Hierarchy of Canada. In 1859 he was appointed coadjutor of the Bishop of Toronto. He was consecrated Bishop of St. Michael's Cathedral, Toronto, Nov. 20 of that year. During the following year, Bishop Charbonnel having resigned, Bishop Lynch succeeded him in the see of Toronto. In 1867 he again visited Rome on the occasion of what was known as the "Canonization of the Japanese Martyrs," and was created Prelat. Assistant of the Pontifical Throne. In 1869-70 he was present at the Vatican Council, where he was appointed one of the Consultors of Foreign Missions and Oriental Rights and made a speech in favor of Papal Infallibility. On the same day on which this speech was made he had the honor of celebrating mass before the Council. In 1870, during the session of the Œcumenical Council at Rome, the ecclesiastical Province of Quebec was divided, and Toronto was named as the Metropolitan See of Upper Canada. Bishop Lynch was appointed the first Archbishop of the new See, and in that capacity took his seat in the Council, being conducted to his place by his old friend and predecessor, Bishop Charbonnel. He has since consecrated many bishops, established many institutions and again visited Rome and Ireland.

In Peterborough.

The news of His Grace's demise was received at the Cathedral here with profound sorrow, though not wholly unexpected. His Lordship Bishop Dowling was aware of his serious illness. The deceased Archbishop was well known in the diocese of Peterborough, where his visits were frequent. His last public appearance here was on the occasion of the installation of Bishop Dowling, his intimate personal friend.

The death of Archbishop Lynch widens the gap at present existing in the ranks of the Roman Catholic hierarchy of the province. The Bishop of Hamilton has recently died, the Bishop of London is seriously ill, the Bishop of Kingston is in Europe, and now Archbishop Lynch's sudden death completes the catalogue of unforseen events.

VOL. VI. NO. 113. PETERBOROUGH, MONDAY, MAY 14, 1888. PRICE TWO CENTS.

TURNBULL'S.

We wish to call your attention this week to our Large Stock of Black Cashmeres. They range in price from 25 cents a yard up to $1 25. The one at 25 cents is a good black with sightly appearance which is all we say about it. But when you advance to 45 cents you have a nice rich color, particularly suited for mourning, good weight and fully 44 inches wide. At 50, 60, 75, 85, 90 and $1.00, we have a new line by a French maker which is much nicer than the old make and deservidly popular, being much finer in appearance, more like a Henrietta, to be had in blue and jet black.

GERMAN CASHMERES.—These Goods are made in Saxony where the makers vie with each other in producing a Superior article. We have secured a make that cannot be spoken of too highly. It is a double warp and finished like a satin. They are now open for inspection. (on 3rd counter to left from George street entrance).

In our Custom Made Tailoring Department we show a nice range of Pantings, Worsted Suitings, Light Overcoatings, etc. Only first-class work turned out. (2nd counter to the right.)

Early last fall when the public began gathering around their stoves and were thinking about Flannels and Blankets, we were looking ahead and gave large orders with the leading manufacturers of Chambrays, White and Colored Muslins, Lawns, etc. These Goods are now in stock, and will be found on the 1st counter to the right.

Our first stock of Sailor Hats has been bought up rapidly which is sufficient evidence that they are the correct thing. Our second shipment, bought at a much lower price is now in. All sizes and styles to choose from. The prices will please you when you see the style and quality.

A WORLD-'ROUND RECORD!

THE UTTERMOST PARTS OF THE EARTH PRAISE

WARNER'S "SAFE" CURE.

Merit wins!

In the past decade H. H. Warner, who was restored to health from an "incurable Kidney disease" by what is now known as Warner's Safe Cure, and made a vow that he would spread its merits before the entire world of sufferers—has seen the most signal proofs of the world's need of a Scientific Kidney Specific. All nations recognize and welcome Warner's Medicines as standards of the highest excellence because their curative effects are PERMANENT—a sure proof of power and merit. Read a few of their voluntary testimonials. They speak a varied language, but tell a common story:

FRANK STUART, 23 Free School Street, CALCUTTA, INDIA. "In 1875 was prostrated with a sudden attack of liver trouble. From '76 to '81 I had twenty of these terrible attacks. On the way to Japan, Capt. Connor of the "Geukai Maru" recommended me to use Warner's Safe Cure. After using 15 bottles, I had a sound, hearty appetite, thorough enjoyment of life, things to which I have been a stranger for six long years."

GEORE BICKNELL, Editor Daily Telegraph, MELBOURNE, AUS., the great Australian Daily, March 30, 1886, wrote: "Work of a sedentary character for 20 years developed unpleasant symptoms of illness of Liver and Kidneys. I used Warner's Safe Cure, which speedily relieved me of the unpleasant symptoms remedied my Dyspepsia, bettered my appetite, increased my enjoyment of life and work. It is a most valuable medicine and I have no hesitation in recommending it."

DR. GUSTAV WEBER, of Dessau, Duchy of Anhalt, GERMANY, May 30, 1887, writes: "For several years I have suffered with Inflammation of the Kidneys, Rheumatic Pains etc., for which I go every summer to Carlsbad, and find a little relief. To this suffering is added a Diabetes Mellitus (sugar diabetes), which appears alternately with Rheumatism. With the using of the 15th bottle of Warner's safe Cure I have completed my cure, for which I am greatly indebted to you. My general health has apparently been restored. I repeat with this my sincere gratitude."

REV. HENRY PLUME, M. A., Archdeacon, Townsville, NORTH QUEENSLAND, Oct 15, 1887, writes: During my long bush tours I have come across many wonderful cures effected by Warner's Safe Cure. For fever, so prevalent in the bush, it seems to be a certain cure. From what I have seen on my late trip, I should never start on a journey without my pack being furnished with a bottle."

GEO. THORNE, Ex-Premier, QUEENSLAND, at Ipswich, Sept. 2, 1887, writes: "I have recommended Warner's Safe Cure to many people who have suffered from different complaints, and in every case a cure has been effected. Personally I have used the medicine and derived the greatest benefit from it."

CAPT. CONNOR, of the steamer "Geukai Maru," JAPAN, "suffered from congestion of the kidneys and liver, losing four stone in weight, determined to give up his steamship, almost contemplated suicide. One day an American passenger recommended him to use Warner's Safe Cure. In two months was he recovered his lost strength, and was the personification of health and strength. "God bless the day I took Warner's Safe Cure," he says.

GEN H. F. NUTHALL, of 10 Edith Terrace Brompton, S. W. LONDON, ENG., who contracted Kidney and Liver disease in India, March 10th, 1887, wrote that he "was at times prostrated with the most agonizing attacks from passage of Gravel. I was firmly of the opinion that I should never recover my health, as the long residence in India had caused so much disease of the Liver and Kidneys that I was beyond permanent help. In this despairing condition I began Warner's Safe Cure, and in eight months I fully recovered my health and to-day am in its full and perfect enjoyment, never having had a particle of trouble since my remarkable recovery. As this was five years ago I can safely say that the wonderful cure was permanent and is all to be attributed to Warner's Safe Cure."—[Author of "Staff Corps Guid."]

DR. WM. EDWARD ROBSON, Late Royal Navy, ENGLAND, writes April 12, 1887, from New Eltham, Surrey, Eng.: "My attention was first called to Warner's Safe Cure about a year ago. When a patient of mine suffering from Bright's Disease was cured by its use. Since that time I have prescribed it in hundreds of cases with the most gratifying results, and I am willing to acknowledge and commend thus frankly the value of this great remedy."

WILLIAN BEDE DALLEY, Q. C., Privy Counsellor of the Queen Sydney, NEW SOUTH WALES, writes February 21, 1888: "I can bear witness to the very great improvement in my health consequent on the persistent use of Warner's Safe Cure."

The Hon. W. B. Dalley is the most celebrated lawyer in the colony and the most brilliant orator and greatest statesman in Australia; he is ex-Premier of the Colony of New South Wales.

☞H. H. Warner & Co. point with pride to the World 'Round Fame of Warner's Safe Cure. They offer the above as genuine in all respects and true, so far as they know, with $5,000 for proof to the contrary. Ask your friends and neighbors about

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

A NUMBER OF IMPORTANT BILLS PASSED AT SATURDAY'S SITTING.

The $22,000,000 Government Loan Authorized—The Agreement Respecting the Monopoly Surrender Confirmed—Government Assumes Lake St. Peter Debt.

OTTAWA, May 14.—The House met on Saturday at 1 o'clock. The bill authorizing a Government loan to the extent of $25,000,000 was passed after an address by Sir Richard Cartwright, who was not present during the discussion a few days ago. He disputed the soundness of the method of computation by which Sir Charles asked the House to arrive at the conclusion that the present debt of $227,000,000 only involved the same public charge as a debt of $174,000,000 at the same rate of interest as prevailed in 1877.

Sir Charles, in reply, challenged rigid scrutiny of the computation.

Sir Richard also brought up the question of priority of application of the expression "Flies on the wheel," and raised a laugh in the House by quoting a speech of Sir John Macdonald, made in Halifax, Sept. 21, 1864, in which he had said: "The wheel is now revolving; we are only the fly on the wheel; we cannot delay it."

The bill confirming the agreement between the Government and the Canadian Pacific Railway Company respecting the surrender of monopoly privileges was passed after discussion, mainly on the question of disposition of railway subsidies. There is no reference to these in the agreement, but it has been pointed out by the Government that should the company fail to pay the interest guaranteed the Government, in addition to the ample security provided for in the agreement, will be able, in the event of being called upon to pay any of the interest, to set off the earnings of the Canadian Pacific Railway for mail service. The point has been raised that the former bondholders have a prior claim on the mail subsidy money, with which view the Government do not agree.

The resolution respecting assumption of the Montreal harbor and Lake St. Peter debt was adopted without discussion. A similar resolution respecting assumption of the liabilities of the harbor commission at Quebec in connection with the harbor and graving dock and assuming the same as a public work of the Dominion provoked considerable discussion from Maritime Province members, who objected to those provinces being taxed on account of this work unless similar works in the ports of Halifax and St. John were also adopted as Dominion works. The resolution was reported from committee, and ordered for a third reading Monday.

The bill authorizing the Government to reduce the rate of interest on savings bank deposits was passed. Sir Richard Cartwright congratulated the Government on taking this step, which he said the Opposition had long advised.

HAMILTON HAPPENINGS.

A Child's Fatal Draught—The Hamilton Y.W.C.A. New Building.

HAMILTON, May 14.—A 3-year-old child named Lizzie King swallowed some carbolic acid which her mother had left in a cup on the table. The poor little sufferer is still alive, but not the faintest hopes are entertained of her recovery.

The Council of the Board of Trade have appointed Robert Morgan, miller, as the delegate from this city to confer with the Dominion Government respecting a grain schedule.

The directors of the Young Men's Christian Association have purchased for $7400 the property on the southeast corner of James and Jackson-street. As soon as sufficient moneys have been received to warrant it the contracts for the new building will be let and the work of construction proceeded with.

The Salvationists in this city have new officers in Lieut. Cameron and Capt. James Brookes from Toronto Temple, and will hold a three-days' jubilee, commencing on May 22.

THE DEAD ARCHBISHOP.

DETAILS OF THE ELABORATE FUNERAL ON WEDNESDAY.

A Large Attendance of the Clergy of the Dominion Expected—The Will of the Deceased Prelate—Referred to in the Protestant Churches.

TORONTO, May 14.—Reference was made yesterday to the dead prelate in nearly all the churches of the city, the clergymen of all denominations uniting in paying a tribute of praise to the man who has filled such an important position in the province for eighteen years.

The Archbishop's will was made four years ago, and on his death-bed he added a codicil. The will proper, as is customary among bishops, bequeathes everything he died possessed of to his successor in office. His personal effects at the time of his death consisted of a gold watch and one suit of clothes. The codicil prays his successor to give £50 to a widowed sister of the testator, at present living in poverty in Ireland. A further clause in the codicil states that he forgives all his enemies and gives them his blessing, and prays that God in His goodness will forgive them also.

It is understood that when he found that he was about to die, His Grace appointed Vicars-General Rooney and Laurent to administer the affairs of the diocese pending the action of the Holy See in the matter of appointing a successor.

The prevailing opinion seems to be that Bishop Walsh of London will be the man. The Catholic mind is turning towards him as the one who is most deserving of any in the province, and who is eminently qualified to fill the position. A vicar-general from some other diocese or from another country, or a priest may be raised from the ranks. It is probable, however, that the successor will be chosen from the Ontario bishops.

From early yesterday morning until a late hour in the evening St. John's Grove was besieged with throngs of Catholics of all degrees of prominence anxious, if possible, to obtain a view of the remains of the dead. Admittance was refused to all with the exception of a few of the more prominent parishioners of Our Lady of Lourdes.

The body of the dead Archbishop lies in the parlor surrounded by wax tapers and watched by seven Sisters of St. Joseph. At night the sisters are relieved by the same number of brothers. The body is robed in the archiepiscopal purple soutan, with the baretta and surplice of lace and fine linen.

The solemn funeral procession will leave St. John's Grove at 8 o'clock to-night, and the body will lie in state in the Cathedral from the arrival of the procession till the hour of burial, 10 a.m. on Wednesday. The public will be admitted to view the body on Tuesday.

His Eminence Cardinal Taschereau will sing a Pontifical High Mass de Requiem on Wednesday at 10 a.m.

The funeral will be an elaborate one. Of the Church dignitaries of Canada and the States the following have advised Bishop O'Mahoney that they will be present: Cardinal Taschereau, Quebec; Monsignor Soule, Montreal; Monsignor Fabre, Montreal; Bishop Duhamel, Ottawa; Bishop Ryan, Buffalo; Bishop Dowling, Peterboro.

In addition to their Lordships, it is expected that over 200 priests will be present in the Cathedral on Wednesday, coming from all points of the continent.

Grief at the Capital.

OTTAWA, May 23.—Much regret was expressed here by all classes of people at the sudden death of Archbishop Lynch. References were made to the exemplary life of the deceased prelate in the various Roman Catholic churches to-day.

Methodist Mass Meeting in N.Y.

NEW YORK, May 13.—The immense auditorium of the Metropolitan Opera House was completely filled this afternoon by the throngs who came to attend the Methodist mass meeting. Rev. Dr. McChesney presided. After a hymn and prayer he introduced Bishop Warren of Denver, Col., as the preacher of the day. The bishop spoke from the text "Seek ye first the kingdom of God, and His righteousness, and all these things shall be added unto you." The bishop spoke of the idea of heaven, which contained noting material. Heaven was composed entirely of righteousness.

Steamship Agents Under Arrest.

VIENNA, May 12.—By order of the Austrian Minister of Justice the chief Vienna agent of the Anchor Steamship Company and another agent named Eichboorn, who had charge of a batch of Hungarian peasants booked for America, were arrested yesterday. Both are charged with abducting men liable to military service, and with extorting money under false pretences. The peasants have returned to their homes and the agents have been imprisoned and their papers seized.

The Pope and the Pope.

MONTREAL, May 13.—Archbishop Fabre today caused a pastoral to be read in all the Roman Catholic churches of the city condemning The Evening Post for its attack on the Vatican rescript anent the plan of campaign in Ireland. The Archbishop calls upon the faithful to avoid the reading of all such newspaper articles as The Post printed against the Holy Father.

Terrible Suffering of Two Trappers.

EDMONTON, N.W.T., May 12.—Last fall two trappers, McMillan and Golden, left here for the Athabasca and Pembina Rivers. They lost their provisions, and severe weather made hunting impossible. They boiled their furs and ate them and waited for death. Golden died April 20. Ice soon began to move and McMillan drifted down in his canoe, reaching Athabasca Landing in a most pitiable condition.

Fire at Bloomfield.

BLOOMFIELD, May 13.—The roller flour mill in this village owned and run by Marshall Burr was burned this morning. The loss is partly covered by insurance. The cause of the fire is unknown. A small barn was also burned.

A Clergyman Hanged.

GREENSBORO, Ala., May 12.—Rev. George McDuffie, colored, was hanged yesterday for the murder of Wm. Cheney, colored.

Deserted by Their Manager.

PITTSBURG, May 12.—W. A. Covert, the manager of the "Checkered Life" Company, which has been playing at the Academy in this city, skipped the town last evening. The sudden departure of the manager greatly inconvenienced the members of the company, but they succeeded in getting away to Cleveland to-night.

ENGLAND'S FIGHTING STRENGTH.

So Cabled for Ahern—The Army and Navy Placed on an Efficient Footing.

LONDON, May 13.—In the House of Lords Viscount Hardinge asked what truth there was in the reports that England was in a defenceless condition. The Duke of Cambridge denied that the country was in imminent danger. He said that the sensational articles in the newspapers, emanating from the "highest military authority," did not proceed from him. The Government were considering the means by which this should be done. He did not doubt that the result would satisfy the country.

Lord Salisbury protested against the prevailing impression that because the Government did not make showy speeches their vigilance slept. The Government must practice the utmost reticence in such matters. Nothing would be more inane than to explain to all the world what were England's strength and the nature of the precautions she was taking. It would be treachery to give such matters publicity. [Cheers.] There was no ground for reproaching the Government with neglecting the country's defences. Since 1884 the army had been increased from 181,217 men, while the expenditure for the navy had risen from £4,449,000 to £6,611,000. The panicky tone pervading the language used by military authorities outside of the House was not shared by the Government, who were fully conscious that any disregard of the national defences, in the present state of the world, would be a very grave dereliction of duty. [Cheers.]

In the Commons Lord Hamilton, First Lord of the Admiralty, stated that the Russian fleet in the Pacific consisted of one iron-clad and four cruisers, and was not equal either in numbers or in strength to the British forces on the China station alone. The Admiral in command had declared that he was perfectly satisfied with the strength of the British fleet in those waters. [Cheers.]

By Way of Rome.

VIENNA, May 13.—A despatch from Rome to The Political Correspondence says that the Irish bishops have informed the Vatican of their entire and unconditional submission to the Papal rescript regarding Ireland.

An Opinion from St. Petersburg.

ST. PETERSBURG, May 13.—The Novosti says the object in strengthening the English armaments is evidently not solely to be prepared to indirectly partake in an eventual continental war, but also to enable England to pursue with an armed hand a policy manifestly aggressive.

John Dillon's Second Sentence.

DUBLIN, May 12.—The trial of Mr. John Dillon on the second charge of offending under the Crimes Act was concluded to-day, and he was convicted. He was again sentenced to six months' imprisonment, without hard labor, as he was on account of the first charge. His sentences, however, will run concurrently. Mr. Dillon took an appeal and the hearing was fixed for June 28.

THE MINING COMMISSION.

The Royal Board Holds its First Meeting—Members and Ministers Present.

TORONTO, May 14.

The first meeting of the royal commission to enquire into Ontario's mining resources and to suggest the best means for developing them took place on Saturday afternoon in the Speaker's Chambers at the Parliament Buildings. Mr. Charlton, M.P., the chairman, Mr. Blue, the secretary, and Messrs. Bell, Merritt and Coe were present. There were also at the meeting Hon. Mr. Mowat, Hon. Mr. Hardy, Hon. Mr. Fraser, Hon. G. W. Ross and Hon. A. M. Ross. A preliminary line of action was drawn up, which will very likely be modified and varied.

The members of the commission will devote themselves to the ascertaining of the mineral wealth of the Province and to projecting means for its legitimate development. No official visits to different mining districts will be made till the dissolution of the Dominion Parliament, of which Mr. Charlton is a member. AFFAIRS IN MANITOBA.

STARTLING DISCLOSURES MADE IN THE LEGISLATURE YESTERDAY.

Premier Greenway's Charges Against Norquay's Administration—Criminal Proceedings Threatened Against Two Members of the Late Administration.

WINNIPEG, May 13.—In the Legislature yesterday the late Government, particularly Norquay, got a terrible roasting from Premier Greenway, who said he had documents in his possession to prove that Norquay was a partner with Mann and Holt in the contract for the construction of the Hudson Bay Railway. He further stated that the Government had under consideration the advisability of instituting criminal proceedings against Norquay and LaRiviere in connection with that and other matters. Subsequently, when referring to other delinquencies, the Premier intimated that the Government had decided to proceed criminally against these two individuals. Pointing to Norquay, the Premier referred to him as a "dishonorable gentleman," and said that to-day another steal of $26,000 had developed.

Referring to Acton Burrows the Premier said he was the greatest disgrace that ever fed at the public crib.

Such words as "thief," "robber" and "embezzler" were freely used in making charges.

In speaking of $250,000 of Hudson Bay bonds the Premier said that the money was divided among a party of boodlers of which the late Government was a partner.

Mr. La Riviere explained his connection with the Lovell printing, claiming he was not acting as Minister of Agriculture in subletting, but as a private individual. He admitted that irregularities had been committed, but held that these also happened in banks and other institutions. He had intended to remedy affairs if he had remained in office. He explained his connection with the transfer of Hudson Bay bonds without the security of a land grant and claimed that he had been deceived at Ottawa. He also claimed that the banks boycotted the Government respecting the loan of money spent on the Red River Valley Railroad.

After Mr. Martin had referred to the delinquencies of the late Government, exposing the culpably loose manner in which the Provincial Auditor had attended to his duties, Mr. Leacock moved adjournment of the debate, to give Norquay and LaRiviere on Monday an opportunity to meet the charges fully.

Mr. Norquay, replying to Premier Greenway, said he courted the fullest investigation of his conduct, either as leader of the Government, member of the Legislature or plain John Norquay, before any court, commission or other constituted body. This statement elicited cheers from the galleries, who cannot but admire his pluck in meeting almost single-handed the serious charges against his administration.

The $26,000 steal referred to by Premier Greenway is supposed to be in connection with the Selkirk Asylum.

Ex-Attorney-General Hamilton denies in St. Paul that he retained his overdrawn salary, and claims he paid it back and has Treasurer Jones' receipt for it. This was admitted to be correct last night by Mr. Martin.

Meeting in Georgetown to Advocate the Establishment of Creameries.

GEORGETOWN, May 14.—A meeting took place on Saturday, at which Messrs. Valancey Fuller, James Cheesman and W. F. Maclean delivered addresses. In response to notice which was given there were a good number of the farmers in the vicinity present, among whom were about fifteen patrons of the old creamery, which will probably soon be reopened in this vicinity. Mr. David Cress presided.

The following motions were unanimously passed:

"That whereas the existing methods of farm butter-making diminish the fertility of the soil, restrict the production of milk, and render butter production from small herds costly to the farmer and injurious to the reputation of Canadian butter at home and abroad; we therefore approve the action of the Ontario Creameries Association, and heartily support its policy of extending the factory process of butter-making as the best calculated to secure uniformity of quality, an increased consumption, the highest market prices, and the permanent well-being of the dairy farmers of the Province."

"That the factory system of butter-making improves the breeding of dairy stock, encourages better feeding, makes less demand on soil fertility than any other system of farming, and merits the utmost support of every true friend of economical husbandry."

"That in the opinion of this meeting it is desirable to organize a Creamery Butter Manufacturing Company to reopen the Little Falls Creamery (Halton County), which shall have for its primary object the manufacture of butter for the supply of the home market, and a committee be authorized to take the preliminary steps to organize a company to acquire and operate the Little Falls Creamery."

A committee was subsequently nominated to take the matter in hand and bring it to a successful issue. The meeting adjourned and the committee met to perfect arrangements to enlist the cooperation of all the farmers in the neighborhood in reopening the creamery.

Business was flat on St. Lawrence market to-day, there was no special feature nor any change in prices.

Solemn Requiem Mass.

For the Repose of the Soul of the Late Archbishop Lynch.

This morning at 9 o'clock the tolling of the bell of St. Peter's Cathedral called the people together for the solemn requiem mass for the repose of the soul of the late Archbishop Lynch. The edifice, which was deeply draped in mourning, was filled and his Lordship Bishop Dowling celebrated pontifical high mass, with Rev. Father McEvay as deacon and Rev. Father Rudkins as sub-deacon. The special music for the occasion was especially well presented. Bishop Dowling preached the sermon and took occasion to refer specifically to the life and work of the dead prelate. He gave a sketch of his life largely on the same lines as the universally published biographical sketches, dealing however, particularly with the hardships of his missionary labour in Texas, and the great zeal and energy he threw into the work. His sanctity as a Christian bishop, his broad charity, ready sympathy and ever active interest in the promotion of both the spiritual and temporal welfare of the church, were the subject of warm eulogy. The reverend preacher could speak all the more feelingly of the relation of the dead prelate to himself as he was ordained at the hands of the late Archbishop. Particular reference was made to the great interest always shown by the Archbishop in the diocese of Peterborough—both in its establishment and afterwards in the promotion of its interests. His Lordship's address was an able and eloquent tribute, many of his references moving the people to tears.

The venerable prelate's death will indeed be a severe loss to the Roman Catholic church, in Ontario especially. The feeling is not at all concealed that it will be difficult to supply his place. His truly apostolic zeal and energy in the cause of the church, in the promotion of its every interest, were influenced by an intelligent appreciation of her needs, and no personal sacrifice, no expenditure of energy, were considered too great; no mere carping criticism, no mere human opposition, were allowed to interfere with the pursuit of what was presented to him as the path of duty. Even bodily weakness and infirm health did not prevent the undertaking of work which might be well considered supererogatory, but which appealed to his zeal for doing good. He filled a large place in public affairs. In his desire to promote the temporal, moral and spiritual welfare of his large flock, he naturally encountered opposition, but he shrank from no opposition; he pursued his course with the energy of one who had not only the courage of his convictions, but one who held too high an ideal to permit mere human friendships or enmities to be a factor in determining the pursuit of a temporising policy. Therefore while he made warm friends, he made active enemies, yet the bitterist of them could not but respect the moral courage and concede the conscientiousness of a man who shaped his course and regulated his actions with sole reference to his interpretation of the duty he owed to the church and his flock. Therefore his work had a telling effect and the effects of his influence, the substantial results of his efforts, while being recognized, will not be fully appreciated till the full sense of the almost irreparable loss of his removal from the scene of his labours is realised. The death of such a man will not only be felt in the circle which acknowledged ecclesiastical allegiance, but in the outer circle of public affairs in the community at large, so great a vacancy cannot be created without its influence being sensibly felt. His Grace was a man of eminent attainments and culture, he was a vigorous thinker and had great facility in the vigorous expression of the results of his thinking and now that his pen is laid aside forever, many an old time opponent will recollect that, while he had a foeman worthy of his steel, he had an opponent whose position was such, because he felt from the bottom of his heart he was the champion of what he held to be the sacred cause of truth.

The deceased prelate had always a warm corner in his great heart for the diocese of Peterborough, established under his archiepiscopate, and the clergy of the diocese have especial reason to remember the friendly interest taken in their work. He came all the way from Toronto to ordain Rev. Father Rudkins, when almost any other prelate would have brought the candidate to himself; and he attended the obsequies of the late Bishop Jamot, when his health was such that he had hardly strength enough to walk. And in a score of other ways he showed his interest in this diocese, and his memory is held in high reverence accordingly.

She Speaks from Experience.

Miss Edith Foy, of Amherstburg, Ont., had a severe case of Quinsy. She writes: "I tried the doctor's medicine, but got no relief. I was told to try Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam. After taking two doses I got relief, and when I had taken three parts of the bottle, I was completely cured." 2d20w

THE SPORTING WORLD.

Close of the Six Days' Walking Contest—Baseball Record—Spots of Sport.

NEW YORK, May 12.—Madison-square Garden was packed to-night to witness the conclusion of the six-days' go-as-you-please contest. Of the forty-three men that started on in Monday morning only seven remained on the track. They were Littlewood, Guerrero, Hertz, Noremac, Golden, Hughes and Campana. Early in the evening it became evident that Littlewood would not be able to break the record of 621 miles made by James Albert in February last. He was trudging slowly around the track and limped painfully. He put his right foot down gingerly, and it was evident that that member was in bad shape. His trainer, when asked what the trouble was, said that for the last three days Littlewood had been suffering with a split toe, which had become so bad that the bone struck the bottom of his shoe every time he stepped on it.

At 7 o'clock the odds were three to one that the record would not be broken, with no takers. Between that hour and 9.40 o'clock, the time of his final retirement, Littlewood paid frequent visits to his hut, but at every reappearance he was heartily cheered, while the band played enlivening airs. Hughes came out about 8.30, having been off for several hours. He was a most pitiable sight. He could hardly move his feet along the track, and was five minutes making one lap. Peter Golden completed his 525th mile shortly after 8 o'clock and retired. Littlewood surprised everybody shortly before 9 o'clock by breaking into a run. He kept up the pace for a lap, when he had to give it up. Littlewood left the track a few minutes before 9 and reappeared at 9.40. He was so badly broken up that Guerrero helped him around. The winner was presented with a floral horseshoe, which Champion Albert carried around the track by the side of the Englishman. Then Littlewood left the track for good. The total receipts are estimated at $18,695.60. Half of this was divided among the five men who covered the necessary 525 miles. Littlewood got 50 per cent., or $4673.88; Guerrero, $1869.55; Hertz, $1402.17; Noremac, $934.78; and Golden, $467.03.

The following is the official distance and time: Littlewood, 611 miles, 870 yards, in 141 hours, 44 minutes; Guerrero, 580 miles, 1380 yards, in 141 hours, 49 minutes; Hertz, 572 miles, 1130 yards, in 141 hours, 49 minutes; Noremac, 553 miles, 470 yards, in 141 hours, 58 minutes; Golden, 529 miles, 200 yards, in 141 hours, 43 minutes; Hughes, 495 miles, 880 yards, in 140 hours, 9 minutes.

At 10 o'clock Referee O'Brien declared the race officially closed.

THE WINNER.

George Littlewood is an Englishman, having been born at Sheffield, the birthplace of many well-known pedestrians. In the "Hardware District," as it is called, sprinting is a sport generally indulged in, and boys on the streets can perform well at short distances. It remained for Littlewood, however, to show that with speed Sheffield could also turn out stayers. This is his third appearance in this country. On his first he made the best record for one, two and three hours in a six-days' race. That was on May 23, 1881, when Littlewood was only 20 years old. He ran 9 miles 1305 yards in one hour, 18 miles 1630 yards in two hours, and 26 miles 1490 yards in three hours. These records have not yet been eclipsed. He, however, was at that time too young to stand the strain of a punishing race and early gave up the struggle. When he returned to England he set at work to retrieve his lost reputation and gradually did so by winning several good races.

FAME VERSUS BUSINESS!

Let the World Be the Judge

The People of the County, our Court!

Satisfied Customers, our Witnesses!

We Plead our Case, and Carry off a VERDICT!

In re. GOUGH BROS. et al.

THE COURT.—The bar will observe that the case is now open, You have heard the indictment read. It is clear and explicit. What say you, Gough Bros., why sentence of the Court should not be prunounced upon you.

GOUGH BROS.—May it please your Lordship: To the serious charge that we have revolutionized the clothing trade in Peterborough we plead guilty. The facts are so apparent that denial were useless. But, may we ask the Court to consider extenuating circumstances of great weight. We have established a business by the peope, for the people and of the people. We have placed within the reach of all clothing of any grade, at prices that shatter Monopolies, and Paralyze High Prices. When the Court remembers that we have taken a $2.50 boy and clothed him in a 65c. Suit of Clothes, the Court will appreciate our enterprise. When the working man who wants Clothing can walk up to the trough and help himself to a suit at $2.50, there is something in life worth living for. When a pair of Pants that are a thing of beauty and joy forever, can be carried from our counters for the small sum of 25c. the Court will realize that our politicans are not all of our sincerest benefactors.

Should the Court, for example, so direct, we will fit out our learned friend on the other side with one of our Special Made Suits, and his immediate relatives will testify that the garments are better than most custom work; are cut from Stylish Patterns, made up by artists who consider Beauty and Finish and Good Work as a first requisite.

We ask the Court's inspection of a special line of 500 suits for Men and Youths. These are gems of purest rays serene, so Good, so Stylish, so Cheap that stealing will become, in truth a struggling industry. Then we have secured a niche in the temple of fame by large sales of our best classes All Wool, French Worsted and English and Scotch Tweeds, fit for the wear of a prince, pontiff or politician. This, your Lordship, is our plea.

THE COURT.—Gough Bros., You have ably stated your case. You are excellent counsel. The ruling of the Court is that you are honorably discharged and that the Court adjourn sine die.

SPECIAL LINES.—Boy's Coats 19c. each; Boy's Suits 69c., $1.10 each and up. Parents, Gough Bros., will save you 50 per cent. on Children's Clothing. Men's Working Suits at $2.50, worth $5.50, Sunday Pants $1.25, worth $2.50.

Some chisels and a crowbar were found that had been taken from a wagon shop in the village. They carried away about 50 cents worth of coppers and the iron vault from inside the safe, which was entirely empty.

A Sure Relief.

I suffered from a hard Cough contracted by damp feet. Having consulted a local doctor without effect I thought I would try Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam as a last resort. Before I had finished the first bottle my cough had entirely disappeared, and to day I enjoy better health than ever before. I can conscientiously recommend it. Chas. H. Kent, Telegraph Operator. THE SPRING DIET.

In the Spring a young man's fancies may "lightly turn to thoughts of love," but the fancies of older people more commonly turn to what they shall or can eat.

The "Spring appetite" is flagging and fickle. The keen relish of the sharp winter weather is dulled or gone. It is Nature's hint for a change in the quality and a let-up in the quantity of food consumed.

The golden rule of living is to adapt the diet to the season and to the needs of the system. For this reason

Drury, M.P.P., Minister of Agriculture for Ontario, to formally open the exhibition on Sept. 26th. Mr. Wm. Collins was elected secretary of the Agricultural Society in place of Mr. D. D. Galletly (resigned), and Mr. John McClelland was elected a director in place of Mr. Collins. Tenders are to be advertised for for the pasturage and caretaking of the grounds this year. It was decided that the conditions of the spring show prize ring must be fully complied with by the owners of prize animals before the prizes will be acknowledged. The board then adjourned.

A Permanent Pavement.

Workmen begun this morning putting down the granolithic pavement about the post office building. It is claimed that this kind of walk is as lasting as granite flagging. The work now in hand will take something like ten days, though with laborers accustomed to the work it could be done in a week. The walk can be used in a few days after being laid.

Church Chimes.

Rev. Mr. Mackay's address to young men in the Y. M. C. A. hall Sunday afternoon was attended by a very large audience. The hall was filled to overflowing. There were on the platform also Rev. Messrs. Parker, Thompson and Torrance, who assisted in the services, which were conducted by President Roger. The singing was led by the Quartette. Rev. Mr. Mackay's address was upon the standard of manhood set down in the command to be "just and honest." The reverend gentleman enlarged upon this theme and urged all the young men to endeavor to come up to the standard set for them by God.

At the George street church the Sunday services were especially interesting. Rev. Prof. Wallace preached two highly practical sermons upon Christian reverence and Christian love. Love-feast and fellowship meeting was held before morning service, and at the close of the evening service about thirty new members were admitted to the church.

Jesuit Fathers Connel and La Rue, of Montreal, began their mission services in St. Peter's Cathedral Sunday. At 10.30 mass was celebrated by Rev. Father Connel; at its conclusion His Lordship Bishop Dowling introduced the missioner to the congregation, who prefaced his first sermon by the announcement of the daily order of services for the week, as follows:—5:30 a.m., mass; 8 a.m., French instruction by Father La Rue; 9 a.m., English instruction by Father Connel; 7 p.m., French service; 7:30 p.m., English service; to conclude with the Benediction of the Holy Sacrament.

References were made in some of the Protestant churches Sunday to the great loss sustained by the Roman Catholic church by the death of Archbishop Lynch.

In order to permit the congregation to attend the anniversary services in St. Paul's there was no service held in St. Andrew's Sunday night.

—A recruiting officer for the Mounted Police will be at the Stewart House on the 18th, 19th and 20th inst.

—The Picton Gazette says:—"Mr. George A. Morrison, manager Eastern Ontario of the Manufacturers' Life Insurance Co., was in town this week. He reports the business of the company in a most flourishing condition. Mr. A. A. Hudgin is general agent for Prince Edward."

—This is how the Lindsay Post shows its spirit of vindictive spleen towards Peterborough:—"Will Carleton, the famous poet, author of Farm Ballads, etc., was engaged to lecture in Peterborough, but it was found that the people of the burgh are so little versed in the current literature of the day that they knew nothing of Will Carleton. The committee had to wire Will accordingly and obtain a release. Such is fame. Why even Port Hope or Havelock would have given Carleton an overflowing house. The Peterborough papers should publish a few of Carleton's poems."

ST. PAUL'S ANNIVERSARY.

Sermons by Rev. A. B. McKay of Montreal.

Large Congregations and Intelligent Discourses — Floral Decorations — Special Music for the Occasion.

The anniversary services of St. Paul's Presbyterian church were held on Sunday. Rev. A. B. McKay, of Montreal, one of the first pulpit orators of Canada, preached both morning and evening to very large congregations. There was a beautiful floral display in front of the pulpit, and the musical part of the services was unusually good, not only in the anthems but in the congregational singing as well. The choir, numbering some 30 voices, had specially prepared anthems appropriate to the occasion. The heavy collections taken up were for the purpose of raising the debt of the church.

The anniversary services were indeed most successful. Rev. Mr. McKay's sermons were logical, practical and most impressive. He has a fine delivery and uses plain and forcible language.

THE MORNING SERVICE.

The customary devotional exercises were held, after which Rev. Mr. McKay delivered a short address to the boys of the congregation, following, as he said, his usual practice when at home. He chose for his subject the Bible story of David and Nabal, as told in the 25th chapter of the 1st Book of Samuel. Nabal's churlishness had aroused David's anger and he was preparing to take revenge by slaying Nabal when Abigail, his wife, came out and pacified him and he relented. Abigail told Nabal of his narrow escape, and the wretched coward was smitten with fear and died in a few days. The reverend gentleman, in a few concluding words, urged the moral of the lesson upon all his younger hearers in particular.

A children's hymn, "Precious Jewels," was sung, after which the third chapter of Colossians was read, followed by prayer and singing and the reading of part of the seventh chapter of Judges, pointing out the sifting process of Gideon's army of Israelites. First the worthless were set aside, then the indifferently good were taken out and only the chosen three hundred were left to Gideon. This constituted a glorious vindication of man's faith. Gideon's faith was wavering. The three hundred left with him had against them fearful odds in the 135,000 Midianites camped across the valley. The Midianites were, besides, elated and flushed with their recent victories—what wonder, then, surrounded by his handful of despairing men, afraid of the overwhelming odds and looking with fearful eyes at the Midianitish camp, that Gideon's faith wavered. But to the trembling heart that stretches out its feeble hands towards Him, He says, "Be not afraid." It has been said that the faith that needs bolstering up by practical signs and wonders is a poor kind of faith. But here is Gideon's faith severely tested by a double process of sifting. First, those who were afraid to face the enemy were ordered to return home; and out of two and thirty thousand there were only left ten thousand. Then the test of the lapping of the water left him only 300—but he was just as faithful to God then as when he had the whole 32,000. This double test he had the whole 32,000. This double test vindicated Gideon's faith, and he came out victorious. Then another virtue of this sifting process was in increasing the trust of man in God. If all these Israelites had been in the fight, they might be tempted to say: "By our own hands we saved ourselves." Therefore God chose to humble them by proving to them it was not by their numbers but by His might that their enemies were defeated. It had been said that Providence was always on the side of the big battalions. That was a lie, said the reverend gentleman, that had been refuted time and again. In the case of Gideon's 300, in the case of the small force at Thermopylae—time and again it had been disproven, and if this was true in material things how much more so in spiritual matters. In the spiritual body it is quality, not quantity, that is required. Then this lesson gives encouragement to Christians. God is continually sifting the army of Christians of to-day by trials and troubles, and it is encouraging to know that in spite of the desertion of faint-hearted and fearful professing Christians the fight would still be won. Another valuable lesson was taught. It pointed out what kind of people God chooses to work out His ends. God never trusts his work to cowards—always the brave are chosen. There are those who, like the great mass of Israel that stayed at home when Gideon's trumpet was blown, are afraid to take up God's cause. Then there are those who are apparently anxious to take up arms on the side of God, but like the 22,000 of Gideon's army who went home afterwards, they become frightened by the prospect of close contact with the difficulties of a Christian life. The final test of Gideon's men showed what kind of men were chosen for God's band of deliverers. Of the 10,000 left him after the first test, 9,700 went to the brook, choose a dry place to kneel down, loosened their belts and took deep draughts contentedly; while the remaining 300, like a dog in pursuit of game, who stops only to snatch up a mouthful of water to slack his pressing thirst, were so intent upon their purpose that they merely took time to lap the water like dogs, and hasten off to their work. That was the kind of men God chose to-day—not the men who leisurely and all-absorbingly take deep draughts as if they had no other, aim in life but rather those so full of their purpose that they are anxious to get away from material enjoyment to the performance of the work given them to do by God. It is the men who have a strong and unwavering determination, a masterful ideal, who come to the front. "Did you ever," asked Rev. Mr. McKay, with emphasis, "hear of a noted epicure, or a constant theatre-goer, or an enthusiastic dancer or a notorious pleasure-seeker of any sort who was celebrated for his piety?" No; it was not the giddy pleasure-seeker who was chosen by God; man's chief end was to obey and work for God and glorify Him forever. In conclusion, the reverend gentleman urged the congregation to be of the latter class and truly a congregation of the Lord.

THE EVENING DISCOURSE.

"The path of the just is as a shining light, that shineth more and more unto a perfect day."

Thank God, said the reverend gentleman, that it was so. That verse contained a biography very short but very blessed. It were better for us that this should be the summary of our lives than that our names should be written in large letters and handed down to fame and prosterity. Who were they whose biography this should be—for it could not be the biography of all men. The just and righteous man should receive the reward. And who were the "just?" Where is the man who has come up to the requirements of God's law in this respect? Search the whole Bible record from beginning to end, and is there one? No, not one; there is not a just man upon the earth who doeth good and no evil. This sweeping and uncomplimentary declaration was God's own statement, and the question naturally arose, can the just man be found? Must the search be given up? No; heretofore we have been looking with only one light. Now come to Calvary and seek the just in the light of the Gospel—"and I, if I be lifted up, will draw all men unto me." Look at the great multitude there, of every family, tongue, kindred and nation. Every eye is fixed upon the cross. Hark! A loud voice proclaims:—"Therefore, being justified by faith, we have peace with the Lord Jesus Christ." Who speaks so boldly in the face of the great crowd? It is Paul. "I am the chief of sinners," he says, and yet he claims the title "just" in the face of every intelligence in heaven, on earth and in hell. It is God that justifieth; who is he that condemneth? Is there then a contradiction between this assertion of the law and the glorious justification of the Gospel? No. Is there any explanation of it? Yes; the Cross, that cleanseth away all sin. Who then are the just? "The just shall live by faith"—all who have faith are therefore just. See that monk in his lonely cell, worn to a skeleton and dying because of the austerities of the penance he has done. All to no account—he cannot claim the title "just," no matter what he does. See him at Rome laboriously climbing the staircase, when hush! a voice from heaven falls upon his despondent heart—"the just shall live by faith." His soul is filled with joy and then he knows that by faith is he justified. Who are the just? All they whose sins are washed away by the blood of the lamb. Surely those who surround the throne of God, the white robed angels, must be just. And who are they? These are they who have arisen from the grave of tribulation and washed their garments in the blood of the Cross. These are the just. Wherever the blood of Jesus has been applied, there are the just to be found. Hast thou, vile sinner, cast thyself on the love of Christ? Then thou art just, by the verdict of God Himself, thou art accepted in His beloved, thou art just in the face of all thy sins and iniquities, because Jesus has died for your sins, because he has suffered the just for the unjust. O, think of it! Through this Man is preached unto you the forgiveness of sin, and through Him all men are justified from all things, from which they could not be justified by the law of Moses. If you are the worst sinner in Canada, you can leave this church to-night justified in the sight of God. Is not this a message worth receiving, worth believing? How many of us believe it? Let us then consider the biography of the just man as here laid down. See the beginning of his course. Jesus, when in the world, was the Light of the world, and we are to be the lights of the world until he returns. The just are also compared to the moon, because they receive their light from the Sun of Righteousness. But the most glowing comparison is to the sun itself, because they are partakers of the light of God, the fountain-head of light. The figure used in the text was to illustrate the dawn of light. The just man has the knowledge of God and the fear of the Lord, which is the beginning of wisdom. Again there is light in the heart of the just. They can say: "Thou hast bestowed light upon us more than in the time when the corn and the wine become ripe." The peace of God which passeth all understanding fills their hearts. And there is light also in the conscience and life of the just man. His whole tendency is towards righteousness, to present his body a living sacrifice acceptable to God. His great object in life is first of all to have perfect light in his mind and heart and soul, and then to shed streams of the light all around him. But see the just not only as he begins his course; watch him as he continues. There is a growth and progress in his life and experience; his light shineth more and more. There are constant accessions of light and life and love. His morning breaks with clouds, but slowly the mists of prejudice, ignorance, cruelty and faithlessness are dissipated, and as the daylight grows and becomes greater, so prospers the just man. The Christian, set like the sun in heaven, travels on to his noon. Then see the just man at the end of his course. What is the end? Sunset? No. Here the analogy fails. He rises never to set. The end is not sunset, but perfect and eternal day. The path of the just is a shining light that shineth more and more—to night? No, forever and eternally. But, is not the death of the just like the sunset? In one sense yes, but in the deepest, truest sense, the answer is no. What then is death? Death to the just man is an eclipse. What is an eclipse of the sun? The moon passes over the face of the sun, the light grows less, a funeral pall settles over the earth, the stars shine at noon-day and the birds cease their singing, an awful pause ensues that seems to predict the end of the earth. Even so, the end of the just. We see the shadow deepen day by day until the light is utterly eclipsed and we are wrapped in gloom. How solemn and oppressive is the darkness of death. No beam of recognition falls from those closed eyes on our darkened souls. All is dark as midnight; no light, no life. Well may we weep this sad eclipse. But we sorrow not as others who have no hope. Just as the earth is darkened in the shadow of the moon, the sun still shines. While we sit in darkness on the earth in the shadow of death, those who are gone are still shining bright as ever. Up to the eclipse there were many dark clouds, now there are none. The just dead have eternal felicity, joy unutterable, perfect intelligence. They are absolutely holy, clothed in the fine linen which is the rament of the saints, perfect in spiritual beauty without wrinkle or blemish. O, call it not death! Then shall be no night there. The path of the just is as the shining light that shineth more and more unto the perfect day. As we see the just man passing over the border, does not the prayer instinctively come "Let me too die the death of the righteous." But that will not suffice, unless we day by day try to gain justification for our sins. Alas! how many utter this prayer and yet do not take up the cross, die in the midst of their sin. But walking in the light as He is in the light, our path shall be as that of the just which shineth more and more unto the perfect day. So let it be to the praise of God's eternal grace.

Police Court.

MONDAY, May 14.

The two tramps arrested on suspicion of burglary were dismissed this morning. An application of soap and water had greatly improved their appearance, and one of them, Thorpe, was rather prepossessing and intelligent in his looks. Their story was that they were American paper-makers and had been seeking work at the Merritton and Campbellford mills. Then they came to Peterborough, expecting to get work on the railway. The magistrate dismissed them with a notice that they must leave the town at once. Their little bundles, containing all their earthly possessions, were handed to them and they departed joyfully.

The other pair of suspects will have their trial on Friday morning.

Water Filters.

To insure good health it is absolutely necessary to have pure water, and no water is entirely free from floating matter and disease terms without thorough filtration. The majority of cases of typhoid and other low fevers are in a measure caused from unfiltered and impure water, so that every family who values its health should have a reliable filter. Numerous filters are offered to the public varying in points of excellence, but for cheapness, efficiency and durability, our filters cannot be surpassed. No corroding substances are used in construction. The packing material is the most powerful specially prepared granulated carbon. It will last for years with the ordinary use of a family, and the material may be obtained from us at any time for replenishing at small expense. Sold in Peterborough only at China Hall. dw

VOL. VI. NO. 114. PETERBOROUGH, TUESDAY, MAY 15, 1888. PRICE TWO CENTS.

TURNBULL'S.

We wish to call your attention this week to our Large Stock of Black Cashmeres. They range in price from 25 cents a yard up to $1 25. The one at 25 cents is a good black with sightly appearance which is all we say about it. But when you advance to 45 cents you have a nice rich color, particularly suited for mourning, good weight and fully 44 inches wide. At 50, 60, 75, 85, 90 and $1.00, we have a new line by a French maker which is much nicer than the old make and deservidly popular, being much finer in appearance, more like a Henrietta, to be had in blue and jet black.

GERMAN CASHMERES.—These Goods are made in Saxony where the makers vie with each other in producing a Superior article. We have secured a make that cannot be spoken of too highly. It is a double warp and finished like a satin. They are now open for inspection. (on 3rd counter to left from George street entrance).

In our Custom Made Tailoring Department we show a nice range of Pantings, Worsted Suitings, Light Overcoatings, etc Only first-class work turned out. (2nd counter to the right.)

Early last fall when the public began gathering around their stoves and were thinking about Flannels and Blankets, we were looking ahead and gave large orders with the leading manufacturers of Chambrays, White and Colored Muslins, Lawns, etc. These Goods are now in stock, and will be found on the 1st counter to the right.

Our first stock of Sailor Hats has been bought up rapidly which is sufficient evidence that they are the correct thing. Our second shipment, bought at a much lower price is now in. All sizes and styles to choose from. The prices will please you when you see the style and quality.

WARNER'S SAFE CURE

PT CATHERINES, Ont., Jan. 24th, 1887. About six years ago I was a great sufferer from kidney disease, and was in misery all the while. I hardly had strength enough to walk straight and was ashamed to go on the street. The pains across my back were almost unbearable, and I was unable to find relief, even temporarily. I began the use of "Warner's Safe Cure," and inside of one week I found relief, and after taking eight bottles, I was completely cured.

Manager for American Express Co.

TORONTO, (18 Division Street) Sept. 17, 1887.—Three years ago last August my daughter was taken ill with Bright's disease of the kidneys. The best medical skill in the city was tasked to the utmost, but to no purpose. She was racked with convulsions for forty-eight hours. Our doctor did his best, and went away saying the case was hopeless. After she came out of the convulsions, she was very weak and all her hair fell out. The doctor had left us about a month when I concluded to try Warner's Safe Cure," and after having taken six bottles, along with several bottles of "Warner's Safe Pills" I saw a decided change for the better in her condition. After taking twenty-five bottles there was complete cure. My daughter has now a splendid head of hair and weighs more than she ever did before.

THE GREATEST BLOOD PURIFIER

CHATHAM, Ont., March 6, 1888.—In 1884 I was completely run down. I suffered most severe pains in my back and kidneys, so severe that at times I would almost be prostrated. A loss of ambition, a great desire to urinate, without the ability of so doing, coming from me as it were in drops. The urine was of a peculiar color and contained considerable foreign matter. I became satisfied that my kidneys were in a congested state and that I was running down rapidly. Finally I concluded to try "Warner's Safe Cure," and in forty-eight hours after I had taken the remedy I voided urine that was as black as ink, containing quantities of mucus, pus and gravel. I continued and it was not many hours, before my urine was of a natural straw color, although it contained considerable sediment. The pains in my kidneys subsided as I continued the use of the remedy, and it was but a short time before I was completely relieved. My urine was normal and I can truthfully say that I was cured.

296 McNab St. North, HAMILTON, Can., Nov., 2, 1886.—I had been suffering for over twenty years from a pain in the back and one side of the head, and indigestion. I could eat scarcely anything, and everything I ate disagreed with me. I was attended by physicians who examined me and stated that I had enlargement of the liver, and that it was impossible to cure me. They also stated I was suffering from heart disease, inflammation of the bladder, kidney disease, bronchitis and catarrh, and that it was impossible for me to live. They attended me for three weeks without making any improvement in my condition. I commenced taking "Warner's Safe Cure" and "Warner's Safe Pills," acting strictly up to directions as to diet, and took thirty six bottles, and have had the best of health ever since. My regular weight used to be 180 lbs. When I commenced "Warner's Safe Cure" I only weighed 140 lbs. I now weigh 210 lbs.

Regulates Every Bodily Function

GALT, Ont., Jan, 27, 1887.—For about five years previous to two years ago last October, I was troubled with kidney and liver trouble and finally I was confined to my bed and suffered the most excruciating pain, and for two weeks time I did not know whether I was dead or alive. My physicians said I had enlargement of the liver, though they gave me only temporary relief. Hearing of the wonderful cures of "Warner's Safe Cure" I began its use, and after I had taken two bottles I noticed a change for the better. The pains disappeared, and my whole system seemed to feel the benefit of the remedy. I have continued taking "Warner's Safe Cure" and no other medicine since. I consider the remedy a great boon, and if I ever feel out of sorts, "Warner's Safe Cure" fixes me all right. I weigh twenty pounds heavier now than ever before.

The Brewers' Lockout.

CINCINNATI, May 13.—The brewers' lockout caused by the boss brewers combining to break up the Brewers' Union, has received a severe blow. The Banner brewery having been offered for sale, or a controlling portion of its stock, a syndicate mainly of saloon-keepers was formed and the stock purchased. All the non-union employes were discharged and union men were substituted. It is now said that the boss brewers' pool will give up its organization since its integrity is broken.

Archbishop Fabre and The Post.

QUEBEC, May 15.—J. P. Whalen of Montreal states that he cannot understand why Archbishop Fabre has condemned the articles in The Post and The True Witness regarding the Papal rescript. The Post, he said, in criticising the rescript, was simply in accord with Bishop Moran of Australia, and he believed with the entire hierarchy of Ireland.

A GIRL KICKED TO DEATH.

A BRUTAL MURDER COMMITTED IN BROAD DAYLIGHT.

Bertha Usher Clubbed and Beaten to Death in a Hovel on Victoria Lane—The Notorious Tom Buckley Said to be the Murderer—The Murderer in Prison.

TORONTO, May 15.—A most revolting murder occurred here yesterday at No. 72 Victoria-lane. The notorious Tom Buckley, who left the hospital only a few weeks ago after being stabbed by Tom Jones in a row on Adelaide-street, beat to death in her bedroom a young woman of 20 named Bertha Usher, alias Robinson, with whom he had for some time been living. The girl was on the street at 11 o'clock, and appeared then to be under the influence of liquor. She seems to have gone home and to her room, where Buckley must have been and where the murder occurred. The body of the woman showed that she was kicked and clubbed to death, as evidenced by the broken pieces of a chair which lay upon the floor. There were no blows on any part of the body save the head and neck, which are covered with black bruises, the fatal blow apparently being one received behind the ear. Mary Palmer and Sophia Crier, two women who were in the house at the time of the murder, gave the alarm, and the police were on the spot immediately. They arrested Buckley and the women and took them to the police station. Buckley was apparently also under the influence of liquor.

The girl retained a spark of life until after 12 o'clock. Dr. E. E. King arrived about half-past 12 and found life extinct. The body was taken to the morgue, where an inquest will be held this evening at half-past 7 o'clock. The parents of the dead girl live in Brantford.

Annie Dunn, a little girl about 10 years old who lives in the next house, said she heard breaking of dishes going on about 11 o'clock in the lower part of No. 72. She heard a man say "I'll show you what you'll get," and then shouts of "O, Tom, don't," from a woman. When the noise stopped the little girl went to the window of the room upstairs where she was and saw Buckley going down the lane. Then she saw a girl come out who told a stout woman whose name the child did not know to go for the police. Annie Dunn felt quite certain that the man who was arrested was the person who had shouted "I'll show you what you'll get."

Tom Buckley has a Police Court record that stands almost without a rival in Toronto. His life has been one of continual lawbreaking and ruffianism. He has now probably added murder to his long list of crimes. His father was an old soldier who formerly lived in Church-street.

THE "HAYFORK" COMMITTEE.

Fraudulent Notes Galore—Mr. Hudspeth, M.P., Relates His Experience.

OTTAWA, May 14.—Adam Brown's "Hayfork" Committee met again this morning. Several letters were read from persons willing to give evidence before the committee, and one of the writers, a Western Ontario man, stated that to his knowledge there had been entered in the courts of that district suits for at least $100,000 worth of fraudulent promissory notes within the past year or two. It is known that a large portion of those signed are paid by the victims without going to law.

Mr. Hudspeth, M.P., related the experience he had had in defending suits arising out of these swindles. At one sessions he had three cases where the innocent holders had obtained for value apparent promissory notes fraudulently obtained from parties whose names appeared on them. The signatures had been attached to the contract, but the top and bottom of the paper being cut off, the middle portion remaining constituted an ordinary promissory note without conditions. He had found record of parallel cases tried in England lately, in which the judge decided that where the mind did not go with the signature the latter could not be held to be binding. By citing this precedent he had won all three cases. He knew, however, that lots of Ontario county court judges time and again made unfortunate people pay these notes. He knew of hundreds of such cases where payment had been made.

At to-morrow's meeting there will be a number of farmers present to give evidence concerning frauds of which they have been the victims.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

THE BILL TO AMEND THE DOMINION ELECTIONS ACT.

An Amendment Lost on a Strict Party Vote—Sir Charles Tupper's Bill Relating to Quebec Harbor—The Railway Bill Discussed.

OTTAWA, May 15.—Mr. Thompson moved the third reading of the bill to amend the Dominion Elections Act. Mr. Barron moved an amendment providing that bye-elections should be held within a fixed period after the issuing of the writ or after the House of Commons has ordered the issue of the writs. Mr. Thompson opposed the amendment, but said he would not deny it contained a principle which might at some future time be adopted. He requested Mr. Barron to withdraw the amendment. Mr. Davin approved of the principle, but hoped the amendment would be withdrawn, as the time for discussion was short. Mr. Barron declined to withdraw the amendment, and the House divided—59 against 83.

The Government thus got only 24 of a majority on a strict party vote. Mr. Davin voted against the amendment in spite of his declaration in favor of the principle, and Mr. Skinner also voted with the Government.

Sir Charles Tupper's bill relating to certain advances made to the Quebec harbor, and Mr. Foster's bill to amend the Steamboat Act were read the third time.

The House went into committee on the bill respecting gaming in stocks and merchandise, commonly known as the Bucket Shop Bill, which was reported and read a third time.

The bill to amend the Insurance Act and the bill to amend the Summary Conviction Act were considered in committee and reported. The House went into Committee of the Whole on the Railway Bill. Mr. Edgar thought that the sections allowing one railway company to expropriate the property of another, which were plainly aimed at the Grand Trunk company, went too far, especially as there was no appeal from the decisions of the Railway Committee. He suggested that an appeal to the Supreme Court be allowed. After some discussion it was decided, on motion of Mr. Shanly, that there should be an appeal to the Governor-General in Council.

Sir Leonard Interviewed.

LONDON, May 14.—Mr. Stead of The Pall Mall Gazette has had an interview at Charlottenburg with Dr. Mackenzie. The Doctor looked worn and anxious, and showed traces of the long vigils he had maintained in his attendance upon the Emperor. During the interview he was repeatedly summoned to the Emperor's room by an electric bell.

He stated to Mr. Stead that his patient is all that could be desired in the way of temper, patience and cheerfulness. He is obedient, and as well-dispositioned as a child. He bears pain bravely, and does not indulge in needless worrying. The rumors that he had asked the chaplain to pray for his release from his sufferings and that he longed for death were untrue.

"It is by no means certain," said the Doctor, "that he has made up his mind that he is dying. He does not suffer from the canula, although inflammation and the sloughing away of portions of dead cartilage cause him inconvenience. The reports of the bad odor pervading the sick room are gross exaggerations. Until His Majesty's recent severe attack of illness he sat at the table at meal times with his family and went about, and he did not discommode anyone."

The Doctor said that if the Emperor's strength improved he hoped he could be removed shortly to Potsdam. The Emperor is in the habit of mind common to all chronics who alternate between the belief that they will live a couple of years—when they mentally plan for the future—and the fear that all will be over in a few days.

Although apparently robust, the Emperor has not much recuperative power, and this circumstance would have rendered fatal the operation proposed in May of last year. Dr. Mackenzie said in conclusion: "The Emperor is certainly suffering from perichondritis, which, with the disease of the cartilages, is very dangerous, though not necessarily fatal. If he has also cancer, that will necessarily prove fatal sooner or later."

St. Paul's Service of Song.

A Choice, Classical Programme Success, fully Rendered.

The spacious auditorium of St. Paul's Church was well filled last night on the occasion of the "Service of Song," presented under the direction of Mr. Parker, organist and choirmaster. The chorus consisted of sixty voices, composed of the choir of St. Paul's and of representatives of every Protestant church choir in town and Ashburnham, and the auditors comprised numerous representatives from every congregation in town, without exception.

The male voices occupied the organ loft, while the pulpit platform directly in front was seated for the ladies. A handsome pyramid of flowers, flanked by bouquets of cut flowers, ornamented the space in front of the middle of the platform, facing the middle aisle. The programme was a most ambitious one, consisting of selections from the classical composers. The work of the choruses was well done, showing what careful training they had been subjected to. The choruses given were, "The Heavens Are Telling," from Haydn's "Creation," which was well rendered, but not, perhaps, so smoothly as the subsequent ones. In the second choral selection, the anthem "O Praise God," Whitfield, Mr. Bagnley and Miss Cameron took the solos with excellent effect, and the rendering of the chorus was very smooth and effective. The chorus, "I Will Call," from Mozart's Twelfth Mass, was one of the best rendered of the evening, the antiphonal passages being especially effective, while the balance of the parts were well maintained, and the full chorus very impressive. For a full burst of grand harmonious melody the "Hallelujah" Chorus, from Handel's Messiah, was a fitting finale. It was well sung, indeed, and the grand volume of choral adoration filled the sacred edifice with sounding praise. As to the organ solos, it is hardly necessary to point out how they emphasized the reputation already enjoyed by Mr. Parker, as a finished artist upon this comprehensive instrument. He was particularly pleasing in the rendering of Spark's brilliant variations of the hymn "Jerusalem, the Golden," as well as in Batiste's "Offertoire in D Major." The solo part of the programme was well sustained. Miss Hall, is a pleasing young singer of much promise. She sang very sweetly the sacred song, Pinsuti's "City of Rest." Miss Vair contributed, with excellent taste and shading, two solos, Coenen's "Come unto Me" and "O, for the Wings of a Dove," Mendelssohn. Miss Vair has sung much in public and her last appearance indicates a continuous improvement in her singing. Mrs. Sanderson appeared in Haydn's aria, "With Verdure Clad," and she acquitted herself with much credit. Mrs. Daly rendered with great taste and expression Cherubini's "Saviour of Sinners." Her voice is exceedingly sweet, in the upper register especially, and her clearness of enunciation is not one of the least features of her always pleasing singing. Mr. Bagnley appeared in a recitative and aria from Haydn, and he did his work well, considering that the selection was not altogether suited to the capacity of his voice, whose best efforts are made in the higher scales. The programme concluded with the singing of the doxology, "God Save the Queen" having been sung by the chorus at the opening of the programme. The Service of Song was a most pleasing entertainment—it not only entertained but had an educating effect upon the public, who do not often have an opportunity of listening to a programme of a classical character, and the efforts of Mr. Parker and the singers, who so ably seconded his efforts to cultivate a taste for a higher class of music, are worthy of the highest commendation.

A Commedious Line.

A Kinmount correspondent writes the Independent:—"The Irondale, Bancroft, and Ottawa Railway of which C. Pasey Esq. is Manager, and Superintendent, and Engineer and Commissioner, and Inspector, and sometimes Engine Driver, has issued another time table which took effect on the first of May. It is a real nice little Time Table and gives connections with Lindsay, Peterborough, Toronto, Montreal, Ottawa, New York and Boston. There was a land slide the other day, and part of the track slid into Burnt River. There are no trains but the pumper takes a run occasionally. However the time table is out, and it is pleasant to see it posted up in the offices of our merchants. The next best thing to having a railway with a train, is to have a railway with a time-table."

Water Filters.

To insure good health it is absolutely necessary to have pure water, and no water is entirely free from floating matter and disease germs without thorough filtration. The majority of cases of typhoid and other low fevers are in a measure caused from unfiltered and impure water, so that every family who values its health should have a reliable filter. Numerous filters are offered to the public varying in points of excellence, but for cheapness, efficiency and durability, our filters cannot be surpassed. No corroding substances are used in construction. The packing material is the most powerful specially prepared granulated carbon. It will last for years with the ordinary use of a family, and the material may be obtained from us at any time for replenishing at small expense. Sold in Peterborough only at China Hall. dw

THE LATE ARCHBISHOP.

The Body of the Dead Prelate Removed to St. Michael's Cathedral.

TORONTO, May 14.—The remains of the late Archbishop Lynch now lie in state within the sanctuary rails of St. Michael's Cathedral, awaiting their final transfer to the grave without the walls to-morrow morning at 10 o'clock. At 8 o'clock last evening the body was removed to the Cathedral, followed by the largest funeral procession ever seen in Toronto.

Bishop O'Mahoney was the only representative of the Catholic episcopate present, the others not being expected in until to-day. There were fully forty priests there, the majority of them belonging to Toronto or its immediate neighborhood.

At 7.30 Bishop O'Mahoney proceeded to the room where the body of the Archbishop lay in its casket, St. Michael's College Choir being stationed in the stairway, and the solemn ritual of the office of the dead was begun. His Lordship intoned the "De Profundis," which was sung by the choristers in all the solemn cadence of the Gregorian chant. Then the Bishop sprinkled holy water on the body, walked round the casket waving the lighted censor, another hymn, "Libera Me," was sung, and the ceremonies, so far as The Grove was concerned, were ended.

It is estimated that fully 5000 people surrounded The Grove before the word for departure was given, and that half that number followed the hearse to the Cathedral.

It was 8.07 when the procession left The Grove, and it was 8.43 when the hearse stopped before the main entrance to St. Michael's, where a "Requiem" was sung. It is estimated that fully 3000 persons thronged the Cathedral. Father Laurent in vain requested the crowd to sit down, but few obeyed him, many standing on the pews, the better to view the scenes at the altar. The vespers for the dead were intoned and sung by the clergy and choir, while the undertaker and his assistants removed the casket-lid, exposing once more to view the remains of the dead Archbishop. The remains will lie in state throughout to-day and until to-morrow at 10, when the body will be committed to the earth.

It has been definitely settled that Archbishop Ryan of Philadelphia will be here in time for the funeral ceremonies.

Prairie Province Legislation.

WINNIPEG, May 14.—The Budget debate was not continued this afternoon. The bill making the Torrens system of land registration optional was passed after a warm debate, Premier Greenway, who strongly opposed the change, threatening to take further action in the matter. The Government was divided, Geo. Eaway, Jones and Prendergast opposing and Martin and Smart supporting the bill. The License Act passed with a few amendments.

It was rumored to-day that the Government was securing evidence regarding the removal of Government property by a late official in order to arrest him.

After recess Mr. Douglas moved a want of confidence motion respecting the giving of the Government printing to The Free Press without competition. Premier Greenway defended the course of the Government owing to lack of time to advertise for tenders. A. F. Martin moved an amendment that while recognizing the principle of public competition the action of the Government was perfectly satisfactory under the circumstances. This carried, 19 to 8.

Canada Our Home.

The country is safe, for it has been decided by a large majority that Canada is a much better place of residence than the United States. The matter was discussed at the Otonabee Canoe Club rooms Monday evening, and the chairman, Mr. T. Workman, decided as already stated. The leaders of the affirmative were Messrs. Douglass and Barrie; the negative Messrs. Hall and Scott. The next debate will not be held for two weeks, as next Monday evening the club and Y.P.A. delegates will wrestle with the question of novel reading at the church, and on Thursday evening of this week at the Y. M. C. A. hall on the subject of female suffrage. Two weeks hence the regular debate will be held in the rooms, the subject being a resolution adopting Commercial Union with the United States for Canada. The affirmative leaders are Messrs. Z. Gallagher and W. H. Hill; the negative, Messrs. E. Mason and A. E. Dixon.

Dealing With Tramps.

The arrest of some tramps in Peterborough on suspicion of burglarly suggests to the Port Hope Times one of the benefits that town derives from so experienced and vigilant a Chief Constable as Chief Douglas. It says:—"Tramps if allowed to lie around will get into mischief, sure, and knowing this our Chief makes frequent circuits of the outlying parts of the town and starts on their journey any tramps he may find. This may, in a large measure, account for the comparative immunity from burglaries that Port Hope enjoys."

FAME VERSUS BUSINESS!

Let the World Be the Judge

The People of the County, our Court!

Satisfied Customers, our Witnesses!

We Plead our Case, and Carry off a VERDICT!

In re. GOUGH BROS. et al.

THE COURT.—The bar will observe that the case is now open. You have heard the indictment read. It is clear and explicit. What say you, Gough Bros., why sentence of the Court should not be prunounced upon you.

GOUGH BROS.—May it please your Lordship: To the serious charge that we have revolutionized the clothing trade in Peterborough we plead guilty. The facts are so apparent that denial were useless. But, may we ask the Court to consider extenuating circumstances of great weight. We have established a business by the peope, for the people and of the people. We have placed within the reach of all clothing of any grade, at prices that shatter Monopolies, and Paralyze High Prices. When the Court remembers that we have taken a $2.50 boy and clothed him in a 65c. Suit of Clothes, the Court will appreciate our enterprise. When the working man who wants Clothing can walk up to the trough and help himself to a suit at $2.50, there is something in life worth living for. When a pair of Pants that are a thing of beauty and joy forever, can be carried from our counters for the small sum of 25c. the Court will realize that our politicans are not all of our sincerest benefactors.

Should the Court, for example, so direct, we will fit out our learned friend on the other side with one of our Special Made Suits, and his immediate relatives will testify that the garments are better than most custom work; are cut from Stylish Patterns, made up by artists who consider Beauty and Finish and Good Work as a first requisite.

We ask the Court's inspection of a special line of 500 suits for Men and Youths. These are gems of purest rays serene, so Good, so Stylish, so Cheap that stealing will become, in truth a struggling industry. Then we have secured a niche in the temple of fame by large sales of our best classes All Wool, French Worsted and English and Scotch Tweeds, fit for the wear of a prince, pontiff or politician. This, your Lordship, is our plea.

THE COURT.—Gough Bros., You have ably stated your case. You are excellent counsel. The ruling of the Court is that you are honorably discharged and that the Court adjourn sine die.

"Do Unto Others," &c.

Acting on this principal we have decided to close our store at 7 p.m. each day of the week, Saturdays excepted, during the summer months.

Guerrero Challenges the World.

NEW YORK, May 14.—The division of the money won by the pedestrians was made today. Littlewood received $3717; Guerrero $1488; Herty, $1116; Noremac, $743; Golden, $371. Guerrero issued a challenge to run Littlewood or any man in the world in a six-days' contest for $5000 to $10,000 a side. He preferred a sweepstake race of six days. He also challenged Cartwright and the world to a sweepstake for the same amount for fifty miles. It is probable that Hughes and Herty will accept the latter challenge. Cartwright has accepted, but it is doubtful if he can secure a backer. The race will be run at the Polo Grounds in five weeks. Hughes complained that he had received improper attention at the late walk, and that he had to go on the track the second day with wet clothes on because his trainer deserted him.

A Veritable Gusher.

COURTRIGHT, Ont., May 14.—The Courtright Salt Company completed their fourth well for natural gas on Saturday. The whole four are producing gas in paying quantities. The one completed Saturday is a veritable gusher and was pronounced by an expert to be equal in volume to the famous Finlay wells of Ohio, and is emitting gas enough to manufacture all the salt used in Canad. The company commenced this morning laying the necessary pipe to convey the gas to their works, where it will be utilized for fuel and will enable them to produce salt at one half the present cost.

The Cannons Committed.

KINGSTON, May 14.—At the Cannon's trial on Saturday J. H. Cannon was committed for trial for falsifying his books, and Dr. Cannon and J. H. Cannon, on a charge of receiving and concealing goods and chattels, were committed for trial. The Cannons were bailed in $4000.

Imitation

is sometimes called the sincere form of flattery. This may account for the number of imitations of the original and only positive corn cure—Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor. All such fail to possess equal merit, so when purchasing get the genuine "Putnam's" Safe, sure, and painless. 6d20w

The Growth of the Hair.

Should always be watched. Inattention to the hair often leads to premature grayness and baldness. When dandruff appears it should be looked after at once. By frequently using a little of Dr. Dorenwend's Great German Hair Magic the scalp will be kept in a clean and healthy condition and the strength and vigor of the hair greatly promoted. It is the only reliable. Do not be talked into using anything else. For sale by all druggists everywhere. dw

Denounced From the Pulpit.

The odious system of combines must be a generally recognized evil when they are denounced from the local pulpits. The aim of combines is to keep up prices, and the business which keeps clear and sells on its own merits is the one to patronize. Such a place is the golden lion, where the immense stock of every kind of carpet and of splendid lace curtains are offered at prices which only imported goods can be sold for. For the best of these kinds of goods, first class stock, great variety, at reasonable prices, go to r. fair's, golden lion.

The Snow Record.

A snowfall in the middle of May is an unusual thing for our climate, and its occurrence to day has brought to mind the fact that it is more than seven months ago since the first snow of the past winter fell. A George street clerk who has a penchant for meteorological observations every year notes down on the white wall in his store such events as these, and from his record it is learned that snow fell on October 11th, 1887, and May 15th, 1888—a period of over seven months that may be correctly termed winter. As early as October 1st and 2nd in 1886 there was a heavy snowfall. These statistics show up pretty well the rigors of our climate.

A Disappointment.

The Masonic fraternity are disappointed in connection with their excursion to Toronto. They confidently expected to secure the privilege of running over two routes, permitting excursionists to go either by way of Port Hope or Lindsay, and they have publicly intimated as much. Now, the Company advise their agent here that this privilege will not be allowed, and that the Port Hope route will not be available for their excursion. It seems very disappointing. A meeting of the Excursion Committee is called for this evening at 7 o'clock to determine what is best to be done.

THE PARK GRANT.

Messrs. J. H. Roper, President, and D. W. Dumble, of the Horticultural Society, appeared before the Council to request an annual grant for the maintenance of the Park. Mr. Roper referred to the benefit of Park to the public, and stated that about $500 would be required this year to keep up the appearance of the place. Mr. Roper also took occasion to express the hope that the Council would also see their way clear to increase the salary of Mr. F. W. Miller, bandmaster of the Battalion and Fire Brigade Band, who had been offered a situation in the west. An increase of salary would, however, retain his services for Peterborough, and as his departure would likely lead to the demoralization of the band, and the officers of the Battalion had decided to advance him $200, he hoped the Council would be equally liberal.

Mr. DUMBLE spoke also in a similar vein. In reply to questions regarding the Central Park, he believed it better to make it more of a public grass plot, free in all parts, than till it with flower beds. Better concentrate the refinement in the Court House Park and make the Central Park more open. It was not the intention to expend any money on the Central Park this year, as the place was fairly presentable as it was.

A desultory discussion followed on park matters. Complaints were make that people did not follow the walks in the new Central Park, but cut out paths for themselves. Councillor Yelland suggested that if a crossing were put down opposite the end of the walk it would be used. Mr. Dumble mentioned several little places about town which could easily be beautified by the planting of a few trees and seeding.

Mr. MCNEIL commended the Society for its efforts to please the public in this way, and moved, seconded by Mr. Kelly, that the sum of $500 be granted as requested.

Mr. MOORE asked, as a precautionary measure, that the resolution be amended by calling for a detailed statement at the end of the year of the way in which the money granted had been expended.

The motion passed as amended.

THE LOCKS BRIDGE.

The Mayor stated that a communication had been received from the government anent the new iron swing in the bridge at the locks, which was too narrow for the Dominion government regulations. The department required that it be widened.

There was some discussion on this. Some of the councillors stated that the swing was wider than the locks themselves and wider than the bridges at Young's Point and Burleigh.

It was decided that no action be taken, as the law required that only when a new bridge was being built the plans must be submitted to the department. In this case the bridge was not being re-built, but only that portion of it extending from the swing.

THE FIRE HALL HORSES.

Mr. McNeil presented the report of the Fire, Water and Light Committee, recommending that Mr. Terence Smith be allowed $65 for the service of one horse; said service to commence on May 15th and terminate October 15th, 1888, and that two horses be discontinued on the latter date.
